UNPREDICTABLE GOLDEN GATE FOG

The fog at the Golden Gate Bridge seemed to be playing mysterious tricks yesterday as Independent-Journal photographer Bob Hax stood poised on the Marin Headlands. Shortly before this photo was taken, the bridge was cloaked in heavy fog, obscuring any view of San Francisco. Then, for about 30 minutes, the fog dropped below the bridge, freeing a sweeping vista of the city. About 4:15 p.m., the fog returned, wiping out the view.

Chile Placed Under Siege; Army Crisis

Leader Recesses Congress; U.S. Copper Firms Worry

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — President Eduardo Frei Montalva imposed a state of siege on Chile today and recessed Congress indefinitely amid mounting reports of a burgeoning army rebellion in this copper-rich land where U.S. firms have about $1 billion in mining investments.

Two army units of the Second Division, based in Santiago, rebelled early in the day, and within hours there were persistent reports that other units were joining in. The government announced it was facing "an attempt at military sedition."

A presidential decree read to the nation over radio and television proclaimed the stage of siege, which is a modified form of martial law.

The crisis in Chile, which has not had a military coup in more than 30 years, follows by only a year an army revolt which seized power in Peru, and a more recent military upheaval in Bolivia, in both of which cases U.S firms were seized.

MILITARY PAY

In Washington officials said the issues in the Chilean uprising related to military pay levels and other improvements in the status of the military. The controversy between the government and officers trying to force changes has been building up for weeks. A Central Intelligence Agency spokesman said it had been aware of developments leading to this turn of events in Chile for the last six weeks.

The leader of the uprising in Chile appeared to be Brig. Gen. Roberto Viaux Marambo, who was promoted to general office status nine months ago and then retired from command of the First Infantry Division at Antofagasta, 500 miles north of Santiago. His retirement stirred new unrest among army officers already disaffected because of their low pay.

VIAUX TOLD

Viaux told newsmen in Santiago he had "the backing of 85 per cent of the army," and added "we are not against the government, but in case we are attacked we will answer back with fire."

The rebellion, he said, is "not against the constitutional government of the nation but against the army high com-

WILLY BRANDT
Elected by Bundestag

Brandt Becomes Chancellor

BONN (AP) — The Bundestag elected Willy Brandt chancellor of West Germany today, ending two decades of Christian Democratic rule and giving West Germany its first Socialist chancellor in the nation's 20-year history.

The vote in the lower house of Parliament was 251-235 in Brandt's favor with five deputies abstaining, four ballots invalid and one deputy absent.

Brandt's victory, which gives him a mandate to govern for the next four years, was made possible by a coalition with the tiny Free Democratic Party. In the Sept. 28 general election, Brandt's Social Democrats won only 224 seats to the Christian Democrats' 242, but the Free Democrats control 30 seats and gave Brandt the necessary majority.

Brandt, 55, succeeds Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger of the Christian Democrats who Brandt served as foreign minister. They had formed a Christian Democratic-Socialist coalition in December 1966.

Brandt earlier was mayor of West Berlin, a Socialist stronghold.

The vote for Brandt was two more than the required majority of the total 496 seats in the Bundestag. Brandt noted that he got "200 per cent more" votes than Konrad Adenauer did when he was elected West Germany's first chancellor in 1949 by one vote.

Hollis Disclaims 'Sub Rosa Probe'

By LARRY D. HATFIELD

The faculty of Sausalito's Martin Luther King School has angrily demanded that County Schools Supt. Virgil S. Hollis and a top aide stay away from the school and Hollis has agreed to do so.

The request from the teachers that Hollis and aide Robert Spain quit going to King came after a faculty meeting during which Sausalito Supt. Phillip W. Schneider and MLK principal Sidney F. Walton presented the teachers with a letter from Hollis listing a wide range of "topics and allegations" in "general terms."

The clash was revealed in an exchange of "Dear Virgil, Dear Phil" letters between Hollis and Schneider released to the Independent-Journal today.

The letters indicated that the Sausalito administration's belief that Hollis and aide Spain were conducting a sub rosa probe of "charges, allegations and rumors" about the school led to the request that the county's "observers" quit coming to the school.

Hollis, saying he is "surprised and sorry," has told the district he and Spain "will withdraw for the present pending a request for assistance." The two county officials had visited the troubled school on a regular basis since it opened Sept. 10. Hollis described their role as "supportive" rather than investigative.

The agreement to withdraw came in a letter from Hollis on Oct. 8. Schneider touched on the conflict at a Sausalito School District board meeting last night when he asked the board for an independent, "impartial" evaluation of Martin Luther King school by a group called Nubian Associates. He suggested the county schools office was not impartial and questioned the competency of both Hollis and Spain, director of administrative service for county schools, to investigate the district. Furthermore, Schneider told the board, the district has a right to know what charges are being made against it and who is making them.

Hollis's latest letter tended to disagree with Schneider's belief that he and Spain were conducting an investigation of any sort.

It said in part: "I am sur-

Hurricane Laurie On Coast Path

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Hurricane Laurie lumbered through the Gulf of Mexico today and took a veering path that threatened the tip of Louisiana and the storm-crushed coast of Mississippi.

The growing storm, its highest winds now whipping over open water at 100 miles per hour, drifted nearly 50 miles eastward during the early morning hours.

At 10 a.m. (CDT) the New Orleans Weather Bureau located Laurie at about 230 miles south of New Orleans at 26.7 north latitude and 90.0 west longitude.

Gale winds of 50 miles per hour reached the mouth of the Mississippi River—about 100 miles southeast of New Orleans—and a hurricane watch continued from Galveston, Tex., to Apalachicola, Fla.

At the Miami, Fla., national hurricane center, Dr. Robert Simpson said the storm's top winds had reached 115 to 120 m.p.h. in gusts and added that the hurricane could well loop southeast toward the heart of Florida in the next 12 hours.

The Weather Bureau's 10 a.m. advisory said Lauri was peking along at about five miles per hour with a predicted slow and erratic movement during the day.

The move to the east lessened the threat to the southwestern Louisiana coast but the late-season storm caused concern along the Mississippi Gulf Coast, still crushed from the battering it took from Hurricane Camille just two months ago.

Despite the growing menance from the storm, Mississippians along the 30-mile beach from Pass Christian to Pascagoula didn't appear perturbed during the morning hours.

But in the low-lying areas of Louisiana, all through the marshlands south and west of New Orleans to the Gulf's edge, evacuees moved into refuge centers on higher ground.

In Lafourche Parish, where oil is a big factor in the economy, more than 25,000 residents were asked to leave homes in low spots for evacuation stations in Raceland, Lockport and Thibodaux.

Oil companies with crews working offshore rigs closed operations yesterday and moved crews to the mainland.

Finance Chief McCown Is Selected As City Manager

James H. McCown, San Rafael's finance director for 18 months, last night became city manager. (Other San Rafael City Council stories, page 21.)

The city council vote appointing him as the city's top administrative officer was unanimous, but it took two councilmen two votes each to reach that consensus.

John A. Miskimen and Fred C. Robbins voted no the first time around, but both emphasized their votes were not intended as a personal reflection against McCown.

Miskimen said there had been 67 applicants, several of them, including McCown, qualified. "But I think that we are not doing our duty by not conducting a full scale interview."

Mayor C. Paul Bettini, however, argued McCown has "demonstrated he is the type of person we need as the city manager of San Rafael. We know what we can expect."

JAMES H. McCOWN
San Rafael city manager

Bettini noted McCown has filled in well as acting city manager since the death of Dan E. Andersen July 31 and cast his yes vote, whereupon Miskimen and Robbins changed theirs.

A closed meeting on the post that lasted almost an hour preceded last night's open session. A similar session was held two weeks ago and McCown was interviewed at that time. He was the only candidate among the 67 official applicants to be interviewed.

His salary in the new post will be $20,000 a year, $5,000 more than he had been receiving as finance director.

McCown, of 17 Truman Drive, Novato, is a retired Air Force colonel who had served as finance officer with the Army and Air Force from 1935 to 1950. Following his retirement, he continued working as an Air Force finance officer. Immediately prior to coming to Marin in April 1968 he was finance director of San Pablo.

Aiken Sees Ground Units Home In Year; Viet Hearing Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George D. Aiken, the senate's senior Republican, said today he expects practically all U.S. ground forces will be out of Vietnam within a year.

About the same time, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee put off its hearings on the war until after President Richard M. Nixon's Nov. 3 policy report to the nation. (See earlier story, page 2.)

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., the committee chairman, announced postponement of the Vietnam hearings, which had been scheduled to begin next Monday.

"As a matter of couresty, it seemed proper for the committee to defer its hearings until after the President has spoken," Fulbright said.

The foreign relations inquiry is to deal with a series of resolutions seeking U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam.

Aiken said he has been kept well informed on the progress of Nixon's troop withdrawal policy.

"Unless the unexpected happens, I expect that all our ground troops will be withdrawn by a year from now," Aiken said.

The Vermont senator made the forecast in a statement prepared for Senate delivery.

He cautioned against a precipitous withdrawal, saying "the safety of the minority groups must be assured unless we are now willing to assume responsibility for a wholesale massacre" in Vietnam.

"We all wish that withdrawal could be done immediately, yet the movement of all our personnel and equipment poses a tremendous transportation problem," said Aiken. Aiken said he does not think the Oct. 15 Vietnam protests have harmed the administration peace effort.

'Laugh-In' Producer Quits Over Vulgarity

NEW YORK (AP) — Paul W. Keyes has resigned as producer and head writer of NBC's "Laugh-In" amid reports that he called the show "slanted, vulgar and dirty."

Keyes was quoted in the industry press today as saying he had been disturbed by the direction of the show as far back as April. He said he objected to certain words and phrases which he said had slipped by the NBC censor.

Another Jet Is Hijacked To Cuba

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A Pan American World Airways jet plane with 37 persons aboard was hijacked today on a flight from Mexico City and was diverted to Cuba.

A Pan American spokesman in Mexico City said the pilot reported the hijacking as the plane was over Merida, Yucatan. Circumstances of the hijacking were not immediately known.

The spokesman said later that the plane had landed safely in Havana.

Shah In Capital For Nixon Round

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Shah of Iran arrived today to discuss with President Richard M. Nixon a wide variety of issues ranging from the Middle East crisis to more weapons for his armed forces.

The Middle East monarch, a frequent visitor to the United States, was flown in from Colonial Williamsburg by a helicopter to the White House.

The Shah is expected to renew his request, made first to President Lyndon B. Johnson last year—for $500 to $600 million in U.S. weapons during the next five or six years.

Scott Takes After Agnew On Rebuking War Critics

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott, rebuking Vice President Spiro T. Agnew without naming him, has called for tolerance and an end to "name calling and accusation" in the debate over Vietnam.

Scott, in his most evident disagreement with the White House since his election the GOP's Senate leader a month ago, said "the administration must accept the sincere intent of this debate and of demonstrations" as a phenomenon of freedom and a product of anguish over the war.

The Pennsylvania senator said such protests "will not be stifled or talked down."

In New York, Secretary of State William P. Rogers said the administration has "listened with respect" to opponents of the war.

"Our President is striving for peace in ways that only the man in that office can," Rogers said at the Council of Churches annual "Family of Man" awards dinner.

While there were some "unpleasant aspects" of last Wednesday's demonstrations, Rogers said, "on the whole, it seemed to me that a great many of the demonstrators wished principally to register dramatic but dignified expression of their deep concern for peace in Vietnam. And we listened to these voices with respect—because we, too, have a deep concern for peace in Vietnam."

And the Republican national chairman, declaring flatly that President Richard M. Nixon is "bringing our involvement in Vietnam to an end," accused administration critics of playing politics over policy.

Rep. Rogers C. B. Morton of Maryland dismissed Nixon critics as "soundoffers."

Scott's written statement, volunteered late Monday, did not mention Agnew. But a source close to the GOP leader made clear the statement was prompted by Agnew's Sunday attack on the war protest movement.

Agnew, in New Orleans, said leaders of the protest movement are "hard core dissidents and professional anarchists."

The vice president said they are being encouraged by "an effete corps of impudent snobs who characterize themselves as intellectuals."

Scott said the American people have heard "enough of invective against Americans who feel a different way."

At the same time, Scott said, Nixon already has responded to public opinion "with significant moves in the direction of peace."

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee which will open a week of Vietnam hearings next Monday, called the Agnew speech undignified. He accused the vice president of "very poor manners."

Cosmonauts Revamp U.S. Visit Agenda

NEW YORK (AP) — Two Soviet cosmonauts canceled a visit to the Statue of Liberty and the Empire State Building today deciding to leave for the Manned Space Flight Center in Houston, Tex.

Col. Frank Borman, the American astronaut accompanying the cosmonauts on their two-week visit here, said the Russian spacemen canceled the visits to make time for a banquet in Los Angeles Thursday night.

SHUN KENNEDY

The Soviets surprised their American hosts yesterday by announcing they could not make their scheduled stop at Cape Kennedy, Fla., where America launches its space flights.

They gave no explanation for that cancellation, but some Americans traveling with the party speculated that Moscow feared that if the two visited the Cape, then Washington might request that American astronauts be allowed to visit the Soviet secret take-off center at Baikonur in central Asia.

On their first day in the United States Monday, the cosmonauts took in a Broadway show and dined in a French restaurant. They drank only vodka.

One of them said their warm welcome "revealed humanity at its best."

DUCK METS FETE

Maj. Gen. Georgi T. Beregovoi, 48, and Konstantin Feoktistov, 43, a civilian, arrived in New York yesterday from Moscow. They immediately declined an invitation to Mayor John V. Lindsay's reception for the New York Mets, the baseball world champions, pleading fatigue.

Beregovoi and Feoktistov went to their Plaza Hotel suites to rest, then went to see "Hello, Dolly!" with Pearl Bailey and Cab Calloway.

Miss Bailey brought the Soviet spacemen and Borman on stage after the show, to a standing ovation from the audience.

"I love you," she said, and kissed each on the cheek. "But tell me, how do you manage to fly up in space like that?"

"You have to have time and ability to do everything," Beregovoi told her.

"How well I know, honey How well I know," Miss Bailey chortled, and the audience roared.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

To Visit Peking

HONG KONG (AP) — Former Burmese Premier U Nu said today he plans to visit Communist China during the world tour he is now making seeking support for his efforts to overthrow Gen. Ne Win's regime.

U Nu, who was ousted by Ne Win in 1962, refused to say when he plans to visit China or whether he would ask for Chinese military aid. But he said he would accept guns "from anyone, including the devil himself, if offered with strings."

The former premier told the Hong Kong Foreign Correspondents Club that it is becoming "probable that a civil war, which I had hoped to avoid, is the only way to end the Ne Win dictatorship which has brought death to many Burmese and economic ruin to our country."

Tax Evader War

ROME (AP) — The new mayor of Rome, who inherited more than $2 billion in city debts, is waging war on tax evaders whom he blames for putting the city further in the hole.

In his first major address last night, Clelio Darida said he had begun a "systematic search for fiscal evaders," planned a general reform of the tax laws and would reorganize the tax collector's office.

The 42-year-old lawyer spiced his threats with a few promises. He said he wants to create more parks, tear down the slums and clear up Rome's traffic congestion.

Science Plea

BRUSSELS (AP) — Daniel P. Moynihan, President Richard M. Nixon's adviser on urban affairs, urged the North Atlantic Alliance today to use science to solve the problems science has created.

"Modern governments fail because they are not modern," Moynihan told the closing session of the North Atlantic Assembly. "They face the problems created by technology with the mentality and the organization of a pretechnological society."

U.S. scientists have speculated that "we may even have less than a 50-50 chance of living until 1980," he said.

Moynihan told his audience of legislators from the nations of the Alliance that he hoped they would support President Nixon's proposed committee on the challenges of modern society, due to be created soon within the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Open Dialogue

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet and Czechoslovak leaders today began talks in the Kremlin that Prague said would lead to a declaration of "basic political importance."

Czechoslovak Communist party first secretary Gustav Husak, Premier Oldrich Cernik and President Ludvik Svoboda arrived yesterday for a nine-day visit. Today they settled down to formal talks with Soviet Communist party General Secretary Leonid I. Brezhnev, Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and President Nikolai V. Podgorny.

A breif official announcemen gave no indication of the subjects being discussed, but observers here believe one result will be a large loan to shore up the Czechoslovak economy.

To Forego Talk

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II has decided to forego her usual Christmas broadcas' this year and instead will issue a written message to Britain and the Commonwealth nations on Christmas Eve.

Battles Near Cambodian Border Take Seven GIs, Ruin Copters

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops killed seven Americans, wounded 18 others and damaged two helicopters in two sharp fights yesterday near the Cambodian border north of Saigon. The U.S. Command said 16 of the enemy were killed.

Farther south along the border, other American air cavalrymen exchanged machine-gun and rifle fire for nearly three hours with North Vietnamese troops 58 miles northwest of Saigon. Two helicopters supporting the ground troops were hit by machine-gun fire which wounded three crewmen, but the helicopters made it back to their bases.

U.S. spokesmen said two Americans were killed and two were wounded on the ground, and two enemy bodies were found on the battlefield.

One North Vietnamese force apparently took about 150 troops of the U.S. First Air Cavalry Division by surprise as they waited in a landing zone 85 miles northeast of Saigon for helicopters to pick them up after a reconnaissance patrol.

The North Vietnamese opened up with a 25-round mortar barrage and machine-gun and rifle fire, killing five Americans and wounding 13 before the company could take cover.

Meanwhile, military investigators began a search for the cause of a fire that extensively damaged the USO Club in downtown Saigon. The fire broke out about midnight yesterday and burned for an hour. U.S. officials said so far there was no indication of sabotage.

No casualties were reported, but scores of Vietnamese living in nearby buildings fled into the streets with as much of their belongings as they could carry. However, firemen confined the flames to the rear of the USO building.

The U.S. Command also announced that another 2,300 U.S. Marines are leaving South Vietnam this week under President Richard M. Nixon's withdrawal program, including the first major elements of the Third Division's Fourth Regiment to be pulled out. They are going to Okinawa.

Hundreds Of Japanese Peace Rioters Jailed

TOKYO (AP) — An estimated 500,000 Japanese leftists staged rowdy demonstrations against the Vietnam war throughout the country today. The most serious clashes occurred in Tokyo, where 480 persons were arrested and 20 policemen were injured.

Young leftists also made abortive attempts to set off explosions at two American bases near Tokyo. But most of the radical students used Molotov cocktails against the police.

More than 75,000 policemen had been mobilized, 25,000 of them in Tokyo. Shops and offies closed early, shop windows were boarded up or shuttered, and millions hurried to get home before the turnout for the International Antiwar Day, a four-year-old observance which has never caught on outside Japan.

The big Shinjuku railway station just outside Tokyo was a main target of students who hurled fire bombs and rocks at the buildings and police. Trains in and out of the station were canceled.

The station was the scene of violent attacks during the demonstration a year ago, and the demonstrators caused an estimated $1 million damage.

Reports from Okinawa said an estimated 50,000 persons took part in rallies on the island and others of the Ryukyu chain. About 15,000 demonstrators gathered in Naha to demand the immediate return of Okinawa and the scrapping of the U.S.-Japan security treaty, newsmen said.

While the militant students were fighting the police, the threee opposition parties held orderly rallies attended by many thousands.

Senators Poker-Faced On Nixon's Judge Plea

WASHINGTON (AP) — If President Richard M. Nixon swayed any undecided senators with his strongly worded defense of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr., they are keeping it to themselves.

The more than 20 Senators who hold the key to confirmation of Haynsworth's nomination to the Supreme Court didn't show any signs that Nixon's statement Monday would start a stampede to back the administration.

Such senior Republicans as George D. Aiken of Vermont and John J. Williams of Delaware still are listed as undecided with an expected vote on confirmation about two weeks off.

Nixon said at a surprise news conference yesterday Haynsworth has been subjected to "vicious character assassination." The President said he would not withdraw his nomination even if Haynsworth requested him to do so.

Aiken said later he still hasn't decided how he will vote on Haynsworth's confirmation.

"I doubt if the President made any votes by his statement," Aiken commented.

But Sen. Roman L. Hruska of Nebraska, ranking Republican member of the Senate Judiciary Committee, said he is more confident than ever the Senate will confirm Haynsworth, now chief judge of the 4th U.S. Court of Appeals.

Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., a leader of the opposition, said conflict-of-interest charges he has made have not been refuted by the administration "and make an eloquent case against confirmation of Judge Haynsworth."

"It is unfortunate that the President appears to be leveling his guns at me personally in an effort to distort the true issue and make the nomination of Judge Haynsworth a partisan matter," Bayh said.

The conflict-of-interest issue centers on charges that Haynsworth held stock in companies involved in court cases in which he participated.

Supporters contend the issue is just a smokescreen for the opposition of labor and civil rights leaders, who have brought heavy pressure on senators to vote against confirmation.

Aiken said his impression from talking with colleagues is that most of them wish the nomination would just go away so that they would not have to vote on it.

Somalia Has Quiet Coup By Military

MOGADISHU, Somalia (AP) — A military coup overthrew Somalia's elected government early today less than 24 hours after the funeral of assassinated President Abdirashid Ali Shermarke.

The self-styled Revolutionary Council said in a broadcast: "The revolution was staged to save Somalia from the corrupt malpractices of the ruling classes."

TRIBALISM HIT

The council said it will "abolish all the bad things left behind. Somalia will be led by responsible people, and tribalism will be abolished."

Troops in full battle dress with fixed bayonets took control before dawn amid an unusual heavy rain. All businesses except coffee houses were closed. Banks, communications offices, the harbor, the government printing office and other key installations were heavily guarded.

There was no official word on the whereabouts of Prime Minister Mohamed Ibrahim Egal, but his beachfront house was under military guard.

He was criticized this week by local newspapers which accused him of selling public lands at drastically reduced prices to political friends.

NO VIOLENCE

No shooting or violence was reported by persons walking about the city.

Motor traffic was at a standstill, except for military vehicles.

A radio announcement said the armed forces assumed power at 3 a.m. It said the country's foreign policy would remain the same, and all treaties and agreements with friendly countries would be respected.

Arabs To Prison

HEBRON, Occupied Jordan (UPI) — An Israeli military court yesterday sentenced two Hebron Arabs to 20 years in prison for anti-Israeli activities. Israeli security forces charged the Arabs monitored radioed commands from Al Fatah guerrillas in Amman, including an order to set off a truckload of explosives in downtown Jerusalem. They were seized before they could do it, Israel said.

Agnew Reassures South On Policy

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew says the Republican party would give Southerners a fair deal without racism or a sellout to the South.

He told a Mississippi state GOP fund-raising dinner last night that "we have no Southern strategy."

"We do have a conviction that the people of the United States, irrespective of their point of geographic residence, have an inherent right to be treated evenhandedly by their government."

Noting opposition to the President's nomination of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. of South Carolina to the Supreme Court, Agnew said Haynsworth was guilty of no impropriety "unless that impropriety is his place of birth and residence."

Roman troops occupied Austria in 15 B.C.

The number of registered vehicles in South West Africa has increased tenfold since 1939 to more than 50,000 at present.

DONALD A. DUERR
Incumbent faces fight

ROBERT E. KRUGER
One of two challengers

NOV. 4 ELECTION

Three Seeking Two Posts In Marinwood

(First of eight articles)

An incumbent and two challengers will run for two seats on the Marinwood Community Services District board in the Nov. 4 election.

All three candidates said the problem of vandalism and anti-social behavior by youth are the big problems facing the services district.

Here are the three candidates in alphabetical order, with brief statements from each:

DONALD A. DUERR (incumbent), 47, of 386 Johnstone Drive, is current chairman of the services district board. He is business administrator at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo, member of the steering committee of the Las Gallinas Valley Council, and was former city manager in Sausalito for four years.

Duerr said the major problem is youth's relation to the community and the community's response to anti-social action. "We must bring youth into the mainstream of society," said Duerr. "Strictly speaking, this is not a CSD responsibility, but the people look to us for leadership."

Duerr noted that the board was able to reduce the tax rate this year to $1.24 from last year's $1.295. "But the question is, how long we can keep the CSD going with limited funds."

ELLIS D. JAQUETTE, 32, of 505 Quietwood Drive. He is an electrical engineer with the Bechtel Corp. in San Francisco.

"The major problem is anti-social behavior by juveniles on CSD premises," said Jaquette. "Containment of this nuisance without excessive harshness is mandatory."

"A second item of concern is general lack of knowledge of the CSD, its operations and problems. A semi-annual circular covering major items such as the budget, scheduled board meeting, and future activities would be helpful."

ROBERT E. KRUGER, 46, of 2258 Juniperberry Drive, is a stock broker with W. E. Hutton Co. of San Francisco.

Kruger said he would like to "continue the good work of the CSD," aiming in particular for greater participation by citizens. The involvement with and by our younger adults and youth will be a primary consideration. This can be accomplished within current budgetary limits."

March Of Dimes Director Is Named

Laurence B. Malkim, assistant administrator of Marin General Hospital, will be 1970 campaign director for the Marin March of Dimes. Ralph Giovaniello, chairman of the Marin chapter of the National Foundation, announced the appointment to the chapter board Friday.

Malkim, of 924 Appleberry Drive, Marinwood, is a director of the Marinwood Community Services District and president of the Ross Valley Kiwanis lub.

Three Suspended In Near Rioting

Three College of Marin students have been suspended and a fourth placed on disciplinary probation in the wake of last week's near-riot at the Marin Junior College District board meeting.

Dean of Students Irwin P. Diamond said he met yesterday with the students and suspended Del Mar Jackson, William Nason and Brigardo Groves, and placed William Acosta on probation, all for the rest of this semester.

The students are expected to appeal the decision to the student conduct committee, and Diamond said they will be permitted to remain in classes until the committee hears their case.

Acosta and Jackson were leaders in a chanting, hand-clapping demonstration that temporarily closed down the board meeting. Groves is the youth on crutches who returned to the meeting a little later and shouted obscenities at trustee Robert E. Oliver. During the demonstration, Jackson swept papers and materials off the desks of acting Supt.-President Louis H. Herkenhoff and trustee Donald K. Felt.

Diamond said he was seeking names of one or two more persons, believed to be students, who took leading roles in the disruption.

Suspension would totally bar the students from the campus for the rest of the semester. Jackson's post as Associated Students parliamentarian would be vacated.

Under probation, Acosta would be permitted to attend classes and use academic facilities, but could not take part in any campus activities.

Appeals to the student conduct committee must be filed within 48 hours. Diamond said the committee probably will meet within a day or two after that. If the students are dissatisfied with the committee ruling, appeals to Herkenhoff or the board are possible.

The committee comprises four students, who were to be named today by the Associated Students executive council, faculty members Donald Palmer and Dorothy Wakefield, and Assistant Dean of Instruction Albert C. Heppe representing the administration.

Hub Man Injured In Auto Accident

Jerry Lynn Pate, 17, of 27 Laurel Avenue, San Anselmo, was treated yesterday at Marin General Hospital for cuts on the hand and chest following an accident at 1:30 a.m. on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near the Fairfax city limits, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Details of the accident were not available from the highway patrol.

Guitarist Faces Hearing On Pot

HONOLULU (AP) — Paul Kantner, lead guitarist of the Jefferson Airplane rock musical group, has been ordered to appear in district court tomorrow to answer a charge of possession of marijuana.

Kantner, 28, was arrested early Sunday by Honolulu police narcotics officers at a house he and the rest of the group rented during their appearances here.

Kantner was arrested while crawling through bushes near the house with a marijuana cigarette between his lips, police Sgt. John Borges said.

Kantner appeared at arraignment proceedings Monday and was freed on $100 bail.

Jewish Classes Are Scheduled For Next Month

Classes in Hebrew conversation and reading and Israeli folk dancing will be offered next month in the fall 1969 Jewish studies institute.

The classes are sponsored by Congregations Kol Shofar and Rodef Sholom, the Bureau of Jewish Education and the Marin Jewish Community Center. Classes will be at Temple Rodef Sholom, 170 North San Pedro Road.

Classes will be held on six consecutive Tuesdays starting Nov. 4. Aaron Lor will teach conversational Hebrew at 7:30 p.m. Rhoda Nichaman will teach intermediate Hebrew reading at 7:30 p.m., introductory Hebrew reading will be at 8:40 p.m., Dov Harris will teach Israeli folk dancing at 8:40 p.m., and a seminar on the concerns of contemporary youth will be held at 8:40 p.m.

The courses are for adults and high school students. Applications should be made in advance through the Marin Jewish Center, according to the institute brochure.

Voice Of The 'Beats,' Jack Kerouac Is Dead

LOWELL, Mass. (AP) — Jack Kerouac, the beat generation writer whose books ushered in the current generation of hippies, died early today at a St. Petersburg, Fla., hospital.

Relatives in his home town of Lowell said the writer, who was in his late 40s, suffered a hemorrhage last night and died about 5:30 a.m. today.

His first book was titled "The Town and the City." It was a frankly autobiographical work detailing his youth in Lowell and later encounters in New York.

Perhaps his most famous book was "On the Road," a freewheeling account of his travels through the country, which popularized the notion of a "Beat Generation."

Kerouac's original intention regarding the term "beat" had to do with the idea of "beatific," a term he used for the concept of people rejecting the materialism of the United States of the 1950s, and turning instead to a frank enjoyment of the pleasures in life.

Educated at Lowell High School, Kerouac went on to Columbia University in New York. During World War II, he served in the U.S. Merchant Marine, shipping on the Murmansk run.

He had a daughter by his first wife. His second wife is the former Stella Samas of Lowell.

Kerouac made his home in Lowell when he was not traveling. He had been in Florida with his wife to take care of his ailing mother, who is bedridden, a family spokesman said today.

Kerouac's writing has been referred to as a bridge between the "Lost Generation" of the early part of the 20th Century, and the heirs of the "Beat Generation," the hippies.

Many critics regard Kerouac as a progenitor of today's hippie generation, with its rejection of materialism, its emphasis on sensual pleasures, and the spirit of wanderlust that carried him throughout much of the world.

Slight Wound From An Exploding Bullet

Barbara Little, 19, who lives in a home behind Peacock Gap Country Club, was treated Sunday for a superficial wound in her left arm, suffered when a bullet exploded in her fireplace.

Sheriff's deputies said she was burning papers in the fireplace when the bullet exploded. She didn't know how the bullet had got there.

College's Hiring Session To Be Shut

The Marin Junior College District board will hold a closed meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Marin County superintendent of schools office with its screening committee to discuss hiring of a new superintendent-president for College of Marin.

The board interviewed three candidates for the post last week and will discuss its impressions tomorrow with the screening committee, college publicist Earlene Jones said.

ZODIAC SEARCH CONTINUES

This is the poster being circulated by law enforcement agencies in the Bay Area for the possible glasses-wearing slayer of five persons who has called himself Zodiac in cryptic notes to newspapers. The amended artist's drawing (right) is the result of additional information. He is believed to be 35 to 45 years of age, approximately 5-foot, 8-inches of heavy build with short brown hair with a possible red tint. He is also reportedly armed with a rare 9-millimeter automatic pistol. (See story on page 32). (AP Wirephoto)

Hollis, Aide Invited Out Of A Sausalito School

prised and sorry to learn from your letter and from the tape of the meeting (at King) of the critical attitudes of you and your faculty concerning the interest of the county schools office in assistnig your district in solving its unique educational problems."

It went on to say that the county schools office was concerned about the district's use last year of black militant William (Chaka) Bradley as an instructional aide and about the duties of James T. Toliver Jr., special assistant to the principal and staff at King.

"To date it appears to us that he (Toliver) is acting in the role of a vice principal without the proper credentials," the letter said. Last night, Schneider presented the board with a job description for Toliver which detailed 27 specific areas for which he is responsible.

Hollis's letter was in response to a Sep. 30 letter from Schneider describing a meeting at the school on Sept. 26 during which teachers were shown the previous correspondence between the two officials.

At that meeting, Schneider wrote "there was strong negative teacher reaction to county observers in the building. The majority of the teachers voted to eliminate observation by the county. Five teachers abstained from that vote."

Schneider also repeated earlier questions to Hollis: To me, the meeting pointed up the need for a clear statement for your office, which I suggested to you at our meeting of Sept. 23, indicating the specific charges, allegations and rumors made to you against the King School."

In a letter dated two days before the meeting, Hollis had responded to requests by Walton that he be specific about his and Spain's activities.

Hollis said: "In general terms, those concerns include such topics and allegations as the following: Panther breakfasts, Mr. Bradley's employment and teaching activities, credentials, pupil and teacher absenteeism, fights, pupil hazing, inadequate curriculum and teaching methods, criticism of district administration, pupil accounting procedures, failure of the board of trustees to follow their established policy, excessive vandalism, Mr. Toliver's administrative role, falsification of records, total lack of discipline, cutting classes by pupils who remain on school grounds, and excessive truancy."

He also listed 13 "potential problem areas," including: Curriculum, discipline, the breakfast program, "humanization" programs and Walton's use of an "inservice day" for teachers.

Both Hollis and Spain had sent Schneider and Walton summaries of their observations but Schneider last night said they were "completely unsatisfactory."

In one of the summaries, Hollis said: "The Blacks with whom I spoke and observed appeared to be cheeful, less resentful, willing to converse. The hate of last spring seemed lessened. The whites observed generally were in groups. The fear of last spring was evident."

He also said, "Many comments that I may have are being left unsaid because in the short period of time that (I) have observed, (I) cannot weigh effectively the various aspects of the operations that (I see)."

In another summary, also saying some things were being left unsaid, Hollis said: "The shakedown cruise appears to be over and teachers and students are beginning to have certain confrontations. Those that I witnessed or have understood have taken place are quickly being dealt with by the administration.

The pupils are beginning to assert themselves more aggressively than they did during the first week of school. The blacks appear to be more aggressive than the white students."

Old Adobe Fete Officers Elected

Ross Smith, coordinator of the Old Adobe festival held this summer in Petaluma, last night was elected president of the festival committee, to plan for next year's event.

Others elected were Leo Labio, vice president; Barbara McCormick, treasurer; Elizabeth Baker, recording secretary, and Jane Haigen, corresponding secretary.

Smith scheduled the next meeting for Nov. 3 at 7:30 p.m. in Beasley's restaurant.

Church Panes, Floor Damaged By Vandals

Vandals hurled a large stone through two large windows of the office and classroom located on the south side of Trinity Lutheran Church between 10:20 a.m. Sunday and 9:30 a.m. Monday, San Rafael police reported today.

Tile flooring in the classroom at 333 Woodland Avenue, was damaged in the attack.

Ross Board Picks Panel On Finances

A seven-member panel to study the financial future of the Ross School District was appointed by the school board last night after a closed meeting to discuss possible candidates.

Named were Pamela Morris, Marilyn Hicks, Bruce W. Dayton, Mary Grandin, William H. Richardson, Dr. Justin L. Williams and Frank A. Barsocchini, according to Supt. Thomas A. Anderson.

The committee will survey the past and future financial picture of the district. study the educational program and discuss school facilities. It is expected to report about February, Anderson said.

The board also agreed to appoint a committee to evaluate the arts program at the school.

The music program was reduced this year after the music specialist resigned. Board members agreed to study all the arts before hiring a replacement.

The board also recognized the Ross School District Teachers Association as the group to represent the faculty in salary negotiations after discussing the matter in closed session with Anderson, the board's official negotiator.

The board adopted a resolution urging acquisition of the remaining land at the Point Reyes National Seashore.

Valley Viewers Hit Cable Lack

A letter-writing campaign against poor cable television service may be forming in the San Geronimo Valley.

Richard Poppe, vice president of the San Geronimo Valley Association, told the association last night that Supervisor Louis H. Baar is asking that letters about TV cable problems be sent to him immediately because the board of supervisors is reviewing cable service in the county, reported publicity chairman Claryce E. Stevens.

Valley residents have complained that Cable Television of Marin has not extended service through the valley as promised when granted a franchise for the area.

Burglary Case Is Bound Over

Edgar Raymond Hale, 42, of Novato, was bound over to Marin Superior Court yesterday on a charge of burglarizing La Petite Auberge restaurant in San Rafael Oct. 7.

He was told to appear in court Monday for arraignment.

Hale was arrested when police who came to answer a burglar alarm found him in the restaurant.

Big Brothers Slate Organizing Dinner

A supper meeting to extend the Big Brothers program to Marin will be held by the Marin County organizing committee of Big Brothers Inc. of America at 7 p.m. tomorrow at the Henry B. Grandin Jr. residence, Upper Road, Ross.

The Big Brothers program is open to all fatherless boys between 7 and 17 years old.

Though Interstate Highways account for only one percent of the Nation's streets and roads, they probably carry 20 per cent of all traffic. Vacation and pleasure drivers alone usually roll up 50 billion miles of travel a year on the expressways.

Novato Opens Park Pool, Lagoon Bids

Two bids totaling $29,750 were recieved for the spray pool and small boat lagoon for Pioneer Memorial Park, parks and recreation director Edward W. Adams reported last night to the Novato Parks and recreation Commission.

The bids were from Marin Hollis and Associates of San Francisco for $17,250 for the spray pool and D. Piccinini Co. of San Francisco for $12,500 for the lagoon.

The city council had budgeted $33,000 for the items, and will act on them tonight.

Adams also reported that Pioneer Park is ready for turf.

The commission started work on a public opinion survey questionnaire which it will mail to selected people on the voter registration list. The survey was requested by the city council to determine public support for a bond issue to purchase and develop a major city park.

Commissioner Harry Moore turned in his resignation effective at the end of his term Dec. 31. He said the press of other commitments such as the Marin Junior College District board, took too much of his time.

The public hearing on the cemetery at Pioneer Memorial Park was postponed until 8 p.m. Nov. 3 at the Novato Community House.

Warm Springs Dam Funds Due In May

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — Federal funds totaling $10.3 million will be allocated in May to begin work on the Warms Springs Dam north of Healdsburg which eventually provide water for Marin and Sonoma counties.

Supervisor Arthur N. Rounavaara of Healdsburg said yesterday that funds totaling $10,305,000 will be allocated as part of the July 1 budget for the Army Corps of Engineers to begin road relocation work.

Included in the road projects will be the complete relocation of Stewart's Point-Skaggs Springs and Rockpile roads at a cost of $9,725,000. Another $260,000 will be spent to build an access road to the dam site and $320,000 to construct a permanent operations center.

Rounavaara said that major allocations for the $80 million project are expected to come in the 1970-71 budget as recently reviewed by the Bureau of the Budget.

In addition to providing water to Marin and Sonoma counties, the dam is expected to relieve flooding conditions along the Russian River.

New Reed Report Cards Discussed

Recommendations to establish uniformity in report cards were heard last night by the Reed School District board in a curriculum workshop, Supt. Robert B. Gaw reported.

Gaw said the board delayed action until its regular meeting at 8 p.m. today at Bel Aire School.

Staff recommendations included check list report cards with comments optional for primary grades, an optional check list or letter grade report card for third through sixth grades and letter grade cards for seventh and eighth grades.

Parents still would be able to have conferences with teachers, Gaw said.

Report Sought On Dog Controls

The City-County Services Committee last night asked executive officer John F. Barrows to prepare a report on when Marin's intensified dog control program, approved by all Marin cities except Tiburon, will go into effect.

Timothy M. Jackson, senior county administrative analyst, said today the county is awaiting delivery of the citation forms, and subsequent approval by law enforcement officials, to begin the program.

The committee also asked for a report from County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom on the activities of his department in order to provide a yardstick on how much of the department's budget should be borne countywide and in municipalities and special districts.

mand. This is purely a military matter."

One regiment in Santiago, the Tacna Infantry, was in the process early in the day of being surrounded by units loyal to the Christian Democratic government. Scattered shooting broke out sporadically.

Tacna Infantry troops on guard duty took potshots at anyone who tried to get within a halfblock of the entrance to their quarters. Two newsmen who managed to get near the entrace were seized by the rebels and taken inside the barracks.

NO INJURIES

No injuries were reported.

A government announcement said President Frei was using his constitutional authority to recess the legislature and decree the state of siege, but contended that the provinces were generally calm. It said all army and air force units were "normal" except for two rebellious regiments, the Tacna and the Yungay.

Newsmen who toured army units said they had reliable reports that the Maturana Artillery Regiment and the noncommissioned officers' school had joined the rebels but had not yet taken overt action against the established authorities.

General Viaux arrived from Antofagasya last night in response to a summons by the army commander-in-chief, Maj. Gen. Sergio Castillo. He was to answer questions about his recent public statements criticizing the Frei administration.

Although Chile is one of the three largest copper suppliers in the world, the United States gets only about 12 per cent of its copper from this country. Anaconda and Kennecott, the big U.S. companies recently sold about half their investment to the Chilean government with payment to be made in a share of copper sales.

Although any interruption in copper shipments might bear more heavily on European consumers, because half of the production of Kennecott's huge El Teniente mine goes to them, copper men were anxious about the possible effect on world copper prices.

Marin Trustees To Eye SDS Ban

The Marin County Board of Education will discuss a proposed statewide campus ban on Students for a Democratic Society when it meets Monday, Deputy Supt. Stanley Friese said today.

The board's three standing committees last night discussed a letter from State Superintendent of Schools Max Rafferty and a State Board of Education resolution declaring SDS "unfit to be recognized as a student organization."

The state board in September warned that any schools granting SDS recognition might be violating the education code.

The Marin board will meet next week because of schedule conflicts Nov. 3, which would have been the meeting date, Friese said. The meeting will start at 8 p.m. in the district office.

Library Board Member Resigns

Harold H. Fulkerson, San Rafael attorney, resigned from the San Rafael Library Board in a letter received today by Mayor C. Paul Bettini.

Fulkerson informed librarian Vivian Smith prior to last night's board meeting that he had written the letter of resignation.

In it, he said he finds it "difficult in view of the pressure of other business" to give the library board job "the attention it deserves."

Fulkerson was appointed on March 20, 1967, to complete the term of James Goodale. His current term expires in April 1971.

Fire Truck To Be Christmas Present

Terra Linda should have a new fire truck for Christmas, chairman Neal D. Harding of the Terra Linda Community Services District announced last night at a meeting of directors.

Harding showed slides of the truck, which is being outfitted by inmates at the California State Prison in Susanville. He estimated that the cost would be about $10,000, "and we hope to get it by Christmas."

Helen J. Slosson Dies At 75

Requiem Mass for Helen J. Slosson of Corte Madera will be offered at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow in St. Patrick's Church, Larkspur. Mrs. Slosson, 75, died Sunday at a local convalescent hospital following a short illness.

A native of Knowles, Madera County, she had lived in Marin County for 15 years, residing at 414 Redwood Avenue, Corte Madera.

She was a member of the Rosarium Institute of the Young Ladies Institute of Larkspur.

Mrs. Slosson is survived by a daughter, Helen E. Greene of Bellevue, Wash., and two grandchildren.

Recitation of the Rosary will be tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the Keaton Mortuary, San Rafael. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery, Oakland.

The family prefers memorial contributions to a favorite charity.

HELEN GASPAR

Private funeral for Helen Gaspar, 72, of Kentfield was held today at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael. Private inurnment followed.

Mrs. Gaspar, a 16-year resident of Marin County died Sunday at her home at 7 Rosebank Avenue, following a short illness.

A native of Philadelphia, Pa., she moved to San Francisco 65 years ago. Her husband, George C. Gaspar, a retired San Francisco service station owner, died five years ago.

She is survived by a daugher, Helen Deicke of Napa; a sister, Ruth Halstenson of Albany and two grandchildren.

EMILY PETTERSEN

Emily O. Pettersen, wife of former Marin Supervisor and Sausalito Councilman Randolph N. (Rudy) Pettersen, died yesterday following a long illness.

Her son, Thomas McBride, said Mrs. Pettersen died while being taken to the hospital from her Forest Knolls home.

A native of San Francisco, Mrs. Pettersen, 69, moved to Forest Knolls 25 years ago when she married Captain Pettersen, former seaman, ferryboat operator, Golden Gate Bridge worker, boxer and politician. The couple had lived at "Viking's Rest" on Arroyo Road since then.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Pettersen is survived by a brother, Arthur Arvois of Millbrae; two sons, Thomas McBride of Redwood City and Leonard McBride of Santa Ana, Orange County; nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral will be at 11 a.m. Thursday at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael. Burial will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael. The family prefers contributions to the American Cancer Society.

RAY O'DELL

Ray A. O'Dell, owner of the Marin Dental Laboratory in San Rafael, died yesterday in a San Francisco hospital after a short illness. He was 61.

Born in St. Louis, Mo., he moved to Southern California at the age of 5 and to Marin County 40 years ago where he founded his business in 1939.

Five years ago he moved to Sonoma from Fairfax. He also lived in San Rafael many years ago.

A veteran of World War II, he served as a sergeant in the Army medical corp.

He is survived by his wife, Margaret O'Dell; two daughters, Colleen O'Dell of Sonoma and Sally Woodard of San Rafael; a brother, Roy E. O'Dell of Ariz., and one grandchild.

There will be no funeral. Burial will be at Sawtelle Veterans Cemetery in Los Angeles.

IOLA RHOADS

Iola Rhoads, 90, a Marin resident for 47 years, died yesterday at a local convalescent hospital after a long illness.

A native of Grass Valley, she began spending summers in Marin in 1914 and living the rest of the year in Richmond where her husband, the late Frank (Dusty) Rhoads operated tailor shops.

She lived in San Anselmo during most of her Marin residence but had been in a convalescent hospital for the past seven years.

Survivors are a daughter, Mrs. Harold G. Carlton of Larkspur; a son, James V Rhoads of San Anselmo; six grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Requiem Mass will be offered at 10 a.m. Thursday at St. Raphael's Church, San Rafael, with burial in Mount Oliviet Cemetery. The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

ALFRED KEATING

Funeral was held today for Alfred Keating, 81, a Cotati poultryman, who died Saturday at his home after a long illness. Private inurnment was at Cypress Hill Memorial Park.

Born in New Zealand, he came to the United States 52 years ago and served in World War I. Keating had owned and operated a poultry ranch at 1070 Helman Avenue for many years.

He was a member of the Druids, Petaluma Harmony Grove No. 38.

MANUEL ROLLINS

Funeral for Manuel Rollins, 81, of 327 Bassett Street, Petaluma, will be held at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at the Sorensen funeral home, Petaluma. Burial will be at Calvary emetery.

Rollins was found dead at his home Sunday. The Sonoma County Coroner's office said he died apparently of natural causes but a routine investigation is being conducted.

A native of San Rafael, he moved to Petaluma 61 years ago. Rollins had worked for his stepfather, the late John B. Silva, a contractor, until his retirement in 1946. He was a veteran of World War I.

He is survived by a stepsister, Mrs. May Fuller of Petaluma.

Recitation of the Rosary will be at 8 p.m. today at the Sorensen funeral home.

Motorcycle, Bikes Stolen

A motorcycle and two bicycles were stolen from two San Rafael schools this week, San Rafael police reported today.

A motorcycle owned by Michael James Foppe, 17, of 34 Hillview Avenue, San Rafael was stolen from the San Rafael High School grounds Monday between 8 a.m. and noon.

Carole Marie Pitto of 860 Tamarack Drive, reported her son's Stingray bicycle valued at $75 was stolen from the Nova Albion School bike rack sometime between Friday and Monday, Mark Kenyon, 15, of 184 Coleman Drive, reported his 10-speed bicycle valued at $75 taken form the San Rafael High School grounds Saturday during the football game between 8 and 10 p.m.

Check Forgery Plea Date Set

Judi Ann Tomei and Gary Michael Schaeffer, both of 35 Fairfax Street, San Rafael, were arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on charges of check forgery and possessing a check with intent to defraud.

Their cases were continued until Monday for entry of plea.

A warrant of arrest with bail set at $6,250 was issued for John Arthur Westphal Jr., accused of the same offenses, who may be in a federal prison, according to Deputy Dist. Atty. John R. Thomas.

Redwood High Hit Over Moratorium

Redwood High School's day-long Vietnam Moratorium program was attacked by a Tamalpais High School trustee and three parents last night and just as staunchly defended by the school's principal.

An hour-long skirmish between Principal Donald Kreps and the parents was sparked when board chairman Bette Wallace read a letter from absent Trustee David D. Ring, critical of Redwood's moratorium activities.

Ring protested that students were allowed out of class to attend rallies and outside speakers. "Prior to Oct. 15, it had been my specific understanding that the district intended to conduct regular classes on that date," wrote Ring.

Ring said that he called Dist. Supt. Robert D. Torrey the day before the moratorium and was told that Torrey had no knowledge of the activities planned at Redwood. "I therefore must assume that these arrangements were approved by Mr. Kreps without the knowledge of the superintendent," the trustee said.

Ring said that he did not believe that such activities were proper for a school since it was clearly intended to put pressure on the President to change the actions he is taking to end the war.

Ring ended his letter by calling for a review of the board's policy on the use of school grounds and that it review the lines of authority so that ". . . no school will officially or unofficially cancel classes for a day without the superintendent even being aware this is occurring."

Torrey told the board that he left organization of "M-day" activities to the principal and students of each school. He said there was no district policy other than having all controversial films and speakers screened.

Kreps told the board that all films and speakers were screened by the school. He also pointed out that board policy now allows a student to be excused from class for any reason if he has his parents' written consent. He said about 500 students presented written permission to miss class on the moratorium day.

Kreps said his school wanted to provide a program on campus so the students would not have to leave to go to other demonstrations. He said that eight teachers took leave and will be docked a day's pay. He also said that several substitute teachers were brought in to teach those students who did not want to participate in moratorium day activities.

Three parents in the audience did not see the moratorium day program in such a rosy light, however.

One woman, who said she pulled her child out of school at 11 a.m., said she felt as though the school and teachers ". . . robbed me." She also said that the entire theme for the day was ". . . anti-American not antiwar."

Willis C. Bohn of Tiburon told the board he spent most of the day at the school and felt that the entire theme of the day was in support of the "One World Government." He said that if the district could donate a school to the "long haired types," it should also donate it to him so he could stage a presentation showing the other side.

"Who will determine whether we cut out a couple more days of school for next month's moratorium days, which I believe are already planned," Bohn said. Ring also raised this question in his letter to the board.

James Newhouse told the board he objected to teachers involving themselves in the moratorium along with the students.

"I feel the instructors of my children are not hired to teach them politics," he said.

Kreps, in defending his school's activities, said simply: "It was not anit-American, it was a very American day."

The principals of the other two high schools, Sir Francis Drake and Tamalpais reported that noon-time activities were held on their campuses, but classes were not interrupted.

APPOINTED — Dr. Bernard Bradman has been named director of in-patient services of the psychiatric unit of Ross General Hospital. Bradman, of 5 Mount Burney Court, Lucas Valley, has been assistant program chief of community mental health services of San Francisco. He is also in private practice.

Boy, 5, Runs Into A Vehicle

A 5-year-old Novato boy received minor injuries when he ran in front of a car at 6:38 p.m., Saturday on Olive Avenue west of Kenwood Court, police reported yesterday.

Treated at Novato General Hospital for multiple bruises was Dale A. Lester of 101 Kenwood Court, the hospital reported.

The boy dashed in front of an eastbound car driven by Emilie J. Sturm of 170 Beattie Lane, Novato, according to police.

Baby skunks are usually born in April or May. Six is the average litter.

Innocent Plea To Marijuana Growing

John Frederick Tanzi, 21, of San Anselmo, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Superior Court to a charge of growing marijuana at his home.

A jury trial was set for the week of Dec. 15.

Tanzi was arrested Sept. 20 after police noticed the plants from a neighbor's home.

Hair Policy: Coaches Each Would Have Say

A policy allowing each coach to set grooming and dress standards for his team was proposed last night as the answer to the great hair controversy which caused Redwood High School's athletic director, Robert J. Troppmann, to resign last month.

The proposal was greatly influenced by a legal opinion from Asst. County Counsel Richard V. Godino, said Supt. Robert D. Torrey last night as he briefly outlined the plan to the Tamalpais High School District board members.

Torrey said that the proposal would go today to the district's three high schools for a vote from a "representative cross-section of the school faculties." He said it would be brought before the board for final action at the Nov. 3 meeting.

Torrey said that at the Oct. 6 meeting of the board, which drew about 700 persons and was held in the Redwood gym, the board committed itself to a decision on that date.

Troppmann resigned as athletic director last month after Torrey suspended his ruling that members of the school's cross-country team must cut their hair before they would be allowed to run in meets. The athletes have since competed, with locks intact.

The proposal was drawn up by an eight-member committee which included in addition to Torrey, the district's three high school principals, three athletic directors and James Pierce, director of instruction.

Torrey said that the proposal was reached by a "consenus" of the committee, admitting that it was not a unanimous decision.

In answer to a question, Torrey said that the school faculties would vote on the issue because ". . . we consider the athletic department to be part of the total instructional program."

He said it would be up to the various principals to decide how best to poll a cross-section of their faculties.

In a two-page opinion dated Oct. 13, Godino said that the courts have been defending the rights of students to wear long hair in school.

"Clearly a regulation which exists solely because the school administration desires hair of a certain length is doomed to defeat," Godino said.

"It is only where clear-cut educational or safety reasons can be provided that such regulations are judicially supported."

Godino said that a slightly different situation exists in regard to athletes, however.

He said that when long hair is either hazardous to the athlete or others or that it interfers with athletic performance, a regulation enforcing length could probably be defended.

"Clearly this would differ from sport to sport and possibly coaches would differ in their particular opinions," Godino said.

TORREY GETS RAISE WITH NEW PACT

Tamalpais High School District trustees last night hiked acting Supt. Robert D. Torrey's salary from $22,750 to $25,000 a year to June 30, 1971 and extended his contract as assistant superintendent till then.

Torrey, who replaced Chester G. Carlisle as superintendent earlier this year, has also been serving as assistant superintendent.

He will remain acting superintendent at least until June 30, 1970 but has recommended the board conduct a nationwide talent search to fill the post for the next school year. He has not indicated whether he will apply for the position.

$1 Million Fire To G.M. Building

NEW YORK (UPI)—A two-alarm fire in the new General Motors Corp. building yesterday afternoon caused an estimated $1 million damage and a Fifth Avenue traffic jam.

Several of the 5,000 persons who work in the building were evacuated when the fire erupted in a restaurant slated to open next month.

Fire officials said a light bulb fell to the floor, igniting gasoline fumes.

One woman was treated for smoke inhalation. There were no serious fumes.

Asylum Granted To Czech Sailor

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A 26-year-old sailor, who sneaked off the first Czechoslovakian ship to dock here in recent years, has been given a one-year stay in the United States.

Jiri Vokrouhlik asked for political asylum while the freighter Vikrovice was refueling Sunday. Yesterday District Immigration Director George K. Rosenberg waived a board of inquiry hearing and told Vokrouhlik he could remain in this country for a year if he could find a sponsor.

From several offers, the seaman accepted the sponsorship of Antonin Bauman of suburban Sun Valley, a Czech who came here in 1950 and is now a U.S. citizen.

Teen Is Booked As Burglary Suspect

A 13-year-old San Rafael youth was booked into Marin County Juvenile Hall Sunday on suspicion of burglary after police discovered him in the Western Sports Shop, 902 Third Street.

The youth was apprehended at 3:53 a.m. Sunday, after police were summoned by the shop's burglar alarm.

Mill Valley Teachers Due Ethnic Study

The Mill Valley School District board last night approved a multiethnic inservice training program for the district, Supt. James A. Collins reported today.

Collins said the board endorsed his proposal to spend $1,750 on an inservice program which will focus on "intimate panel discussions" and involve faculty, parents and minority group members of the community.

The board also accepted a $100 donation from the Marin Committee for Fair Play for the multiethnic program.

The Mill Valley School District board also:

MIDDLE SCHOOL — Heard that the letting of bids for construction of the middle school have been delayed because the state still is inspecting engineering plans. Also heard the school will require a professional staff of 65 persons.

ELECTION — Voted for David D. Ring, Lawrence I. Kramer Jr., Elinor Rusch and Alan Nichols as delegates to the California School Board Association conference.

MORATORIUM DAY — Heard that approximately 200 students were absent from Edna Maguire School during the Vietnam Moratorium, some 150 more than usual. Also heard that fourth-eighth grade classes in the district discussed the history of the Vietnam War from 1950 in current events classes during the week.

INTERDISTRICT AGREEMENTS — Approved interdistrict transfer agreements for one San Anselmo student and three Sausalito students all of which had been approved by home district boards.

TEACHERS — Recognized the Mill Valley Teachers Association as the official employees organization for district teachers and authorized formation of a negotiating council as required annually by state law.

Closer Look Wanted On Shopping Center

Faced with sharply differing arguments from opponents and proponents of a proposed nine-acre shopping center for southeast Mill Valley, the Mill Valley City Council last night decided to take a closer look at the plan.

The council set a meeting for Nov. 2 at 2 p.m. at city hall with the project's developers and the city planning commission, which last week turned thumbs down on the shopping center plan. The council was hearing an appeal of that decision last night.

Planner Ivan S. Poutiatine told the council the commission objects to the shopping center on what is listed in the city general plan as a commercial-recreational zone. He Questioned the "effect of such a development on the downtown commercial area."

Clark Maser, attorney for the Bothin Real Estate Co. which owns the land, replied that most allowed recreational uses for the property are not feasible for one reason or another. "A shopping center is an allowed secondary use for C-R land," he said, "and I feel for the city to deny us this use would be unfair, unreasonable and would deprive us of our rights."

The planned center would include a large supermarket, a drugstore, bank, service station and smaller specialty ships around a central court. The center's large parking area would border on Camino Alto.

Douglas G. Lynn, a real estate developer hired by Bothin to plan the development, told the council that after three years, the center would yield about $225,000 in sales taxes and raise real estate taxes about 800 per cent, to approximately $78,000.

Maser added that the Bothin Co. has paid over $61,000 in taxes on the property since the land was filled in 1957. He said the company has come to the council with several plans, including a bowling alley, and been turned down each time.

Councilman George E. Wickham said "if there is to be a shopping center, it shouldn't look like the present plan."

"I think the company should be able to come up with something more creative than this (the architect's drawing)," Councilman Jerome C. Hauke added.

Councilman Robert H. Andresen asked for the work session "so we can talk and find out what we can do."

75 Teachers Ask Pay Hike At Meeting

More than 75 teachers showed up last night at the Mill Valley School District board meeting to support the district teachers association's demands for an additional 3 per cent salary increase, Supt. James A. Collins reported.

In negotiations held Oct. 7, board representatives rejected the teachers request for the additional hike on top of a 5 per cent raise granted in June.

Collins said the board last night received several letters from residents requesting an open discussion of the salary issue at the board meeting.

Mill Valley Teachers Association representatives noted the district had dropped from 29th place in Bay Area salary scale two years ago to 52nd place this year. Last year, Mill Valley salaries ranked 41st in the Bay Area.

Teachers argued the drop was part of a steady decline in salaries which should be stopped now, Collins said.

Answering teachers was Trustee Joseph E. Bodovitz who said that while present salaries are low on the Bay Area scale Mill Valley ranks third in Marin County elementary schools in beginning salaries and top in the county in its top salaries.

Chairman William P. Everts said negotiations with teachers would continue at 8 p.m. Nov. 4 at a location to be set.

The Mill Valley City Council Also:

BID — Accepted a $5,468 bid from Maggiora & Ghilotti, Inc., Corte Madera contractors, for drainage improvements on Vasco Drive.

CONTINUANCE — Continued until Nov. 3 a public hearing on abatment of a slide area at Middlecourt and Underhill roads to allow the owner of the land more time to work out a solution.

POLICE ASSISTANCE — Postponed action on a request by the Tamalpais High School District board to have Mill Valley police ticket traffic and parking violators on the Tamalpais High School campus.

FIRE REPAIR — Directed Maggiora and Ghilotti to complete fire damage repairs and remodeling of the community center with the understanding the city will pay the contractor the amount recovered under the city's fire insurance.

SUBDIVISION — Continued until Nov. 3 a public hearing on a request by R.L. Johnstone to subdivide a 67,000 square foot lot at 11 Eton Place into two smaller lots.

APPOINTMENT — Heard Mayor Dean N. Meyer announce Louis E. Bartolinia as his choice to fill a vacant seat on the city planning commission. Action was deferred to the next council meeting.

ORDINANCE—Adopted an ordinance annexing a small strip of property in the Fern Canyon Road area.

TEMPORARY LICENSE — Granted Robert L. Guevara, 96 Cypress Avenue, temporary permission to connect to the city sewer system with the understanding he will apply immediately for annexation to the city. The council approved the hook-up because of "emergency circumstances," since Guevara's septic tank failed yesterday.

AGREEMENT — Signed an agreement with the state to enable the city to obtain $92,000 in flood relief to pay for damages caused by flooding in February.

Planner Hit Over Fees In Petaluma

Petaluma Planning Director William C. McGivern was accused by a member of the city council last night of improperly charging a fee for a zoning charge and using threatening tactics in connection with the rezoning.

Vice Mayor John W. Cavanagh Jr. said that Chester Elliott of 311 Oak Street had been called into the planning office about changing the zoning at his residence from neighborhood commercial (grocery store) to residential to conform with neighborhood uses.

Cavanagh said the family should not have been charged the $50 rezoning fee since the change had been requested by the planning staff.

Cavanagh also charged that McGivern used threatening tactics in requesting the zone change application.

Mayor Helen Putnam urged Cavanagh to hold his complaints until McGivern could be present; the planning director had left the meeting after planning items on the agenda were completed.

Other council members declared the issue not important enough to discuss at 12:30 a.m. and voted a resolution to return the $50 fee to Elliott.

The Petaluma City Council also:

INSPECTIONS — Heard a report on the need for an ordinance requiring health permits for food handling enterprises and increased inspections by the county health department.

AMBULANCE — Heard Fire Chief Roscoe A. Benton report that Hillcrest Hospital had requested purchase of portable ambulance equipment for treatment of heart attacks. Cost was set at $2,650, with a report pending on possible joint financing.

LOITERING — Adopted an ordinance prohibiting lying or sleeping on any street, sidewalk or public place.

WALL — Awarded a contract to Hughes and Graves at a low bid of $2,780 to plaster and paint the wall of the 88 Cent Store on Petaluma Boulevard that was damaged by work on the Washington Street Bridge approach.

JOINT MEETING — Set a joint meeting with the planning commission for Nov. 3 at 7:30 p.m. for a report on plans to develop apartments on North McDowell Boulevard adjacent to Lucchesi Park.

VETERANS — Donated $50 to the veterans council for the Nov. 11 Veterans' Day program.

PARADES — Approved parade permits for the Petaluma Boys' Club parade Saturday; Petaluma High School bicycle parade on Oct. 31 and St. Vincent de Paul High School car parade on Nov. 1.

GAS TAX — Set a study session for Monday at 7:30 p.m. to establish a list of projects to be completed with gas tax moneys.

No Charges In Marijuana Probe

No charge was filed yesterday in Marin Municipal Court against Noel K. Jewkes, 29, of San Rafael, who was arrested Sunday on suspicion of marijuana possession. The case will be investigated furthur by the district attorney's office, a spokesman said.

Jewkes was arrested by sheriff's deputies on two traffic warrants from other counties when he was found parked near Shoreline Highway. He had a vegetable substance in his pocket which he told deputies was a "marijuana cake," they said.

Dinis Denies Report On Kopechne Autopsy

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis took the witness stand today to contradict earlier testimony by an associate medical examiner who said Dinis had told him he did not think an autopsy on the body of Mary Jo Kopechne was necessary.

Dinis said he had first sought an autopsy on July 20, one day after the young woman's body was recovered from Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's automobile in a tidal pond on Chappaquiddick Island.

By that time, Dinis said, Miss Kopechne's body already had been flown to Pennsylvania for burial in nearby Larksville.

Dinis testified before Judge Bernard C. Brominski of Common Pleas Court in the second day of a hearing on Dinis' petition to have the body of the 28-year-old secretary exhumed for an autopsy.

He says an autopsy is vital to an inquest he has scheduled into her death.

Dr. Donald R. Mills, associate medical examiner for Dukes County, Mass., testified yesterday about a telephone conversation he had with Denis "on Thursday, July 24 or thereabouts."

Mills quoted Dinis as saying:

"Mills, you're quite sure of your diagnosis of death by drowning?"

"My answer was, I certainly am," Mills said.

"Then Dinis said 'I don't think an autopsy is necessary, do you?' and I answered 'No I don't,'" Mills testified.

Dinis today denied he had discussed the advisability of an autopsy with Mills. He said he only discussed whether or not the physician was satisfied with his findings.

After testifying, Dinis asked the judge to take "judicial notice of two statements made by Senator Kennedy—one handwritten, made to the police after the accident, and the other a week later over nationwide television.

"You all know that the court doesn't take judicial notice of statements made by anyone, directly or indirectly concerned in a case in court," Brominsky said.

He denied the request for admission of the police statement but took under advisement the offer for admission of the television address.

Joseph A. Flanagan, attorney for Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Kopechne of Berkeley Heights, N.J., went ahead with his case.

Kopechne followed Dinis to the stand and said he and his wife "are unalterably opposed to the exhumation and autopsy of our daughter's body."

Asked why, Kopechne replied: "After hearing the testimony in this court, we feel now, more than ever, that we don't want an autopsy. It would be just like another funeral for us.

"We've had it.

"We feel they had a chance for an autopsy, but it wasn't performed and we absolutely don't want it now. We see no value on it."

Later, Dr. Werner Spitz, a deputy medical examiner for the state of Maryland, testified that an autopsy on Miss Kopechne "would absolutely yield no conclusive evidence."

His testimony was in support of the Kopechne's fight to prevent the autopsy on their daughter.

John J. Kielty, a Plymouth, Pa., undertaker, said he had received the body at 2:30 p.m. on July 20 at the Scranton-Wilkes-Barre Airport.

He said he had contacted the Massachusetts mortician the day before, after he had spoken to Mrs. Kopechne and asked that the body be transported to Pennsylvania "at the fastest rate of speed."

During Dinis testimony, Flanagan objected strenuously as Dinis sought to give his reasons for pursuing the investigation and the need for an autopsy.

Marijuana Haul Suspect Nabbed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Two Bay Area men were arrested in Golden Gate Park yesterday for possession of nearly 800 pounds of marijuana flown into the U.S. from Mexico.

Stephen Alfred Gadberry, 26, Berkeley, and Jermaine M. Haili, no age, Oakland, were arraigned before U.S. Commissioner Richard Goldsmith on charges of transporting and concealing marijuana, as well as conspiracy. Goldsmith set bail at $25,000 for Haili and $15,000 for Gadberry.

Customs agents said the marijuana—packed in 19 duffel bags and weighing 794 pounds—was flown from Mexico to Tulare, put in a van and brought to San Francisco.

Burglary Thwarted

Burglars using a pipe wrench to smash a stockroom door lock at Modern Eve Dress Shop, 1021 Fourth Street, between 6 p.m. Sunday and 10:30 a.m. Monday failed to gain entry because of additional locks which held the door secure, San Rafael police reported today.

Yachting Mecca Burns In Delta

WALNUT GROVE (UPI)—The Boon-Dox Botel, a popular docking place and hotel for yachtsmen in the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta, was virtually destroyed early today in a fire which threatened the entire downtown area.

No injuries were reported.

Fire units from nearby Isleton, Cortland and Rio Vista joined local volunteer firemen in battling the blaze in the three-story building located between the post office and a hardware store.

Boat Parade Entries

The deadline for entries in the Nov. 2 boat parade on San Rafael Canal is Oct. 28, not today as erroneously reported in yesterday's Independent-Journal. The parade is sponsored by the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce as part of its Marine Holiday. Entries must be submitted to the chamber offices at 824 Fifth Avenue.

Workers Refuse Swedish Goods

LOURENCO MARQUES, Mozambique (AP) — Protesting Sweden's financial support of an African nationalist movement in northern Mozambique and Angola, about 5,000 African dock workers refused to handle Swedish cargo yesterday and demonstrated instead.

They paraded past the Swedish consulate carrying Portuguese flags and shouting anti-Swedish slogans, then marched to the harbor and persuaded other dock workers to stop unloading a Swedish freighter.

Mayor Emilio Mertens told the workers in a speech outside the town hall: "Do not allow Swedish ships to dock here. Do not load or unload them."

Park Appoints New Key Aides

SEOUL (AP) — President Chung Hee Park today named six new cabinet ministers, a new chief of the secret police and a chief presidential secretary but kept Premier Chung Il Kwon and other cabinet members in office.

Chung and the cabinet resigned yesterday to give Park a free hand in reorganizing the government after the 2-to-1 adoption last week of a constitutional amendment permitting the president to run for a third term in 1971.

Park appointed former Gen. Kim Ke-won to head the powerful Central Intelligence Agency, the secret police.

Trade Stamps Theft

Blue chips valued at $40 were stolen from a bottom drawer in the unlocked office of the Spinner Mobile Service station at Second and Irwin Street Friday between 8 p.m. and midnight, San Rafael police reported today.

Undersea Nuclear Ban Due Rewrite

GENEVA (AP) — In the face of mounting criticism, the United States and the Soviet Union have agreed to revise their draft treaty to ban nuclear weapons from the seabed, informed sources said today.

The disclosure came as Britain added its voice to a growing number of critics of the original U.S.-Soviet proposal now being debated by the 25-nation disarmament conference in Geneva.

The sources said the new U.S.-Soviet draft would be submitted later this week in an effort to win conference approval fo the document before the current session of the talks ends Oct. 31. It was not known specifically how the draft would be changed.

Moscow Promotes Cosmonaut Trio

MOSCOW (AP) — Three of the seven Soviet cosmonauts who orbited in three spaceships last week have been promoted to full colonels, a Soviet newspaper disclosed today.

A correspondent for Red Star, organ of the defense ministry, reported from the Baikonur space center in Soviet central Asia that Georgy Shonin, Anatoly Filipchenko and Viktor Gorbatko were promoted from lieutenant colonel.

Of the others on the troika flight, Vladimir Shatalov already had been promoted to full colonel after a manned space shot last January and the remaining three cosmonauts were civilians.

Substitute Teachers Will Meet Tomorrow

The Marin County Substitute Teachers Association will hold its first general meeting on the new school year at 3:45 p.m. tomorrow in the board of supervisors chambers at Civic Center.

Artelle Farley, art teacher and supervisor of student teaching at Dominican College, will offer art ideas for holiday planning followed by a business meeting during which workshops and group health insurance will be discussed.

Sausalito Schools Facing Rainy Days

Faced with the hard fact that most of its undistributed reserves have already been distributed, the Sausalito School District board last night declared a moratorium on spending in certain areas, froze hiring on new personnel and raised the strong possibility one of its schools would be closed next year.

The board also was told by Supt. Phillip W. Schneider there would be "sharp cuts" in the number of teachers employed by the district next year.

A gloomy financial picture painted by asst. supt. Joseph Amato led the board to declare a freeze on spending on new equipment and nonfixed capital outlay unless there is an emergency or the board approves the expenditure.

The district's administration also was instructed to allow the teaching staff to be reduced this year by attrition and make plans for a significantly reduced staff next year.

Amato's figures showed that, largely due to a drop in enrollment of more than 100 children, the district will get $39,518 less in income in the form of taxes and state aid. Additionally, he told the board, expenses have increased by $45,901 since the 1969-70 budget was adopted.

These changes have the effect of reducing the district's reserves from an anticipated $100,000 to about $15,000, a figure acting board president David E. Freedheim described as dangerously low.

Board member C. Gerald Clear was equally pessimistic, saying, "It is going to be significantly worse next year." He said it now looks as if the district will go into the next fiscal year with virtually no reserve.

Trustee James E. Muldoon agreed with the moratorium on spending but added that the board "should take a long range look . . . at personnel." He said the board particularly must take "a long, hard look" at the special positions in the district which may be desirable but too expensive.

Schneider called the closing next year of one of the district's four schools — either Bayside or Central — a "real possibility." He and Freedheim both said it was expensive to maintain four separate sites and suggested an intense review of building use be made.

Schneider said that in view of the district's tight financial pinch, he would spend money available on academic programs rather than paying for facilities which might not be necessary.

Schneider also said he and Amato would plan next year's budget on the basis of eliminating several teaching positions to bring the pupil-teacher ratio at all four schools up to 25 students to one teacher.

Currently, he said only kindergarten and fourth grade were at the economical ratio while ratios in other grades went as low as 15.75 pupils per teacher.

He offered no exact figures on the number of teachers who will not be rehired except to say there would be "a large number."

The Sausalito School District Board Also:

CLOSED SESSION — Held a closed session on what Freedheim said was a charge against a teacher at Martin Luther King School. No action was taken, he said.

ETHNIC — Received a report from Amato on the ethnic distribution of children in the district, showing it has nine Spanish, 325 white, 336 black, 17 Oriental, one American Indian and three other nonwhite pupils.

MEETINGS — Set its next three meetings for 7:30 p.m. on Oct. 27, Nov. 10 and Nov. 24 at the district's offices.

GRADE-LEVEL — Announced that a meeting of administration, board members, parents, teachers and students for the fifth grade at Martin Luther King School would be held at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the library.

POLICE — Suggested a letter of appreciation be sent to the Sausalito Police Department for its efforts to set up a police-school relations program and for its cooperation in watching school buses during the current scare over the Zodiac killer.

Coaches Post Pay Demands In Novato

Novato schools, which have gained quite a reputation on the athletic field, may be without coaches the first part of next month.

That was the threat leveled at the Novato Unified School District board last night by James D. Vanderbeets, president of the newly formed Coaches Association of Novato Schools.

The association is asking an increase of $12,326 to $28,346 per year in total coaching fees received above regular wages. Of the 80 coaches in the district, each receives between $180 and $360 per year for extra duties.

Board members were sympathetic to the request until Vanderbeets threatened to stop all coaching at the end of the football season unless their demands were met last night.

Vanderbeets said that all of the coaches except one woman had signed an agreement to stop coaching if their demands were not met immediately.

TRUSTEES IRED

When tempers flared over that, the board called a short recess. Earlier, Trustee William Schneeflock made a motion to consider the increases in two weeks after the board received an expected financial report.

After the board reassembled, Vanderbeets asked for a special meeting on the issue this week.

There was some discussion of how negotiations should be conducted. Donald White, president of the Novato Teachers Association, said he could call a special meeting of the district negotiating council tomorrow.

Vanderbeets held firm, saying he wanted an answer this week.

Schneeflock said that such an attitude "Riled his anger." He said he would not attend a special meeting of the board, if called.

Schneeflock's motion to consider the increases in two weeks, then carried 4-2, with Trustees Dan H. Barber and Merritt B. Boisevain against and Irving D. Chapman Jr. absent.

RESERVES ESTIMATED

Dist. Supt. James G. Bunker said the district probably would have about $57,000 in undistributed reserves in its current budget because of a drop in enrollment.

"I don't seen being threatened and having to spend one quarter of our undistributed reserves without having the legal question on who is to negotiate and without having the financial report before us," Schneeflock said.

"I'll take this back to the coaches," Vanderbeets said. (He later said he could not predict the outcome of a meeting with the coaches.)

The board held a 50-minute closed session after the regular meeting to discuss with Bunker fee negotiations with the coaches.

Commercial Center Plans To Be Studied

The Marin City Development Corp's commercial center plans for Marin City will be discussed by the Marin County Redevelopment Agency at its 8:30 p.m. meeting tomorrow at Manzanita Center.

The Marin County Housing Authority will meet at the center at 7:30 p.m. to review its leased housing program policy and to set a date for a public hearing on amendments to the authority's occupancy policy.

Rent Strike Talk

A proposed rent strike by tenants of Oak Knolls in Marin City will be discussed at a public meeting called by the renters for tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Manzanita Center, Marin City.

Sausalito School Aide Pay Report Criticized

Sausalito School Supt. Phillip W. Schneider last night labeled "inaccurate" an Independent-Journal story Saturday reporting that James T. Toliver Jr., special assistant to the principal and staff at Martin Luther King School, had received a $2,500 per year pay raise he demanded last June.

Schneider, at the board meeting last night, said the I-J reporter had not "bothered" to call him about the issue and maintained Toliver's raise actually amounted to $1,524 — from the $12,500 set by the board on July 22, 1968, to $14,024, the current level.

He also said the increase was 12.2 per cent, not 22.5 per cent as reported the I-J.

The superintendent admitted he had erred in not including the board's action on Toliver's salary in any of the minutes of the board's meetings this summer. "That was my mistake," he said. He claimed, however, that a copy of the working lite-item budget including the $14,024 salary was available at his office for press perusal before it was passed.

In minutes of the board's adoption of the final budget on Aug. 4, there was no mention of anyone getting a raise beyond 7.5 per cent included in the budget. Additionally, Asst. Supt. Joseph Amato told an I-J reporter in the last week in August, in answer to a direct question about Toliver's salary, that he had receive the 7.5 per cent hike other administrators got.

Amato yesterday said he was mistaken. Both he and Schneider said Toliver was the only employee of the district other than Schneider himself whose salary is still on a "negotiated basis." Schneifer said this resulted from the fact that Toliver's position was a new position not fitting a specific category.

Toliver is not officially classifed as an administrator since he does not have an administrative credential.

Last year, the school district office's copy of Toliver's contract carried the notation that the salary was set by the board at a board meeting on July 22. A similar notation was not on this year's contract, although there is a statement, as on all contracts, that "official record of this employment appears in the minutes of the governing board under the date of July 1." There is no such notice in the minutes.

The mathematics involved in how Toliver's salary increase is figured are somewhat complicated. Amato explained yesterday that prior to the board's 1968 action increasing his salary to $12,500, Toliver was paid on a teaching scale — the D-5 level — at $9,224 yearly on a 9.5 month basis. Then the salary was increased to $12,500 — because of the increased duties of the position. This figure, Amato explained, is a factor 1.355 of the original salary. Amato said he used this factor in figuring the 1969-70 salary for Toliver.

It went like this: Toliver was moved from the teaching scale to the administrative scale, plus gaining a year more experience and moving to the D-6 classification and an 11-month year. This reaised his base pay on the scale to $10,350. Amato then applied the 1.355 factor to that figure and the resulting figure was $14,024, the salary Toliver got.

A line item giving Toliver's salary at that figure was included in the last four working budgets given the board before approval and board members last night indicated they were aware of what Toliver's salary would be.

"We knew what we were doing," Freedheim said after the meeting last night. "There was no attempt to conceal anything. It was right there (on the working budgets) and it was discussed several times." He and Schneider both said no action on Toliver's salary ever was taken in closed session although both said the salary and the position were discussed in closed sessions.

Martha Freebairn-Smith, responding to Schneider's explanation, said last night, "That's exactly what I remember." Turstee James E. Muldoon also did not challenge Schneider's account. Both had served on a committee on administrative salaries.

Two Teen-Agers Hear Charges

Martin James Fleischman, 19, of 9 West Shore Road, Belvedere, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of possessing marijuana and narcotics paraphernalia Oct. 8.

His case was continued until next Monday for setting of a preliminary hearing.

Another youth who was arrested with Fleischman, Joseph Whitfield Royer III, 19, of 27 West Shore Road, was arraigned on a charge of possessing alcohol as a minor.

The pair was arrested by Tiburon sheriff's deputies at Town and Country Shopping Center for a defective taillight on their car. Deputies said one of them threw a package containing what appeared to be hashish out of the car.

Signs Hearing

A public hearing on proposed changes in the sign ordinance will be held by the Corte Madera Planning Commission at 8 p.m. Thursday at town hall.

Citizens Hit Dedication Street Idea

A proposed policy of the Petaluma City Council requiring street improvements and right-of-way dedication by property owners seeking to improve their lands was assailed last night as unconstitutional and a means of blackmail.

A council committee, composed of Councilmen Albert L. Battaglia, David W. Brainerd and Phillip L. Joerger, reported to the council it had met earlier to consider the policy but after hearing a storm of protests, agreed to continue deliberations.

The policy, supported by Battaglia and Brainerd, would require property owners to provide curbs, gutters, sidewalks and other street improvements, as well as dedicate right-of-way land for future street widening, when a new use is going to be made of their property.

Althought the policy would apply to the entire city, property owners on East Washington Street took the action personally and said it was a means of taking their land without compensation.

Many said they had homes on East Washington, but planned to change them to commercial someday.

One of the sharpest critics, Stewart Curtis, said it was blackmail to require dedication before a building permit was issued.

Kenneth L. Colin, former vice mayor, called the policy discriminatory because not all properties on East Washington would be involved in proposed widening of the street.

Colin said the widening was necessary, but asserted that new businesses were not responsible for the additional traffic. He said the subdivisions east of Highway 101 were the villains.

"This street problem has been caused by everyone in the community and the whole city should pay for it and not just the property owners abutting the street," Colin said.

Girl's Case Refused By Juvenile Court

The case of Deolinda Francesca Phillips, 19, of Sausalito, was not accepted by Marin Juvenile Court, as was reported yesterday in municipal court.

A preliminary hearing was set for Nov. 6 for Miss Phillips, who is accused of possessing amphetamine and attempting to obtain drugs with another person's prescription on Aug. 14.

Novato Teachers Association Now Key Bargaining Agent

The Novato Teachers Association, an affiliate of the California Teachers Association, last night earned the right over the American Federation of Teachers to carry on salary negotiations with the Novato Unified School District.

In past years, the district negotiating council has consisted of nine members by mutual consent of the board and the Novato Teachers Association. Last spring, one member of the council was named from the AFT. This representative subsequently objected to much of the negotiations.

Last night, the board recognized that the NTA had 475 paid members and the AFT only 13.

The board then voted to reduce membership on the negotiating council from nine to seven at the request of Donald White, president of the NTA. White said that nine members, along with the administrators, made an unwieldy committee.

One of those dropped will be the AFT representative, the board indicated, because it said no organization should be represented on the council unless it had at least 50 certified members.

The NTA also was recognized last night as sole bargaining agent for the teachers.

The Novato Unified School District Board also:

BUS — Awarded Nave Dodge a $2,988 contract for a minibus on the lowest of two bids. A third bid did not meet specifications.

ENROLLMENT — Heard a report that the growth rate of the district has dropped and that the district probably would have enough classrooms for another two school years.

COMMITTEE — Named Steven Doran, a senior at Novato High School; Craig Joslin, a senior at San Marin High School; John C. Lee of 555 Wilson Avenue; Ernest A. Stevens of 250 Shevlin Road and William K. Mayo of 1628 Center Road to the multiethnic studies committee. This completes the committee of 17 citizens and two students.

SUMMER SCHOOL — Received a report on the summer school that emphasized the reading and conservation projects.

VOTED — Supported Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. of the San Rafael Board of Education, Eleanor Nettle of the San Mateo Junior College district board and Alan Nichols of the San Francisco Unified School District board for the Delegate Assembly of the California School Boards Association.

Santa Cruz Duo Held To Answer

Kent Allie Fishburn, 22, and Jeffrey Glyn Conti, 21, both of Santa Cruz, were bound over to Marin Superior Court yesterday on a charge of marijuana possession after a preliminary hearing in municipal court.

Conti said yesterday that this is his true name. He had given the name of Jeffrey Raymond Bates when arrested.

The two men were arrested Sept. 10 when the California Highway Patrol stopped their car for speeding. They said that a box in the rear of the station wagon contained marijuana and reefer butts.

$4,000 Mink Coat Reported Missing

A mink coat valued at $4,000 has disappeared from the possessions of Aurora Porro, who died of burns suffered during a fire in her Kentfield home, 17 Elm Avenue, last month, her sister has reported.

Linda M. Mouaux of San Francisco told sheriff's deputies Friday the coat had disappeared either from the house where the fire occurred or a reported place of storage in a nearby cottage.

General Recalled, May Face Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has abruptly recalled a general from Europe to the Pentagon for what may be further sensational testimony in a Senate investigation of military graft.

The Army said Brig. Gen. Earl F. Cole was being reassigned indefinitely to Washington "in connection with the current Senate hearings on alleged irregularities" in noncommissioned officers' club operations.

The Army didn't go further officially, but Pentagon sources said Cole's name has figured in military reports on the irregularities which have been turned over to a subcommittee headed by Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn.

Committee sources said Cole, who turned 50 today and is a native of Madison County, Neb., is expected to be questioned although he has not yet been subpoenaed.

Ribicoff's panel is scheduled to resume hearings tomorrow.

Three AMPEX Deep-Gap heads let you make duets with yourself, add echo effect or make sound-with-sound recordings. Unique acoustic suspension cube speakers create sound you never believed possible from a portable tape recorder. A separate head lets you hear the tape as you record it!

complete with stereo microphones $349.95

AMPEX 1467 with Automatic Threading and Reverse

The exclusive AMPEX "silent signal" automatically reverses tape at the end of a "side" so you can hear the other side without changing reels. Features direct tape monitor, echo effect, sound-on-sound, sound-with-sound. It also threads itself automatically in 2 seconds. Really professional—with four Ampex heads and acoustic suspension speakers ...the most in a portable system!

complete with stereo microphones $449.95

Ferry Draws Fire In Corte Madera

The Corte Madera Town Council last night firmly opposed the proposal of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District to go into the ferryboat business instead of operating commputer buses.

The councilmen, led by Mayor Edward W. Colthurst, also objected to the district's plan for putting a single Marin ferry terminal somewhere on Corte Mader's waterfront.

Councilman Harold B. Wagstaff, who finally voted with his fellow councilmen to oppose the terminal, said first, however, that this might be a way to acquire boating facilities for the area for other than ferryboats.

Colthurst emphasized, however, that he favors a high speed bus system in addition to ferryboats.

He called the action of the bridge district last week in voting 8-3 in favor of only ferryboats, "un-neighborly, to say the least."

The three other councilmen present last night (Robert P. Simmons was out of town) voted with him to support the improvement of bus transportation between San Francisco and Marin, as described in a plan adopted by the Marin County Transit District in August.

The council also endorsed a balanced bus and ferry system and unanimously opposed the location of a ferry terminal in Corte Madera.

In other action last night, the council approved the "bicycle route concept" as proposed by the Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission and selected Paradise Drive, San Clemente Avenue and the eastern Highway 101 frontage road as the best route through Corte Madera to Greenbrae.

The Corte Madera Council Also:

HEARING — Set Nov. 3 for a hearing on a proposed amendment to the zoning ordinance regarding parking space standards.

FOTOMAT — Also scheduled for Nov. 3 a hearing on an appeal by the Fotomat Corp. of Burlingame for design approval for a store in the Co-op parking lot which was denied by the planning commission.

APPOINTMENT — Appointed William R. Bremmer to fill a vacancy on the sanitary commission.

TURFING — Awarded a contract to A. and J. Shooter for $14,292 for turfing the east section of Town Park. (The bid was $500 below the engineer's estimate.)

NOMINEE — Voted to back Councilman Homes S. Norville as a nominee to the Bay Conservation and Development Commission.

Six Arrested In Gun Fight Out Of Jail

Six men arrested Sunday night after a brief gun battle in Marin City were released from Marin County Jail yesterday when no charges were filed in municipal court pending more complete investigation of the fracas by the sheriff's department.

Dismissed were Jerry Ray Wade, 19, of San Rafael, and Hayward L. Coleman, 18; Henry McGee, 21; Harry Lee Shorter, 23; Harker Shorter, 19, and Iraminter Shorter, 22, all of San Francisco.

They had all been booked on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon, discharging a firearm and conspiracy.

Deputies said they were arrested after about a dozen heavily armed deputies surrounded the building at 419 Drake Avenue, where supposedly two groups composed mainly of San Franciscans were shooting at each other.

The trouble reportedly started after a group from San Francisco beat a Marin City man.

Sonoma Puts Deadline On Green Belts

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Board of Supervisors yesterday ruled that requests for agricultural preserve already received will be processed for the usual seven-year minimum, but new applications must meet the new 10-year limitation.

Preparing to meet new state standards, the supervisors heard reports that applications submitted now could not be processed in time to meet the Nov. 10 cutoff date when minumums will be raised.

Planning and legal staff members were urged to hurry the processing of applications already turned in so that property owners could benefit from the less stringent regulations. Under the new plan, properties must remain in agricultural preserve for 10 years, but could be withdrawn upon paying 12.5 per cent of the market value of the property.

Supervisor George T. De Long of Petaluma said he was concerned about the entire agricultural preserve concept and said it had inhibited growth in Southern Sonoma.

"Petaluma is now a boom town, but years ago people couldn't forsee the end to chickens and cows," De Long said, adding that property which could be used to benefit the community is now tied up in preserves.

Under the old provision, land could not be withdrawn until the seven years had elapsed, but after Nov. 10, property owners can agree to the new 10-year contract form and later be released by paying the 12.5 per cent charge.

The Sonoma County Board of Supervisors also:

CONDEMNATION —Authorized the acquisition and condemnation of the Victor Sikes property which abuts the Washington Creek channel, Petaluma. All other property owners had dedicated the necessary land to widen the channel.

APPOINTMENT — Named supervisor De Long as a member of the board of directors of the California Marine Parks and Harbors Association, Inc.

BLOOMFIELD — Accepted right-of-way deeds from two property owners on Bloomfield Road for future road widening. Purchases were from Mr. and Mrs. Emile V. Ditwell at $840 and Mr. and Mrs. William C. Mikulik for $850.

Negro May Lead Oakland Schools

OAKLAND (AP) — The board of education is asking a Negro to become superintendent of Oakland schools.

Board members voted yesterday to offer the post to Ercell Watson, 48, now superintendenot of the Trenton, N.J., School District.

If Watson should agree to succeed Stuart Phillips, who resigned last year, he would become the first Negro superintendent of a large urban district in California.

Daily Book Fair Is Open In Larkspur

A book fair will be held from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. daily fthrough Friday in the curricula room of the Larkspur-Corte Madera School, 20 Magnolia Avenue, Larkspur, sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association.

Proceeds will be used by buy equipment for the school library.

Auto Show Nets $2,000

The fourth annual Town and Country Village Auto Show in Mill Valley Sunday netted about $2,000 for the Patient's Artificial Kidney Foundation Inc., the group's vice president, Joseph G. Alvarez of San Anselmo, reported yesterday.

Hickel Backs Credit Idea For Point Reyes

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The federal government should adopt the instaliment plan to buy new park lands like the Point Reyes National Seashore, Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel said yesterday.

But he conceded that his installment plan could not be acted on in time for buying Point Reyes land.

Congress authorized the 54,000-acre seashore tract north of the Golden Gate in Marin County in 1962. But so far it has appropriated funds enough to buy only 23,000 acres.

Bills now before Congress would provide $38 million to buy 31,000 acres of private land remaining within the park boundaries.

With authority to make land purchase deals extending over 20 or 30 years, the Interior Department could acquire far more valuable open space lands than is now possible, Hickel told a news conference.

Hickel said putting the bite on Congress for the full purchase price in a single payment is tough with the Nixon administration committed to holding down government spending.

Hickel refused to agree, however, that the Point Reyes lands would be lost to home subdivision development by land owners unable to wait longer for Congress to act.

Pressed to say how and when Point Reyes money would be provided, Hickel said he didn't have an answer.

He reported the Interior Department's land and water conservation fund now exceeds $200 million, but has been frozen by the budget director.

The Interior Department proposes spending from this fund, built by park entrance fees and offshore oil royalties. But Hickel said congressional approval is required.

The problem with Point Reyes is that it must compete for priority with several other park land acquisitions authorized by Congress over the last 10 years without appropriations to pay for them, he said.

He declared the priority should go to open space areas near heavy population centers, as Point Reyes is.

He said the Interior Department would be willing to take over Alcatraz Island as a national monument if that were the final decision by San Francisco's public.

He said there should be no haste in determining what to do with Alcatraz, and that San Francisco public sentiment should decide it.

Graham To Be Prayer Speaker

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Rev. Billy Graham will deliver brief remarks and a benediction tomorrow at a "National Day of Prayer" breakfast at the White House.

President Richard M. Nixon has invited prayer groups from the House and Senate to attend the breakfast, and a senator will read the scriptures at the observance.

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., heads the Senate group and Rep. Howard W. Pollock, R-Alaska, is leader of the House contingent.

Okinawa Pact Reported Ready

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Japan have reached an understanding for the return of Okinawa to Tokyo's administrative control by 1972 while maintaining the U.S. military base on the island, official sources say.

The agreement will call for taking U.S. nuclear weapons off the island, held by the United States since the Japanese defeat in World War II, according to the officials.

President Richard M. Nixon and Japanese Prime Minister Eisaku Sato plan to issue a joint statement about the transfer when they conclude their Nov. 19-21 meeting in Washington, the officials said.

It will provide the date and the conditions to be embodied in a formal agreement negotiated after the Sato-Nixon meeting.

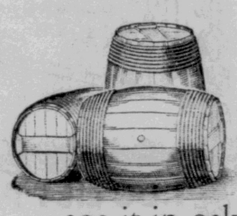
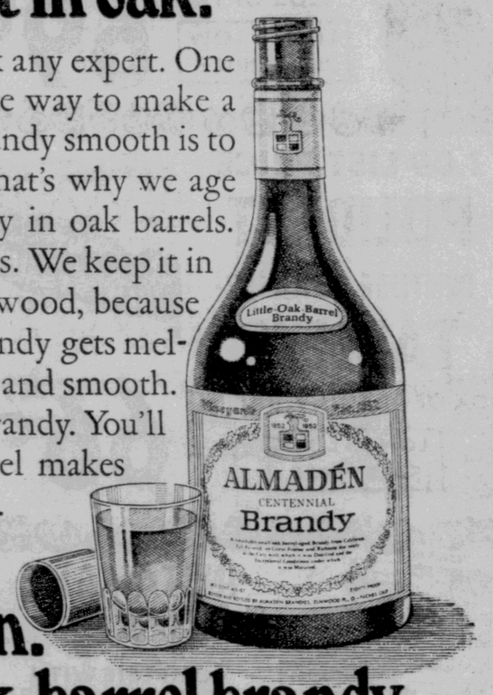
"The only way to age a brandy is to age it in oak."



Ask any expert. One sure way to make a brandy smooth is to age it in oak. That's why we age Almadén Brandy in oak barrels. Little oak barrels. We keep it in touch with the wood, because that's how a brandy gets mellow and creamy and smooth. Try Almadén Brandy. You'll see: A little barrel makes a big difference.



Almadén.

1970 LeMans Sport. Fun to drive even when you're not driving it.

The people who put this one together obviously know everything there is to know about driving.

Your first trip in LeMans Sport for 1970 will convince you of that.

Nobody gives you more styling, more performance and more luxury at LeMans Sport price.

There's an economical 250-cubic-inch, overhead-valve engine, standard. Buckets, carpeting and durable Morrokide interior, standard. Fiberglass-belted tires, for greater mileage, standard. Steel beams in the doors for improved side impact protection, standard. And a new look that says this is all Wide-Track. That's standard with Pontiac. A standard others keep trying to catch up to.

For the money, you could end up with a lot less car. And have a lot less fun driving.

So, come see LeMans Sport. Drive it. You'll like the way the seventies are starting out.

GM MARK OF EXCELLENCE
If you take the fun of driving seriously, see your Pontiac dealer.

THE ANNUAL Sausalito Nursery House tour on Oct. 29 will feature four houses and a bachelor apartment. Three of the scenes visitors will see are, from left, the country style kitchen of the Paul Lempio home, in which two of the nursery school mothers who will act as hostesses modeling clothes from a Sausalito shop posed in high fashion magazine style. They are Mrs. James Neely, left, and Mrs. Raymond Sparrow. Center is the authentic Finnish Sauna of the Lempios home, in which Mrs. Neely illustrates how water is ladled over hot rocks. At right is the kitchen of the Joseph Kane residence, which is built on the foundations of the old Hearst mansion. Admiring up-to-the-minute facilities in the room whose central interest is a red brick fireplace with indoor barbecue and rotisserie are, from left, Mrs. James Muldoon and Mrs. Lennart Ekman. Five Sausalito Residences Open For Tour

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Highlight of the annual Sausalito Nursery School house tour on Oct. 29 will be the luxurious contemporary house built on the foundations of the famed William Randolph Hearst mansion.

The medieval looking, castle-like foundations are a major point of interest on the Bridgeway Street waterfront in Sausalito. The place has never before been open to the public.

The house tour, which is the major fall fund-raising event for the Nursery School, will include four houses, both remodeled — old and modern, and a contemporary bachelor apartment.

Tickets will be sold for two starting times, 12:30 p.m. and 2:30 p.m. Shuttle buses will leave from the Trident restaurant in Sausalito, and guests will return there for a champagne reception at the conclusion of the tour.

Tour chairman is Mrs. Robert Dunkel of Mill Valley, and nursery school mothers will act as hostesses in the homes, wearing fashions from various Sausalito shops.

Tickets may be purchased from any of the nursery school mothers or from Mrs. Richard Bettencourt in Sausalito.

These are the homes on the tour, together with some of the points of interest.

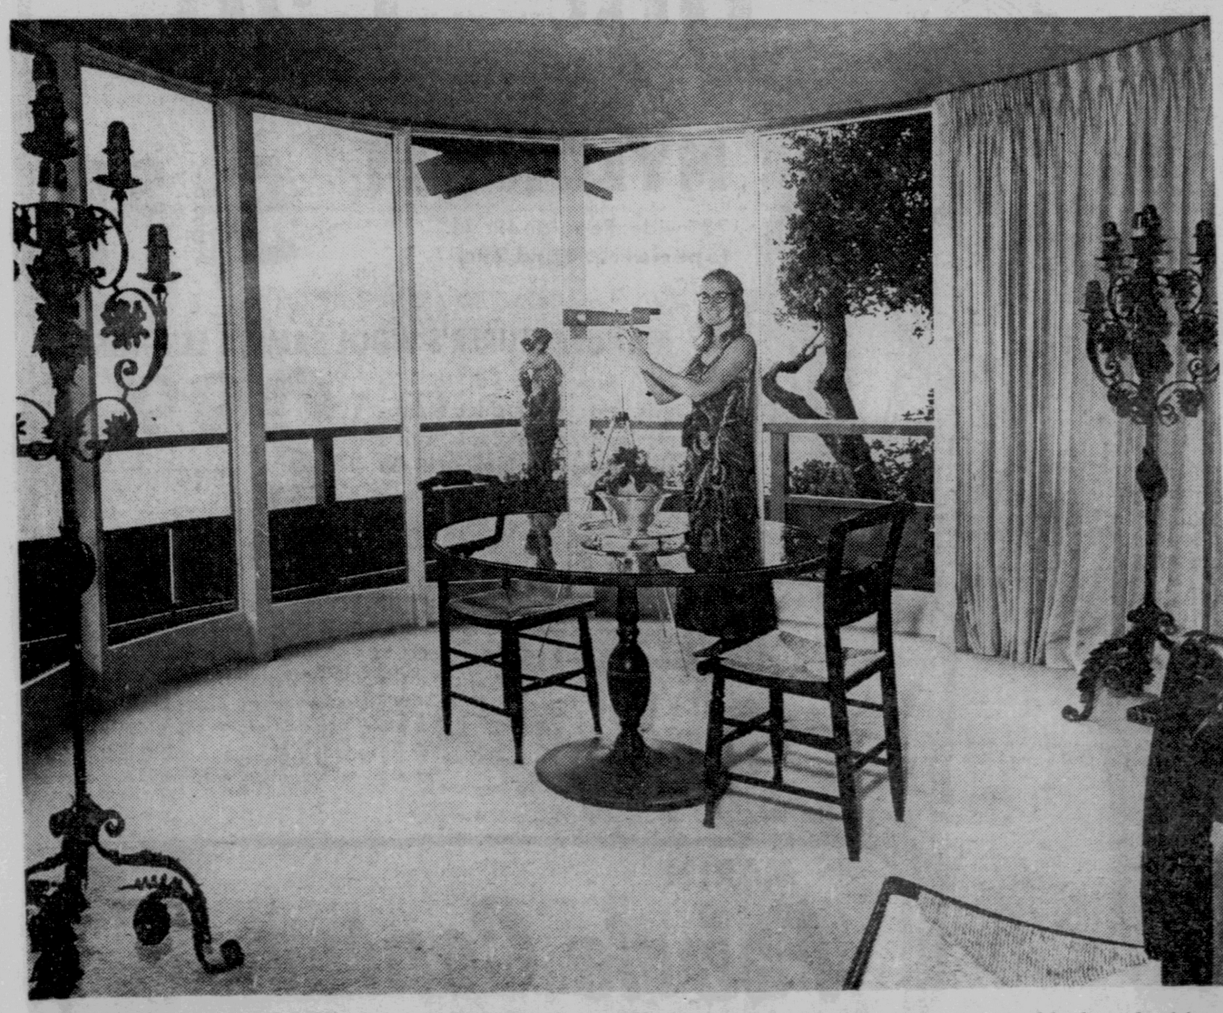
THE JOSEPH KANE RESIDENCE. This is the beautiful modern home built in 1954 for Dr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Wiper by architect Joseph Esherick on the foundations of the William Randolph Hearst mansion. These foundations were constructed in 1890 by Hearst. He lived in a large, turreted Victorian house, which formerly stood up the hill from the present house, while he was editor and publisher of the San Francisco Examiner bought for him by his father, George Hearst.

One of the trap doors leading down to the turret rooms in the foundation will be open the day of the tour. Now used for storage, they were used as actual rooms in the past.

Almost the whole front of the present house is glass opening onto a spacious deck to take advantage of the spectacular panorama of the bay. The kitchen with an indoor barbecue and rotisserie and adjoining breakfast room are of special interest.

House furnishings include European and American antiques, several of them the family heirlooms, and there are European, Oriental and American art objects.

THIS LIVING room of the Joseph Kane residence opens onto a spacious deck commanding a spectacular panorama of the bay. The room is furnished European and American antiques and decor predominantly in orange, black, white and gold includes European, Oriental and American art works. Standing by the black marble fireplace is Mrs. Joaquina Dupen. She and Mrs. William Freeman, right, will be among hostesses for the tour that will end with a champagne reception at the newly redecorated Trident restaurant.



MRS. ROBERT W. Dunkel, chairman for the Oct. 29 Sausalito Nursery School house tour, is impressed with the view from the extraordinary floor-to-ceiling glass circular dining room of the Joseph Kane home. The room in black and white is balanced at the other end of the adjoining living room with an identical circular room used for television or, when required, as a guest bedroom.

THE PAUL LEMPIO residence. This home was built in 1932, but it has been remodeled in extraordinary contemporary Scandinavian style with many Finnish ideas since the owners are of that ancestry. Mrs. Lempio planned much of the decor.

Unique is the authentic sauna downstairs and women will be especially charmed by the large country style kitchen in white and various shades of blue. An unusual room is the billiard room with Tiffany period lamp over the table and Ryyiy rung decorating the wall.

Other interesting things are formal dining furniture made to order for Mrs. Lempio and a handsome antique brass bed.

THE MELVIN Brown residence. Originally a one-bedroom cottage 45 years ago, reached by a foot path, this home is now the result of additions by various owners. The Browns bought it two and a half years ago and completely remodeled it according to their own plans. It has landscaping by Katy and Paul Steinmetz of San Rafael.

Among the furnishings designed by Mrs. Brown, an interior decorator of note, are liv-

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Confess Being Sneaky To Parents Instead Of Blackmailing Brother

DEAR HELEN:

I am 13, and quite mature for my age, but after last night, I'm not sure.

You see, I have a steady but we aren't allowed to date. He asked me to go to the school dance with him, and I asked my mother, knowing her answer would be no. That didn't bother me, much because my girl friend and I had already planned a way for me to get to the dance. She called and asked if I could spend the night, and of course my mother said yes.

But who should see us going into the school but my brother and his girl friend! He is 16, and allowed to go anywhere.

Helen, I'm scared he might tell. His girl friend said he'd be a fink if he did,but he just smiled funny. I've caught him in a lot of things my folks don't know. Would it be right to use them as what you might call balckmail?

CAUGHT BEING SNEAKY

DEAR SNEAKY:

Not unless you want to be blackmialed in return.

I doubt that your brother will tell, but you'd better level with your mother while there's still time to regain her trust. Confession implies repentance. If you make it plain you've learned your lesson and won't try being sneaky again, you may even be allowed to attend the next school dance.

On the other hand, if she finds out for herself that you lied prepare for a long, cold, boyfriendless winter! — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I work in a one-girl office. As the only female, I am subjected to every rumor, scandal and dirty joke the guys in the back offices can think up — and I'm usually the subject of their stories!

It was bad enough before I got married, but now that I have been a "Mrs." for three months, they think they can say anything. They tease me about "having to get married" and when am I going to start showing — as if nobody ever took the step without being pregnant! I try to smile, but. . . .

I hate the way they talk and my husband hates it even more, but I can't quit, as we need the money and jobs are scarce around here. Besides, if I left now they'd be sure their rumors are true, or that I was going to have an abortion. They even kid about that too!

How can you make office apes shut up? — MRS. R. C.

DEAR MRS. C:

Let them see you aren't amused. Better yet, have your boss circulate the word. Men hardly ever notice their kidding has gone too far unless someone clues them in. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I can't understand these older women like "Rules but Happy" who think of marriage as a man's kingdom in which they bow down and worship, not ever having a real voice. If she takes a good look at herself she may realize that the only reason she lets her husband make all the important decisions is because she hasn't the mentality to help.

And a man who wants a woman like her has got to be so insecure he won't let his wife off her knees, for fear she'll discover how weak he is. Let's hope most of our generation will marry as equals! — NOT YET MARRIED.

Marinites Busy With Festivities Of San Francisco Film Festival

By MOLLY MARIN

Several Marinites are involved with the glamorous goings-on in connection with the San Francisco Film Festival, which opens tomorrow.

Mrs. William Di Grazia of Tiburon and her sister Mrs. Neal Clark of Piedmont will be in charge of the delegate office, as they have for the past five years. This involves registering the foreign and American delegations in both the acting and business ends of the movie-making industry. They will be on duty for 12 straight days, and will also be attending the big post-opening night party tomorrow at the Fairmont Hotel after the black-tie premiere.

The Masonic Auditorium on Nob Hill is the festival headquarters. Raymond Syufy of Sausalito is the general director of this year's Film Festival. Mrs. Syufy has charge of the delegate hospitality lounge, and will assist with welcoming the visitors, many of whom are coming from Europe. Among her assistants are Mrs. Robert Lange of Fairfax and Mrs. Ronald Rouda of Tiburon.

PFC AND MRS. Bruce A Lehman of Novato are the parents of twins, Beth and Benjamin, born on Thursday.

Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Carl R. Lehman Jr. of San Rafael and maternal grandparents are Ferris Scharton of Santa Venetia and Mrs. Betty West of San Diego.

Carl Lehman is classified advertising manager at the Independent-Journal and the new father is also an I-J employee when not serving with the Marine Corps reserve at Camp Pendleton.

THE DEWEY Donnells of Sonoma have invited Mr. and Mrs. Oswald E. Cooper of Ross to be their guests at the Space Odyssy Ball and Fol de Rol Thursday evening. Also taking a sponsors table at the ball, sponsored by the San Francisco Opera Guild, are Mr. and Mrs. William Brantman of Tiburon.

ing room rugs in vivid pinks and oranges woven in Hong Kong, dining room furniture also made to order in Hong Kong with hand rubbed Chinese lacquer finish, and a sofa with crewel work made in Kashmir. Over the sofa is a piece of an ancient Chinese gate.

Bedroom wallpaper and bedspread are in a copy of a "Therese" histoiric French pattern.

THE IVAN COUSINS residence. This is a multi-level contemporary style home on a steep lot, designed in 1958 for the Cousins family by John Funk to relate indoors and outdoors. Set among giant Eucalyptus trees, it has an exterior finish mixed to match Eucalyptus leaves and buds.

Furnishings throughout stress antiques, since Mr. Cousins is a Sausalito antiques dealer. Mrs. Cousins is the sister of famed gourmet French cook Julia Child.

In the entrance hall is an elegant oak French piece, c. 1700, which has a limestone top containing fossils. Over this hangs a Chinese Chippendale mirror.

Among other interesting old pieces are an 1820 American Queen Anne duck foot maple table (American copies of Queen Anne are very rare), and a Hawaiian chair in Queen Anne style thought to have been made as a throne for a Hawaiian queen.

JEFF WILKS bachelor apartment. This was originally a very plain, impersonal apartment, and Wilks' problem was to "de-motel" it. Through mixtures of antiques of all periods and countries he has achieved a homey, country feeling.

The kitchen is decorated with plates he designed himself in red, white and blue patortic motif.

Other things of interest are zebra rugs, a 1670 Flemish chest, and 18th Century Coromandel screen, and English Queen Anne table and a mirror which once belonged to a Bonaparte — probably one of the family of Napoleon II.

Dog Can Rekindle Will To Live In Elderly Persons

NEW YORK (WMNS) — For a lonely, elderly person, a dog may be much more than an affectionate, last-ditch companion. Surprisingly often, says a psychologist, he perks up his owner's health and rekindles his will to live.

Dr. Boris Levinson of Yeshiva University points out that the responsibility of a pet insures that his owner feels needed, just as that wagging tale and eager greeting assures him that he is loved. Since the dog must be walked, his owner gets regular daily exercise. Since the dog must be fed, his owner must pay some attention to stocking the cupboard and may even find his own waning appetite stimulated. Getting out with the dog is also likely to lead to pleasant encounters with other dog-walkers.

PENETRATING STEAM SYSTEM for WALL to WALL CARPET CLEANING

THIS UNIQUE NEW PROCESS CLEANS DEEP AND YET TREATS THE FINEST CARPET WITH LOVING CARE.
- The gentle action uses no brushes or scrubbing action to wear or distort the carpet pile.
- Deeply imbedded soil (which causes excessive wear), is safely extracted from both pile and back of your carpet . . . it is not scrubbed deeper!
- The need for frequent professional cleaning is reduced because deeply imbedded soil is removed, and no detergent residue is left in the carpet fibers to attract more dirt.
- The Powerful Steam extraction process removes all excess moisture which insures fast drying and avoids carpet shrinkage.
- Color, texture, and matted pile are restored to like-new appearance without using scrubbing brushes or harsh chemicals.
- For added protection both Soil Retardant and Mothproofing are applied to the carpet during the Steam cleaning process.
- Steam Cleaning will leave your carpet cleaner than ever before possible!

Drifting And Dreaming Theme For Charity Ball Saturday Night

A 12 foot space ballon will set the stage for arriving guests Saturday evening at the Sunny Hills Junior Auxiliary's annual Charity Ball at the Meadow Club in Fairfax.

Drifting and Dream is the theme for the dinner dance with large balloon murals, gold stars hanging from the ballroom ceiling and tables centered with flight-ballons filled with flowers carrying out the theme.

Orchestra music will play for dancing from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. A sit-down dinner will be served in the Grill Room and on the porch of the clubhouse, and a buffet will be held in the main dining room.

Mrs. Verle Sorgen is ball chairman, and Mrs. Robert Berry is president of the auxiliary. They will greet arriving guests with their husbands.

Assisting Mrs. Sorgan with arrangements are Mmes. Norman Ciampi, Rafael Dufficy III and Carlo Fowler. Proceeds will benefit the Sunny Hills Home in San Anselmo.

THE SAN Rafael Junior Women's Club will meet tonight at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Alfred Delfino 7 Maple Hill Drive.

Dr. Charles J. Epstein, director of the Marin Genetic Evaluation Clinic will be guest speaker. The club has recently done volunteer work at the clinic.

LAST OF A series of family evenings sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of the Corinthian Yacht Club for yacht club members and their guests will be given Friday. Cocktails will be served at 6:30 p.m., with dinner at 7:30 p.m.

A Polynesian theme will be used in menu and decor. Mrs. Elmer Towle is chairman; Mrs. Arno Masneri, decorations, and Mmes. John Griffiths, Elmo De Martini, W. Burbeck Johnson and Edwin Gratonik, assistants.

MRS. CHARLES Greenly of San Rafael has been installed president of the Credit Women of Marin for the year. Officers who will serve with her are Mmes. Alice Duff, first vice president; James Kendall, second vice president; Anita Fredette, recording secretary; Christine Wright, corresponding secretary; and Alyx Ramstead, treasurer.

Mrs. Caroline Fooshee, charter president, has been named "Credit Woman of the Year."

THE LIONETTES of the Cotati Lions Club will prepare the food for the box supper to be held by the two groups Friday at 7:30 p.m. at the Cotati Women's Clubhouse.

THE ANNUAL ham luncheon and bazaar sponsored by the Women's Association of the Presbyterian Church of Petaluma will be held on Friday in the Christian Education Building behind the church.

Besides ham, the menu will include potato salad, hot mixed vegetables, hot rolls, pumpkin pie and coffee.

Bazaar items on display will include the homemade food table, a plant table, a homemade candy booth, aprons made by the church women and a white elephant table.

TELEVISION PERSONALITY Bruce Antonelli of Santa Cruz will speak at the meeting of the Petaluma Flower Gardeners Friday at 8 p.m. at Hermann Sons Hall in Petaluma. His subject will be the care and successful growth of begonias, fuchsias and ferns.

Featured at the meeting will be a plant table.

A HALLOWEEN dinner-dance will be held by the Novato Newcomer's Club members at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Moose Lodge in Novato.

Prizes will be awarded for the prettiest, funniest and most original costumes and the best couple costume.

A buffet spaghetti dinner will be followed by dancing. The Rural Orchestra of Novato under the direction of Mrs. Allen Dahl will be featured during intermissions. Reservations chairmen are Mmes. Edwin Fleming, Bill Hayton and George Klose.

Laurel Crean Becomes Bride Of Kevin Johnson In Fairfax

Laurel Crean was wed to Kevin Johnson Saturday in a noon ceremony at St. Rita's Church in Fairfax. A reception followed at the San Geronimo National Golf Club.

Liz Crean of San Anselmo was her sister's maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Ann Daubenfeld and Paulette Fraire, both of Fairfax, and Mrs. Michael Crean of Lake Berryessa, the bride's sister-in-law.

Best man for his brother was Bud Johnson. The bride's brother Charles Crean of San Rafael, Boots Ferguson of Kentfield and Dick Grady of San Rafael ushered.

Laurel is the daughter of Mrs. James Daley of San Anselmo and the late Joseph C. Crean. She is also the sister of Katie Crean of San Anselmo and Michael Crean of Lake Berryessa. Mrs. Gladys Knight, Mrs. Nora Crean and Dr. John W. Dolan, all of San Francisco, are her grandparents. The bride was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and College of Marin.

Kevin is the son of Conrad Johnson of Danville and the late Francis Johnson. He was graduated from Bishop Armstrong High School in Sacramento and attended College of Marin. Mrs. Fred Thurman of Sacramento is his sister.

The couple will live in San Rafael following a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe.

GAY MARGUERITE RAMSEY became the bride of John Charles Roper of Los Angles in a ceremony at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in San Rafael. She is the daughter of Mrs. Roberta Ramsey of Sausalito and Dr. Douglas E. Ramsey of San Rafael. He is the son of Mrs. Fremont E. Roper of Berkeley and the late Mr. Roper.

Some Exercises Will Put You In Good Physical Shape For Skiing

Thinking of taking up skiing this winter?

Then now's the time to start getting in physical condition for this increasingly popular sport, advises the Health Insurance Institute.

It will pay. Reason: an estimated 50,000 skiers who this winter will probably have to hobble home with broken ankles, painful sprains, or injured knees.

Who are the victims of ski accidents?

The young skiers.

The unskilled skiers.

The girl skiers.

Studies of ski accident statistics by close observers (the National Ski Patrol, the Colorado Medical Society) make the point:

80 per cent of skiing accidents involve people under 22 years of age — perhaps because so many young people take up the sport.

76 per cent of the accident victims are inexperienced, so-called "week-end wonder" skiers.

While men greatly outnumber women on the ski slopes, ankle fractures are more common among women than men. Some experts theorize this is because women have more difficulty disengaging their boots when the fall.

These ski accidents can cause severe injuries — fractures, sprains, lacerations, bruises and bone dislocations.

That isn't too surprising. Skiing falls and collisions are usually violent.

Physicians at the State University of New York Upstate Medical Center in Syracuse have determined that a 150-pound skier can reach a speed of 30 miles per hour going down a relatively gentle slope of only five degrees. At that point the skier's momentum is 6,600 feet per second.

Here are a few tips to get you ready for such high speed action:

Get in condition. Start working out on a regular basis long before the ski season begins. Your workout should include toe-touching exercising, deep-knee bends and other strenuous body building activities.

Be sure your boots, equipment and clothing fit you.

And, here are some ideas to remember when you go off on your first ski trip:

Take skiing instructions from the beginning. No one knows how to ski "naturally."

Don't be daring. Lack of judgment is one of the main reasons for ski accidents. So, if you're a beginner, stick to the beginners' slope.

Quit before you feel too tired.

Values And Ideals Are Aims Of Girl Scouting

SEATTLE (UPI)—For Girl Scouts, this year's national council meeting could be critical.

The Girl Scouts are in the unenviable position of attempting to preserve the values and ideals of another generation while still appealing to the activist and somewhat skeptical leaders of today's generation.

MRS. HOLTON Price of St. Louis, national president of the Girl Scouts, says that Scouting can offer the challenges and rewards that will appeal to the best of today's young women and girls.

In a speech at the opening session of the council Sunday, Mrs. Price said today's youth wants initiative, action, decision-making and non-discrimination.

"Within Scouting there is the very essence of what the young of this hour and day shout about," she said. "It has always been there."

She said all of the challenges of today exist in Scouting—potentially. The girls are growing in ideals, intellect and sense of dedication but it is the adult leaders that hold Scouting back, she said.

"TODAY, SOME combination of forces has fractured the comfortable idea that being older along means being wiser and, hence, in charge," Mrs. Price said. "The young don't believe this any more. They don't look for wisdom among the grey bears and the long hairs. They grow their own."

Mrs. Price, currently in her sixth year as president of the organization, cited a Gallup Poll to show that the image of Scouting needs change to keep up with the times.

"There is a Gallup Poll, taken years ago, that I wager would hold true today: The people at large who were queried considered Scouting good, but innocuous," she said. "A pleasant but hardly a relevant quality at this time."

The Scouting world must become aware of the changes in the goals and life styles of today's youth and adapt itself as much as possible, Mrs. Price said.

"For a time, what seemed shocking could be ignored as totally alien to Scouting. The moment is long past," she said. "We are smack in the middle of the youth revolution and the only questions left is what we do about it."

The 8,000 delegates to the national council which continues through Wednesday represent a total Girl Scout membership of four million girls.

Diane Christiansen Wed In Presidio Rite

In the post chapel at the Presidio of San Francisco Saturday Diane Christiansen became the bride of Raymond O. Isabell.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Christiansen of San Rafael, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. D. I. Carpenter of Houston, Tex.

Linda Schwartz of San Rafael was maid of honor, and the bride's sister, Mrs. Karen A. Hopkins of San Rafael, and Judy Champion of San Anselmo were bridesmaids.

Best man was Bill Pelleschi of San Jose, and Rick Knisley of Detroit, Mich., and Jim Allen of San Rafael ushered.

A reception at the non-commissioned Officers Club in the Presidio followed the ceremony.

Diane was graduated from San Rafael High School and the College of Marin Dental Assisting Department. Mrs. Samuel Pine of San Rafael is her grandmother.

The couple will live in Zweibrucken, Germany, where the bridegroom is stationed with the Army, following a wedding trip to Switzerland.

Why a fur sale now?

At this pre-holiday time of the year, a fur sale of this size and excitement is really unusual. However, a unique situation exists in the Eastern fur designer salons this year. There's been a real "heat wave" in New York, and everyone, from the pelt raisers to the fur finishers, finds themselves overstocked on beautiful new capes, stoles, coats and designer furs in an uncommonly competitive period. The result is a remarkable opportunity for The Emporium to bring you special savings on a really spectacular selection of fine, luxury furs.

Our alert buyer was able to take advantage of this situation to select especially lovely furs at lower than usual costs. Combining the resources and prestige of The Emporium he was able to make outstanding purchase just for this sale, in addition to securing fabulous designer samples for your approval. This means exciting savings for you at an ideal pre-holiday, special Christmas time. The Big E Fur Lay-Away Plan lets you store the fur of your choice in our vaults 'til December without charge, no payments 'til 1970*. Plan to be at the Big E Marin, tomorrow!

DRAMA REVIEW

'Oh! Calcutta!' Faulty In Words

By KARL BARRON

SAN FRANCISCO — "Oh! Calcutta!" billed as "69's most controversial musical," was officially bared to the public last night, after a few weeks of "previews," perhaps to be sure Chief Thomas Cahill's boys in blue would allow it to continue.

Provided the censors do not object to naked bodies and few common four-letter words, Keith Rockwell and Richard Norris, producers of the show at the On Broadway, have no worries — except perhaps bent backs from carrying their loot to the bank.

The controversy — largely centered about the fact that the four men and four women in the cast spend a good portion of their time nude and fondling each other — would do better to center on how such mediocre words came from their alleged authors. Those authors are, among others, Kenneth Tynan, Samuel Beckett, Jules Feiffer, Dan Greenburg, John Lennon and Sam Shepard. Their specific contributions are not identified and one might guess that that they demanded this, since it appears to be waste basket sweepings.

On the plus side, "Oh! Calcutta!" is excellent in the moments when the young and well-shaped cast bare their bodies and dance or make love, the bodies illuminated by motion pictures of themselves. In these moments, we are given a sensual feast of moving sculpture — an indication of why from the earliest art forms, the nude body has been considered as the ultimate in beauty. The music composed by a group called the Open Window, is pleasing not-too-hard rock, but in this production a little too loud for my taste.

Of the nine skits which tie together the great opening anf finale, several have promise as comedy or satire, but leave the impression that a good script doctor might do wonders with them. The funniest is the take off on research for "Human Sexual Response," in which a man and woman with electrodes strapped to their bodies indulge in sex, surrounded by a group of completely zany researchers. My feeling here was that a far more subtle group of reactions would have been that much funnier.

"Will Answer All Sincere Replies," a wife-swapping bit, is heavy handed in its humor, but is rescued by the fine playing of statuesque Samantha Harper and E. J. Chiaro. Again the acting of Cassia Besson saves "Delicious Indignities" from being a complete bore, although the idea has valid comic possibilities.

Tynan, who "devised" the show, is quoted as saying that he did so because it had occurred to him that there was no place in the world where "a man can take his girl for an evening of civilized erotic stimulation." The aim is a good and valid one — the end result does not reach it. The noted critic gives us what amounts to a 1969 version of burlesque. And from the way words still banned from family newspapers are used, we come away with the feeling that they were written on a wall for shock effect, rather than used in context, as Norman Mailer, for example, uses them.

What this unquestionably precedent-shattering show amounts to, in this critic's opinion, is this: it demonstrates that the disciples of "living theater", etc., claiming an audience can be held for an evening with purely emotional, visual, nonintellectual theatre, nonword theater, may still be right. But the way to prove it is certainly not to mix dull word-theater with the emotion-capturing stuff.

But "Oh! Calcutta!" also shows that the human body is beautiful, that tactile relationships between people can take place upon a stage without the sky falling down. When the sky should fall is during the sequence in which a number of dreadful paintings, which look like leftovers from Weird Tales magazines, and are credited to Clovis Trouille, flash upon the screen accompanied by a good musical number.

No matter what we may write, Messers Rockwell and Norris will make out, as the saying goes. November 1st they're raising the prices in the first two rows! I'll leave you to guess whn the first two rows are in demand.

"Oh! Calcutta!" plays nightly except Monday at 8:30 p.m. with two shows on Fridays and Saturdays, at 7:45 and 10:45 p.m.

TROUBLE IN MENTAL HOSPITAL — Randall Patrick McMurphy, played by Fredric Cook, challenges Nurse Ratched (Norma Jean Wanvig) in "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest," stage version of the Ken Kesey novel to open Nov. 1 at the Mill Valley Center for the Performing Arts. Kesey's 'One Flew Over The Cuckoo's Nest' Next Show

The stage version of Ken Kesey's novel "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest" will open a four-weekend run Nov. 1 at the Mill Valley Center for the Performing Arts. Curtain times remain to be announced.

Robin C. Jackson will direct the play, which will be presented on Friday and Saturday nights through November, with special performances on Thursdays for students and private parties.

The novel, and the play, deal with patients in a mental hospital and their fight against the establishment.

Playing the lead as Randall Patrick McMurphy will be Fred Cook, who played Richard II this year in the Marin Shakespeare Festival. Others in the cast are John Garber, Drew Eshelman, Allen Seaman, Stuart Serman, Norma Jean Wanvig and Robin B. Jackson.

Jackson, a College of Marin instructor, produced "The World We Live In," this year's Mountain Play on Mount Tamalpais. The novel was adapted for the stage by Dale Wasserman.

Eagle Scouts To Be Honored

CONCERT REVIEW

Durable Dane Is Enchanting As Ever

By JAMES E. WILLIAMS

SAN FRANCISCO — Billed as an evening of "music and mirth," Victor Borge returned to the Golden Gate city last night for a brief engagement at the Curran Theater.

And what a pleasure to spend an evening again with the clown prince of the concert stage. His material is fresh as ever. He leaves the great issues of the day in the dressing room. He's on stage to make people laugh and forget their troubles.

IN GOOD TASTE

Borge, whom I first saw in 1954 when he made his triumphal first national tour which finally landed him on Broadway, began the evening with his usual monologue with piano. His banter is always in good taste, a mark which has made him such a hit on his infrequent television specials.

He establishes an immediate rapport with the audience. One of the most laugh provoking is a "this and that" classical composition routine.

To put Borge's dialogue on paper would be rather bland for it is the timing that is so important. As all professionals do, he depends greatly on audience reaction for entry into another dialogue.

ADDS YOUNG TALENT

Borge, who is indeed a clever Dane, knows it's hard for a single performer to hold the audience for an entire evening. We owe him a pat on the back for bringing on some young fresh talent that kept the show lively.

His first guest was Sahan Arzruni, a young pianist with considerable concert talent — a perfect foil for Borge's antics. They messed up a few of the classics, but got down to beautiful duet piano work in the "Barber of Seville Overture" and Borge's own composition of the opera "Carmen."

Equally talented was the beautiful young blonde coloratura soprano Marylyn Mulvey. She sang it straight for three selections and then launched in a very funny exchange with the master.

Following Miss Mulvey's presentations, he brought Arzruni back for Liszt's Hungarian Raphosdy — a four-hand chase around the piano bench. The timing was perfect.

Probably Borge best summed up his type of show in the finale when he said it was his aim to make people laugh, wear a smile for a while — for "who can make war with a smile?"

His short engagement with his two young friends will run through Saturday with curtain time each evening at 8:30 p.m.

Chrysler Fights Profit Nosedive

DETROIT (AP) — An 87 per cent slump in profits for the third quarter of this year has been reported by Chrysler Corp. as the firm struggles to cut its operating costs.

Board chairman Lynn Townsend and President Virgil E. Boyd told Chrysler stockholders in a letter yesterday that profits plunged to $3.8 million, or 7 cents per share, from the $29.7 million, or 63 cents a share, for the samee period last year.

The profit nosedive was blamed on higher costs of materials, labor, selling and marketing autos, interest rates and costs of product improvements in the new 1970 models.

$22,000 Each To Children Of Jayne Mansfield

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jayne Mansfield's five children will receive $22,000 each in a settlement of a suit filed after the actress died in a car crash.

Superior Court Judge Arthur Marshall also approved yesterday an agreement that three of the children received an additional $5,000 each because of their injuries in the accident that killed their mother June 29, 1967.

Miss Mansfield was on her way from Biloxi, Miss., to New Orleans, after a nightclub appearance.

The settlement was reached with Gus Stevens, the nightclub owner in whose car Miss Mansfield was riding.

The children, by three husbands, are: Jayne Marie Mansfield, 19, Miklos Hargitay, 10, Zoltan Hargitay, 9, Mariska Hargitay, 5, and Antonio Cimber, 3.

Tourism Loss in Sausalito?

Sausalito is subsidizing its hordes of tourists to the tune of $200,000 a year, a market researcher told the Sausalito City Council last night.

Tourism, Dennis Canning said, does not pay Sausalito "in any way, shape or form." He had made a cursory analysis of 1967-68 figures for the city to reach his conclusion, but offered no evidence to back up the loss figure.

Canning spoke against the proposed Sausalito central waterfront plan as a member of the conservationist group which asked the council Oct. 3 for 30 days or more to produce alternative solutions.

Stephen Fraser, leader of the Sausalito Coalition for an Open Waterfront, said more detailed reports are being prepared on positive alternatives to the plan in zoning, open space requirements, traffic, parking, ferries and the potential for bond issues to buy waterfront open space.

The hearing centered on parking, however, and Sausalito Planning Director Eric Borgwardt hit the nub of it late in the meeting. "There is parking congestion and there will continue to be parking congestion," Borgwardt said," . . . until the people of this town demonstrate a willingness to buy land for public ownership." Even then, he said the most likely development of the waterfront would be as a park which would attract as much traffic as the commercial development now proposed.

The resident conservation group envisioned a sea of cars between Sausalito and the bay if the plan is approved, while waterfront owners said development will be regulated by the city and by the bay conservation and development commission.

"If you have to have all those cars," architect Wayne Weddell said, "You will ruin Sausalito, and you can't sit there and do that."

One exchange between the two factions offered an unlikely solution to the impasse. Leon Schiller, attorney for Sausalito Properties, said the proposed plan would allow only 4,800 square feet — the size of a small house — of development on a two-acre parcel.

"Does anyone have the guts to say this is too much development?" he asked.

"Yes — one foot is too much," someone in the crowd answered.

"Will you buy it?" Schiller asked.

"It's a possibility," came the answer.

Schiller offered to arrange terms with "a small down payment" after the meeting, but no such conference was observed when the hearing ended.

Councilman Wyman Hicks asked for developers' plans to handle parking and increased traffic stemming from development.

Sam Zakessian, owner of Zak's restaurant and several off-shore parcels, suggested water taxis as a partial solution, bringing San Franciscans to Sausalito without their cars.

Fraser suggested waterfront owners buy land in Marinship for a parking structure, then deed it to the city. "We oppose the current plan because it does not deal with the parking problem," he said.

The city's problem, Hicks said, is that it can't afford to run a parking district on the required scale. He suggested the waterfront owners form a district.

Summing up at the end of the hearing, Borgwardt and planning consultant William E. Spangle emphasized that approval of the plan was only a starting point, and that the plan will only be as "constant maintenance" makes it, in Borgwardt's words.

Borgwardt urged the council to act on the plan soon. The council did not grant the delay sought by Fraser's group, but Councilman Alexander R. Imlay said "we should not foreclose anybody" from discussing the plan as long as there is something further to say.

The council set the next waterfront hearing for 8 p.m. Nov. 6 at city hall.

German engineer Carl Benz designed and built the first commercially successful motor car.

TRIPLE SPACE FOR CIVIC CENTER DINERS

It took almost a year longer than planned, but Marin County employees now are dining in the shiny new cafeteria at the still-uncompleted Hall of Justice, with seats for 550 instead of the 189 in the old cafeteria. Manager Cecil Bruton, who has run the Civic Center cafeteria since 1965, has a staff of six to run the new facility, which boasts a paging system and piped-in music. At right, an unidentified but hungry patron eyes the selections at the cafeteria's circular serving area. At left, Linda Downey of Novato and Barbara Bailard of San Rafael enjoy coffee in the well-lighted new dining space. Access to the new cafeteria is only through the north end of the present administration building until work is completed on the hall of justice.

Muni Golf Course Strategy Switched

Speculating that voters probably wouldn't approve a golf course, the San Rafael City Council, although reassured it could pay for itself, took the proposal off the ballot and authorized planning to proceed. (Another San Rafael City Council story, page 1)

The council had agreed last February to give residents a chance to decide whether the city should operate a municipal course under a 40-year lease purchase plan.

Last night, however, the council voted 4-1 to ask newly appointed City Mgr. James H. McCown to proceed with plans with the San Rafael Municipal Facilities Corp., a nonprofit group, for the 18-hole course on Smith Brothers Ranch north of Gallinas Creek.

The course, expected to cost about $1.3 million, would be financed by the corporation and leased back to the city.

Mayor C. Paul Bettini questioned whether a vote would really give the vast majority of San Rafael residents a say, or if it would just be voted on by the persons who "always vote against these things."

He pointed out there would be no increase in taxes unless the course doesn't make enough money.

Councilman John A. Miskiman, calling it a "meaningful addition to recreational facilities in central Marin," pointed out that using a little general fund money wouldn't be all that bad anyway. "We put in funds to teach people to play badminton," he said.

Councilman Fred E. Jensen, however, remained staunchly in favor of a vote by the people. "There are very few of these golf courses that are not in the red," he maintained.

Miskimen contended those courses were paying property taxes.

Councilman Harry A. Barbier argued in favor of the course because it would leave the area in open space and be more beneficial to San Rafael than homes would be.

Del Davis of EBS Management Consultants Inc. of San Francisco presented a lengthy study by his firm which indicated, he said, the golf course would be financially feasible.

Davis said a municipal course, open to all, would attract people from Marin and San Francisco and added the location would also be attractive to large numbers of golfers.

His firm estimated income in the first year of operation at $165,000. By the 12th year of operation, when the course will probably reach its peak, revenue would be $237,000, he estimated.

Operating costs the first year would be $91,000; in the peak year, $92,000, he estimated.

An earlier financial feasibility study by William Sherman, golf course specialist of San Rafael, gave estimates of income in the first year of $182,450 and $309,950 in the peak year.

Sherman's study estimated operating costs at $145,000 a year.

The second feasibility study was ordered when the council decided it wanted an opinion from a disinterested firm.

Medical Papers In Missing Box

A physician at Kaiser Hospital in San Rafael has appealed for aid in finding a cardboard box containing two year's worth of medical research on influenza and pneumonia.

Dr. Alan J. Cooper said he lost the carton Oct. 13 at the corner of Baker and Jackson streets in San Francisco.

He said the box contains research he did while at Harward Medical School which wants the papers for studies currently being done on indluenza.

According to Cooper, who can be reached at the hospital, the package also contains some plastic slides of specimens used in his studies.

FIRST NINE MONTHS

Major Crime Drops In Sausalito

By LARRY D. HATFIELD

Although Sausalito doesn't have a major crime problem, it does have problems and could use more policemen and more citizen involvement, says Police Chief James D. Wright.

Wright made those observations in a recent interview about Sausalito crime statistics for the first nine months of this year which showed major crime declining, misdemeanors increasing, arrests for all crimes except major ones going up and services by the police department soaring.

The biggest decrease in major crimes has been in burglaries, Wright's figures indicate. They show that last year, through September, there had been 104 burglaries while so far this year, there have been only 64. The total for all of 1968 was 137.

In addition, there have been 27 arrests for burglary, 12 more than the same period last year. Wright attributes the decline in burglaries to increased patrols in the Sausalito hills.

Ironically, this policy, despite its apparent effectiveness, has brought the department under fire from some Sausalito residents who feel the focus of the force's attention should be on the tourist-swollen downtown. Many residents have demanded a downtown foot patrol, a system that Wright says he would like but can't handle on a regular basis with his 19 officers.

To provide adequate protection and service to both the hills and downtown, the chief says he would need five more officers. This would add an extra man to peak shifts which now generally have only two officers and one sergeant on duty, and would cost approximately $50,000 a year.

It's in the downtown area —where there are frequent complaints about littering, jaywalking, loitering and begging — where Wright feels he could use more cooperation from the public.

He points out, for example, that an arrest for begging cannot be made unless the victim is willing to make citizen's arrest or if the panhandling is committed in the presence of a policeman — and the latter, panhandlers simply don't do.

"Do you want to get involved, that is the question" Wright says of citizens who resent being asked for money on the street. "If they're asked often enough, it would seem to me they would."

He said a citizen's arrest does not involve physically restraining the panhandler. He recommends that the victim try to keep the offender in sight while he calls police who then can assist in the arrest. The complainant then would have to appear at the district attorney's office to swear out a formal complaint.

As for littering and jaywalking, Wright says his men can enforce the law as soon as the Marin County courts can handle the cases administratively. He said court officials have indicated they can't adequately process arrests in those matters until the long-awaited move to the new Hall of Justice.

One of the most dramatic figures in Wright's statistics is the number of "miscellaneous services" provided by the police department.

These total 16,650, more than 2,000 in all of 1968 and 7,000 more than at this time last year. These include vacation house checks (10,635 of them so far this year compared to 10,677 all of last year) and checks of suspicious persons (3,069 compared to 335 at the same time a year ago).

Another problem that puts a strain on Wright's force is traffic. His department has issued 49,150 traffic citations in the first nine months of 1969, only 11,000 fewer in 1968.

Figures on other crimes committed in Sausalito through September (with last year's figures in parentheses) include: aggravated assault 10 (3); theft of $50 and over, 104 (112); narcotics, 53 (51); liquor laws, 30 (8); drunks, 131 (90); drunk driving, 74 (22); other misdemeanors, 1012 (760)

The number of all offenses through September was 1,708, compared to 1,520 last year. All arrests totaled 1,491, up 480 from last year. Total value of property lost through September was $96,985, with $47,045 recovered.

East San Rafael Drainage District Nears Agreement

East San Rafael property owners are ready to go along with a drainage district, City Mgr. James H. McCown reported to the city council last night.

However, there is one catch, he indicated. The owners of Holiday Magic want the outer dike left out of the assessment district at this time and in return, the owners promise not to develop north of Highway 17 until the dike is brought up to city standard, he said.

They are willing to maintain the existing dike, he added.

City Atty. David A. Menary, however, was unwilling to take verbal promises and urged the council to obtain an agreement from all of the property owners and to have the agreement against development recorded with their deeds.

He also urged the council to get it in writing that the dike will be maintained until it is brought up to city standard.

The council decided to continue the matter for two weeks while Menary investigates the legal aspects.

Permit To Enable Wine Production

An existing use permit held by Fred Cherry for his Bon Vin restaurant and wine shop will suffice to let him carry on limited wine production, the San Anselmo Planning Commission said last night.

Cherry, who is changing his operation to concentrate on wines, had sought a new permit or the commission's approval for the proposed production.

The commission denied an application by Adolph Meyer for a lot split at 56 Lincoln Avenue, holding he had failed to show a hardship necessitating the split, reported John T. O'Rourke, assistant city engineer.

The commission discussed problems of non-conforming multiple family uses in single family districts, and asked the planning staff to report Nov. 3 on the San Francisco ordinance covering such uses. The commission is trying to draw an ordinance to phase out such uses, O'Rourke said.

Card Forgery Innocent Pleas

Dan Hayden Willouby, 30, and Marilyn Pearl Robbins, 25, both of San Rafael, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Superior Court to two charges of credit card forgery.

A jury trial was set for the week of Jan. 12.

The two are charged with using stolen credit cards June 30 to buy $280 worth of merchandise at the Emporium.

Coleman Parents Win New Traffic Signal

The San Rafael City Council last night authorized a pedestrian actuated, three-color, $10,000 traffic light and crossing guard to help Coleman School students cross Lincoln Avenue.

Residents of the area made the request because the school buses for that area will be taken off when the new freeway overcrossing is finished. They asked the signal be at Lincoln and Paloma avenues, but the council left the decision up to engineers.

The San Rafael City Council Also:

ANNEXATION — Adopted an ordinance to annex about 1,000 acres including the Civic Center, unswayed by Frank Solomons charge that the city was illegally because there are more than 12 registered voters in the area. The county clerk, states, however, there were fewer than 12 when the proceedings began.

PERSONNEL RULES — Approved a resolution on personnel regulations concerning vacation, overtime and holidays, but asked City Mgr. James H. McCown to make a study of other vacation proposals.

HEARINGS — Amended zoning rules to permit the city clerk to set dates for public hearings.

COMMENDATION — Passed a resolution of commendation for Charles J. Chiesa, retired chief of police.

HOLIDAY — Approved an ordinance deleting Columbus Day as a holiday and substituting the day following Thanksgiving.

LANDSCAPING — Referred to the planning commission a request from David E. Stovel for a change in fence restrictions in the zoning ordinance.

SIGNAL — Agreed to spend $7,500 as half of the installation cost of a new signal at Fourth and H streets, with Mayfair Market also paying $7,500.

STREET — Changed the name of Lockwood Drive West off Robinhood Drive to Friar Tuck Lane.

HIRING — Appointed Sylvanus K. Bradeen as a tree climber at $638 a month; Roger L. Downward as a patrolman at $835; Richard Michaelson, William A. Mohler and Anthony T. Hoke, all as partolmen at $757; and Bruce L. Thompson as a maintenance man at $670.

Guilty Plea To Card Signing

George Edward Taylor, 22, of Santa Venetia, pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Superior Court to a charge of signing another person's name to a credit card slip with intent to defraud.

A second count of the same charge against him was dismissed, and Judge E. Warren McGuire set sentencing for Nov. 17.

Taylor was arrested Feb. 13 after he reportedly purchased two new tires and some gasoline with stolen credit cards.

WHY PAY EXTRA FOR A CAR WHEN YOU GET MORE FOR YOUR MONEY IN MARIN?

If you're tempted to buy a car in the City or East Bay, put on the brakes and consider: Marin dealers, with much lower overhead, pass you the saving. They're local, you're local. They want your business and will prove it to you both in price and service. Lower sales tax, too! More convenience, a better deal. Makes sense?

Clausen Mails Out Poll To Constituents

I-J Special Report

WASHINGTON — A poll of his constituents' views has been sent to more than 200,000 households in his district by Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District.

The poll, which offers room for "his" and "her" responses, asks views on Vietnam, voting age, campus disruptions, the draft, President Richard M. Nixon's performance, the space program, social security, government costs and drugs.

Results will be announced in about three weeks, Clausen's office said.

The $1,800 cost of having the questionnaires prepared was paid from Clausen's campaign fund, his office said. It was mailed free at taxpayers' expense.

Soviet Trawler Seen Off Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — A Soviet trawler came within a few hundred yards of South Vietnamese territorial waters on Sunday but left when government patrol boats went out to investigate, official sources reported today.

On Friday, South Vietnamese patrol boats fired at and possibly hit another Russian trawler which entered the 12-mile territorial limit near Da Nang.

The sources said ships believed to be Soviet have come close to South Vietnamese territorial waters several times in the past, but no report was made public because they did not violate the territorial limit.

Vatican Synod Drafts Pro-Collegiality Stand

VATICAN CITY (AP) — All nine subcommissions of the world synod of bishops have voted in favor of giving bishops a strong new voice in helping the Pope rule the Roman Catholic Church, the Vatican said today.

The majority reports of the groups were sent to the full 146-member synod for final ratification. This is considered a formality.

The proposals then will be handed to Pope Paul VI who, if he puts them into effect, would virtually end what some liberals have called the papacy's "absolute monarchical rule."

Some liberals in the synod predicted the pontiff would approve the recommendations to share more of his authority with bishops around the globe.

None of the subcommissions contested the Pope's primacy or his right to make final decisions for the half-billion-member Church, the synod's English language briefing officer, the Rev. Mark Reuver, said in his daily report.

He said all groups urged, however, that the principle of collegiality — sharing by bishops in papal decision-making — be "brought into effect immediately, as the times call for it."

Each group voted to propose that the synod meet regularly and that the pontiff and Vatican keep in constant touch with the bishops in the dioceses.

Father Reuver said a majority in the synod felt also that a small but permanent body of bishops should be stationed at the Vatican to represent the interests of national groups of bishops.

A few subcommissions also asked that synods, with the Pope as their head, be granted lawmaking power.

Father Reuver's announcement followed disclosure of the subcommissions' findings by a synod source.

The 146 synod delegates, the source reported, were nearly in unanimous agreement that a synod should be held at least every two years and possibly every year to advise the Pope and that the Pope and the Vatican should keep in constant touch with the bishops on all important doctrinal and disciplinary matters.

The source said this would avert the chance of a Pope issuing a ruling, such as Pope Paul's ban on artificial birth control, without full consultation with the world's bishops. On the other hand, national bishops' conferences would be obliged to consult the Roman Curia, the Vatician's administrative organ, before taking major decisions for their own countries.

Railroads Seek State Fare Hike

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Three railroads are asking the California Public Utilities Commission for 5 per cent passenger fare increases within the state.

As the hearing opened yesterday, Robert M. Jochner of the Southern Pacific Co. said that aside from commuters on the San Francisco Peninsula, "very few passengers will be affected."

The roads, besides the SP, are the Santa Fe Railway and the Union Pacific Railroad. All three said the proposed boost would put California in line with interstate rates which have been increased 5 per cent by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Marin Group Slates Benefit Performance

A pre-opening performance of the New York stage show "The Boys in the Band," to benefit the Ross Psychiatric Center, will be held in San Francisco Nov. 4 at 8:30 p.m. at the Committee Theater.

All proceeds from the performance will go to the center. Information may be obtained at the center at 1150 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Ross.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Irritable Colon May Imitate Other, More Serious Troubles

VAN DELLEN

An irritable bowel is the most common cause of abdominal distress. The condition is not serious but should not be neglected as it can mimic almost any abdominal disorder, from cancer to gallstones.

Pain ensues when the bowel contracts too forcefully or when a gas pocket distends the intestinal wall.

The individual has no voluntary control over the behaviour of this part of the anatomy. On the other hand, he can lessen the tensions that aggravate the nerves leading to this organ.

We also have many medicines to relax the spastic colon.

DIET, OFTEN CONSIDERED the culpirt, plays a minor role. Many blame harsh foods, cabbage, beans, seeds, and fresh fruits for their trouble. Too much coffee, tea, or alcohol has the same effect.

Nervous tension is the most likely offender. Spastic bowel is common among men and women who are overly conscientious and orderly.

Internal tension is created also by depression, resentment, anxiety, fatigue, and feelings of guilt.

WHEN THE BOWEL clamps down and goes into spasm, the sufferer doubles up as though he had eaten green apples. Changes in bowel function such as constipation or diarrhea occur. Complaints of butterflies in the stomach, inward nervousness, rumbling noises, burning, fullness, and bloating are the rule.

For most of us, the spastic bowel is a sign that we are driving ourselves too hard and in need of relaxation or a change. When too much work is responsible, a vacation is in order.

But make certain of the diagnosis because abdominal pain has many origins.

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

STRICTURE IS LOCALIZED

S. S. writes: Is there any difference between a spastic colon and a structure in the bowel?

REPLY

Yes. Although both produce narrowing, stricture is localized, and usually is caused by an adhesion or a band of fibrous tissue. Narrowing from spasm is due to contraction of the circular muscles in the wall of the bowel. It comes and goes, in contrast to stricture, which is permanent and requires surgery.

DRAINAGE TUBE

O. O. writes: What is a fistula?

REPLY

An opening into the skin or a body organ that allows pus or other secretions or fluids to pass to the outside or from one organ to another. A rectal fistula, for example, connects an abscess in the buttocks with the outside. Pus escapes through an artificial opening. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on rectal fistula.

SWOLLEN GLAND

Mrs. E. Y. writes: I've had a swollen gland under my right arm for several years. Should I have it taken care of by the doctor?

REPLY

Not if you have had it for years. On the other hand, removal involves a simple surgical procedure and is advised if the gland gets bigger or becomes bothersome.

SHOCK THERAPY

Mr. K. D. writes: How do you go about getting shock treatments for a depression?

REPLY

The decision to use shock treatments is up to your physician. If he thinks you need them, he will arrange a consultation with a psychiatrist who utilizes this type of therapy.

Today's Health Hint — Alterations in bowel or bladder habits may be an early sign of a serious disease.

Writer Will Try Again For Audience

A Mill Valley writer who failed to attract an audience for a public meeting on current social problems earlier this month, is going to try again Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the board of supervisors chambers at the Civic Center.

Peter Edler of 50 Shell Road and author of "The Arbitrarium" and "Snowwhite and Rosered," will discuss the hypocrisy of welfare, lack of communication, drugs and what is happening to the dollar.

Edler hopes to attrace an audience from the hippy, straight and in-between segments of society.

He will discuss his belief that hypocrisy in the Marin County Welfare Department causes people to lie about any additional money earned over the welfare payment. "A family of four receives from $280 to $300 for a month," he noted and any additional money earned by members would be deducted from that payment.

The young do not listen to the warning of the old on the use of drugs, Edler said, because they feel "they (the old) don't know anything about it."

Anita Lagercrantz, a teacher of communciation through dance, will also speak at the forum.

Juvenile Court Turns Down Marijuana Case

The case of Paul Edward Giampoli, 20, of San Rafael has been refused by Marin Juvenile Court, it was reported yesterday in municipal court.

A preliminary hearing for the youth, who is accused of possessing and cultivating marijuana at his home Sept. 26, was set for Nov. 10.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS INVITING SEALED PROPOSALS OR BIDS

Sealed Proposals will be received by, and shall be filed with, the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, State of California, Room 315, Marin County Civic Center, San Rafael, California, until 10:00 A.M., Nov. 4, 1969, for:

Repair of the slide by removing and reconstructing the slope, constructing a metal crib wall and placing grouted rock slope protection.

The work shall be done in accordance with official plans and specifications prepared in reference thereto which may be seen at the office of the Department of Public Works, County of Marin. Request for forms or information shall be addressed to the Department of Public Works, County of Marin, Civic Center, San Rafael, California.

Proposals shall be filed with George H. Gnoss, Clerk of the Board of Supervisors, Civic Center, San Rafael, California.

Proposals will be opened and read at 10:00 A.M., in Room No. 343, Marin County Civic Center, on the day specified above.

The award of the contract, if it be awarded, will be to the lowest responsible bidder whose proposal complies with the requirements prescribed. The award, if made, will be made within thirty (30) days after the opening of the proposals.

The Board of Supervisors has made a determination of the prevailing rate of hourly wages applicable to the work to be performed. Copies of this determination are on file in the office of the County Clerk, Civic Center, Room 315, San Rafael, California, and are available to any interested party upon request. Copies may be obtained from the Department of Public Works, Room 308, Civic Center.

The Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

INSTRUCTIONS TO BIDDERS

PLAN DEPOSIT — Plans and Specifications (but not including Standard Specifications, or other documents included by reference), and Proposal Forms may be obtained by prospective bidders upon payment of a deposit of Ten Dollars ($10.00) (cash or check made payable to the Department of Public Works, County of Marin) to guarantee safe return of the plans and specifications within ten (10) days after bid opening. Failure to so return the plans and specifications will cause forfeiture of the deposit to the County.

PROPOSAL GUARANTY — All bids must be submitted on the Proposal form obtained from the Director of Public Works and shall be accompanied by a Proposal Guaranty of at least ten percent (10%) of the bid. Guaranties shall be in the form of a certified or Cashier's Check or Bidder's Bond. Failure of the successful bidder to execute and return the contract, or to file acceptable bond, as required, within the time allotted shall be cause for the annulment of the award and forfeiture of the Proposal Guaranty.

BID BONDS — The bid bonds of bidders, other than the successful bidder, may be retained by the Board of Supervisors for a period of thirty (30) days after award or until the successful bidder executes the contract and furnishes bonds, whichever occurs first. If a bidder to whom the contract is awarded fails, or refuses, to execute the contract within fifteen (15) days of notice of award, as herein provided, the Board of Supervisors may award to the next lowest responsible bidder and apply the bid bond of the bidder failing, or refusing, to execute contract, against the County's damages resulting from such failure. If a bidder to whom the contract is awarded executes the contract as herein required, the bid bonds of bidders to whom no award was made will be returned upon request.

BIDS AND BID OPENING: Only the total amount bid will be read at the bid opening and not specific items going to make up said total unless written request for reading of each subtotal and individual items of the bid is requested in writing at the time of the submission of proposals. Bidders will be at liberty to inspect and review bids in the office of the Director of Public Works to which they will be removed for the purpose of checking after the opening and reading of the totals.

Bids are required for the entire work described herein, and neither partial bids nor contingent bids will be considered.

ADDENDUM — Every interpretation of the specifications, changes, additions or corrections will be in the form of an addendum to the contract documents and when issued will be on file at the Department of Public Works at least two working days before bids are opened. In addition, all addenda will be mailed to each person holding contract documents but it shall be the bidder's responsibility to make inquiry as to the addenda issued. All such addenda shall become part of the contract documents and all bidders shall be bound by such addenda whether or not received by the bidders.

TIME LIMIT

The Contractor shall commence work on or before the tenth (10th) day following the date of written notification by the Director of Public Works that the contract has been awarded by the Board of Supervisors. During this ten (10) day interval, the necessary contract documents shall be executed by the Contractor and returned to the Department of Public Works. All work shall be completed on the project within forty (40) working days counting from and including the said tenth (10th) day.

One Soft Drink Erroneously On Sweetner List

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Health, Education and Welfare said today it erroneously included a soft drink, Wink, in a list of cyclamate-containing products issued Saturday.

The drink is manufactured by the Canada Dry Co.

The government has ordered a manufacturing ban and market withdrawal of all general purpose foods and drinks containing the artificial sweetener.

Cyclamate as been shown to cause bladder cancer in rats.

"Wink, along with several other beverages, was mistakenly included in a list of products issued by the department last Saturday, as indicated by a press memorandum issued by HEW later that day," the department said in an official statement.

The memorandum to the press did not indicate what products had been erroneously included.

A revised list is being prepared by the department.

Additions Asked By Library Board

Looking ahead toward next year's budget, members of the San Rafael Library Board last night agreed to ask for two improvements to the library in 1970.

The board noted for future budget inclusion installation of rest rooms and of a ramp leading from the city hall driveway to the library's second floor, for the convenience of the elderly and handicapped.

The board was short one member with resignation of Harold H. Fulkerson. Ella May Minneman was absent.

Subdivisions Annexation To Be Eyed

A request that subdivisions at Dillon's Beach be annexed to the North Marin County Water District for sewer service will be considered at a special meeting of the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission at 8 p.m. Thursday in the board of supervisors chambers at Civic Center.

Benhamin P. Bonelli, developer of Oceana Marin and Dillon's beach subdivisions, asked for the annexation on Oct. 9, but the panel postponed a decision to get more information. Bonelli will bring in further data Thursday on the exact area and the number of lots to be annexed.

The commissioners will also discuss proposed legislation to update the state's annexation laws.

"The commission has been faced with illogical, gerrymandered, piecemeal type annexations on numerous occasions," said executive officer John F. Barrows. He proposed that rigid city annexation laws be overhauled along lines suggested by the California chapter of the American Institute of Planners.

Burglars Hit Autos For Loot

Three auto burglaries were reported to San Rafael police this weekend.

James B. Hickey, 1825 Lincoln Avenue, told police a $40 battery, $25 generator and $25 alternator were taken from his auto Friday night while it was parked in the rear of his apartment building.

A $65 stereo tape recorder was reported stolen Saturday night by Arthur H. Crocker, 14 La Questa Avenue, Greenbrae. According to police, the recorder was taken while the auto was parked at 131 Peacock Drive. Entrance was gained by breaking a window.

In a third car burglary, Helen L. Mault of 265 Laurel Place, reported a $30 battery taken from her auto Sunday morning while it was parked in her apartment house parking lot.

Innocent Pleas To Burglary Charges

John Edward Brown, 19, of Petaluma, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Superior Court to charges of burglarizing Mac's Saw Service in San Rafael and burglarizing and stealing a car from Dexter Pontiac in August.

A jury trial was set for the week of Jan. 15.

Hunt Loses His Lone Edge On Alcatraz Plans

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The board of supervisors moved millionaire Lamar Hunt back to the starting line yesterday in the race for Alcatraz Island.

The supervisors voted 9-2 to accept and consider new proposals for the former federal prison site and then decide what to do with the property in San Francisco Bay early next year.

EARLIER VOTE

Just three weeks ago the board gave its 6-5 "in principle" approval for Hunt's plan to build a shopping center, decorated in and style of old San Francisco, and an adjoining space museum.

"This puts the Hunt plan back at the starting line along with all the others," Supervisor Robert Mendelson said after the latest vote.

The supervisors also voted 8-3 to direct city officials to "work with any other serious, qualified and financially responsible proponents of other proposals."

The board did not, however, rescind its tentative approval of Hunt's plan but said "it is not to be construed as expressing or implying any preference for the Lamar Hunt proposal over any others."

Yesterday's vote was the result of public pressure generated by San Francisco dressmaker Alvin Duskin who paid $5,000 for full-page ads in the city's two major newspapers.

'BIGGEST STEAL'

Duskin, whose ad included coupons which citizens clipped and sent to the supervisors and Mayor Joseph L. Alioto, called the Hunt proposal "the biggest steal since Manhattan Island."

The dress designer thinks the island ought to be left as it is—"given back to the pelicans after whom it was named."

Deadline for new proposals is now Jan. 31, 1970 and a decision will be made by April 1, 1970.

Two Killers Puzzle Bay Area Officers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Law enforcement agencies in the San Francisco Bay Area today sought two contrasting killers — one known as Zodiac who has bragged of five methodical slayings in cryptic notes, and the other believed responsible for frenzied stabbing attacks on two teen-age girls and an infant.

Zodiac is wanted for the murders of a young couple, two young women and a San Francisco cab driver in four separate attacks in the North Bay area over a period of 10 months.

The teen-agers and a 2-year-old girl were victims of two separate attacks over a three-month period in the South Bay area near San Jose. The girls were stabbed a total of 350, times, and an autopsy on the infant revealed 190 stab wounds.

Officers from seven state and local agencies met here yesterday to go over evidence in the Zodiac case. His taunting notes and a rare 9-millimeter pistol were considered prime clues.

Police said they were checking the handwriting on the notes against the signatures on a list of permits for purchase of the pistol. Only 143 such weapons have been sold in San Francisco over the past three years.

Meanwhile in rural Napa County, scene of one of the Zodiac slayings, armed police rode shotgun on 70 school buses yesterday. Other area counties, including Marin, are keeping close check on school buses.

Zodiac, in a letter which included a blood-spattered portion of the slain cab driver's shirt, warned that his next target may be a bus full of children.

In the South Bay, the naked body of little Shelley Irene Holmboe was found in a vineyard near her home Sunday. San Jose police said there "is quite a bit of similarity" with the knife slayings of Deborah Gay Furlong, 14, and Kathy Snoozy, 15.

The bodies of the teen-aged girls were found Aug. 4 in a grove of trees near t heir homes, about three miles from the vineyard where the Holmboe child was found.

Red Teacher Ruling Hit By Rafferty

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—State schools chief Max Rafferty has declared his support for the planned appeal of a court decision that the firing of UCLA instructor Angela Davis solely because she is a Communist is unconstitutional.

"I don't believe in letting members of the Mafia, Murder Incorporated or a Communist speak with my money on a tax-supported campus," said Rafferty, the Republican superintendent of public instruction.

But Assembly Democratic leader Jess Unruh headed a group of Democratic politicians which took the position Monday that courts already had ruled that an employee can't be fired for being a Communist and the latest decision merely upheld current law.

The Democrats maintained the University of California regents were legally wrong when they urged the dismissal of Miss Davis.

Thomas J. Cunningham, general counsel for the regents, said his office would appeal the ruling made yesterday by Los Angeles Superior Court Judge Jerry Pacht.

Rafferty said the U.C. board of Regents, of which he is a member, hopes the case will go clear to the U.S. Supreme Court and the panel will rule "that society has a right to protect itself from its enemies and does not have to subsidize the conspiracy."

But Unruh said: "The governor and the board of regents, when they took office, swore to uphold the law. That means they must uphold the law whether they personally believe it to be right or wrong. They cannot fulfill their duties simply by enforcing those laws they think are right and ignoring those they think are wrong."

Gov. Ronald Reagan and Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke, Republicans who voted with the regents to dismiss Miss Davis, both declined to comment.

Warrant Issued

A bench warrant with bail set at $2,500 was issued yesterday by Judge E. Warren McGuire of Marin Superior Court for Philip Charles Verheyden, 22, Corte Madera, when he failed to appear for a trial on check forgery charges.

Walton Holding Outside Jobs

Sidney F. Walton Jr., new principal at Sausalito's Martin Luther King School, is also holding two other teaching posts.

The University of California at Berkeley has announced Walton will teach a five-unit course in Afro-American psychology in a Thursday night class. Walton has also been rehired as a part-time instructor at Merritt College in Oakland in contemporary education for Afro-Americans.

Walton quit Merritt last year when the former college president accused him of faking records for Black Panther Bobby Seale, an accusation denied by Walton.

49ers In Market For Quarterback

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—"How come," San Francisco 49er quarterback John Brodie once asked, "they say Joe Namath has a 'quick release,' but they say I 'unload?'"

Brodie can't unload anymore, and today the winless 49ers went shopping for another quarterback.

The 34-year-old passer, awaiting results of X-rays on his "dead right elbow," isn't "definitely counted out," 49er Coach Dick Nolan said last night.

"We have to get another quarterback somewhere along the line," Nolan said.

Asked if he knew of any that were available, Nolan replied, "Yes, for a big price."

The coach said third - year quarterback Steve Spurrier from Florida will be depended upon Sunday against Baltimore and that the 49ers would begin work today "to fit the offense around him."

Brodie, a 13 - year veteran from Stanford, was soundly booed Sunday by a small home crowd of 28,684 as the 49ers fell to Atlanta, 28-7. The 49ers are now 0-4-1 in National Football League play after an 0-6 exhibition season.

Brodie completed 19 of 31 passes for 159 yards, but said "most of the completions were on dinky passes.

"There's no strength in my arm, my elbow is dead," Brodie added. "I guess I've just thrown too many passes.

"I was throwing 'waffle' balls, Throwing a football is all touch. I had no feel, I had nothing, absolutely nothing on the ball. The team can't win with me throwing like that," said Brodie.

"It's not a steady pain, but comes and goes. We though he'd shake it off," said team physician Dr. Lloyd Milburn, who explained the trouble was in the muscle on the inside of his right elbow.

"It's a chronic case of pitcher's elbow," the doctor said.

Brodie has been bothered in the past with his right shoulder and apparently the elbow problem developed from that, said Milburn.

Early in the season the 49ers had too many quarterbacks. But No. 2 man George Mira, who had been asking to be traded, went to Philadelphia for offensive tackle Randy Beisler and two draft choices.

Forty-niner officials said that rookie Paul Champlin from Eastern Montana is too inexperienced to be moved up from the taxi squad.

In some more bad news, Dr. Milburn said defensive back Kermit Alexander would be lost three weeks because of a shoulder separation.

PIRATES GET GIUSTI IN TRADE WITH CARDS

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates said today they have traded outfielder-utility man Carl Taylor and minor league outfielder Frank Vanzin to the St. Louis Cardinals for pitcher Dave Giusti and catcher Dave Ricketts.

Pirates' General Manager Joe Brown said Giusti, who pitched for the Cardinals last season and has a lifetime major league record of 50 wins and 60 defeats, would help strengthen the Pittsburgh pitching staff.

Brown said that although Giusti had a poor record this past season because of a back injury, he'd been assured by Cardinals' General Manager Bing Devine that Giusti is in good physical condition again.

JIM GILMARTIN

Spurrier Goes To Firing Line

If John Brodie's Little League elbow doesn't respond to treatment, the young man who will replace him as No. 1 quarterback of the San Francisco 49ers should win a warm spot in the hearts of the team's frustrated fans.

His name is Mr. Cool, alias Steve Orr Spurrier, No. 11, a third year pro with Heisman Trophy credentials out of University of Florida. That he can throw a football, read defenses and generally direct a team are accepted facts, but can he stand up to pressure and keep his cool in the violent world of professional football?

More than 60 members of the Marin 49ers Boosters Club can answer a resounding yes after listening to the blond, 24-year-old Spurrier answering a barrage of questions along with offensive tackle Cas Banaszek at yesterday's weekly inquest at Dominic's Restaurant, San Rafael.

A Blush, But Keeps His Cool

Spurrier was poise personified, Mr. Iceman from the very start when he accepted without comment a facetious introduction from Boosters President Price Hall who made a big deal about a fumble on Steve's first offensive play against Atlanta Sunday. Spurrier did not dignify the crack with a reply, just gritted his teeth, blushed and shook his head, although he needs that kind of welcome like the 49ers need another loss. For a second string quarterback on a winless team, it was like being blind sided by Deacon Jones, yet he kept his cool. There is no panic button in Steve's repertoir.

In answering questions, Spurrier said, "Yes, I think I'm ready to play" against Baltimore Sunday if Brodie is out; "No," he added, "I don't think there'll be any great pressure on me. We've kicked away enough games so the pressure's off us now. We'll just go out and shoot for upsets now and look toward next year."

Feels Brodie Will Be Back

On Brodie's arm ailment which could end his 13-year pro career, Spurrier said, "I don't think John will be out for the season. Maybe just for a couple of weeks. I guess it's been bothering him all season. He's thrown only one or two days a week in practice, but it seemed to be okay on Sundays. I didn't know anything was wrong yesterday and when they (the coaches) told me to start warming up with Leo (Johnson), I said, 'You going in, Leo?' and he said, 'No, YOU are.'"

While some disgruntled fans have been unhappy with Brodie, Spurrier said he feels he's had a "fair shake" with the 49ers. "No, I'm not satisfied being second team — no athlete should be, but I don't think I have the right to holler to be traded," as was the case of George Mira, since departed. "Maybe if I show well and still don't win the job, then I'll start hollering."

Sherman Little of San Rafael, a season ticket holder for more than 20 years, got up to observe, "All of us at this end of the table think the team has good material and lousy management. We haven't had a good coach since Buck Shaw (1946-54)."

Spurrier, naturally, didn't comment on management, but replied: "I agree, we have good personnel, but we've been flat, lack enthusiasm. That's why the breaks have gone against us. Once we get motivated and show some spark, then those breaks won't happen."

Changing Defense For McNeil

The Niners' No. 1 draft pick of 1967 also noted that receiver Clifton McNeil is far below his 1968 output because: "Last year he caught a lot of sideline passes, but this season the defenses are laying on his outside. And coming across the middle is not one of his better moves; he's not going for the ball like he used to. Yes, also the long rest (during contract squabbling) had to bother him a little bit plus the fact that John hasn't been throwing much in practice."

Spurrier's wife, Jerri, who is expecting another child in three weeks, and two-year-old daughter Lisa accompanied the bread winner to the luncheon.

Meanwhile, Casimir Joseph Banaszek, 23, in his second year with the 49ers, argued that the team's offensive line "is even better than it was last year, and I have statistics to prove it. For example, John has been dropped (for losses — attempting to pass) only seven times in five games, second lowest in the league. Our problem is just a matter of not coming up with the big play. We just can't seem to move inside the 20."

He also rated Los Angeles Ram Deacon Jones as the toughest defensive end in the NFL, "although they're all good, no pushovers"; the Oakland Raiders' defensive unit is the team's strong point and would rate "about fourth or fifth in the NFL"; "You can't find 'em any meaner" than the Raiders' defensive ends, Ben Davidson and Ike Lassiter," and his opponent next Sunday, Bubba Smith of Baltimore, "is something else!"

SNOWING CONFETTI IN NEW YORK

New York Mets' manager Gil Hodges and his wife smile and wave under a deluge of confetti during a ticker tape parade in lower Manhattan yesterday. New York went wild in a last tribute to the World Champions of baseball as the city celebrated "Mets Day" with a ticker tape parade, city hall ceremonies with Mayor John Lindsay, and various presentations. The Mets gave the city the pitchers' rubber from Shea Stadium, autographed by the three World Series pitchers. Pearl Bailey danced for a crowd of 10,000 and joined with opera star Robert Merrill in singing "Take Me Out To The Ballgame."

Ringey Admits Getting Call From Twins' Boss Griffith

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP) — Sunday night Minnesota Twins' President Calvin Griffith said he was making a telephone call to the man who could succeed Billy Martin, fired as the baseball team's manager a week ago.

Yesterday, former California Angels' Manager Bill Rigney confirmed receiving a call from Griffith in San Francisco.

"I'm hoping to have an announcement late this week," Griffith said. "We've got to sit down with the new manager and talk for a couple of days before anything is finalized."

Rigney said, "I have talked to Calvin Griffith but beyond that I can't make any comment."

However, the Minneapolis Tribune reported that Rigney was to meet with Griffith today or tomorrow.

The 51-year-old Rigney is popular in the Minnesota area, having managed the old American Association Minneapolis Millers in 1954-55.

Rigney was manager of the New York and San Francisco Giants from 1956-60 and manager of the Angels from 1961 until early this past season when the Angels got off to a bad start. He worked as radio commentator for the Giants after that.

Griffith had said Sunday that he had trimmed his original list of 50 managerial candidates to four.

The Twins' president listed Rigney; Billy Hunter, Baltimore Orioles' coach; Joe Schultz, Seattle Pilots' manager in 1969, and Eddie Yost, New York Mets' coach, as the four.

Williams Manager Of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — The ragamuffin cast was virtually the same, but Washington's Senators produced an astonishing about-face last season thanks to the personal magnetism and knowledge of the game that made Ted Williams baseball's last .400 hitter.

The freshman manager, who readily admitted he was uneasy about bossing a club despite a million dollar contract, took a collection of ball players that finished dead last the season before and guided them to their first winning season in 17 years.

And, for that bit of masterminding, Williams has been named the Associated Press' American League manager of the year in a nationwide poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

Williams attracted 113 votes in the balloting—11 more than another freshman manager, Billy Martin, who was dismissed after leading the Minnesota Twins to the Western Division championship.

Earl Weaver, who guided the Baltimore Orioles to a runaway triumph in the Eastern Division, was third with 70 votes.

STANFORD VS. UCLA

Ralston: Bruins Are Quick

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—John Ralston, the Stanford University coach, says UCLA is not overpowering but does have great quickness.

Speaking yesterday before the Northern California Football Writers Association, Ralston noted that the Bruins, his Indians' next opponents also are "blessed with two great running backs in Greg Jones and Mickey Cureton."

Dennis Dummit, the Bruin quarterback, "threw only 13 times against California, but completed nine for 200 yards," Ralston said. "He's getting the long ones."

The writers named Stanford's guard Bob Reinhard the area's lineman of the week for the protection he gave quarterback Jim Plunkett while the Tribe was thumping Washington State.

So far this season, Dummit has passed for 1,201 yards and 11 touchdowns. Plunkett has thrown for 1,237 yards and 12 touchdowns. Of the Plunkett yards, 599 were against Washington State.

Coach Ray Willsey, whose Cal Bears there walloped by UCLA, had this to say about the Washington State team which Cal meets next:

"They're a hustling, hitting team. We have a lot in common, I suspect; I'm sure they feel they can beat us and we certainly feel they're within reach."

"We have to regroup, but we have never had problems with that before," Willsey added.

Tony Plummer, a defensive back for University of the Pacific, was voted the back of the week for the 13 tackles and four assists he made during the Tigers triumph over Idaho.

He also caused Idaho's best pass catcher, Jerry Hendren, to fumble twice.

UOP has a bye this week.

San Jose State's Spartans, beaten by Arizona State, play Wyoming this time and coach Joe McMullen said "the easiest job I have this week is picking a traveling squad — if we find 44 healthy ones, we'll take them," he said. "Our bruises are catching up with us," he noted.

Wyoming Grid Coach Not Changing Policy

LARAMIEk, Wyo. (UPI)—Wyoming football coach Lloyd Eaton says he gave 14 Negro athletes football scholarships so they can get an education to "really do something for their people" and he won't change that policy.

"This has been the way I have always coached and I certainly see no reason to make the slightest change in that now," said the coach, who dismissed 14 blacks from his nationally 12th ranked squad last Friday for wearing black armbands in support of a student protest against Mormon-operated Brigham Young University.

Eaton said yesterday that football scholarships are given so athletes can get an education. "What we were trying to do for these fellows was give them that chance to really do something for their people by getting that education," he said.

The Wyoming Board of Trustees has upheld Eaton's action, but the faculty senate voted Sunday to ask the administration to block the dismissals pending an investigation. Faculty members have suggested formation of a student-faculty committee to investigate the dismissals.

The adminisration has not commented on the request.

SEATTLE WORRIED

Cronin Declares Pilots Staying

CHICAGO (UPI)—American League President Joe Cronin splashed cold water today on reports the Seattle Pilots were trasferring to baseball-hungry Milwaukee, Wis., or to Dallas-Fort Worth.

"No formal request has been made to move the franchise," Cronin said early today after a meeting with a nine-member delegation of Seattle civil dignitaries.

"As of right now, the franchise will stay in Seattle," Cronin said when asked specifically if any move was planned.

CLOSED DOORS

The closed-door meeting between Cronin and the Seattle delegation came after reports that the Pilots were moving, and on the eve of a meeting of American and National League club owners here to discuss the basic owners-players agreement —and possibly the fate of the Seattle franchise.

Cronin's disclaimer of a move was made after the attorney general of Washington, Slade Gorton, said the state of Washington may file an antitrust suit to keep the A.L. from moving the Pilots.

"Violation of antitrust laws and contract irregularities would appear to justify such action," Gorton said in a telegram to the Seattle delegation.

Cronin said he and the Seattle leaders had a "long, detailed meeting" about Sicks Stadium in Seattle, which is run down and seats only 22,500 people.

The Pilots finished last in their first big league season and drew only 680,000 fans.

"We were given to understand that the Seattle leaders will cooperate fully with the current Pilot ownership," Cronin said. "We also had a detailed look at plans for the new (domed) stadium."

Cronin said King County Commissioner John Spellman said, "Everthing was being done to speed up the work on the magnificent new stadium," for a 1973 completion date. Seattle voters have approved a $40 million bond issue for the stadium.

WORRIED

When the Seattle people were asked why they had come to Chicago, Councilman Charles N. Carroll said, "We are here to make the supreme effort to see that the franchise would not be moved."

The rest of the Seattle delegation stirred, and Cronin cut in: "Naturally they were concerned with the rumors of an impending move. It's only natural."

Penske Racing Team To Join With Javelin

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — Roger Penske of Philadelphia, who heads one of America's most successful auto racing teams, will join American Motors for the 1970 season, the Associated Press learned today.

Penske and AMC, smallest of the Big Three automakers, are expected to announce a five-year deal at a news conference scheduled in Los Angeles tomorrow. The contract is said to involve as much as $5 million.

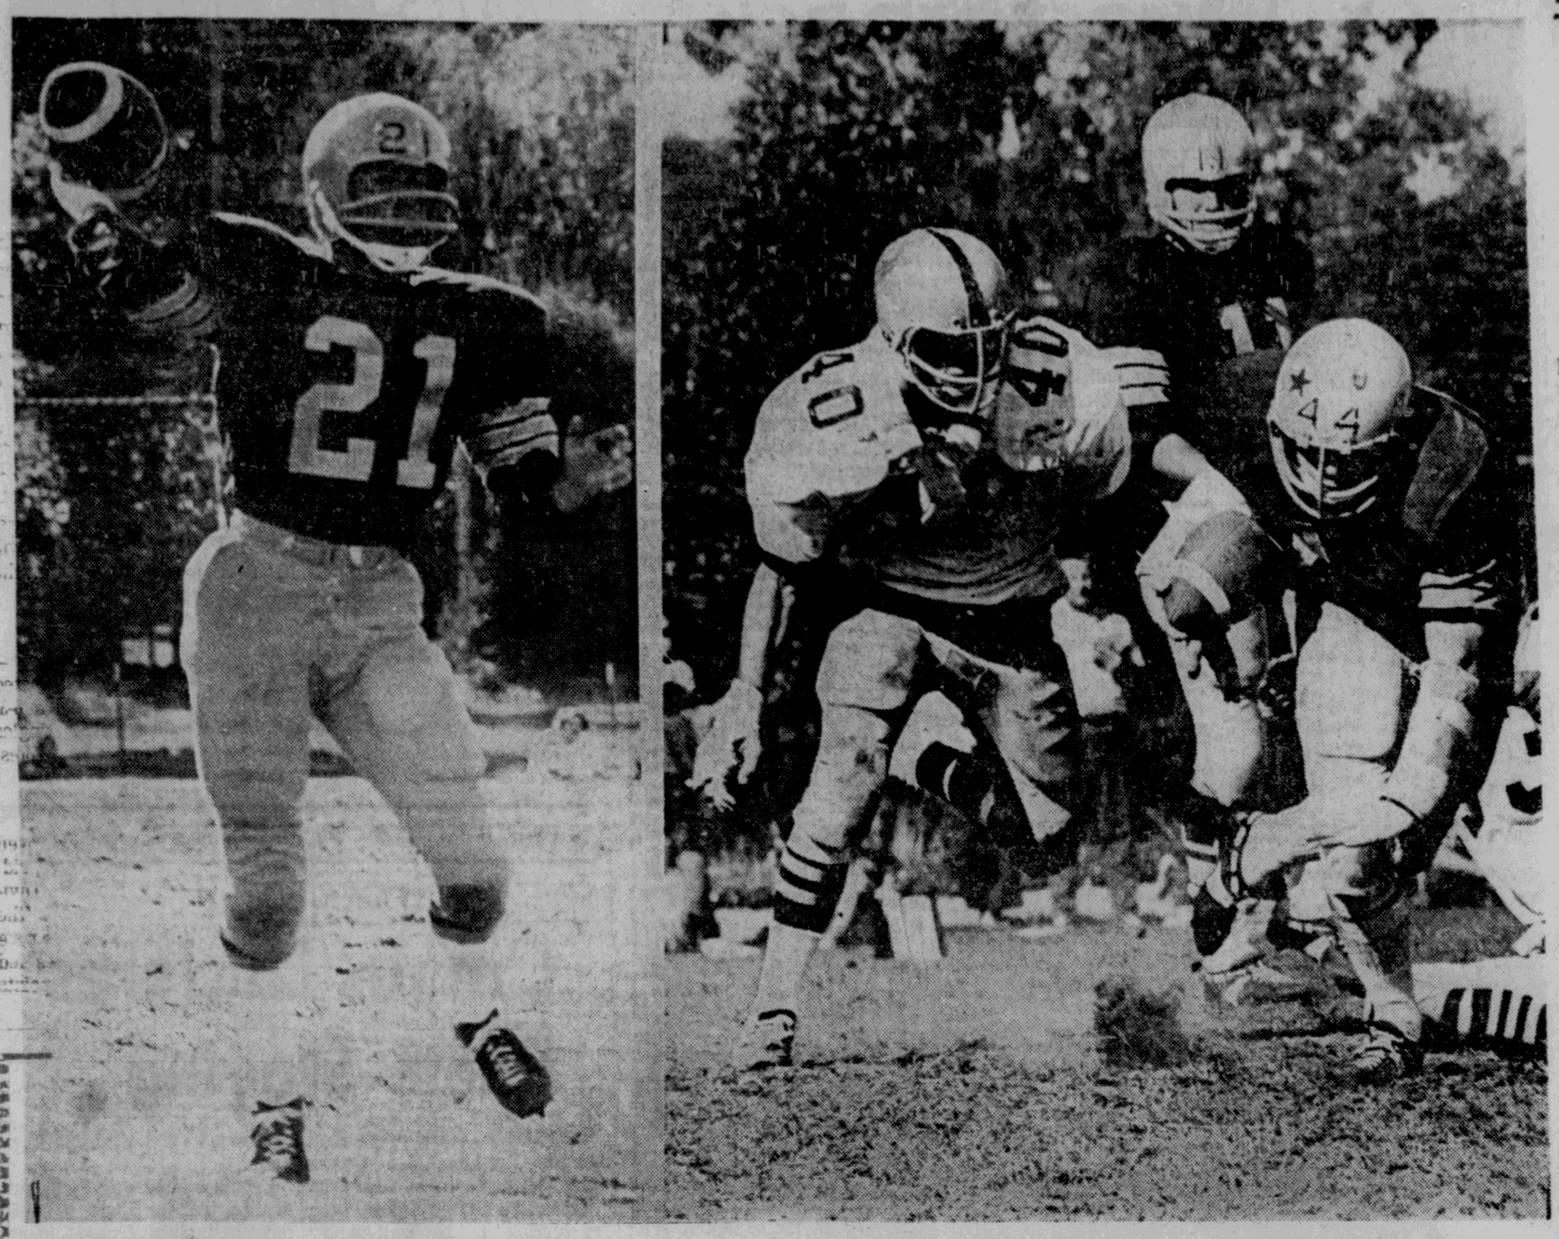
Under the agreement, Penske and his star drivers Mark Donohue and Ron Bucknum will campaign AMC's Javelin cars on the Sports Car Club of America's Trans-American sedan circuit.

With the 31-year-old Donohue winning six races and Bucknum two, the Penske team delivered the Trans-Am manufacturers cup to General Motors' Camaro this season for the second year in a row.

Previously, Donohue, a Brown University engineering graduate, had won the U.S. road racing crown two years in a row in Group 7 sports-racing cars powered by Chevrolet engines. The Penske team also was the top U.S. threat in the rich Canadian-American Challenge Cup series during the 1967 and 1968 seasons.

It will be the second big deal signed for the 1970 Trans-Am series which features Detroit's "pony" cars of the Mustang and Camaro class.

Dan Gurney, the top U.S. star in international racing circles, announced last week he has agreed to race a team of Barracudas for Plymouth next year. Plymouth pulled Gurney away from Ford.



A TOUCHDOWN AND A FIRST DOWN — Pete Sorenson (21) of San Marin gets set to throw a nine-yard touchdown pass to Bill Eckoff on a fake field goal play in the final period and San Marin halfback Steve Lambert stumbles to a first down in the third period as Novato linebacker Dave Perron (40) closes in. Watching the play is San Marin quarterback Ken Gnoss (11). San Marin won the first great city of Novato rivalry, 9-0, Saturday. (Independent-Journal photos by Jim Kean)

MARIN PREP NOTES

Some Leftovers From Big Rivalry

By GARY TISCHLER

Notes on the great rivalry:

The folks up in Novato know how to back their local team or teams, as was the case Saturday when Novato and San Marin high schools got together for what is bound to be one of the top rivalries in this area.

There were, by rough count, well over 2,000 fans at the games, and they made parking conditions slightly ludicrous, even if you arrived reasonably early. I wound up parking four blocks away, which is unusual, even for Novato.

Novato coach Al Scott must be ready to make a pact with the devil, just to get something going on offense. The Hornets have fallen into what can safely be called the 49er syndrome — no matter what you do, there's nothing you can do. It always turns out the same.

RECORD LOW?

The Hornets got what must be a record low, even for them, this season. Not only were they shut out, 9-0, but they managed to make just 10 yards total offense, didn't complete a pass and scratched for just one first down, early in the first half.

In the second half, they had the ball four times for 12 plays, not counting punts. No wonder the Novato defense, which had played brilliantly all through the long day, looked just a little tuckered out near the end of the game.

The game turned out to be a great duel of linebackers as both Dave Perron of Novato and Jack Burnam had a big hand in each team's defensive successes.

It was truly a hard-nosed rivalry. Feeling ran pretty high and bitter in the first half, with hard hitting on both sides. It looked like a mountain feud for a while, but everybody was big buddies after the game, befitting two teams from the same town.

Things don't look to be better for Novato. The Hornets have Terra Linda coming up next and the Trojans are said to be up for this game, trying to make up for a narrow 7-6 win over the Hornets last year.

There were so many long-distance penalties in the first half that at one point one of the down-holders yelled to the other: "You were so far down the line, I thought you'd gone home.

THE TROJANS, incidentally, lost another defensive back last Friday. This time it's Gary Wall who will be out for the season with torn knee ligaments. Coach Don Lucas blamed the injury on the bad footing in the mud. Wall joins Matt Bowman, Mike Dito and Greg Williams, all out for the season.

TERRA LINDA must have really put the whammy on Hogan of Vallejo when the Trojans upset the Spartans, 25-14 several weeks ago at a time when Hogan was touted as one of the top teams in Northern California. Since then, the Spartans have been upended by Santa Rosa and Montgomery of Santa Rosa in North Bay League play.

REFURBISHINGS are going at San Rafael High School. One of particular note is the job that head maintenance man's John Thompson's crew did on the football field after a heavy rain hit during the middle of the week.

By game time for the Terra Linda-Tamalpais tussle Friday night, the field was in excellent shape. Drainage ditches had been dug along both sides of the field, preventing the sidelines from turning into a horrible mire of mud. And there are hopes that those ditches will become permanent things.

The old San Rafael High School gymnasium is also going to come in for some changes, with the lockerrooms, ceilings and walls to get entire new backing material to make them conformant with earthquake safety requirements.

The work on the old gym, set for next month, will not interfere with San Rafael's basketball season, since the Bulldogs play in the "new" gymnasium built in 1957.

THIS WEEK'S toe-job award (Certificates handed out by kicking expert Gordon Tovani to the top high school kicking unit: turns out to be a tie — between San Marin and Terra Linda. Bob Daniele kicked four-for-four for the Trojans in a 28-12 win over Tamalpais while San Marin's Urbano Bouscieguez kicked a field goal crucial in a 9-0 win over Novato, with the threat of a field goal setting up the lone touchdown of the game.

Both Daniele and Bouscieguez have now won the award twice.

THE MAFIA is alive and well in Tomales, where Petroni and Rodoni hold forth. Tomales fullback Ron Petroni is almost a cinch to get another 1,000-yard season. He pushed his total to 704 yards in 63 carries with a 144-yard outburst against Middletown in a 63-0 win. He also times to push his season total to 56 points. And Rodoni threw three touchdown passes to push his total to eight on the season.

Biggies Coming Up In League Tussles

By STEVE WYNNE

PETALUMA — The "ifs" become greater and the games more important for three southern Sonoma County high school football teams this week as they are in the thick of contention for their league crowns.

Petaluma High School became the first Trojan team since 1967 to jump out of the North Bay League Section I cellar Friday night as it rolled to a 33-14 win over Napa. The win moved Troy to fourth place in the league with a 1-2 mark.

Halfback Steven Hing was the hero for the Trojans as he carried the ball 18 times for 194 yards and hauled down 2 passes for 29 yards. Quarterback Fred Klemenok, who suffered a minor injury late in the game, completed 12 of 20 passes for 160 yards, six of them to big split end Bob Garcia for 127 yards.

The Trojans return to Vallejo's Corbus Field Friday night, hoping to reverse their fate on the same field three weeks ago. Petaluma, which faces Hogan High of Vallejo Friday, was dumped 48-26 by Vallejo in their league opener at Corbus.

Hogan has yet to win an NBL-I contest, dropping games to Santa Rosa, The Montgomery of Santa Rosa: The Spartans are powered by all-state candidate Jim Upchurch at one half and Terry Sumpter at the other.

Santa Rosa (league leader at 3-0) and Vallejo square off in the league's "big game" at Santa Rosa Junior College Friday night. In the third league game, Montgomery (2-1) goes to Napa (0-2).

Ukiah steps out of league play for a week to host NBL-II contender Sonoma. The Dragons, fresh from their first league win — a 14-12 upset win over El Molino of Forestville — figure to give Ukiah a tussle as they are now in fourth place with a 1-1-1 mark.

Cardinal Newman of Santa Rosa (3-0) leads the league with Analy (2-0-1) a close second. Rancho Cotate (1-1) is third, Sonoma fourth, Piner of Santa Rosa (1-2) in fifth place and Healdsburg (0-2) sharing the cellar with El Molino.

Rancho Cotate, bombed 43-13 by Analy Friday, is faced with the task of stopping Newman's Percy Grogans when the Rohnert Parkers host the Cardinals Friday night at Petaluma. Grogans leads the NBL-II in both scoring and rushing and is among Northern California leaders in both categories.

In other league action Friday, Analy is at Healdsburg and El Molino meets Piner in Santa Rosa.

The fourth south Sonoma team, St. Vincent Mustangs of Petaluma, get back in action after a week of rest Saturday when they travel to Eureka to meet St. Bernard's.

The Mustangs, playing as independents this season while awaiting admission to North Central League's Section II come basketball season, are now 2-3 on the season. They boast wins over Justin (Napa) and Willits while losing to Calistoga, St. Helena and Point Arena.

Ellsworth Leads Golf Qualifiers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Ken Ellsworth of Los Angeles fired a seven under par 65 yesterday to lead 26 qualifiers for the $100,000 San Francisco Open Golf Tournament.

The rounds at the Harding Park and Olympic Club courses filled out a field of 144—138 professionals and six amateurs.

Ellsworth shot his round at the Olympic Club where there was a tie for the No. 2 spot between Monty Kaser and Ross Coon, both firing 67s.

FISH AND GAME

A Big, Record Trout And Some Duck Hunting

TRUCKEE — Well, Mary is still goofing around hunting for her buck. We had about three or four inches of snow on the 14th and 15th with quite a bit of rain, too.

The deer seem to be moving toward Sierraville, Sardine Valley and Chilcoot out of the mountains.

Mary got in a day on the 14th on one of the migration ridges going toward Sierraville. She saw 10 deer, one spike and no bucks. You know what I did? I went fishing in Webber Lake with Lee Fey, and proceeded to (as far as we know) break the existing Webber Lake trout record.

I was using a small floating Rapola lure trolling along when I hooked into a 8½-pound German Brown. It is a pip! Even most of the cameras broke down when we tried for some pictures. Bob and Betty Listman of Novato were here when we brought the fish in to the cabin. We had quite a celebration.

Bob and Betty haven't clicked on a buck yet, but they saw a guy with a trophy four-pointer the day it snowed, so they have been beating the back country with high hopes.

Today Bob and Betty hunted but we noticed their truck at Sierraville at the local bar. Bib says they make great milkshakes there. They were leaving for Novato tomorrow so we gave them the big trout hoping they might see Bob Hax for a picture.

Thursday evening, the 16th, Moe Quadros arrived in a real snowstorm. In about an hour, the cars were covered with snow. We planned Saturday's duck hunt deciding to go to Honey Lake where the fish and game department has a water fowl area open to the first 100 hunters.

We left Friday morning arriving at the area about noon. We were given numbers 10, 11 and 12 for Moe, Mary and myself.

This assured us of getting in but we couldn't leave the area without surrendering our places. This was a problem as we only had four doughnuts, six bars of candy and a thermos of coffee plus three chickens that Moe had brought along from Mill Valley. We ate southern fried chicken for lunch, dinner and breakfast. Thank goodness Georgia Quadros sent it along with Moe.

The duck hunt was great. We scouted the area Friday afternoon and located a good-looking pond, so Saturday morning we were out there at 6 a.m. waiting for legal shooting time at 6:45 a.m. We put out 24 decoys, and we were limited out by noon, dog-tired from sleeping in the station wagon, but happy. We had 10 mallards, three sprigs and two gadwalls.

We checked out and headed for Litchfield, a small town three miles from Honey Lake. We stopped at the 7-Acres Restaurant and had nearly two meals each. The food was excellent, so we talked to Jack Engholm, the owner, and got a room with two double beds and fine clean accommodations.

We then cleaned the birds and went to bed at 7 p.m. Up at 3 a.m. and back to the duck area. We were about 10th in line so easily got in again. At noon we had nine birds so we decided to call it a day. We returned to Webber and there Mary and I made plans to leave for Colorado Monday morning. Moe planned to head back for Marin County.

Grand Junction, here we come!

Record Try Falls Short

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bill Toomey's on-again, off-again decathlon career—a discouraging search for the world record—is off again.

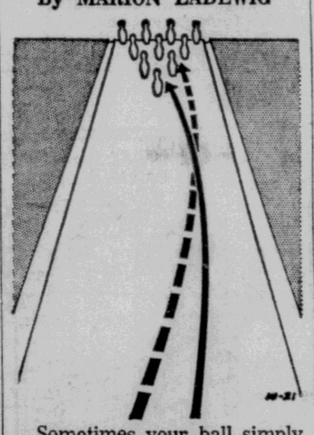
For the 32nd time in his life and the ninth time this year, both records in themselves, Toomey made a challenge for the mark and fell short yesterday. He owns the gold medal for winning the decathlon at the 1968 Olympic Games in Mexico City.

Going into yesterday's 10th and last event, the 1500 meters, the 31year-old athlete from Santa Barbara has amassed 7,683 points. A mark of 4:23 would have given him 637 points for the event and 8,320 overall — one more than the world mark set two years ago by West Germany's Kurt Bendlin.

But Toomey, who has run the 1500 in 4:12, broke too quickly, went through the first lap in a fast 65 seconds, lost his timing and ran out of steam. He finished in a mediocre 4:30.4, picked up 587 points and wound up with 8,270—49 short of the mark.

BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG



Sometimes your ball simply will not come "up" into the 1-3 pocket. It could be that your release is faulty, but it might also be caused by fast, or slick, alleys. If it's the latter, try moving a board to the right. This gives you a wider angle at that "strike" pocket.

Seals' Mattiussi Out Of Lineup

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Seals, already short of defensemen, lost veteran Dick Mattiussi for at least two weeks yesterday after he underwent an appendectomy.

The Seals may also be without the services of Bert Marshall for tonight's game against the Pittsburgh Penguins. The 8 o'clock game will be in the Oakland Arena. He is in a cast with strained wrist ligaments.

Frank Lacombe, with the National Hockey League club last season, was recalled from the Providence, R.I., farm club to replace Mattiussi on the roster.

Beard Retains $$ Lead

NEW YORK (AP) — Frank Beard, who was second in the past weekend's Sahara Invitational tournament at Las Vegas, maintained his position yesterday as top money winner on golf's pro circuit this year.

Beard pocketed $11,400 in the Sahara and boosted his 1969 earnings to $171,838, the Professional Golfers Association of America said.

Beard's total is the fourth highest ever earned on the tour. It is topped only by Jack Nicklaus' $211,566 in 1967; Billy Casper's $205,168 last year, and Arnold Palmer's $193,964 in 1967.

Nicklaus, who won the Sahara, made substantial inroads in the dollar race—climbing from 19th to seventh place. Nicklaus' $20,000 first prize gave him $94.567 this year.

The top 10 money winners through the Sahara Invitatiol including number of tournaments completed, victories and times finished in the top five:

1. Frank Beard, 27-2-10,	$171,838.
2. Dave Hill, 25-3-9,	151,364.
3. Gary Player, 16-1-10,	123,897.
4. Gene Littler, 19-2-7 ,	110,787.
5. Ray Floyd, 23-3-5,	109,469.
6. Lee Trevino, 28-1-7,	100,025.
7. Jack Nicklaus, 20-2-4,	94,567.
8. Bruce Crampton, 27-0-5,	91,807.
9. Dale Douglass, 32-2-4,	89,742.
10. Tommy Aaron, 26-1-8,	87,625.

An Early Retirement For Hull?

TORONTO (AP) — The Globe and Mails says in its early edition that Bobby Hull, high-scoring left winger with the Chicago Black Hawks, has announced his retirement from the National Hockey League.

The paper says in a copyright story that Hull announced his ertirement last week in a telegram to Tommy Ivan, manager of the Hawks, who have lost their first five games in the current NHL season.

The paper says Hull conferred with Ivan in Chicago last week over the dispute of Hull's four-year contract signed last year. Hull still has three years to play on the contract.

Jets Triumph, Slowly Reaching Top Form

NEW YOR (UPI)—The New York Jets are slowly reaching Super Bowl form.

Weeb Ewbank, coach of the defending world champions, admitted as much last night after the Jets defeated the Houston Oilers, 26-17, to take over sole possession of first place in the American Football League's Eastern Division.

"This was a good team victory all the way around. We're gonna hang the game ball right up there," Ewbank said, pointing to a pipe that swung down from the ceiling of the locker room.

The offensive line, which had been disappointing in the Jets' first five games, finally protected Joe Namath the way it did last year. As a result, the Jets were able to connect on the bomb—one of their prime weapons last season.

Don Maynard grabbed seven passes for 212 yards. Namath connected on 12 of 24 passes for 306 yards as he turned in his best game of the season. Namath had three passes intercepted, including one which was returned 51 yards for a touchdown by Zeke Moore, but he was on target most of the night and did an excellent job of reading the Oilers' switching defenses.

The Jets, who drew a record crowd of 63,841 for their home opener, trailed Houston only once—7-3 in the second quarter following Moore's interception return.

New York took the lead for good with seven minutes left in the half when Maynard beat all-league safety Miller Farr on a fly pattern for a 57-yard score. With 18 seconds left in the half, Maynard came back again to beat en Houston on a 54-yarder and give the Jets a 17-7 lead at the intermission.

The Oilers rallied back on a 15-yard TD pass from Pete Beathard to Mack Haik to make it 17-14 in the third quarter, but reliable Jim Turner, who booted four field goals, prevented the Oilers from putting any lasting pressure on the Jets.

Bills' Harris Out For Season

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) The Buffalo Bills, whose quarterback woes played a major role in their disastrous 1968 American Football League season, have lost promising rookie signal-caller Jim Harris for the rest of the current campaign.

Harris, who made pro football history Sept. 14 when he became the first Negro to start a season-opening game at quarterback, underwent surgery yesterday to repair torn ligaments in his left knee.

A spokesman for the Bills said Harris would have to wear a cast for eight weeks.

Harris was injured Sunday when Tom Keating and Ben Davidson of Oakland tackled him following a scrambling run in the third quarter of the Raiders' 50-21 rout of the visiting Bills.

BASEBALL

LINCOLN, Neb. — Billy Martin, runnerup in the balloting for Associated Press American League Manager of the years, says Ted Williams, who won the poll, "did a great job."

Martin, ousted manager of the Minnesota Twins, was in Lincoln for a speaking engagement when the announcement came that Williams, first year manager of the Washington Senators, had won the honor.

Martin said he knew baseball managers were in a hazardous occupation but admitted he was surprised that he was not rehired by Twins' owner Calvin Griffith after Minnesota won the Western Division crown.

TENNIS

COLOGNE, Germany — Spain's Andres Gimeno defeated Roy Emerson of Australia 6-3, 19-17 to win the men's singles title in the Spoga Cup Professional Tennis Tournament.

HORSE SHOW

HARRISBURG, Pa. — Neil Shapiro of Glen Head, N.Y., riding Manon, won the 28th Division Infantry Trophy at the Pennsylvania National Horse Show as the United States led the team standings by 10 points over runnerup Canada.

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, Oct. 21, the 294th day of 1969 with 71 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase. The morning stars are Mercury, Venus, Jupiter and Saturn. The evening star is Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1879, Thomas Edison invented a workable electric incandescant lamp after 14 months of experiments.

In 1917, soldiers of the 1st Division became the first American troops to see action in World War I.

In 1966, a coal waste slide buried the Welsh mining town of Aberfan. Two days later, 135 bodies had been found.

In 1967, Egypt sank the Israeli destroyer Elath in the Mediterranean.

A thought for the day: Samuel Taylor Coleridge said, "To have lived in vain must be a painful thought to any man, and especially to him who has made literature his profession."

Unification To Be Discussed

The current state of school unification plans will be discussed when the San Anselmo School District board meets at 7:30 p.m. today at the Red Hill School library.

Board members will report on meetings last week of the county committee on school district organization and of trustees from San Anselmo, Fairfax, Lagunitas and Nicasio districts to discuss unification.

The board is also to consider hiring two kindergarten teachers, which would complete staffing of an expanded kindergarten program this year.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Sometimes Attempt To Show Up Partner Not Too Secret

In the ideal bridge session you not only beat your opponents badly but also prove that your partner would be a terrible handicap to anybody less gifted than you. Even in the best of partnerships each player has a secret desire to show up his partner; and sometimes that desire is far from secret.

CLUB LEAD

West led the jack of clubs, and South ruffed. He sneered at his partner's timid bidding (quite unjustly, of course) and tried to show that North somehow or other should have suggested a slam.

South led out the ace and king of spades, and his game contract thereupon went right out of the window. South didn't know that he was already dead, and he proceeded to dig his grave a little deeper by leading the queen of spades next.

When the trumps failed to break favorably, South was in great danger. He could still recover if the diamonds broke 2-2, but the ace and king of diamonds failed to clear the suit. Now South had no more tricks.

DRAWS TRUMPS

West took the next trick with the ace of hearts and drew declarer's last trump with the jack of spades. West then cashed the queen of diamonds and gave East the rest of the tricks with good clubs. Down four!

South should make his contract by careful play. After ruffing the first club South can afford to draw only one round of trumps. He should then lead the king of hearts to force out the ace.

ANOTHER CLUB

When West leads another club, South must discard a diamond instead of ruffing. The defenders cannot lead a third club, since dummy can ruff. That is the point of leaving a trump in the dummy.

No matter how the defenders continue, South can draw two more rounds of trumps and run the hearts. West ruffs when he likes, but South can get back to dummy with the king of diamonds to take any hearts that remain. The defenders can get only one club, one heart and one trump.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two hearts.

Despite the impressive trump support, this weak hand is not worth a jump to four hearts.

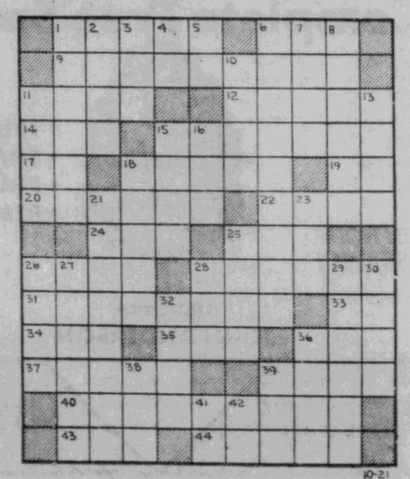
Yesterday's Answer



Wall Street Climbs With High Volume

NEW YORK (UPI — Demand for stocks accelerated today amid predictions of lower interest rates within the next few months and reports that President Richard M. Nixon might be considering a unilateral cease-fire in Vietnam or a sizable troop cutback.

Turnover of better than 15,000,000 shares was well above yesterday's pace.

General Motors was on the uptrack, but Chrysler fell following a sharp drop in third quarter net.

Electronics showed marked strength, although a number of issues were pointing lower in fractions.

Diet soft drink producers firmed up somewhat. The group had been under pressure yesterday following the government's ban on cyclamate products. Many producers say they will have substitutes on the shelves in a matter of days.

Airlines were impressive, with several issues adding a point or more. Aircrafts were mixed.

NEW HEATING ALLOY

An engineer at Wilbur B. Driver Co., of Philadelphia, a subsidiary of Sylvania, checks a live test of a new heating element alloy, Tophet H, that uses 40 per cent less nickel than presently is used in nickel-chrome alloys. This test unit heats the wire to 2,175 degrees Fahernheit every two minutes, cools it for a like time and continues the cycle until it fails. (UPI Telephoto)

INVESTING

Variable Annuity Not Liked

By ROGER SPEAR

Q. My public school system — I've been teaching 24 years — is offering participation in a variable annuity group contract. I'm a single woman owning my home and a few stocks: 86 Baltimore Gas & Electric, 24 American Telephone and 20 AMP Inc. I have also purchased some fund shares — 21 T. Rowe Price Growth and 1,317 MIF Growth. Details of the annuity plan lead me to think I'd be better off buying more Price shares or their New Era Fund. Please help me to decide. — S.B.

A. The variable annuity you're considering is not a suitable balance to your current holdings which for the most part, like the annuity, emphasize the speculative aspects of growth from equity investment.

You've already put the bulk of your savings in a performance fund and taken a position in AMP for its speculative potential. If you're anxious about inflation just remember that you have a further hedge in your house and land.

In my opinion your investment backlog of American Telephone and Baltimore G & E should be built up to 50 and 100 shares respectively and I endorse your idea of buying more T. Rowe Price Growth Fund which stands high among the no-loads for its stable growth record.

I'd postpone buying New Era until some progress reports become available. When retirement arrives you might shift some of your assets into a conventional life annuity.

Computer Expert Cites Companies' Policy Errors

NEW YORK (UPI) — There is a greater concentration of computers in the banking industry than in any other sector, including the federal government, but the airlines are the most efficient computer users of all, a computer industry spokesman reports.

Harvey N. Berlent, president of Computer Exchange, Inc., also said that almost half the 70,000 computers currently in use in the U.S. are not being used to their fullest capacity.

Many companies "work in the principle of getting the latest — whatever it is —without analyzing their needs on the basis of cost or performance," he said.

He said Computer Exchange, which deals in used computers, already is handling late model "third generation" computers bought from companies that never should have purchased them in the first place.

Sara Lee Plans

NEW HAMPTON, Iowa (UPI) — The Kitchens of Sara Lee has announced plans to build a multimillion dollar food processing plant on an 80-acre site here. The plant, a 300,000 square foot facility, will employ 200 to 300 initially and 500 when operating at capacity. Groundbreaking is scheduled for the spring of 1970 and completion is expected in November 1971.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Presto Instant Press Will Open Soon In Northgate Park

A new business, Presto Instant Press, should open in another week or 10 days at 74 Mitchell Boulevard, Northgate Industrial Park.

Owner Robert Crutcher of San Francisco, who has one location on 15th Street in Oakland, has leased about 1,300 square feet through William W. Hoey and Co. Basically, Presto is a quick-service printing plant where small-lot printing orders can be turned out on a "while you wait" basis. Crutcher plans on several other similar outlets in other cities.

But the Northgate plant will also be headquarters of the organization and fill large printing orders placed with the other outlets.

Before opening his Oakland office, Crutcher was a management consultant in Beverly Hills. He plans on moving his home to Marin.

ANOTHER NEW OCCUPANT at 74 Mitchell Boulevard is Viscom, moved yesterday from 534 Fourth Street in San Rafael.

Owners Walter S. Fadeley and James MacElroy have leased 1,600 square feet through Hoey, giving them about three times the space they had previously.

Viscom is a contraction of "visual communications." Fadeley and MacElroy, who have been in business on Fourth Street for more than a year, are engaged in producing audio-visual presentations. They also do design work for brochures, catalogs and other publications. Their coverage is on a nationwide basis for large corporations and industrial organizations.

IRA KAYE of San Rafael has been promoted to district sales manager of the radio and stereo division of Calectron, distributor for Radio Corp. of America. He has been a salesman with the company for 11 years.

Vaughan Southers

REAL ESTATE: New at the Mill Valley office of Frank Howard Allen and Co. is Michael Vaughan of San Francisco, who has entered real estate after seven years as a certified accountant in Santa Barbara and San Francisco . . . Carol Southers, formerly construction coordinator for builders Goheen and Olin, has joined Allen's Tiburon office . . . Fox and Carskadon, Inc. has added Mrs. William J. Friedrich of Tiburon to its Southern Marin office. She was previously with Home and Land Co., Tiburon and before that active at Peacock Gap . . . Mrs. Karen Fitts of Novato has joined Fox and Carskadon's San Rafael office. She has been in title work. Husband Monte is with William Timmer.

A RECENTLY organized company, now incorporated, is Central System, Inc., at 22 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael.

The company engages in light manufacturing. Principal products are computer control systems, computer panels and medical records programs. It also turns out a battery-operated fire alarm system and some electronic devices.

Active principal in the firm is James S. Killarney of Sausalito. Associated with him in the business are Joseph A. Gereghty of San Rafael and San Rafael attorney Joseph D. Dahlman.

GERRY V. CROLLA of Terra Linda, district manager in San Francisco for the Janitrol Division of Andro Corp., attended the company's national sales meeting last week in Columbus, Ohio.

Bank Holding Firm Shows Gain

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — Total consolidated resources of Bankamerica Corp., the one-bank holding company for Bank of America, amounted to $24,990,591,000 on Sept. 30, according to Rudolph A. Peterson, president.

This represents a gain of 7 per cent over the total of $23,363,127,000 a year ago.

Net operating earnings for the first nine months rose to $118,010,000, or $3.44 per share, on the 34,325,955 shares outstanding, as compared with $105,079,000, or $3.07 per share, last year, adjusted for the stock dividend paid in December 1968.

Boiler Project

NEW YORK (UPI) —Combustion Engineering Co. has obtained an order for three 770-megawatt boilers valued at $90 million to be installed in the Navajo generating station six miles west of Page, Ariz., being built for Salt River Project, Arizona Public Service Co., Tucson Gas and Electric Co., Nevada Power Co., City of Los Angeles and U.S. Bureau of Reclamation.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Finally: The Key Question On College Responsibility

Somebody finally put the key question at last Tursday night's meeting of the Marin Junior College District borad.

After a handful of students demanding money from the district had made a scene for which at least some of them deserve expulsion, the question was raised by two board members, Charles W. Gray and Elizabeth M. Deedy:

IS IT THE OBLIGATION of the school district to feed and clothe students as well as offer them an education?

The answer, of course, is that it is not. Taxpayers fund the junior college — and the rest of the schools — to make education available for all. They do not undertake to provide all who want to attend school with a living besides.

Gray and Mrs. Deedy didn't put the question quite as we have put it here. But it was implicit in what they said.

"We've been told," said Gray, "that the community college has no responsibility to provide more than an education."

"This is a tremendously important question," put in Mrs. Deedy. She then proposed that a newly constituted student financial assistance committee "consider re-evaluating the college's role" in going beyond this.

IT'S ABOUT time!

Militant students — and some who are not even students but find the college campus a handy place to raise Cain — have been spouting that the college owes them a living, or at least money for clothes, meals and books.

It owes them no such thing.

It owes them the opportunity to get an education. Nothing more.

THE PEOPLE who fund the college —the taxpayers of Marin—want it to offer the best education possible. They want it to make that education available to as many of Marin's residents as possible. And to assist in the latter, they are willing and eager that funds be made available in the form of loans and grants to needy and deserving students.

But they are not willing that these funds should be used to pay any student who asks for them.

They are not willing that the college become a subsidized haven for malcontents, providing them the money on which to eat and with which to buy clothes so long as they register for a course or two.

THE GANG WHO insulted the college trustees last Thursday night — as they have done repeatedly, without punishment, to the college's everlasting shame — made it pretty plain what they want.

They don't want assistance in completing their education. They want a handout.

Valmar Schaaf of San Anselmo stated it for them. He said the board "sold the students down the river" by giving priority to full-time students. He and his cohorts complained that if they carry a full 12-unit load, they have no time to earn money.

Since we know quite a few college students who are carrying a considerably heavier load than 12 units at College of Marin, and are working to help pay their way, we have a simple answer to that. It is an unprintable word used very freely and publicly by those who have been demanding the handouts at College of Marin.

"Now what's all this about you guys wanting a little more say in administration?"

Black Arm Bands For United Nations

In view of the Vietnam Moratorium demonstrations, Oct. 15, it seems most appropriate that we fly our United States of America flag on United States Day, Oct. 23. And on United Nations Day, Oct. 24, wear black armbands to get US out.

The United Nations organization being shown such unusual favoritism by our government in the past is in effect run by Communists to promote Communist objectives. Suffice it to say that the United Nations is another fraud the American is being forced to swallow.

Further, with respect to UNICEF greeting cards (notice not Christmas cards), postmasters are being requested to set up desk and chair in the post lobby for sale of these non-Christian messages at the expense of our tax dollars.

I resent parents using their young children to canvass for funds on Halloween for the inimical United Nations — simply turns me off!

Support Needed To Save Seashore

Your excellent editorial of Oct. 2, "Superjet, Park, Transit — A Matter of Priorities", relating to Point Reyes National Seashore, hits the nail right on the head. Bipartisan supporters of varied conservation legislation in the House and Senate are now raising just this issue which cannot be over-emphasized.

The action of the House Interior Committee in scheduling further consideration of Point Reyes bills for Nov. 13 is extremely encouraging. However, there are persistent rumors that there may, on this occasion, be recommendations for changes in the boundaries of the Seashore, meaning a reduction in size of the park, with subsequent inevitable subdivision of lands excised from the Seashore. . .

Now the time has come for citizens of the Bay Area to express their views forcefully to Washington officials asking for the needed funds and insisting on the preservation of the original boundaries. . .

Creek Protest, Woman's Suffrage

In response to your article regarding the arrest of Mary Kent Schardt who attempted to save Tamalpais Creek, I am writing to say I am in complete sympathy with her.

You quote Judge (Peter Allen) Smith as saying he does believe in conservation and doesn't want Marin County ruined by construction, and yet he feels Mrs. Schardt is setting a bad example. To whom? Would he have said the same about the early suffragettes? Their goal was women's votes and they had the courage not only to go on hunger strikes but also to obstruct traffic and picket the White House.

The women of our land owe them a debt of gratitude, but unfortunately not too many women of their courage are in evidence today. And what about our example of apathy and disinterest while our redwoods are being cut down, our bay filled in and our seashore ruined by commercial interests?

Herkenhoff Asked To Resign Post

After reading the editorial in the I-J Oct. 14, in regard to the schools of Marin participating in this Vietnam moratorium, we endeavored to telephone Mr. Louis H. Herkenhoff, president, College of Marin, around 8 to 8:30 this morning, (Oct. 15), but there was no answer at the college at that hour. We then were in touch with one of the trustees and as a result of that conversation the following letter was read over the phone to and have mailed the original on to Mr. Herkenhoff:

"We have just endeavored to telephone you to verify the statements made in the editorial in the Independent-Journal, Oct. 14. There was no answer and we contacted one member of the board of trustees who substantiated the statements made by the Independent-Journal.

"As longtime residents of Marin County, and rather substantial taxpayers, we say you are a traitor to this nation and the boys (some our close friends) who have died endeavoring to save this country from communism.

"Why can you not grasp the concept that College of Marin is an educational institution and not a puppet for whatever political movement may happen to catch the fancy of yourself and your faculty?

"May we strongly urge you to turn in your resignation and leave our school. The youth of our country need loyal-minded Americans at the helms of our public schools."

Smaller Ferries Would Fill Bill

As I see it, the commuter bus, however efficient the service, has two strikes against it.

First there is the inevitable hike at one or both ends of the bus terminus, when we are becoming a people whose creeping laziness has us preferring our soft car seat to even the shortest walk.

Then there is the psychologicl factor. For most men, and some women, driving on the highway is a competitive sport. . . . Rather than forego this, and "leave the driving to us," he will put up with the hours wasted in tension and frustration on the road.

As for ferries, I don't believe the hydrofoil or hovercraft, with their restricted, airplane-type seating, their noise, their limited view, will attract the true ferry buff. . . .

Also, the relatively short run across the bay, with small boat traffic, fog, heavily traveled shipping lanes, and shore damage from excessive wash, would severely limit the hydrofoil or hovercraft in making use of their potential speed.

I am not suggesting the ponderous ferry of old. The Harbor Tours craft, or the smallish type of ferry that swarms the waters of Hong Kong and Sydney, would fill the bill. What's to prevent the bridge district's chartering from Harbor Tours and getting started right now?

GOLDEN GATE VIEW

Bridge Board Condemns Marin To Wait Awhile—For Ferries

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

A giant leap backward last week by Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District directors — back to the days of ferry boats — again proved the bridge board's indomitable will to self-destruct.

Ferries are kind of cute, of course, but they simply do not relate to the problem at hand — which is to move far more commuters than can crawl down to the water's edge for the privilege of slowly gorging themselves on nostalgia.

SAN FRANCISCO'S board of supervisors, attuned as usual to finding a sideshow to distract its voters was utterly responsible for the whole gruesome farce last week.

But Marin's angry commuters condemned by the San Francisco supervisors to more years of fighting their way into the city that knows how to make life rough for the very people who supply its ecomonic life blood, were not fooled by the board's vote for ferryboats.

It is these commuters, and Marin residents as a whole, who fill more than half of the multimillion-dollar pot of gold that is to finance this ferry folly. It is Marin's money that will be poured down the rat hole, instead of being invested in an effective bus system.

Marin's huge investment in the bridge district, however, is too valuable to allow the San Francisco supervisors to eat it up just so they can claim to their voters that they are doing something about traffic.

DISSOLUTION of the district, with strict earmarking by the state of the rich reserves for solving congestion in the Golden Gate corridor, is not a new idea, but the suspicion grows that this soon will be the only way to stop San Francisco from frittering away Marin's money.

Some San Francisco supervisors would like to get the city's hands on the money to solve its own traffic problems, but at the rate they are mishandling the problem of commuter traffic, there won't ever be any relief for Marin or San Francisco dirvers.

The hard work of carrying out the bridge board's decision could undo the whole idea of ferries, of course. Aside from Marin's zoning authority to block the use of Corte Madera tidelands for a terminal, there is the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission, which may fault parking several thousand cars on ecologically valuable marshland.

ANOTHER MAJOR problem will be the cash flow available for ferries, which virtually guarantees at least a three-year delay before they could be in operation.

And then there's the dredging of a channel to a terminal, which would be up to one mile long. Keep in kind that the Saucelito Canal dredging project, which is two miles long, now is to cost more than $1 million.

Thanks to the San Francisco supervisors, commuter traffic is going to get a lot worse, and then even worse.

Alioto's Bravura Adds Excitement To California Political Campaign

SAN FRANCISCO — When the prophets of doom were predicting another earthquake in April that would shatter the city as it was shattered in 1906, Mayor Joseph L. Alioto held a big public rally at 5:15 in the morning, the time set for the crack of doom. Thousands gathered in City Hall Plaza for coffee, doughnuts, rock-and-roll music and a rip-snorting speech by the mayor.

It was characteristic of the Alioto style, which is bravura all the way. Recently, when a Look magazine article listed past Alioto law clients as Mafia figures, the pundits wrote off the mayor's political future. The smiling confidence he radiates today grows out of his belief that the Look article and his indignant response to what he claimed was "guilt by association" has been a positive benefit.

He is talking about winning not only the primary fight he will have with the state's most conspicuous Democratic candidate for the governorship, Jess Unruh, but going on from there to defeat the Republican champ, Ronald Reagan. This may be sheer operatic bravura. But, as the mayor zeroes in on what he considers the vulnerable points of both Unruh and Reagan, the confidence of this bold, ambitious man who took off from Fisherman's wharf and his Sicilian-born father's fish business cannot be discounted.

NEXT YEAR could be a test of whether the theatrical-television image types are to be the wave of the future not only in California but nationwide. For in 1970 two such types will be on the Republican ticket.

To the surprise of practically no one, Sen. George Murphy announced in Los Angeles that he intends to run for re-election. A song-and-dance man in the heyday of filmdom, Murphy in several pictures played Shirley Temple's father. Reagan is indelibly stamped on the public mind as the hero of all those TV westerns.

Until the last minute the hope was cherished within the Nixon administration that Murphy would decide on retirement and perhaps a comfortable ambassadorship. That would have opened the way for young, attractive Robert Finch to run for the Senate seat and thereby escape the rigors of the health, education and welfare that push him so hard.

FOR THE DEMOCRATS to pump up confidence takes considerable doing. The party is divided and in disarray. Until late in the 1968 presidential campaign, Unruh sulked. A Kennedy man all the way, he had been a leader of the rebels at the convention in Chicago.

Alioto not only nominated Hubert Humphrey but he went all-out for the ticket. His claim to party loyalty cannot be challenged. More important with the left-of-center wing of the party is the attack he is beginning to direct against Reagan. He charges that the governor is running against the student rebels at Berkeley and is conducting an anti-intellectual campaign threatening to destroy a great institution.

The mayor has also seized on the environment issue — the pollution of air and water rapidly eroding the natural resource base of a once-majestic and beautiful state. He talks about the 15 wealthy backers who can put up $10,000 each to buy the $150,000 house in which Reagan lives in Sacramento. They are, the mayor charges, the heart of the oil-auto lobby blocking any really effective measures to combat pollution.

A bruising Alioto-Unruh primary fight can leave the Democrats in even worse disarray then they are today. But the Republicans can also carve themselves up. Last year they nominated the incredible Max Rafferty, superintendent of public instruction, for the Senate, rejecting a moderate, former Sen. Thomas Kuchel. Rafferty was defeated in November by Alan Cranston. It only proves that in California politics anything can happen, and it usually does.

Prosperity In E. Germany —But No Rolling Stones

By PHIL NEWSOM, UPI Foreign Affairs Analyst

As Communist East Germany observed its 20th anniversary, there were several items of note.

In East Berlin's Alexander Platz, a huge complex of malls, office buildings and hotels bore evidence of the progress of 17 million East Germans from the ruins of 20 years ago to today's highest standard of living within the Communist bloc.

A mile or so away, at Checkpoint Charlie which pierces the wall dividing East and West Berlin, thousands of youths gathered on the eastern side.

THERE WAS A RUMOR that the Rolling Stones were to give a concert on the roof of a publishing house just across the wall.

There was a rumor that the Rolling Stones were to give a concert on the roof of a publishing house just across the wall.

The rumor was false and when the crowds refused to disperse, the police charged, arresting dozens.

One man could take most of the credit for the achievement at Alexander Platz. The incident at the wall demonstrated how he had achieved it.

THE MAN is Walter Ulbricht, 76-year-old head of East Germany's Communist party and chief of state.

Yet even in the moment of triumph marking East Germany's rise from Soviet satellite to junior partner, Ulbricht could not be wholly at ease.

A prominent guest at the celebrations was Leonid I. Brezhnev, Russian Communist party leader, who had just called for "relaxing tensions, for creating truly neighborly relations with all European states, including the West German Federal Republic."

It did not fit the Ulbricht pattern.

His 20 years of rule had been built on unceasing belligerency against West Germany.

AN EAST GERMAN television commentator describing a military parade told how East German soldiers "hate" their enemies of the west.

Ulbricht's was the most strident voice demanding elimination of the liberal Czech regime.

He does not welcome economic competition from the west.

Yet his may not be the final voice.

The Russians, uncertain of the future in the east, seek a status quo in the west.

Willy Brandt, the Social Democrat expected to be elected the new chancellor of West German in today's voting, already has called for the "realities" of the Oder-Neisse border with Poland, recognition of East Germany's "state-like" existence and renunciation of the use of force, three of Ulbricht's principal demands.

Perhaps more important are the economic forces. The East Germans have low rents, good food, adequate clothing and color television.

Trade between the two Germanys is approaching a billion dollars a year, and East Germany is heavily dependent upon the west for high quality equipment.

East Germany will be here a long time, but political barriers could crumple under the pressures of economic necessity.

Want Law Enforcement Career? Join Novato Police Department

If the present trend continues, any ambitious young man who desires a career in police work and wants to get ahead rapidly would do well to join the Novato Police Department.

Although it is less than nine years old, the department has an enviable record of having its men go on to bigger things. This cannot be attributed to anything but the standards of the department and the quality of the men in it.

The first police station was a room in the railroad station at the foot of Grant Avenue. It then moved into a house and now has two houses to call a police station. It has never had all the equipment of a modern police department and is just now getting up to other departments in its pay scale.

ITS FIRST police chief was Roy McLaren. He is now director of the field operations division of the International Chiefs of Police Association, headquartered in Washington, D. C.

The first sergeant in the department, Robert J. Di Grazia, was named chief of police when McLaren quit in 1963. He has recently accepted the position of superintendent of police for St. Louis County, Mo., with nearly 400 men under him, a $5.4 million budget and $25,000 a year salary.

Of the other five original men, two more have gone on to better jobs. Howell Floyd Hollowell, when just a sergeant in the Novato Police Department, was named chief of police of Newport, Ore. Wayne W. Knutila was named chief of police of Gridley and is now crime statistics analyst with the California Department of Justice.

Patrolman Ronald Bostick, the only Negro hired by the department, quit to take a better position with the San Jose Police Department where he is now working in the community relations division.

Sgt. William M. Cann also has resigned from the Novato department to take the porition of captain, second in command, of the San Bruno Police Department.

Another of the original five patrolmen, Glenn F. Wright, has advanced to lieutenant, second in command of the Novato police, and is in line to be appointed to the chief's position when Di Grazia leaves next month.

EVER SINCE the City of Novato incorporated nearly 10 years ago, it has argued about a city seal. It has one adopted, which does not seem to be popular enough to be used. So the police department finally got a seal of its own. This is a gold six-pointed star similar to the police badge, with the inscription of "Police, City of Novato." This is being placed on the new white patrol cars and on the cards of the police.

Ironically, after waiting nine years, Police Chief Di Grazia received his cards the day he turned in his resignation.

THE EFFICIENCY of modern American free enterprise is the pride of the nation, and the goofs and boondoogles are usually associated with government bodies.

It was with a great deal of admiration that I watched bricklayers putting up the walls for the new Crocker-Citizens Bank on Grant Avenue, opposite the Novato office of the Independent-Journal. These brick layers were so sure of themselves that they did not use a string or plumb bob to be sure that the walls were straight and in line.

However, when the workers went to install the top connection beam, one wall was out of line.

So one worker spent two days breaking down the wall with a hammer and then another two days were spent in re-erecting the wall so it would come in line with the beam.

How To Get Out Of Vietnam: Bay Of San Francisco Resolution

WASHINGTON — The Vietnam solution, as most people look at it now, is for the Americans to get out "with honor." How this can be accomplished is President Nixon's major problem and one that he is devoting his days and nights to.

Prof. Heinrich Applebaum, dean of the political science department at the University of Dissent, has been studying various withdrawal plans that could be implemented as soon as the President decides to move.

"The secret of getting out of Vietnam can be found in how we got in," Prof. Applebaum told me. "We just cannot leave South Vietnam after all these years without some explanation. We had a cover story when we went in, and we must have a cover story when we go out."

"What kind of a cover story, professor?"

"WE MUST PLAN a Gulf of Tonkin Resolution in reverse."

"How's that?"

"If you recall, the Gulf of Tonkin Resolution passed by the Senate gave President Johnson carte blanche to escalate American participation in the war. It was after the Gulf of Tonkin that the President decided to bomb the north and send in hundreds of thousands of GIs. What happened at the Gulf of Tonkin was that two American destroyers reported they were attacked by North Vietnamese PT boats at night. This got the President furious and he decided that if the North Vietnamese were going to attack him in the Gulf of Tonkin, he damn well was going to attack them anywhere he pleased.

"There is still some question," Applebaum said, "whether the two destroyers actually saw any PT boats, but that's not the point.

"The President got Senate approval to do anything he wanted to, and he did. Now President Nixon is faced with the job of undoing most of what President Johnson did."

"What do you suggest, Professor?"

"WE SHOULD RIG IT so that four or five PT boats attack two American destroyers in San Francisco Bay. Then President Nixon could go on the air and announce that our American ships were fired upon at night and he was asking the Senate for a 'Bay of San Francisco Resolution.' "

"What would be in the resolution?"

"The resolution would state that since two American destroyers had been openly and definitely attacked, the President was calling all the troops in Vietnam to California, where they would be stationed until the Californians could defend themselves. He would say that he was reluctant to bring back so many troops, but that the people who fired upon the destroyers must be made to pay for their aggression."

"DO YOU THINK the Senate would pass a 'Bay of San Francisco Resolution'?"

"They would if we produced the proof that the destroyers had been attacked. After all, the United States has a commitment to California. It was first made by Eisenhower, then confirmed by John F. Kennedy and then Lyndon B. Johnson. President Nixon could not go down in history as the first President to lose a state."

"So after the resolution was passed by the Senate, President Nixon could start pulling our troops in Vietnam out?"

"Morally the President would have no choice. No matter what you think of Governor Reagan's regime, you couldn't let California go down the drain."

"HOW MANY TROOPS do you think President Nixon could withdraw from Vietnam and send to California under the 'Bay of San Francisco Resoultion'?"

"There should be a limit. I don't think more than 500,000."

"But there are only 500,000 American troops in South Vietnam."

The professor looked at me and smiled. "Quite," he said.

Frost Plans Federal Flood Aid Inquiry

Donald R. Frost, Marin County public works director, said yesterday he will check with the Department of Housing and Urban Development to see if Marin can qualify for a new national flood insurance program authorized by Congress last year and how the program would operate.

Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District, co-authored the legislation, under which residents of qualified areas may apply for insurance which has a federally-subsidized rate of 40 cents per $100 of assessed valuation ($60 per year on a $15,000 structure).

"We will check into it with hud to see what it's all about and what applicability it will have in Marin," aid Frost. "Our big problem is schools and transportation disruptions as well as damage to homes.

"It would be of great value in areas where homes have been wiped out and where there's measurable damage. But I'm not so sure how you measure damage on schools that are forced to close for a couple of days or a street that's closed from flooding for several days. How do you determine such damage and who gets compensated?"

Frost said the insurance would be helpful in areas like College Park in Kentfield and parts of Santa Venetia that are inundated during floods. He said he does not know whether the flood insurance would protect only flood-prone homes or whether homes in higher areas not normally inundated would have to subscribe to balance out the cost of protection.

Straight Shooters Win In Meeting With A Rattler

Straight shooters always win, they used to say on the Tom Mix radio show.

Mark LaBelle and Craig Marquis weren't around in those days, but they hold the same sentiments today.

The two Sleepy Hollow boys, both 11, were tramping through the hills west of San Domenico School Saturday on their way to some target shooting when a three-foot, 10-rattle rattlesnake struck at Mark, missing him by inches.

Craig fired one shot with Mark's .22-caliber rifle, wounding the snake, then Mark grabbed the gun and finished it off with another shot.

They didn't get in their target shooting after all, but brought the fat reptile home as proof of their escape.

Boys' Club Of Novato Revived

The Boys' Club of Novato which has been inactive for several years, has been revived and the new board of directors will hold a public meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday at St. Francis Episcopal Church in Novato to discuss methods of raising funds, according to publicity chairman Buel W. French.

The board will also discuss sites for the club and make long range plans on developing a building on the site.

The newly elected officers are David E. Milano, president; Paul S. Scheller and Everett Stanlek, vice presidents; William Nye, secretary and David Moore, treasurer. Eugene Trobley, past president, is board chairman.

Hike In Parking Rates On Agenda

An ordinance increasing parking rates and applying weekend and holiday rates for six months of the year in the city parking lot across from downtown Sausalito will be considered by the Sausalito City Council at its 8 p.m. meeting today at city hall.

The board also will receive reports on the city's efforts to clean up litter and a request from the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission to update Sausalito's ultimate boundary map.

Inferno On Docks

DURBAN, South Africa (UPI)—A fire which set off explosions of ammunition on Durban's docks yesterday caused more than $14 million damage, municipal officials said today. There were no casualties in the fire, which swept five railway warehouses. Police officials said the cause was undetermined.

HOTDOG FAT LIMIT GOES INTO EFFECT THIS WEEK

FAT LIMIT IS NOW 30%

Co-op label franks have always run below this level, so no changes had to be made. Some meat companies whose cooked sausage products ran much higher in fat have had to make radical changes in their formulas in order to comply with the new order. Products included under the new regulation include bologna and knackwurst.

Protein content is still lower

Even with the new fat restriction, protein levels are lower in hotdogs than in other meat products. For an equal amount of protein per serving allow three servings per pound of hotdogs compared to four servings per pound of ground beef or other boneless meat.

Chicken can be added to hotdogs

When chicken is added to hotdogs, it will be listed with the other ingredients in order of decreasing amount. If more than 15% chicken is added then the product must be labeled "Beef-Chicken Frankfurter." It cannot be simply called "Frankfurter." As far as we know no "chickendogs" will be available in this area for the present.

UNPREDICTABLE GOLDEN GATE FOG

The fog at the Golden Gate Bridge seemed to be playing mysterious tricks yesterday as Independent-Journal photographer Bob Hax stood poised on the Marin Headlands. Shortly before this photo was taken, the bridge was cloaked in heavy fog, obscuring any view of San Francisco. Then, for about 30 minutes, the fog dropped below the bridge, freeing a sweeping vista of the city. About 4:15 p.m., the fog returned, wiping out the view.

Chile Placed Under Siege; Army Crisis

Leader Recesses Congress; U.S. Copper Firms Worry

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — President Eduardo Frei Montalva imposed a state of siege on Chile today and recessed Congress indefinitely amid mounting reports of a burgeoning army rebellion in this copper-rich land where U.S. firms have about $1 billion in mining investments.

Two army units of the Second Division, based in Santiago, rebelled early in the day, and within hours there were persistent reports that other units were joining in. The government announced it was facing "an attempt at military sedition."

A presidential decree read to the nation over radio and television proclaimed the stage of siege, which is a modified form of martial law.

The crisis in Chile, which has not had a military coup in more than 30 years, follows by only a year an army revolt which seized power in Peru, and a more recent military upheaval in Bolivia, in both of which cases U.S firms were seized.

MILITARY PAY

In Washington officials said the issues in the Chilean uprising related to military pay levels and other improvements in the status of the military. The controversy between the government and officers trying to force changes has been building up for weeks. A Central Intelligence Agency spokesman said it had been aware of developments leading to this turn of events in Chile for the last six weeks.

The leader of the uprising in Chile appeared to be Brig. Gen. Roberto Viaux Marambo, who was promoted to general office status nine months ago and then retired from command of the First Infantry Division at Antofagasta, 500 miles north of Santiago. His retirement stirred new unrest among army officers already disaffected because of their low pay.

VIAUX TOLD

Viaux told newsmen in Santiago he had "the backing of 85 per cent of the army," and added "we are not against the government, but in case we are attacked we will answer back with fire."

The rebellion, he said, is "not against the constitutional government of the nation but against the army high com-

WILLY BRANDT
Elected by Bundestag

Brandt Becomes Chancellor

BONN (AP) — The Bundestag elected Willy Brandt chancellor of West Germany today, ending two decades of Christian Democratic rule and giving West Germany its first Socialist chancellor in the nation's 20-year history.

The vote in the lower house of Parliament was 251-235 in Brandt's favor with five deputies abstaining, four ballots invalid and one deputy absent.

Brandt's victory, which gives him a mandate to govern for the next four years, was made possible by a coalition with the tiny Free Democratic Party. In the Sept. 28 general election, Brandt's Social Democrats won only 224 seats to the Christian Democrats' 242, but the Free Democrats control 30 seats and gave Brandt the necessary majority.

Brandt, 55, succeeds Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger of the Christian Democrats who Brandt served as foreign minister. They had formed a Christian Democratic-Socialist coalition in December 1966.

Brandt earlier was mayor of West Berlin, a Socialist stronghold.

The vote for Brandt was two more than the required majority of the total 496 seats in the Bundestag. Brandt noted that he got "200 per cent more" votes than Konrad Adenauer did when he was elected West Germany's first chancellor in 1949 by one vote.

Hollis Disclaims 'Sub Rosa Probe'

By LARRY D. HATFIELD

The faculty of Sausalito's Martin Luther King School has angrily demanded that County Schools Supt. Virgil S. Hollis and a top aide stay away from the school and Hollis has agreed to do so.

The request from the teachers that Hollis and aide Robert Spain quit going to King came after a faculty meeting during which Sausalito Supt. Phillip W. Schneider and MLK principal Sidney F. Walton presented the teachers with a letter from Hollis listing a wide range of "topics and allegations" in "general terms."

The clash was revealed in an exchange of "Dear Virgil, Dear Phil" letters between Hollis and Schneider released to the Independent-Journal today.

The letters indicated that the Sausalito administration's belief that Hollis and aide Spain were conducting a sub rosa probe of "charges, allegations and rumors" about the school led to the request that the county's "observers" quit coming to the school.

Hollis, saying he is "surprised and sorry," has told the district he and Spain "will withdraw for the present pending a request for assistance." The two county officials had visited the troubled school on a regular basis since it opened Sept. 10. Hollis described their role as "supportive" rather than investigative.

The agreement to withdraw came in a letter from Hollis on Oct. 8. Schneider touched on the conflict at a Sausalito School District board meeting last night when he asked the board for an independent, "impartial" evaluation of Martin Luther King school by a group called Nubian Associates. He suggested the county schools office was not impartial and questioned the competency of both Hollis and Spain, director of administrative service for county schools, to investigate the district. Furthermore, Schneider told the board, the district has a right to know what charges are being made against it and who is making them.

Hollis's latest letter tended to disagree with Schneider's belief that he and Spain were conducting an investigation of any sort.

It said in part: "I am sur-

Hurricane Laurie On Coast Path

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Hurricane Laurie lumbered through the Gulf of Mexico today and took a veering path that threatened the tip of Louisiana and the storm-crushed coast of Mississippi.

The growing storm, its highest winds now whipping over open water at 100 miles per hour, drifted nearly 50 miles eastward during the early morning hours.

At 10 a.m. (CDT) the New Orleans Weather Bureau located Laurie at about 230 miles south of New Orleans at 26.7 north latitude and 90.0 west longitude.

Gale winds of 50 miles per hour reached the mouth of the Mississippi River—about 100 miles southeast of New Orleans—and a hurricane watch continued from Galveston, Tex., to Apalachicola, Fla.

At the Miami, Fla., national hurricane center, Dr. Robert Simpson said the storm's top winds had reached 115 to 120 m.p.h. in gusts and added that the hurricane could well loop southeast toward the heart of Florida in the next 12 hours.

The Weather Bureau's 10 a.m. advisory said Lauri was peking along at about five miles per hour with a predicted slow and erratic movement during the day.

The move to the east lessened the threat to the southwestern Louisiana coast but the late-season storm caused concern along the Mississippi Gulf Coast, still crushed from the battering it took from Hurricane Camille just two months ago.

Despite the growing menance from the storm, Mississippians along the 30-mile beach from Pass Christian to Pascagoula didn't appear perturbed during the morning hours.

But in the low-lying areas of Louisiana, all through the marshlands south and west of New Orleans to the Gulf's edge, evacuees moved into refuge centers on higher ground.

In Lafourche Parish, where oil is a big factor in the economy, more than 25,000 residents were asked to leave homes in low spots for evacuation stations in Raceland, Lockport and Thibodaux.

Oil companies with crews working offshore rigs closed operations yesterday and moved crews to the mainland.

Finance Chief McCown Is Selected As City Manager

James H. McCown, San Rafael's finance director for 18 months, last night became city manager. (Other San Rafael City Council stories, page 21.)

The city council vote appointing him as the city's top administrative officer was unanimous, but it took two councilmen two votes each to reach that consensus.

John A. Miskimen and Fred C. Robbins voted no the first time around, but both emphasized their votes were not intended as a personal reflection against McCown.

Miskimen said there had been 67 applicants, several of them, including McCown, qualified. "But I think that we are not doing our duty by not conducting a full scale interview."

Mayor C. Paul Bettini, however, argued McCown has "demonstrated he is the type of person we need as the city manager of San Rafael. We know what we can expect."

JAMES H. McCOWN
San Rafael city manager

Bettini noted McCown has filled in well as acting city manager since the death of Dan E. Andersen July 31 and cast his yes vote, whereupon Miskimen and Robbins changed theirs.

A closed meeting on the post that lasted almost an hour preceded last night's open session. A similar session was held two weeks ago and McCown was interviewed at that time. He was the only candidate among the 67 official applicants to be interviewed.

His salary in the new post will be $20,000 a year, $5,000 more than he had been receiving as finance director.

McCown, of 17 Truman Drive, Novato, is a retired Air Force colonel who had served as finance officer with the Army and Air Force from 1935 to 1950. Following his retirement, he continued working as an Air Force finance officer. Immediately prior to coming to Marin in April 1968 he was finance director of San Pablo.

Aiken Sees Ground Units Home In Year; Viet Hearing Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George D. Aiken, the senate's senior Republican, said today he expects practically all U.S. ground forces will be out of Vietnam within a year.

About the same time, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee put off its hearings on the war until after President Richard M. Nixon's Nov. 3 policy report to the nation. (See earlier story, page 2.)

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., the committee chairman, announced postponement of the Vietnam hearings, which had been scheduled to begin next Monday.

"As a matter of couresty, it seemed proper for the committee to defer its hearings until after the President has spoken," Fulbright said.

The foreign relations inquiry is to deal with a series of resolutions seeking U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam.

Aiken said he has been kept well informed on the progress of Nixon's troop withdrawal policy.

"Unless the unexpected happens, I expect that all our ground troops will be withdrawn by a year from now," Aiken said.

The Vermont senator made the forecast in a statement prepared for Senate delivery.

He cautioned against a precipitous withdrawal, saying "the safety of the minority groups must be assured unless we are now willing to assume responsibility for a wholesale massacre" in Vietnam.

"We all wish that withdrawal could be done immediately, yet the movement of all our personnel and equipment poses a tremendous transportation problem," said Aiken. Aiken said he does not think the Oct. 15 Vietnam protests have harmed the administration peace effort.

'Laugh-In' Producer Quits Over Vulgarity

NEW YORK (AP) — Paul W. Keyes has resigned as producer and head writer of NBC's "Laugh-In" amid reports that he called the show "slanted, vulgar and dirty."

Keyes was quoted in the industry press today as saying he had been disturbed by the direction of the show as far back as April. He said he objected to certain words and phrases which he said had slipped by the NBC censor.

Another Jet Is Hijacked To Cuba

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A Pan American World Airways jet plane with 37 persons aboard was hijacked today on a flight from Mexico City and was diverted to Cuba.

A Pan American spokesman in Mexico City said the pilot reported the hijacking as the plane was over Merida, Yucatan. Circumstances of the hijacking were not immediately known.

The spokesman said later that the plane had landed safely in Havana.

Shah In Capital For Nixon Round

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Shah of Iran arrived today to discuss with President Richard M. Nixon a wide variety of issues ranging from the Middle East crisis to more weapons for his armed forces.

The Middle East monarch, a frequent visitor to the United States, was flown in from Colonial Williamsburg by a helicopter to the White House.

The Shah is expected to renew his request, made first to President Lyndon B. Johnson last year—for $500 to $600 million in U.S. weapons during the next five or six years.

Scott Takes After Agnew On Rebuking War Critics

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott, rebuking Vice President Spiro T. Agnew without naming him, has called for tolerance and an end to "name calling and accusation" in the debate over Vietnam.

Scott, in his most evident disagreement with the White House since his election the GOP's Senate leader a month ago, said "the administration must accept the sincere intent of this debate and of demonstrations" as a phenomenon of freedom and a product of anguish over the war.

The Pennsylvania senator said such protests "will not be stifled or talked down."

In New York, Secretary of State William P. Rogers said the administration has "listened with respect" to opponents of the war.

"Our President is striving for peace in ways that only the man in that office can," Rogers said at the Council of Churches annual "Family of Man" awards dinner.

While there were some "unpleasant aspects" of last Wednesday's demonstrations, Rogers said, "on the whole, it seemed to me that a great many of the demonstrators wished principally to register dramatic but dignified expression of their deep concern for peace in Vietnam. And we listened to these voices with respect—because we, too, have a deep concern for peace in Vietnam."

And the Republican national chairman, declaring flatly that President Richard M. Nixon is "bringing our involvement in Vietnam to an end," accused administration critics of playing politics over policy.

Rep. Rogers C. B. Morton of Maryland dismissed Nixon critics as "soundoffers."

Scott's written statement, volunteered late Monday, did not mention Agnew. But a source close to the GOP leader made clear the statement was prompted by Agnew's Sunday attack on the war protest movement.

Agnew, in New Orleans, said leaders of the protest movement are "hard core dissidents and professional anarchists."

The vice president said they are being encouraged by "an effete corps of impudent snobs who characterize themselves as intellectuals."

Scott said the American people have heard "enough of invective against Americans who feel a different way."

At the same time, Scott said, Nixon already has responded to public opinion "with significant moves in the direction of peace."

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee which will open a week of Vietnam hearings next Monday, called the Agnew speech undignified. He accused the vice president of "very poor manners."

Cosmonauts Revamp U.S. Visit Agenda

NEW YORK (AP) — Two Soviet cosmonauts canceled a visit to the Statue of Liberty and the Empire State Building today deciding to leave for the Manned Space Flight Center in Houston, Tex.

Col. Frank Borman, the American astronaut accompanying the cosmonauts on their two-week visit here, said the Russian spacemen canceled the visits to make time for a banquet in Los Angeles Thursday night.

SHUN KENNEDY

The Soviets surprised their American hosts yesterday by announcing they could not make their scheduled stop at Cape Kennedy, Fla., where America launches its space flights.

They gave no explanation for that cancellation, but some Americans traveling with the party speculated that Moscow feared that if the two visited the Cape, then Washington might request that American astronauts be allowed to visit the Soviet secret take-off center at Baikonur in central Asia.

On their first day in the United States Monday, the cosmonauts took in a Broadway show and dined in a French restaurant. They drank only vodka.

One of them said their warm welcome "revealed humanity at its best."

DUCK METS FETE

Maj. Gen. Georgi T. Beregovoi, 48, and Konstantin Feoktistov, 43, a civilian, arrived in New York yesterday from Moscow. They immediately declined an invitation to Mayor John V. Lindsay's reception for the New York Mets, the baseball world champions, pleading fatigue.

Beregovoi and Feoktistov went to their Plaza Hotel suites to rest, then went to see "Hello, Dolly!" with Pearl Bailey and Cab Calloway.

Miss Bailey brought the Soviet spacemen and Borman on stage after the show, to a standing ovation from the audience.

"I love you," she said, and kissed each on the cheek. "But tell me, how do you manage to fly up in space like that?"

"You have to have time and ability to do everything," Beregovoi told her.

"How well I know, honey How well I know," Miss Bailey chortled, and the audience roared.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

To Visit Peking

HONG KONG (AP) — Former Burmese Premier U Nu said today he plans to visit Communist China during the world tour he is now making seeking support for his efforts to overthrow Gen. Ne Win's regime.

U Nu, who was ousted by Ne Win in 1962, refused to say when he plans to visit China or whether he would ask for Chinese military aid. But he said he would accept guns "from anyone, including the devil himself, if offered with strings."

The former premier told the Hong Kong Foreign Correspondents Club that it is becoming "probable that a civil war, which I had hoped to avoid, is the only way to end the Ne Win dictatorship which has brought death to many Burmese and economic ruin to our country."

Tax Evader War

ROME (AP) — The new mayor of Rome, who inherited more than $2 billion in city debts, is waging war on tax evaders whom he blames for putting the city further in the hole.

In his first major address last night, Clelio Darida said he had begun a "systematic search for fiscal evaders," planned a general reform of the tax laws and would reorganize the tax collector's office.

The 42-year-old lawyer spiced his threats with a few promises. He said he wants to create more parks, tear down the slums and clear up Rome's traffic congestion.

Science Plea

BRUSSELS (AP) — Daniel P. Moynihan, President Richard M. Nixon's adviser on urban affairs, urged the North Atlantic Alliance today to use science to solve the problems science has created.

"Modern governments fail because they are not modern," Moynihan told the closing session of the North Atlantic Assembly. "They face the problems created by technology with the mentality and the organization of a pretechnological society."

U.S. scientists have speculated that "we may even have less than a 50-50 chance of living until 1980," he said.

Moynihan told his audience of legislators from the nations of the Alliance that he hoped they would support President Nixon's proposed committee on the challenges of modern society, due to be created soon within the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Open Dialogue

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet and Czechoslovak leaders today began talks in the Kremlin that Prague said would lead to a declaration of "basic political importance."

Czechoslovak Communist party first secretary Gustav Husak, Premier Oldrich Cernik and President Ludvik Svoboda arrived yesterday for a nine-day visit. Today they settled down to formal talks with Soviet Communist party General Secretary Leonid I. Brezhnev, Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and President Nikolai V. Podgorny.

A breif official announcemen gave no indication of the subjects being discussed, but observers here believe one result will be a large loan to shore up the Czechoslovak economy.

Battles Near Cambodian Border Take Seven GIs, Ruin Copters

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops killed seven Americans, wounded 18 others and damaged two helicopters in two sharp fights yesterday near the Cambodian border north of Saigon. The U.S. Command said 16 of the enemy were killed.

Farther south along the border, other American air cavalrymen exchanged machine-gun and rifle fire for nearly three hours with North Vietnamese troops 58 miles northwest of Saigon. Two helicopters supporting the ground troops were hit by machine-gun fire which wounded three crewmen, but the helicopters made it back to their bases.

U.S. spokesmen said two Americans were killed and two were wounded on the ground, and two enemy bodies were found on the battlefield.

One North Vietnamese force apparently took about 150 troops of the U.S. First Air Cavalry Division by surprise as they waited in a landing zone 85 miles northeast of Saigon for helicopters to pick them up after a reconnaissance patrol.

The North Vietnamese opened up with a 25-round mortar barrage and machine-gun and rifle fire, killing five Americans and wounding 13 before the company could take cover.

Meanwhile, military investigators began a search for the cause of a fire that extensively damaged the USO Club in downtown Saigon. The fire broke out about midnight yesterday and burned for an hour. U.S. officials said so far there was no indication of sabotage.

No casualties were reported, but scores of Vietnamese living in nearby buildings fled into the streets with as much of their belongings as they could carry. However, firemen confined the flames to the rear of the USO building.

The U.S. Command also announced that another 2,300 U.S. Marines are leaving South Vietnam this week under President Richard M. Nixon's withdrawal program, including the first major elements of the Third Division's Fourth Regiment to be pulled out. They are going to Okinawa.

Hundreds Of Japanese Peace Rioters Jailed

TOKYO (AP) — An estimated 500,000 Japanese leftists staged rowdy demonstrations against the Vietnam war throughout the country today. The most serious clashes occurred in Tokyo, where 480 persons were arrested and 20 policemen were injured.

Young leftists also made abortive attempts to set off explosions at two American bases near Tokyo. But most of the radical students used Molotov cocktails against the police.

More than 75,000 policemen had been mobilized, 25,000 of them in Tokyo. Shops and offies closed early, shop windows were boarded up or shuttered, and millions hurried to get home before the turnout for the International Antiwar Day, a four-year-old observance which has never caught on outside Japan.

The big Shinjuku railway station just outside Tokyo was a main target of students who hurled fire bombs and rocks at the buildings and police. Trains in and out of the station were canceled.

The station was the scene of violent attacks during the demonstration a year ago, and the demonstrators caused an estimated $1 million damage.

Reports from Okinawa said an estimated 50,000 persons took part in rallies on the island and others of the Ryukyu chain. About 15,000 demonstrators gathered in Naha to demand the immediate return of Okinawa and the scrapping of the U.S.-Japan security treaty, newsmen said.

While the militant students were fighting the police, the threee opposition parties held orderly rallies attended by many thousands.

Senators Poker-Faced On Nixon's Judge Plea

WASHINGTON (AP) — If President Richard M. Nixon swayed any undecided senators with his strongly worded defense of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr., they are keeping it to themselves.

The more than 20 Senators who hold the key to confirmation of Haynsworth's nomination to the Supreme Court didn't show any signs that Nixon's statement Monday would start a stampede to back the administration.

Such senior Republicans as George D. Aiken of Vermont and John J. Williams of Delaware still are listed as undecided with an expected vote on confirmation about two weeks off.

Nixon said at a surprise news conference yesterday Haynsworth has been subjected to "vicious character assassination." The President said he would not withdraw his nomination even if Haynsworth requested him to do so.

Aiken said later he still hasn't decided how he will vote on Haynsworth's confirmation.

"I doubt if the President made any votes by his statement," Aiken commented.

But Sen. Roman L. Hruska of Nebraska, ranking Republican member of the Senate Judiciary Committee, said he is more confident than ever the Senate will confirm Haynsworth, now chief judge of the 4th U.S. Court of Appeals.

Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., a leader of the opposition, said conflict-of-interest charges he has made have not been refuted by the administration "and make an eloquent case against confirmation of Judge Haynsworth."

"It is unfortunate that the President appears to be leveling his guns at me personally in an effort to distort the true issue and make the nomination of Judge Haynsworth a partisan matter," Bayh said.

The conflict-of-interest issue centers on charges that Haynsworth held stock in companies involved in court cases in which he participated.

Supporters contend the issue is just a smokescreen for the opposition of labor and civil rights leaders, who have brought heavy pressure on senators to vote against confirmation.

Aiken said his impression from talking with colleagues is that most of them wish the nomination would just go away so that they would not have to vote on it.

Somalia Has Quiet Coup By Military

MOGADISHU, Somalia (AP) — A military coup overthrew Somalia's elected government early today less than 24 hours after the funeral of assassinated President Abdirashid Ali Shermarke.

The self-styled Revolutionary Council said in a broadcast: "The revolution was staged to save Somalia from the corrupt malpractices of the ruling classes."

TRIBALISM HIT

The council said it will "abolish all the bad things left behind. Somalia will be led by responsible people, and tribalism will be abolished."

Troops in full battle dress with fixed bayonets took control before dawn amid an unusual heavy rain. All businesses except coffee houses were closed. Banks, communications offices, the harbor, the government printing office and other key installations were heavily guarded.

There was no official word on the whereabouts of Prime Minister Mohamed Ibrahim Egal, but his beachfront house was under military guard.

He was criticized this week by local newspapers which accused him of selling public lands at drastically reduced prices to political friends.

NO VIOLENCE

No shooting or violence was reported by persons walking about the city.

Motor traffic was at a standstill, except for military vehicles.

A radio announcement said the armed forces assumed power at 3 a.m. It said the country's foreign policy would remain the same, and all treaties and agreements with friendly countries would be respected.

Agnew Reassures South On Policy

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew says the Republican party would give Southerners a fair deal without racism or a sellout to the South.

He told a Mississippi state GOP fund-raising dinner last night that "we have no Southern strategy."

"We do have a conviction that the people of the United States, irrespective of their point of geographic residence, have an inherent right to be treated evenhandedly by their government."

Noting opposition to the President's nomination of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. of South Carolina to the Supreme Court, Agnew said Haynsworth was guilty of no impropriety "unless that impropriety is his place of birth and residence."

Roman troops occupied Austria in 15 B.C.

Arabs To Prison

HEBRON, Occupied Jordan (UPI) — An Israeli military court yesterday sentenced two Hebron Arabs to 20 years in prison for anti-Israeli activities. Israeli security forces charged the Arabs monitored radioed commands from Al Fatah guerrillas in Amman, including an order to set off a truckload of explosives in downtown Jerusalem. They were seized before they could do it, Israel said.

The number of registered vehicles in South West Africa has increased tenfold since 1939 to more than 50,000 at present.

NOV. 4 ELECTION

Three Seeking Two Posts In Marinwood

(First of eight articles)

An incumbent and two challengers will run for two seats on the Marinwood Community Services District board in the Nov. 4 election.

All three candidates said the problem of vandalism and anti-social behavior by youth are the big problems facing the services district.

Here are the three candidates in alphabetical order, with brief statements from each:

DONALD A. DUERR (incumbent), 47, of 386 Johnstone Drive, is current chairman of the services district board. He is business administrator at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo, member of the steering committee of the Las Gallinas Valley Council, and was former city manager in Sausalito for four years.

Duerr said the major problem is youth's relation to the community and the community's response to anti-social action. "We must bring youth into the mainstream of society," said Duerr. "Strictly speaking, this is not a CSD responsibility, but the people look to us for leadership."

Duerr noted that the board was able to reduce the tax rate this year to $1.24 from last year's $1.295. "But the question is, how long we can keep the CSD going with limited funds."

ELLIS D. JAQUETTE, 32, of 505 Quietwood Drive. He is an electrical engineer with the Bechtel Corp. in San Francisco.

"The major problem is anti-social behavior by juveniles on CSD premises," said Jaquette. "Containment of this nuisance without excessive harshness is mandatory."

"A second item of concern is general lack of knowledge of the CSD, its operations and problems. A semi-annual circular covering major items such as the budget, scheduled board meeting, and future activities would be helpful."

ROBERT E. KRUGER, 46, of 2258 Juniperberry Drive, is a stock broker with W. E. Hutton Co. of San Francisco.

Kruger said he would like to "continue the good work of the CSD," aiming in particular for greater participation by citizens. The involvement with and by our younger adults and youth will be a primary consideration. This can be accomplished within current budgetary limits."

March Of Dimes Director Is Named

Laurence B. Malkim, assistant administrator of Marin General Hospital, will be 1970 campaign director for the Marin March of Dimes. Ralph Giovaniello, chairman of the Marin chapter of the National Foundation, announced the appointment to the chapter board Friday.

Malkim, of 924 Appleberry Drive, Marinwood, is a director of the Marinwood Community Services District and president of the Ross Valley Kiwanis lub.

Guitarist Faces Hearing On Pot

HONOLULU (AP) — Paul Kantner, lead guitarist of the Jefferson Airplane rock musical group, has been ordered to appear in district court tomorrow to answer a charge of possession of marijuana.

Kantner, 28, was arrested early Sunday by Honolulu police narcotics officers at a house he and the rest of the group rented during their appearances here.

Kantner was arrested while crawling through bushes near the house with a marijuana cigarette between his lips, police Sgt. John Borges said.

Kantner appeared at arraignment proceedings Monday and was freed on $100 bail.

Three Suspended In Near Rioting

Three College of Marin students have been suspended and a fourth placed on disciplinary probation in the wake of last week's near-riot at the Marin Junior College District board meeting.

Dean of Students Irwin P. Diamond said he met yesterday with the students and suspended Del Mar Jackson, William Nason and Brigardo Groves, and placed William Acosta on probation, all for the rest of this semester.

The students are expected to appeal the decision to the student conduct committee, and Diamond said they will be permitted to remain in classes until the committee hears their case.

Acosta and Jackson were leaders in a chanting, hand-clapping demonstration that temporarily closed down the board meeting. Groves is the youth on crutches who returned to the meeting a little later and shouted obscenities at trustee Robert E. Oliver. During the demonstration, Jackson swept papers and materials off the desks of acting Supt.-President Louis H. Herkenhoff and trustee Donald K. Felt.

Diamond said he was seeking names of one or two more persons, believed to be students, who took leading roles in the disruption.

Suspension would totally bar the students from the campus for the rest of the semester. Jackson's post as Associated Students parliamentarian would be vacated.

Under probation, Acosta would be permitted to attend classes and use academic facilities, but could not take part in any campus activities.

Appeals to the student conduct committee must be filed within 48 hours. Diamond said the committee probably will meet within a day or two after that. If the students are dissatisfied with the committee ruling, appeals to Herkenhoff or the board are possible.

The committee comprises four students, who were to be named today by the Associated Students executive council, faculty members Donald Palmer and Dorothy Wakefield, and Assistant Dean of Instruction Albert C. Heppe representing the administration.

Hub Man Injured In Auto Accident

Jerry Lynn Pate, 17, of 27 Laurel Avenue, San Anselmo, was treated yesterday at Marin General Hospital for cuts on the hand and chest following an accident at 1:30 a.m. on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near the Fairfax city limits, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Details of the accident were not available from the highway patrol.

Jewish Classes Are Scheduled For Next Month

Classes in Hebrew conversation and reading and Israeli folk dancing will be offered next month in the fall 1969 Jewish studies institute.

The classes are sponsored by Congregations Kol Shofar and Rodef Sholom, the Bureau of Jewish Education and the Marin Jewish Community Center. Classes will be at Temple Rodef Sholom, 170 North San Pedro Road.

Classes will be held on six consecutive Tuesdays starting Nov. 4. Aaron Lor will teach conversational Hebrew at 7:30 p.m. Rhoda Nichaman will teach intermediate Hebrew reading at 7:30 p.m., introductory Hebrew reading will be at 8:40 p.m., Dov Harris will teach Israeli folk dancing at 8:40 p.m., and a seminar on the concerns of contemporary youth will be held at 8:40 p.m.

The courses are for adults and high school students. Applications should be made in advance through the Marin Jewish Center, according to the institute brochure.

Voice Of The 'Beats,' Jack Kerouac Is Dead

LOWELL, Mass. (AP) — Jack Kerouac, the beat generation writer whose books ushered in the current generation of hippies, died early today at a St. Petersburg, Fla., hospital.

Relatives in his home town of Lowell said the writer, who was in his late 40s, suffered a hemorrhage last night and died about 5:30 a.m. today.

His first book was titled "The Town and the City." It was a frankly autobiographical work detailing his youth in Lowell and later encounters in New York.

Perhaps his most famous book was "On the Road," a freewheeling account of his travels through the country, which popularized the notion of a "Beat Generation."

Kerouac's original intention regarding the term "beat" had to do with the idea of "beatific," a term he used for the concept of people rejecting the materialism of the United States of the 1950s, and turning instead to a frank enjoyment of the pleasures in life.

Educated at Lowell High School, Kerouac went on to Columbia University in New York. During World War II, he served in the U.S. Merchant Marine, shipping on the Murmansk run.

He had a daughter by his first wife. His second wife is the former Stella Samas of Lowell.

Kerouac made his home in Lowell when he was not traveling. He had been in Florida with his wife to take care of his ailing mother, who is bedridden, a family spokesman said today.

Kerouac's writing has been referred to as a bridge between the "Lost Generation" of the early part of the 20th Century, and the heirs of the "Beat Generation," the hippies.

Many critics regard Kerouac as a progenitor of today's hippie generation, with its rejection of materialism, its emphasis on sensual pleasures, and the spirit of wanderlust that carried him throughout much of the world.

Slight Wound From An Exploding Bullet

Barbara Little, 19, who lives in a home behind Peacock Gap Country Club, was treated Sunday for a superficial wound in her left arm, suffered when a bullet exploded in her fireplace.

Sheriff's deputies said she was burning papers in the fireplace when the bullet exploded. She didn't know how the bullet had got there.

College's Hiring Session To Be Shut

The Marin Junior College District board will hold a closed meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Marin County superintendent of schools office with its screening committee to discuss hiring of a new superintendent-president for College of Marin.

The board interviewed three candidates for the post last week and will discuss its impressions tomorrow with the screening committee, college publicist Earlene Jones said.

Hollis, Aide Invited Out Of A Sausalito School

prised and sorry to learn from your letter and from the tape of the meeting (at King) of the critical attitudes of you and your faculty concerning the interest of the county schools office in assistnig your district in solving its unique educational problems."

It went on to say that the county schools office was concerned about the district's use last year of black militant William (Chaka) Bradley as an instructional aide and about the duties of James T. Toliver Jr., special assistant to the principal and staff at King.

"To date it appears to us that he (Toliver) is acting in the role of a vice principal without the proper credentials," the letter said. Last night, Schneider presented the board with a job description for Toliver which detailed 27 specific areas for which he is responsible.

Hollis's letter was in response to a Sep. 30 letter from Schneider describing a meeting at the school on Sept. 26 during which teachers were shown the previous correspondence between the two officials.

At that meeting, Schneider wrote "there was strong negative teacher reaction to county observers in the building. The majority of the teachers voted to eliminate observation by the county. Five teachers abstained from that vote."

Schneider also repeated earlier questions to Hollis: To me, the meeting pointed up the need for a clear statement for your office, which I suggested to you at our meeting of Sept. 23, indicating the specific charges, allegations and rumors made to you against the King School."

In a letter dated two days before the meeting, Hollis had responded to requests by Walton that he be specific about his and Spain's activities.

Hollis said: "In general terms, those concerns include such topics and allegations as the following: Panther breakfasts, Mr. Bradley's employment and teaching activities, credentials, pupil and teacher absenteeism, fights, pupil hazing, inadequate curriculum and teaching methods, criticism of district administration, pupil accounting procedures, failure of the board of trustees to follow their established policy, excessive vandalism, Mr. Toliver's administrative role, falsification of records, total lack of discipline, cutting classes by pupils who remain on school grounds, and excessive truancy."

He also listed 13 "potential problem areas," including: Curriculum, discipline, the breakfast program, "humanization" programs and Walton's use of an "inservice day" for teachers.

Both Hollis and Spain had sent Schneider and Walton summaries of their observations but Schneider last night said they were "completely unsatisfactory."

In one of the summaries, Hollis said: "The Blacks with whom I spoke and observed appeared to be cheeful, less resentful, willing to converse. The hate of last spring seemed lessened. The whites observed generally were in groups. The fear of last spring was evident."

He also said, "Many comments that I may have are being left unsaid because in the short period of time that (I) have observed, (I) cannot weigh effectively the various aspects of the operations that (I see)."

In another summary, also saying some things were being left unsaid, Hollis said: "The shakedown cruise appears to be over and teachers and students are beginning to have certain confrontations. Those that I witnessed or have understood have taken place are quickly being dealt with by the administration.

The pupils are beginning to assert themselves more aggressively than they did during the first week of school. The blacks appear to be more aggressive than the white students."

Old Adobe Fete Officers Elected

Ross Smith, coordinator of the Old Adobe festival held this summer in Petaluma, last night was elected president of the festival committee, to plan for next year's event.

Others elected were Leo Labio, vice president; Barbara McCormick, treasurer; Elizabeth Baker, recording secretary, and Jane Haigen, corresponding secretary.

Smith scheduled the next meeting for Nov. 3 at 7:30 p.m. in Beasley's restaurant.

Church Panes, Floor Damaged By Vandals

Vandals hurled a large stone through two large windows of the office and classroom located on the south side of Trinity Lutheran Church between 10:20 a.m. Sunday and 9:30 a.m. Monday, San Rafael police reported tiday.

Tile flooring in the classroom at 333 Woodland Avenue, was damaged in the attack.

Ross Board Picks Panel On Finances

A seven-member panel to study the financial future of the Ross School District was appointed by the school board last night after a closed meeting to discuss possible candidates.

Named were Pamela Morris, Marilyn Hicks, Bruce W. Dayton, Mary Grandin, William H. Richardson, Dr. Justin L. Williams and Frank A. Barsocchini, according to Supt. Thomas A. Anderson.

The committee will survey the past and future financial picture of the district. study the educational program and discuss school facilities. It is expected to report about February, Anderson said.

The board also agreed to appoint a committee to evaluate the arts program at the school.

The music program was reduced this year after the music specialist resigned. Board members agreed to study all the arts before hiring a replacement.

The board also recognized the Ross School District Teachers Association as the group to represent the faculty in salary negotiations after discussing the matter in closed session with Anderson, the board's official negotiator.

The board adopted a resolution urging acquisition of the remaining land at the Point Reyes National Seashore.

Valley Viewers Hit Cable Lack

A letter-writing campaign against poor cable television service may be forming in the San Geronimo Valley.

Richard Poppe, vice president of the San Geronimo Valley Association, told the association last night that Supervisor Louis H. Baar is asking that letters about TV cable problems be sent to him immediately because the board of supervisors is reviewing cable service in the county, reported publicity chairman Claryce E. Stevens.

Valley residents have complained that Cable Television of Marin has not extended service through the valley as promised when granted a franchise for the area.

Burglary Case Is Bound Over

Edgar Raymond Hale, 42, of Novato, was bound over to Marin Superior Court yesterday on a charge of burglarizing La Petite Auberge restaurant in San Rafael Oct. 7.

He was told to appear in court Monday for arraignment.

Hale was arrested when police who came to answer a burglar alarm found him in the restaurant.

Big Brothers Slate Organizing Dinner

A supper meeting to extend the Big Brothers program to Marin will be held by the Marin County organizing committee of Big Brothers Inc. of America at 7 p.m. tomorrow at the Henry B. Grandin Jr. residence, Upper Road, Ross.

The Big Brothers program is open to all fatherless boys between 7 and 17 years old.

Though Interstate Highways account for only one percent of the Nation's streets and roads, they probably carry 20 per cent of all traffic. Vacation and pleasure drivers alone usually roll up 50 billion miles of travel a year on the expressways.

Novato Opens Park Pool, Lagoon Bids

Two bids totaling $29,750 were recieved for the spray pool and small boat lagoon for Pioneer Memorial Park, parks and recreation director Edward W. Adams reported last night to the Novato Parks and recreation Commission.

The bids were from Marin Hollis and Associates of San Francisco for $17,250 for the spray pool and D. Piccinini Co. of San Francisco for $12,500 for the lagoon.

The city council had budgeted $33,000 for the items, and will act on them tonight.

Adams also reported that Pioneer Park is ready for turf.

The commission started work on a public opinion survey questionnaire which it will mail to selected people on the voter registration list. The survey was requested by the city council to determine public support for a bond issue to purchase and develop a major city park.

Commissioner Harry Moore turned in his resignation effective at the end of his term Dec. 31. He said the press of other commitments such as the Marin Junior College District board, took too much of his time.

The public hearing on the cemetery at Pioneer Memorial Park was postponed until 8 p.m. Nov. 3 at the Novato Community House.

Warm Springs Dam Funds Due In May

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — Federal funds totaling $10.3 million will be allocated in May to begin work on the Warms Springs Dam north of Healdsburg which eventually provide water for Marin and Sonoma counties.

Supervisor Arthur N. Rounavaara of Healdsburg said yesterday that funds totaling $10,305,000 will be allocated as part of the July 1 budget for the Army Corps of Engineers to begin road relocation work.

Included in the road projects will be the complete relocation of Stewart's Point-Skaggs Springs and Rockpile roads at a cost of $9,725,000. Another $260,000 will be spent to build an access road to the dam site and $320,000 to construct a permanent operations center.

Rounavaara said that major allocations for the $80 million project are expected to come in the 1970-71 budget as recently reviewed by the Bureau of the Budget.

In addition to providing water to Marin and Sonoma counties, the dam is expected to relieve flooding conditions along the Russian River.

New Reed Report Cards Discussed

Recommendations to establish uniformity in report cards were heard last night by the Reed School District board in a curriculum workshop, Supt. Robert B. Gaw reported.

Gaw said the board delayed action until its regular meeting at 8 p.m. today at Bel Aire School.

Staff recommendations included check list report cards with comments optional for primary grades, an optional check list or letter grade report card for third through sixth grades and letter grade cards for seventh and eighth grades.

Parents still would be able to have conferences with teachers, Gaw said.

Report Sought On Dog Controls

The City-County Services Committee last night asked executive officer John F. Barrows to prepare a report on when Marin's intensified dog control program, approved by all Marin cities except Tiburon, will go into effect.

Timothy M. Jackson, senior county administrative analyst, said today the county is awaiting delivery of the citation forms, and subsequent approval by law enforcement officials, to begin the program.

The committee also asked for a report from County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom on the activities of his department in order to provide a yardstick on how much of the department's budget should be borne countywide and in municipalities and special districts.

mand. This is purely a military matter."

One regiment in Santiago, the Tacna Infantry, was in the process early in the day of being surrounded by units loyal to the Christian Democratic government. Scattered shooting broke out sporadically.

Tacna Infantry troops on guard duty took potshots at anyone who tried to get within a halfblock of the entrance to their quarters. Two newsmen who managed to get near the entrace were seized by the rebels and taken inside the barracks.

NO INJURIES

No injuries were reported.

A government announcement said President Frei was using his constitutional authority to recess the legislature and decree the state of siege, but contended that the provinces were generally calm. It said all army and air force units were "normal" except for two rebellious regiments, the Tacna and the Yungay.

Newsmen who toured army units said they had reliable reports that the Maturana Artillery Regiment and the noncommissioned officers' school had joined the rebels but had not yet taken overt action against the established authorities.

General Viaux arrived from Antofagasya last night in response to a summons by the army commander-in-chief, Maj. Gen. Sergio Castillo. He was to answer questions about his recent public statements criticizing the Frei administration.

Although Chile is one of the three largest copper suppliers in the world, the United States gets only about 12 per cent of its copper from this country. Anaconda and Kennecott, the big U.S. companies recently sold about half their investment to the Chilean government with payment to be made in a share of copper sales.

Although any interruption in copper shipments might bear more heavily on European consumers, because half of the production of Kennecott's huge El Teniente mine goes to them, copper men were anxious about the possible effect on world copper prices.

Marin Trustees To Eye SDS Ban

The Marin County Board of Education will discuss a proposed statewide campus ban on Students for a Democratic Society when it meets Monday, Deputy Supt. Stanley Friese said today.

The board's three standing committees last night discussed a letter from State Superintendent of Schools Max Rafferty and a State Board of Education resolution declaring SDS "unfit to be recognized as a student organization."

The state board in September warned that any schools granting SDS recognition might be violating the education code.

The Marin board will meet next week because of schedule conflicts Nov. 3, which would have been the meeting date, Friese said. The meeting will start at 8 p.m. in the district office.

Library Board Member Resigns

Harold H. Fulkerson, San Rafael attorney, resigned from the San Rafael Library Board in a letter received today by Mayor C. Paul Bettini.

Fulkerson informed librarian Vivian Smith prior to last night's board meeting that he had written the letter of resignation.

In it, he said he finds it "difficult in view of the pressure of other business" to give the library board job "the attention it deserves."

Fulkerson was appointed on March 20, 1967, to complete the term of James Goodale. His current term expires in April 1971.

Fire Truck To Be Christmas Present

Terra Linda should have a new fire truck for Christmas, chairman Neal D. Harding of the Terra Linda Community Services District announced last night at a meeting of directors.

Harding showed slides of the truck, which is being outfitted by inmates at the California State Prison in Susanville. He estimated that the cost would be about $10,000, "and we hope to get it by Christmas."

OBITUARIES

Helen J. Slosson Dies At 75

Requiem Mass for Helen J. Slosson of Corte Madera will be offered at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow in St. Patrick's Church, Larkspur. Mrs. Slosson, 75, died Sunday at a local convalescent hospital following a short illness.

A native of Knowles, Madera County, she had lived in Marin County for 15 years, residing at 414 Redwood Avenue, Corte Madera.

She was a member of the Rosarium Institute of the Young Ladies Institute of Larkspur.

Mrs. Slosson is survived by a daughter, Helen E. Greene of Bellevue, Wash., and two grandchildren.

Recitation of the Rosary will be tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the Keaton Mortuary, San Rafael. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery, Oakland.

The family prefers memorial contributions to a favorite charity.

HELEN GASPAR

Private funeral for Helen Gaspar, 72, of Kentfield was held today at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael. Private inurnment followed.

Mrs. Gaspar, a 16-year resident of Marin County died Sunday at her home at 7 Rosebank Avenue, following a short illness.

A native of Philadelphia, Pa., she moved to San Francisco 65 years ago. Her husband, George C. Gaspar, a retired San Francisco service station owner, died five years ago.

She is survived by a daugher, Helen Deicke of Napa; a sister, Ruth Halstenson of Albany and two grandchildren.

EMILY PETTERSEN

Emily O. Pettersen, wife of former Marin Supervisor and Sausalito Councilman Randolph N. (Rudy) Pettersen, died yesterday following a long illness.

Her son, Thomas McBride, said Mrs. Pettersen died while being taken to the hospital from her Forest Knolls home.

A native of San Francisco, Mrs. Pettersen, 69, moved to Forest Knolls 25 years ago when she married Captain Pettersen, former seaman, ferryboat operator, Golden Gate Bridge worker, boxer and politician. The couple had lived at "Viking's Rest" on Arroyo Road since then.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Pettersen is survived by a brother, Arthur Arvois of Millbrae; two sons, Thomas McBride of Redwood City and Leonard McBride of Santa Ana, Orange County; nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral will be at 11 a.m. Thursday at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael. Burial will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael. The family prefers contributions to the American Cancer Society.

RAY O'DELL

Ray A. O'Dell, owner of the Marin Dental Laboratory in San Rafael, died yesterday in a San Francisco hospital after a short illness. He was 61.

Born in St. Louis, Mo., he moved to Southern California at the age of 5 and to Marin County 40 years ago where he founded his business in 1939.

Five years ago he moved to Sonoma from Fairfax. He also lived in San Rafael many years ago.

A veteran of World War II, he served as a sergeant in the Army medical corp.

He is survived by his wife, Margaret O'Dell; two daughters, Colleen O'Dell of Sonoma and Sally Woodard of San Rafael; a brother, Roy E. O'Dell of Ariz., and one grandchild.

There will be no funeral. Burial will be at Sawtelle Veterans Cemetery in Los Angeles.

IOLA RHOADS

Iola Rhoads, 90, a Marin resident for 47 years, died yesterday at a local convalescent hospital after a long illness.

A native of Grass Valley, she began spending summers in Marin in 1914 and living the rest of the year in Richmond where her husband, the late Frank (Dusty) Rhoads operated tailor shops.

She lived in San Anselmo during most of her Marin residence but had been in a convalescent hospital for the past seven years.

Survivors are a daughter, Mrs. Harold G. Carlton of Larkspur; a son, James V Rhoads of San Anselmo; six grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Requiem Mass will be offered at 10 a.m. Thursday at St. Raphael's Church, San Rafael, with burial in Mount Oliviet Cemetery. The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

ALFRED KEATING

Funeral was held today for Alfred Keating, 81, a Cotati poultryman, who died Saturday at his home after a long illness. Private inurnment was at Cypress Hill Memorial Park.

Born in New Zealand, he came to the United States 52 years ago and served in World War I. Keating had owned and operated a poultry ranch at 1070 Helman Avenue for many years.

He was a member of the Druids, Petaluma Harmony Grove No. 38.

MANUEL ROLLINS

Funeral for Manuel Rollins, 81, of 327 Bassett Street, Petaluma, will be held at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at the Sorensen funeral home, Petaluma. Burial will be at Calvary emetery.

Rollins was found dead at his home Sunday. The Sonoma County Coroner's office said he died apparently of natural causes but a routine investigation is being conducted.

A native of San Rafael, he moved to Petaluma 61 years ago. Rollins had worked for his stepfather, the late John B. Silva, a contractor, until his retirement in 1946. He was a veteran of World War I.

He is survived by a stepsister, Mrs. May Fuller of Petaluma.

Recitation of the Rosary will be at 8 p.m. today at the Sorensen funeral home.

VIRGINIA DELLOCA

Virginia Jean Delloca, 46, a 10-year resident of Petaluma, died yesterday at a local hospital after a long illness.

Born in Eureka, she spent most of her life in Santa Rosa, but moved to 408 Eastman Lane, Petaluma, 10 years ago. She was the wife of Frank Delloca, a truck driver.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by a son, Gary Keiser of Santa Rosa; her mother, Mrs. Effie Hanson of Garberville, Humboldt County; a brother, Richard Hanson of Santa Rosa, and six grandchildren.

Funeral will be at 11 a.m. tmorrow at the Sorensen funeral home, Petaluma. Inurnment will be at Chapel of the Chimes, Santa Rosa. Contributions may be made to a favorite charity.

Motorcycle, Bikes Stolen

A motorcycle and two bicycles were stolen from two San Rafael schools this week, San Rafael police reported today.

A motorcycle owned by Michael James Foppe, 17, of 34 Hillview Avenue, San Rafael was stolen from the San Rafael High School grounds Monday between 8 a.m. and noon.

Carole Marie Pitto of 860 Tamarack Drive, reported her son's Stingray bicycle valued at $75 was stolen from the Nova Albion School bike rack sometime between Friday and Monday, Mark Kenyon, 15, of 184 Coleman Drive, reported his 10-speed bicycle valued at $75 taken form the San Rafael High School grounds Saturday during the football game between 8 and 10 p.m.

Check Forgery Plea Date Set

Judi Ann Tomei and Gary Michael Schaeffer, both of 35 Fairfax Street, San Rafael, were arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on charges of check forgery and possessing a check with intent to defraud.

Their cases were continued until Monday for entry of plea.

A warrant of arrest with bail set at $6.250 was issued for John Arthur Westphal Jr., accused of the same offenses, who may be in a federal prison, according to Deputy Dist. Atty. John R. Thomas.

Redwood High Hit Over Moratorium

Redwood High School's day-long Vietnam Moratorium program was attacked by a Tamalpais High School trustee and three parents last night and just as staunchly defended by the school's principal.

An hour-long skirmish between Principal Donald Kreps and the parents was sparked when board chairman Bette Wallace read a letter from absent Trustee David D. Ring, critical of Redwood's moratorium activities.

Ring protested that students were allowed out of class to attend rallies and outside speakers. "Prior to Oct. 15, it had been my specific understanding that the district intended to conduct regular classes on that date," wrote Ring.

Ring said that he called Dist. Supt. Robert D. Torrey the day before the moratorium and was told that Torrey had no knowledge of the activities planned at Redwood. "I therefore must assume that these arrangements were approved by Mr. Kreps without the knowledge of the superintendent," the trustee said.

Ring said that he did not believe that such activities were proper for a school since it was clearly intended to put pressure on the President to change the actions he is taking to end the war.

Ring ended his letter by calling for a review of the board's policy on the use of school grounds and that it review the lines of authority so that ". . . no school will officially or unofficially cancel classes for a day without the superintendent even being aware this is occurring."

Torrey told the board that he left organization of "M-day" activities to the principal and students of each school. He said there was no district policy other than having all controversial films and speakers screened.

Kreps told the board that all films and speakers were screened by the school. He also pointed out that board policy now allows a student to be excused from class for any reason if he has his parents' written consent. He said about 500 students presented written permission to miss class on the moratorium day.

Kreps said his school wanted to provide a program on campus so the students would not have to leave to go to other demonstrations. He said that eight teachers took leave and will be docked a day's pay. He also said that several substitute teachers were brought in to teach those students who did not want to participate in moratorium day activities.

Three parents in the audience did not see the moratorium day program in such a rosy light, however.

One woman, who said she pulled her child out of school at 11 a.m., said she felt as though the school and teachers ". . . robbed me." She also said that the entire theme for the day was ". . . anti-American not antiwar."

Willis C. Bohn of Tiburon told the board he spent most of the day at the school and felt that the entire theme of the day was in support of the "One World Government." He said that if the district could donate a school to the "long haired types," it should also donate it to him so he could stage a presentation showing the other side.

"Who will determine whether we cut out a couple more days of school for next month's moratorium days, which I believe are already planned," Bohn said. Ring also raised this question in his letter to the board.

James Newhouse told the board he objected to teachers involving themselves in the moratorium along with the students.

"I feel the instructors of my children are not hired to teach them politics," he said.

Kreps, in defending his school's activities, said simply: "It was not anit-American, it was a very American day."

The principals of the other two high schools, Sir Francis Drake and Tamalpais reported that noon-time activities were held on their campuses, but classes were not interrupted.

Innocent Plea To Marijuana Growing

John Frederick Tanzi, 21, of San Anselmo, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Superior Court to a charge of growing marijuana at his home.

A jury trial was set for the week of Dec. 15.

Tanzi was arrested Sept. 20 after police noticed the plants from a neighbor's home.

APPOINTED — Dr. Bernard Bradman has been named director of in-patient services of the psychiatric unit of Ross General Hospital. Bradman, of 5 Mount Burney Court, Lucas Valley, has been assistant program chief of community mental health services of San Francisco. He is also in private practice.

Boy, 5, Runs Into A Vehicle

A 5-year-old Novato boy received minor injuries when he ran in front of a car at 6:38 p.m., Saturday on Olive Avenue west of Kenwood Court, police reported yesterday.

Treated at Novato General Hospital for multiple bruises was Dale A. Lester of 101 Kenwood Court, the hospital reported.

The boy dashed in front of an eastbound car driven by Emilie J. Sturm of 170 Beattie Lane, Novato, according to police.

Baby skunks are usually born in April or May. Six is the average litter.

Hair Policy: Coaches Each Would Have Say

A policy allowing each coach to set grooming and dress standards for his team was proposed last night as the answer to the great hair controversy which caused Redwood High School's athletic director, Robert J. Troppmann, to resign last month.

The proposal was greatly influenced by a legal opinion from Asst. County Counsel Richard V. Godino, said Supt. Robert D. Torrey last night as he briefly outlined the plan to the Tamalpais High School District board members.

Torrey said that the proposal would go today to the district's three high schools for a vote from a "representative cross-section of the school faculties." He said it would be brought before the board for final action at the Nov. 3 meeting.

Torrey said that at the Oct. 6 meeting of the board, which drew about 700 persons and was held in the Redwood gym, the board committed itself to a decision on that date.

Troppmann resigned as athletic director last month after Torrey suspended his ruling that members of the school's cross-country team must cut their hair before they would be allowed to run in meets. The athletes have since competed, with locks intact.

The proposal was drawn up by an eight-member committee which included in addition to Torrey, the district's three high school principals, three athletic directors and James Pierce, director of instruction.

Torrey said that the proposal was reached by a "consenus" of the committee, admitting that it was not a unanimous decision.

In answer to a question, Torrey said that the school faculties would vote on the issue because ". . . we consider the athletic department to be part of the total instructional program."

He said it would be up to the various principals to decide how best to poll a cross-section of their faculties.

In a two-page opinion dated Oct. 13, Godino said that the courts have been defending the rights of students to wear long hair in school.

"Clearly a regulation which exists solely because the school administration desires hair of a certain length is doomed to defeat," Godino said.

"It is only where clear-cut educational or safety reasons can be provided that such regulations are judicially supported."

Godino said that a slightly different situation exists in regard to athletes, however.

He said that when long hair is either hazardous to the athlete or others or that it interferes with athletic performance, a regulation enforcing length could probably be defended.

"Clearly this would differ from sport to sport and possibly coaches would differ in their particular opinions," Godino said.

TORREY GETS RAISE WITH NEW PACT

Tamalpais High School District trustees last night hiked acting Supt. Robert D. Torrey's salary from $22,750 to $25,000 a year to June 30, 1971 and extended his contract as assistant superintendent till then.

Torrey, who replaced Chester G. Carlisle as superintendent earlier this year, has also been serving as assistant superintendent.

He will remain acting superintendent at least until June 30, 1970 but has recommended the board conduct a nationwide talent search to fill the post for the next school year. He has not indicated whether he will apply for the position.

$1 Million Fire To G.M. Building

NEW YORK (UPI)—A two-alarm fire in the new General Motors Corp. building yesterday afternoon caused an estimated $1 million damage and a Fifth Avenue traffic jam.

Several of the 5,000 persons who work in the building were evacuated when the fire erupted in a restaurant slated to open next month.

Fire officials said a light bulb fell to the floor, igniting gasoline fumes.

One woman was treated for smoke inhalation. There were no serious fumes.

Asylum Granted To Czech Sailor

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A 26-year-old sailor, who sneaked off the first Czechoslovakian ship to dock here in recent years, has been given a one-year stay in the United States.

Jiri Vokrouhlik asked for political asylum while the freighter Vikrovice was refueling Sunday. Yesterday District Immigration Director George K. Rosenberg waived a board of inquiry hearing and told Vokrouhlik he could remain in this country for a year if he could find a sponsor.

From several offers, the seaman accepted the sponsorship of Antonin Bauman of suburban Sun Valley, a Czech who came here in 1950 and is now a U.S. citizen.

Teen Is Booked As Burglary Suspect

A 13-year-old San Rafael youth was booked into Marin County Juveniie Hall Sunday on suspicion of burglary after police discovered him in the Western Sports Shop, 902 Third Street.

The youth was apprehended at 3:53 a.m. Sunday, after police were summoned by the shop's burglar alarm.

Mill Valley Teachers Due Ethnic Study

The Mill Valley School District board last night approved a multiethnic inservice training program for the district, Supt. James A. Collins reported today.

Collins said the board endorsed his proposal to spend $1,750 on an inservice program which will focus on "intimate panel discussions" and involve faculty, parents and minority group members of the community.

The board also accepted a $100 donation from the Marin Committee for Fair Play for the multiethnic program.

The Mill Valley School District board also:

MIDDLE SCHOOL — Heard that the letting of bids for construction of the middle school have been delayed because the state still is inspecting engineering plans. Also heard the school will require a professional staff of 65 persons.

ELECTION — Voted for David D. Ring, Lawrence I. Kramer Jr., Elinor Rusch and Alan Nichols as delegates to the California School Board Association conference.

MORATORIUM DAY — Heard that approximately 200 students were absent from Edna Maguire School during the Vietnam Moratorium, some 150 more than usual. Also heard that fourth-eighth grade classes in the district discussed the history of the Vietnam War from 1950 in current events classes during the week.

INTERDISTRICT AGREEMENTS — Approved interdistrict transfer agreements for one San Anselmo student and three Sausalito students all of which had been approved by home district boards.

TEACHERS — Recognized the Mill Valley Teachers Association as the official employees organization for district teachers and authorized formation of a negotiating council as required annually by state law.

Closer Look Wanted On Shopping Center

Faced with sharply differing arguments from opponents and proponents of a proposed nine-acre shopping center for southeast Mill Valley, the Mill Valley City Council last night decided to take a closer look at the plan.

The council set a meeting for Nov. 2 at 2 p.m. at city hall with the project's developers and the city planning commission, which last week turned thumbs down on the shopping center plan. The council was hearing an appeal of that decision last night.

Planner Ivan S. Poutiatine told the council the commission objects to the shopping center on what is listed in the city general plan as a commercial-recreational zone. He Questioned the "effect of such a development on the downtown commercial area."

Clark Maser, attorney for the Bothin Real Estate Co. which owns the land, replied that most allowed recreational uses for the property are not feasible for one reason or another. "A shopping center is an allowed secondary use for C-R land," he said, "and I feel for the city to deny us this use would be unfair, unreasonable and would deprive us of our rights."

The planned center would include a large supermarket, a drugstore, bank, service station and smaller specialty ships around a central court. The center's large parking area would border on Camino Alto.

Douglas G. Lynn, a real estate developer hired by Bothin to plan the development, told the council that after three years, the center would yield about $225,000 in sales taxes and raise real estate taxes about 800 per cent, to approximately $78,000.

Maser added that the Bothin Co. has paid over $61,000 in taxes on the property since the land was filled in 1957. He said the company has come to the council with several plans, including a bowling alley, and been turned down each time.

Councilman George E. Wickham said "if there is to be a shopping center, it shouldn't look like the present plan."

"I think the company should be able to come up with something more creative than this (the architect's drawing)," Councilman Jerome C. Hauke added.

Councilman Robert H. Andresen asked for the work session "so we can talk and find out what we can do."

The Mill Valley City Council Also:

BID — Accepted a $5,468 bid from Maggiora & Ghilotti, Inc., Corte Madera contractors, for drainage improvements on Vasco Drive.

CONTINUANCE — Continued until Nov. 3 a public hearing on abattment of a slide area at Middlecourt and Underhill roads to allow the owner of the land more time to work out a solution.

POLICE ASSISTANCE — Postponed action on a request by the Tamalpais High School District board to have Mill Valley police ticket traffic and parking violators on the Tamalpais High School campus.

FIRE REPAIR — Directed Maggiora and Ghilotti to complete fire damage repairs and remodeling of the community center with the understanding the city will pay the contractor the amount recovered under the city's fire insurance.

SUBDIVISION — Continued until Nov. 3 a public hearing on a request by R.L. Johnstone to subdivide a 67,000 square foot lot at 11 Eton Place into two smaller lots.

APPOINTMENT — Heard Mayor Dean N. Meyer announce Louis E. Bartolinia as his choice to fill a vacant seat on the city planning commission. Action was deferred to the next council meeting.

ORDINANCE—Adopted an ordinance annexing a small strip of property in the Fern Canyon Road area.

TEMPORARY LICENSE — Granted Robert L. Guevara, 96 Cypress Avenue, temporary permission to connect to the city sewer system with the understanding he will apply immediately for annexation to the city. The council approved the hook-up because of "emergency circumstances," since Guevara's septic tank failed yesterday.

AGREEMENT — Signed an agreement with the state to enable the city to obtain $92,000 in flood relief to pay for damages caused by flooding in February.

75 Teachers Ask Pay Hike At Meeting

More than 75 teachers showed up last night at the Mill Valley School District board meeting to support the district teachers association's demands for an additional 3 per cent salary increase, Supt. James A. Collins reported.

In negotiations held Oct. 7, board representatives rejected the teachers request for the additional hike on top of a 5 per cent raise granted in June.

Collins said the board last night received several letters from residents requesting an open discussion of the salary issue at the board meeting.

Mill Valley Teachers Association representatives noted the district had dropped from 29th place in Bay Area salary scale two years ago to 52nd place this year. Last year, Mill Valley salaries ranked 41st in the Bay Area.

Teachers argued the drop was part of a steady decline in salaries which should be stopped now, Collins said.

Answering teachers was Trustee Joseph E. Bodovitz who said that while present salaries are low on the Bay Area scale Mill Valley ranks third in Marin County elementary schools in beginning salaries and top in the county in its top salaries.

Chairman William P. Everts said negotiations with teachers would continue at 8 p.m. Nov. 4 at a location to be set.

Planner Hit Over Fees In Petaluma

Petaluma Planning Director William C. McGivern was accused by a member of the city council last night of improperly charging a fee for a zoning charge and using threatening tactics in connection with the rezoning.

Vice Mayor John W. Cavanagh Jr. said that Chester Elliott of 311 Oak Street had been called into the planning office about changing the zoning at his residence from neighborhood commercial (grocery store) to residential to conform with neighborhood uses.

Cavanagh said the family should not have been charged the $50 rezoning fee since the change had been requested by the planning staff.

Cavanagh also charged that McGivern used threatening tactics in requesting the zone change application.

Mayor Helen Putnam urged Cavanagh to hold his complaints until McGivern could be present; the planning director had left the meeting after planning items on the agenda were completed.

Other council members declared the issue not important enough to discuss at 12:30 a.m. and voted a resolution to return the $50 fee to Elliott.

The Petaluma City Council also:

INSPECTIONS — Heard a report on the need for an ordinance requiring health permits for food handling enterprises and increased inspections by the county health department.

AMBULANCE — Heard Fire Chief Roscoe A. Benton report that Hillcrest Hospital had requested purchase of portable ambulance equipment for treatment of heart attacks. Cost was set at $2,650, with a report pending on possible joint financing.

LOITERING — Adopted an ordinance prohibiting lying or sleeping on any street, sidewalk or public place.

WALL — Awarded a contract to Hughes and Graves at a low bid of $2,780 to plaster and paint the wall of the 88 Cent Store on Petaluma Boulevard that was damaged by work on the Washington Street Bridge approach.

JOINT MEETING — Set a joint meeting with the planning commission for Nov. 3 at 7:30 p.m. for a report on plans to develop apartments on North McDowell Boulevard adjacent to Lucchesi Park.

VETERANS — Donated $50 to the veterans council for the Nov. 11 Veterans' Day program.

PARADES — Approved parade permits for the Petaluma Boys' Club parade Saturday; Petaluma High School bicycle parade on Oct. 31 and St. Vincent de Paul High School car parade on Nov. 1.

GAS TAX — Set a study session for Monday at 7:30 p.m. to establish a list of projects to be completed with gas tax moneys.

No Charges In Marijuana Probe

No charge was filed yesterday in Marin Municipal Court against Noel K. Jewkes, 29, of San Rafael, who was arrested Sunday on suspicion of marijuana possession. The case will be investigated furthur by the district attorney's office, a spokesman said.

Jewkes was arrested by sheriff's deputies on two traffic warrants from other counties when he was found parked near Shoreline Highway. He had a vegetable substance in his pocket which he told deputies was a "marijuana cake," they said.

Dinis Denies Report On Kopechne Autopsy

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis took the witness stand today to contradict earlier testimony by an associate medical examiner who said Dinis had told him he did not think an autopsy on the body of Mary Jo Kopechne was necessary.

Dinis said he had first sought an autopsy on July 20, one day after the young woman's body was recovered from Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's automobile in a tidal pond on Chappaquiddick Island.

By that time, Dinis said, Miss Kopechne's body already had been flown to Pennsylvania for burial in nearby Larksville.

Dinis testified before Judge Bernard C. Brominski of Common Pleas Court in the second day of a hearing on Dinis' petition to have the body of the 28-year-old secretary exhumed for an autopsy.

He says an autopsy is vital to an inquest he has scheduled into her death.

Dr. Donald R. Mills, associate medical examiner for Dukes County, Mass., testified yesterday about a telephone conversation he had with Denis "on Thursday, July 24 or thereabouts."

Mills quoted Dinis as saying: "Mills, you're quite sure of your diagnosis of death by drowning?"

"My answer was, I certainly am," Mills said.

"Then Dinis said 'I don't think an autopsy is necessary, do you?' and I answered 'No I don't,'" Mills testified.

Dinis today denied he had discussed the advisability of an autopsy with Mills. He said he only discussed whether or not the physician was satisfied with his findings.

After testifying, Dinis asked the judge to take "judicial notice of two statements made by Senator Kennedy—one handwritten, made to the police after the accident, and the other a week later over nationwide television.

"You all know that the court doesn't take judicial notice of statements made by anyone, directly or indirectly concerned in a case in court," Brominsky said.

He denied the request for admission of the police statement but took under advisement the offer for admission of the television address.

Joseph A. Flanagan, attorney for Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Kopechne of Berkeley Heights, N.J., went ahead with his case.

Kopechne followed Dinis to the stand and said he and his wife "are unalterably opposed to the exhumation and autopsy of our daughter's body."

Asked why, Kopechne replied: "After hearing the testimony in this court, we feel now, more than ever, that we don't want an autopsy. It would be just like another funeral for us.

"We've had it.

"We feel they had a chance for an autopsy, but it wasn't performed and we absolutely don't want it now. We see no value on it."

Later, Dr. Werner Spitz, a deputy medical examiner for the state of Maryland, testified that an autopsy on Miss Kopechne "would absolutely yield no conclusive evidence."

His testimony was in support of the Kopechne's fight to prevent the autopsy on their daughter.

John J. Kielty, a Plymouth, Pa., undertaker, said he had received the body at 2:30 p.m. on July 20 at the Scranton-Wilkes-Barre Airport.

He said he had contacted the Massachusetts mortician the day before, after he had spoken to Mrs. Kopechne and asked that the body be transported to Pennsylvania "at the fastest rate of speed."

During Dinis testimony, Flanagan objected strenuously as Dinis sought to give his reasons for pursuing the investigation and the need for an autopsy.

Marijuana Haul Suspect Nabbed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Two Bay Area men were arrested in Golden Gate Park yesterday for possession of nearly 800 pounds of marijuana flown into the U.S. from Mexico.

Stephen Alfred Gadberry, 26, Berkeley, and Jermaine M. Haili, no age, Oakland, were arraigned before U.S. Commissioner Richard Goldsmith on charges of transporting and concealing marijuana, as well as conspiracy. Goldsmith set bail at $25,000 for Haili and $15,000 for Gadberry.

Customs agents said the marijuana—packed in 19 duffel bags and weighing 794 pounds—was flown from Mexico to Tulare, put in a van and brought to San Francisco.

Burglary Thwarted

Burglars using a pipe wrench to smash a stockroom door lock at Modern Eve Dress Shop, 1021 Fourth Street, between 6 p.m. Sunday and 10:30 a.m. Monday failed to gain entry because of additional locks which held the door secure, San Rafael police reported today.

Yachting Mecca Burns In Delta

WALNUT GROVE (UPI)—The Boon-Dox Botel, a popular docking place and hotel for yachtsmen in the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta, was virtually destroyed early today in a fire which threatened the entire downtown area.

No injuries were reported.

Fire units from nearby Isleton, Cortland and Rio Vista joined local volunteer firemen in battling the blaze in the three-story building located between the post office and a hardware store.

Boat Parade Entries

The deadline for entries in the Nov. 2 boat parade on San Rafael Canal is Oct. 28, not today as erroneously reported in yesterday's Independent-Journal. The parade is sponsored by the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce as part of its Marine Holiday. Entries must be submitted to the chamber offices at 824 Fifth Avenue.

Workers Refuse Swedish Goods

LOURENCO MARQUES, Mozambique (AP) — Protesting Sweden's financial support of an African nationalist movement in northern Mozambique and Angola, about 5,000 African dock workers refused to handle Swedish cargo yesterday and demonstrated instead.

They paraded past the Swedish consulate carrying Portuguese flags and shouting anti-Swedish slogans, then marched to the harbor and persuaded other dock workers to stop unloading a Swedish freighter.

Mayor Emilio Mertens told the workers in a speech outside the town hall: "Do not allow Swedish ships to dock here. Do not load or unload them."

Park Appoints New Key Aides

SEOUL (AP) — President Chung Hee Park today named six new cabinet ministers, a new chief of the secret police and a chief presidential secretary but kept Premier Chung Il Kwon and other cabinet members in office.

Chung and the cabinet resigned yesterday to give Park a free hand in reorganizing the government after the 2-to-1 adoption last week of a constitutional amendment permitting the president to run for a third term in 1971.

Park appointed former Gen. Kim Ke-won to head the powerful Central Intelligence Agency, the secret police.

Trade Stamps Theft

Blue chips valued at $40 were stolen from a bottom drawer in the unlocked office of the Spinner Mobile Service station at Second and Irwin Street Friday between 8 p.m. and midnight, San Rafael police reported today.

Moscow Promotes Cosmonaut Trio

MOSCOW (AP) — Three of the seven Soviet cosmonauts who orbited in three spaceships last week have been promoted to full colonels, a Soviet newspaper disclosed today.

A correspondent for Red Star, organ of the defense ministry, reported from the Baikonur space center in Soviet central Asia that Georgy Shonin, Anatoly Filipchenko and Viktor Gorbatko were promoted from lieutenant colonel.

Of the others on the troika flight, Vladimir Shatalov already had been promoted to full colonel after a manned space shot last January and the remaining three cosmonauts were civilians.

Undersea Nuclear Ban Due Rewrite

GENEVA (AP) — In the face of mounting criticism, the United States and the Soviet Union have agreed to revise their draft treaty to ban nuclear weapons from the seabed, informed sources said today.

The disclosure came as Britain added its voice to a growing number of critics of the original U.S.-Soviet proposal now being debated by the 25-nation disarmament conference in Geneva.

The sources said the new U.S.-Soviet draft would be submitted later this week in an effort to win conference approval to the document before the current session of the talks ends Oct. 31. It was not known specifically how the draft would be changed.

Substitute Teachers Will Meet Tomorrow

The Marin County Substitute Teachers Association will hold its first general meeting on the new school year at 3:45 p.m. tomorrow in the board of supervisors chambers at Civic Center.

Artelle Farley, art teacher and supervisor of student teaching at Dominican College, will offer art ideas for holiday planning followed by a business meeting during which workshops and group health insurance will be discussed.

Sausalito Schools Facing Rainy Days

Faced with the hard fact that most of its undistributed reserves have already been distributed, the Sausalito School District board last night declared a moratorium on spending in certain areas, froze hiring on new personnel and raised the strong possibility one of its schools would be closed next year.

The board also was told by Supt. Phillip W. Schneider there would be "sharp cuts" in the number of teachers employed by the district next year.

A gloomy financial picture painted by asst. supt. Joseph Amato led the board to declare a freeze on spending on new equipment and nonfixed capital outlay unless there is an emergency or the board approves the expenditure.

The district's administration also was instructed to allow the teaching staff to be reduced this year by attrition and make plans for a significantly reduced staff next year.

Amato's figures showed that, largely due to a drop in enrollment of more than 100 children, the district will get $39,518 less in income in the form of taxes and state aid. Additionally, he told the board, expenses have increased by $45,901 since the 1969-70 budget was adopted.

These changes have the effect of reducing the district's reserves from an anticipated $100,000 to about $15,000, a figure acting board president David E. Freedheim described as dangerously low.

Board member C. Gerald Clear was equally pessimistic, saying, "It is going to be significantly worse next year." He said it now looks as if the district will go into the next fiscal year with virtually no reserve.

Trustee James E. Muldoon agreed with the moratorium on spending but added that the board "should take a long range look . . . at personnel." He said the board particularly must take "a long, hard look" at the special positions in the district which may be desirable but too expensive.

Schneider called the closing next year of one of the district's four schools — either Bayside or Central — a "real possibility." He and Freedheim both said it was expensive to maintain four separate sites and suggested an intense review of building use be made.

Schneider said that in view of the district's tight financial pinch, he would spend money available on academic programs rather than paying for facilities which might not be necessary.

Schneider also said he and Amato would plan next year's budget on the basis of eliminating several teaching positions to bring the pupil-teacher ratio at all four schools up to 25 students to one teacher.

Currently, he said only kindergarten and fourth grade were at the economical ratio while ratios in other grades went as low as 15.75 pupils per teacher.

He offered no exact figures on the number of teachers who will not be rehired except to say there would be "a large number."

The Sausalito School District Board Also:

CLOSED SESSION — Held a closed session on what Freedheim said was a charge against a teacher at Martin Luther King School. No action was taken, he said.

ETHNIC — Received a report from Amato on the ethnic distribution of children in the district, showing it has nine Spanish, 325 white, 336 black, 17 Oriental, one American Indian and three other nonwhite pupils.

MEETINGS — Set its next three meetings for 7:30 p.m. on Oct. 27, Nov. 10 and Nov. 24 at the district's offices.

GRADE-LEVEL — Announced that a meeting of administration, board members, parents, teachers and students for the fifth grade at Martin Luther King School would be held at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the library.

POLICE — Suggested a letter of appreciation be sent to the Sausalito Police Department for its efforts to set up a police-school relations program and for its cooperation in watching school buses during the current scare over the Zodiac killer.

Coaches Post Pay Demands In Novato

Novato schools, which have gained quite a reputation on the athletic field, may be without coaches the first part of next month.

That was the threat leveled at the Novato Unified School District board last night by James D. Vanderbeets, president of the newly formed Coaches Association of Novato Schools.

The association is asking an increase of $12,326 to $28,346 per year in total coaching fees received above regular wages. Of the 80 coaches in the district, each receives between $180 and $360 per year for extra duties.

Board members were sympathetic to the request until Vanderbeets threatened to stop all coaching at the end of the football season unless their demands were met last night.

Vanderbeets said that all of the coaches except one woman had signed an agreement to stop coaching if their demands were not met immediately.

TRUSTEES IRED

When tempers flared over that, the board called a short recess. Earlier, Trustee William Schneeflock made a motion to consider the increases in two weeks after the board received an expected financial report.

After the board reassembled, Vanderbeets asked for a special meeting on the issue this week.

There was some discussion of how negotiations should be conducted. Donald White, president of the Novato Teachers Association, said he could call a special meeting of the district negotiating council tomorrow.

Vanderbeets held firm, saying he wanted an answer this week.

Schneeflock said that such an attitude "Riled his anger." He said he would not attend a special meeting of the board, if called.

Schneeflock's motion to consider the increases in two weeks, then carried 4-2, with Trustees Dan H. Barber and Merritt B. Boisevain against and Irving D. Chapman Jr. absent.

RESERVES ESTIMATED

Dist. Supt. James G. Bunker said the district probably would have about $57,000 in undistributed reserves in its current budget because of a drop in enrollment.

"I don't seen being threatened and having to spend one quarter of our undistributed reserves without having the legal question on who is to negotiate and without having the financial report before us," Schneeflock said.

"I'll take this back to the coaches," Vanderbeets said. (He later said he could not predict the outcome of a meeting with the coaches.)

The board held a 50-minute closed session after the regular meeting to discuss with Bunker fee negotiations with the coaches.

Commercial Center Plans To Be Studied

The Marin City Development Corp's commercial center plans for Marin City will be discussed by the Marin County Redevelopment Agency at its 8:30 p.m. meeting tomorrow at Manzanita Center.

The Marin County Housing Authority will meet at the center at 7:30 p.m. to review its leased housing program policy and to set a date for a public hearing on amendments to the authority's occupancy policy.

Rent Strike Talk

A proposed rent strike by tenants of Oak Knolls in Marin City will be discussed at a public meeting called by the renters for tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Manzanita Center, Marin City.

Sausalito School Aide Pay Report Criticized

Sausalito School Supt. Phillip W. Schneider last night labeled "inaccurate" an Independent-Journal story Saturday reporting that James T. Toliver Jr., special assistant to the principal and staff at Martin Luther King School, had received a $2,500 per year pay raise he demanded last June.

Schneider, at the board meeting last night, said the I-J reporter had not "bothered" to call him about the issue and maintained Toliver's raise actually amounted to $1,524 — from the $12,500 set by the board on July 22, 1968, to $14,024, the current level.

He also said the increase was 12.2 per cent, not 22.5 per cent as reported the I-J.

The superintendent admitted he had erred in not including the board's action on Toliver's salary in any of the minutes of the board's meetings this summer. "That was my mistake," he said. He claimed, however, that a copy of the working lite-item budget including the $14,024 salary was available at his office for press perusal before it was passed.

In minutes of the board's adoption of the final budget on Aug. 4, there was no mention of anyone getting a raise beyond 7.5 per cent included in the budget. Additionally, Asst. Supt. Joseph Amato told an I-J reporter in the last week in August, in answer to a direct question about Toliver's salary, that he had receive the 7.5 per cent hike other administrators got.

Amato yesterday said he was mistaken. Both he and Schneider said Toliver was the only employee of the district other than Schneider himself whose salary is still on a "negotiated basis." Schneifer said this resulted from the fact that Toliver's position was a new position not fitting a specific category.

Toliver is not officially classifed as an administrator since he does not have an administrative credential.

Last year, the school district office's copy of Toliver's contract carried the notation that the salary was set by the board at a board meeting on July 22. A similar notation was not on this year's contract, although there is a statement, as on all contracts, that "official record of this employment appears in the minutes of the governing board under the date of July 1." There is no such notice in the minutes.

The mathematics involved in how Toliver's salary increase is figured are somewhat complicated. Amato explained yesterday that prior to the board's 1968 action increasing his salary to $12,500, Toliver was paid on a teaching scale — the D-5 level — at $9,224 yearly on a 9.5 month basis. Then the salary was increased to $12,500 — because of the increased duties of the position. This figure, Amato explained, is a factor 1.355 of the original salary. Amato said he used this factor in figuring the 1969-70 salary for Toliver.

It went like this: Toliver was moved from the teaching scale to the administrative scale, plus gaining a year more experience and moving to the D-6 classification and an 11-month year. This reaised his base pay on the scale to $10,350. Amato then applied the 1.355 factor to that figure and the resulting figure was $14,024, the salary Toliver got.

A line item giving Toliver's salary at that figure was included in the last four working budgets given the board before approval and board members last night indicated they were aware of what Toliver's salary would be.

"We knew what we were doing," Freedheim said after the meeting last night. "There was no attempt to conceal anything. It was right there (on the working budgets) and it was discussed several times." He and Schneider both said no action on Toliver's salary ever was taken in closed session although both said the salary and the position were discussed in closed sessions.

Martha Freebairn-Smith, responding to Schneider's explanation, said last night, "That's exactly what I remember." Turstee James E. Muldoon also did not challenge Schneider's account. Both had served on a committee on administrative salaries.

Citizens Hit Dedication Street Idea

A proposed policy of the Petaluma City Council requiring street improvements and right-of-way dedication by property owners seeking to improve their lands was assailed last night as unconstitutional and a means of blackmail.

A council committee, composed of Councilmen Albert L. Battaglia, David W. Brainerd and Phillip L. Joerger, reported to the council it had met earlier to consider the policy but after hearing a storm of protests, agreed to continue deliberations.

The policy, supported by Battaglia and Brainerd, would require property owners to provide curbs, gutters, sidewalks and other street improvements, as well as dedicate right-of-way land for future street widening, when a new use is going to be made of their property.

Althought the policy would apply to the entire city, property owners on East Washington Street took the action personally and said it was a means of taking their land without compensation.

Many said they had homes on East Washington, but planned to change them to commercial someday.

One of the sharpest critics, Stewart Curtis, said it was blackmail to require dedication before a building permit was issued.

Kenneth L. Colin, former vice mayor, called the policy discriminatory because not all properties on East Washington would be involved in proposed widening of the street.

Colin said the widening was necessary, but asserted that new businesses were not responsible for the additional traffic. He said the subdivisions east of Highway 101 were the villains.

"This street problem has been caused by everyone in the community and the whole city should pay for it and not just the property owners abutting the street," Colin said.

Novato Teachers Association Now Key Bargaining Agent

The Novato Teachers Association, an affiliate of the California Teachers Association, last night earned the right over the American Federation of Teachers to carry on salary negotiations with the Novato Unified School District.

In past years, the district negotiating council has consisted of nine members by mutual consent of the board and the Novato Teachers Association. Last spring, one member of the council was named from the AFT. This representative subsequently objected to much of the negotiations.

Last night, the board recognized that the NTA had 475 paid members and the AFT only 13.

The board then voted to reduce membership on the negotiating council from nine to seven at the request of Donald White, president of the NTA. White said that nine members, along with the administrators, made an unwieldy committee.

One of those dropped will be the AFT representative, the board indicated, because it said no organization should be represented on the council unless it had at least 50 certified members.

The NTA also was recognized last night as sole bargaining agent for the teachers.

The Novato Unified School District Board also:

BUS — Awarded Nave Dodge a $2,988 contract for a minibus on the lowest of two bids. A third bid did not meet specifications.

ENROLLMENT — Heard a report that the growth rate of the district has dropped and that the district probably would have enough classrooms for another two school years.

COMMITTEE — Named Steven Doran, a senior at Novato High School; Craig Joslin, a senior at San Marin High School; John C. Lee of 555 Wilson Avenue; Ernest A. Stevens of 250 Shevlin Road and William K. Mayo of 1628 Center Road to the multiethnic studies committee. This completes the committee of 17 citizens and two students.

SUMMER SCHOOL — Received a report on the summer school that emphasized the reading and conservation projects.

VOTED — Supported Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. of the San Rafael Board of Education, Eleanor Nettle of the San Mateo Junior College district board and Alan Nichols of the San Francisco Unified School District board for the Delegate Assembly of the California School Boards Association.

Santa Cruz Duo Held To Answer

Kent Allie Fishburn, 22, and Jeffrey Glyn Conti, 21, both of Santa Cruz, were bound over to Marin Superior Court yesterday on a charge of marijuana possession after a preliminary hearing in municipal court.

Conti said yesterday that this is his true name. He had given the name of Jeffrey Raymond Bates when arrested.

The two men were arrested Sept. 10 when the California Highway Patrol stopped their car for speeding. They said that a box in the rear of the station wagon contained marijuana and reefer butts.

$4,000 Mink Coat Reported Missing

A mink coat valued at $4,000 has disappeared from the possessions of Aurora Porro, who died of burns suffered during a fire in her Kentfield home, 17 Elm Avenue, last month, her sister has reported.

Linda M. Mouaux of San Francisco told sheriff's deputies Friday the coat had disappeared either from the house where the fire occurred or a reported place of storage in a nearby cottage.

Two Teen-Agers Hear Charges

Martin James Fleischman, 19, of 9 West Shore Road, Belvedere, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of possessing marijuana and narcotics paraphernalia Oct. 8.

His case was continued until next Monday for setting of a preliminary hearing.

Another youth who was arrested with Fleischman, Joseph Whitfield Royer III, 19, of 27 West Shore Road, was arraigned on a charge of possessing alcohol as a minor.

The pair was arrested by Tiburon sheriff's deputies at Town and Country Shopping Center for a defective taillight on their car. Deputies said one of them threw a package containing what appeared to be hashish out of the car.

Signs Hearing

A public hearing on proposed changes in the sign ordinance will be held by the Corte Madera Planning Commission at 8 p.m. Thursday at town hall.

Girl's Case Refused By Juvenile Court

The case of Deolinda Francesca Phillips, 19, of Sausalito, was not accepted by Marin Juvenile Court, as was reported yesterday in municipal court.

A preliminary hearing was set for Nov. 6 for Miss Phillips, who is accused of possessing amphetamine and attempting to obtain drugs with another person's prescription on Aug. 14.

General Recalled, May Face Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has abruptly recalled a general from Europe to the Pentagon for what may be further sensational testimony in a Senate investigation of military graft.

The Army said Brig. Gen. Earl F. Cole was being reassigned indefinitely to Washington "in connection with the current Senate hearings on alleged irregularities" in noncommissioned officers' club operations.

The Army didn't go further officially, but Pentagon sources said Cole's name has figured in military reports on the irregularities which have been turned over to a subcommittee headed by Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn.

Committee sources said Cole, who turned 50 today and is a native of Madison County, Neb., is expected to be questioned although he has not yet been subpoenaed.

Ribicoff's panel is scheduled to resume hearings tomorrow.

Ferry Draws Fire In Corte Madera

The Corte Madera Town Council last night firmly opposed the proposal of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District to go into the ferryboat business instead of operating commputer buses.

The councilmen, led by Mayor Edward W. Colthurst, also objected to the district's plan for putting a single Marin ferry terminal somewhere on Corte Mader's waterfront.

Councilman Harold B. Wagstaff, who finally voted with his fellow councilmen to oppose the terminal, said first, however, that this might be a way to acquire boating facilities for the area for other than ferryboats.

Colthurst emphasized, however, that he favors a high speed bus system in addition to ferryboats.

He called the action of the bridge district last week in voting 8-3 in favor of only ferryboats, "un-neighborly, to say the least."

The three other councilmen present last night (Robert P. Simmons was out of town) voted with him to support the improvement of bus transportation between San Francisco and Marin, as described in a plan adopted by the Marin County Transit District in August.

The council also endorsed a balanced bus and ferry system and unanimously opposed the location of a ferry terminal in Corte Madera.

In other action last night, the council approved the "bicycle route concept" as proposed by the Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission and selected Paradise Drive, San Clemente Avenue and the eastern Highway 101 frontage road as the best route through Corte Madera to Greenbrae.

The Corte Madera Council Also:

HEARING — Set Nov. 3 for a hearing on a proposed amendment to the zoning ordinance regarding parking space standards.

FOTOMAT — Also scheduled for Nov. 3 a hearing on an appeal by the Fotomat Corp. of Burlingame for design approval for a store in the Co-op parking lot which was denied by the planning commission.

APPOINTMENT — Appointed William R. Bremmer to fill a vacancy on the sanitary commission.

TURFING — Awarded a contract to A. and J. Shooter for $14,292 for turfing the east section of Town Park. (The bid was $500 below the engineer's estimate.)

NOMINEE — Voted to back Councilman Homes S. Norville as a nominee to the Bay Conservation and Development Commission.

Six Arrested In Gun Fight Out Of Jail

Six men arrested Sunday night after a brief gun battle in Marin City were released from Marin County Jail yesterday when no charges were filed in municipal court pending more complete investigation of the fracas by the sheriff's department.

Dismissed were Jerry Ray Wade, 19, of San Rafael, and Hayward L. Coleman, 18; Henry McGee, 21; Harry Lee Shorter, 23; Harker Shorter, 19, and Iraminter Shorter, 22, all of San Francisco.

They had all been booked on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon, discharging a firearm and conspiracy.

Deputies said they were arrested after about a dozen heavily armed deputies surrounded the building at 419 Drake Avenue, where supposedly two groups composed mainly of San Franciscans were shooting at each other.

The trouble reportedly started after a group from San Francisco beat a Marin City man.

Negro May Lead Oakland Schools

OAKLAND (AP) — The board of education is asking a Negro to become superintendent of Oakland schools.

Board members voted yesterday to offer the post to Ercell Watson, 48, now superintendenot of the Trenton, N.J., School District.

If Watson should agree to succeed Stuart Phillips, who resigned last year, he would become the first Negro superintendent of a large urban district in California.

Sonoma Puts Deadline On Green Belts

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Board of Supervisors yesterday ruled that requests for agricultural preserve already received will be processed for the usual seven-year minimum, but new applications must meet the new 10-year limitation.

Preparing to meet new state standards, the supervisors heard reports that applications submitted now could not be processed in time to meet the Nov. 10 cutoff date when minumums will be raised.

Planning and legal staff members were urged to hurry the processing of applications already turned in so that property owners could benefit from the less stringent regulations. Under the new plan, properties must remain in agricultural preserve for 10 years, but could be withdrawn upon paying 12.5 per cent of the market value of the property.

Supervisor George T. De Long of Petaluma said he was concerned about the entire agricultural preserve concept and said it had inhibited growth in Southern Sonoma.

"Petaluma is now a boom town, but years ago people couldn't forsee the end to chickens and cows," De Long said, adding that property which could be used to benefit the community is now tied up in preserves.

Under the old provision, land could not be withdrawn until the seven years had elapsed, but after Nov. 10, property owners can agree to the new 10-year contract form and later be released by paying the 12.5 per cent charge.

The Sonoma County Board of Supervisors also:

CONDEMNATION —Authorized the acquisition and condemnation of the Victor Sikes property which abuts the Washington Creek channel, Petaluma. All other property owners had dedicated the necessary land to widen the channel.

APPOINTMENT — Named supervisor De Long as a member of the board of directors of the California Marine Parks and Harbors Association, Inc.

BLOOMFIELD — Accepted right-of-way deeds from two property owners on Bloomfield Road for future road widening. Purchases were from Mr. and Mrs. Emile V. Ditwell at $840 and Mr. and Mrs. William C. Mikulik for $850.

Auto Show Nets $2,000

The fourth annual Town and Country Village Auto Show in Mill Valley Sunday netted about $2,000 for the Patient's Artificial Kidney Foundation Inc., the group's vice president, Joseph G. Alvarez of San Anselmo, reported yesterday.

Hickel Backs Credit Idea For Point Reyes

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The federal government should adopt the instaliment plan to buy new park lands like the Point Reyes National Seashore, Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel said yesterday.

But he conceded that his installment plan could not be acted on in time for buying Point Reyes land.

Congress authorized the 54,000-acre seashore tract north of the Golden Gate in Marin County in 1962. But so far it has appropriated funds enough to buy only 23,000 acres.

Bills now before Congress would provide $38 million to buy 31,000 acres of private land remaining within the park boundaries.

With authority to make land purchase deals extending over 20 or 30 years, the Interior Department could acquire far more valuable open space lands than is now possible, Hickel told a news conference.

Hickel said putting the bite on Congress for the full purchase price in a single payment is tough with the Nixon administration committed to holding down government spending.

Hickel refused to agree, however, that the Point Reyes lands would be lost to home subdivision development by land owners unable to wait longer for Congress to act.

Pressed to say how and when Point Reyes money would be provided, Hickel said he didn't have an answer.

He reported the Interior Department's land and water conservation fund now exceeds $200 million, but has been frozen by the budget director.

The Interior Department proposes spending from this fund, built by park entrance fees and offshore oil royalties. But Hickel said congressional approval is required.

The problem with Point Reyes is that it must compete for priority with several other park land acquisitions authorized by Congress over the last 10 years without appropriations to pay for them, he said.

He declared the priority should go to open space areas near heavy population centers, as Point Reyes is.

He said the Interior Department would be willing to take over Alcatraz Island as a national monument if that were the final decision by San Francisco's public.

He said there should be no haste in determining what to do with Alcatraz, and that San Francisco public sentiment should decide it.

Okinawa Pact Reported Ready

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Japan have reached an understanding for the return of Okinawa to Tokyo's administrative control by 1972 while maintaining the U.S. military base on the island, official sources say.

The agreement will call for taking U.S. nuclear weapons off the island, held by the United States since the Japanese defeat in World War II, according to the officials.

President Richard M. Nixon and Japanese Prime Minister Eisaku Sato plan to issue a joint statement about the transfer when they conclude their Nov. 19-21 meeting in Washington, the officials said.

It will provide the date and the conditions to be embodied in a formal agreement negotiated after the Sato-Nixon meeting.

Nobody gives you more styling, more performance and more luxury at LeMans Sport price.

There's an economical 250-cubic-inch, overhead-valve engine, standard. Buckets, carpeting and durable Morrokide interior, standard. Fiberglass-belted tires, for greater mileage, standard. Steel beams in the doors for improved side impact protection, standard. And a new look that says this is all Wide-Track. That's standard with Pontiac. A standard others keep trying to catch up to.

For the money, you could end up with a lot less car. And have a lot less fun driving.

So, come see LeMans Sport. Drive it. You'll like the way the seventies are starting out.

THE ANNUAL Sausalito Nursery House tour on Oct. 29 will feature four houses and a bachelor apartment. Three of the scenes visitors will see are, from left, the country style kitchen of the Paul Lempio home, in which two of the nursery school mothers who will act as hostesses modeling clothes from a Sausalito shop posed in high fashion magazine style. They are Mrs. James Neely, left, and Mrs. Raymond Sparrow. Center is the authentic Finnish Sauna of the Lempios home, in which Mrs. Neely illustrates how water is ladled over hot rocks. At right is the kitchen of the Joseph Kane residence, which is built on the foundations of the old Hearst mansion. Admiring up-to-the-minute facilities in the room whose central interest is a red brick fireplace with indoor barbecue and rotisserie are, from left, Mrs. James Muldoon and Mrs. Lennart Ekman. Five Sausalito Residences Open For Tour

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Highlight of the annual Sausalito Nursery School house tour on Oct. 29 will be the luxurious contemporary house built on the foundations of the famed William Randolph Hearst mansion.

The medieval looking, castle-like foundations are a major point of interest on the Bridgeway Street waterfront in Sausalito. The place has never before been open to the public.

The house tour, which is the major fall fund-raising event for the Nursery School, will include four houses, both remodeled — old and modern, and a contemporary bachelor apartment.

Tickets will be sold for two starting times, 12:30 p.m. and 2:30 p.m. Shuttle buses will leave from the Trident restaurant in Sausalito, and guests will return there for a champagne reception at the conclusion of the tour.

Tour chairman is Mrs. Robert Dunkel of Mill Valley, and nursery school mothers will act as hostesses in the homes, wearing fashions from various Sausalito shops.

Tickets may be purchased from any of the nursery school mothers or from Mrs. Richard Bettencourt in Sausalito.

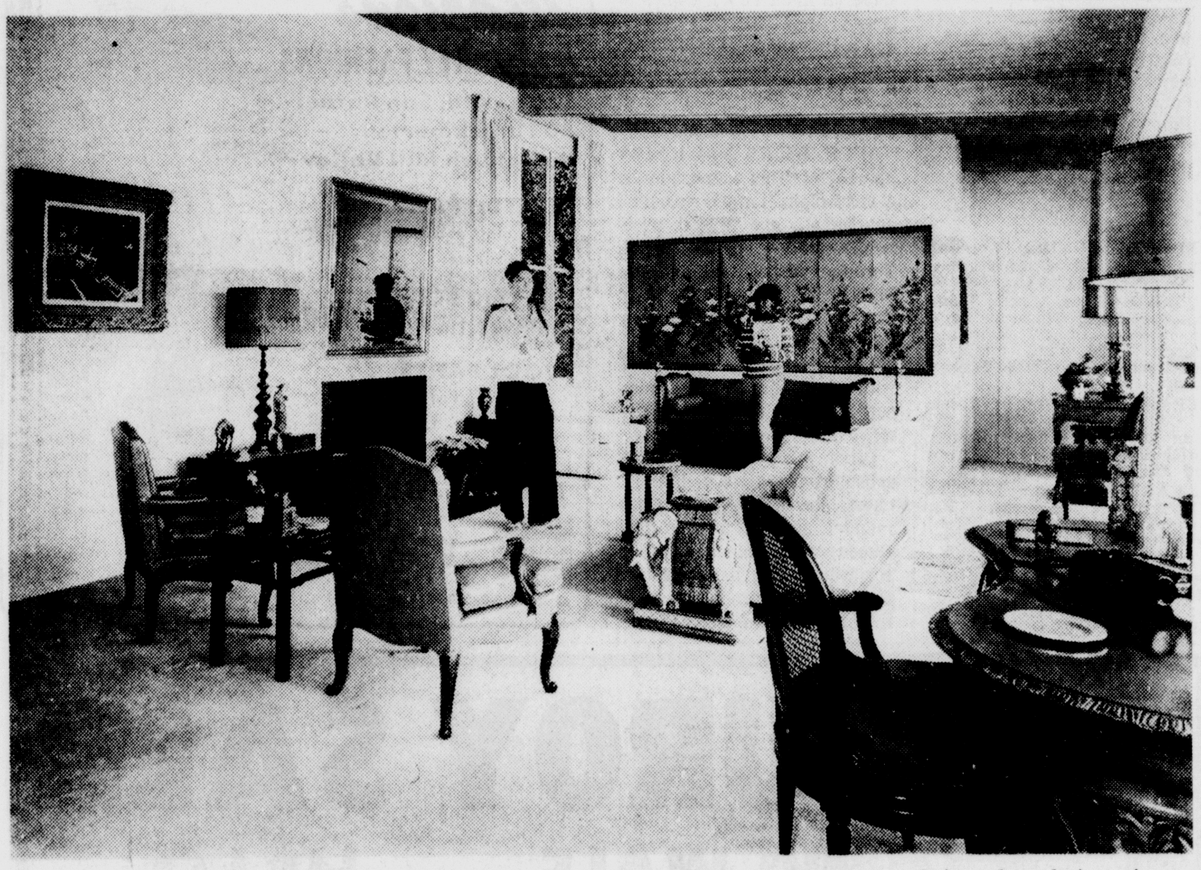
These are the homes on the tour, together with some of the points of interest.

THE JOSEPH KANE RESIDENCE. This is the beautiful modern home built in 1954 for Dr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Wiper by architect Joseph Esherick on the foundations of the William Randolph Hearst mansion. These foundations were constructed in 1890 by Hearst. He lived in a large, turreted Victorian house, which formerly stood up the hill from the present house, while he was editor and publisher of the San Francisco Examiner bought for him by his father, George Hearst.

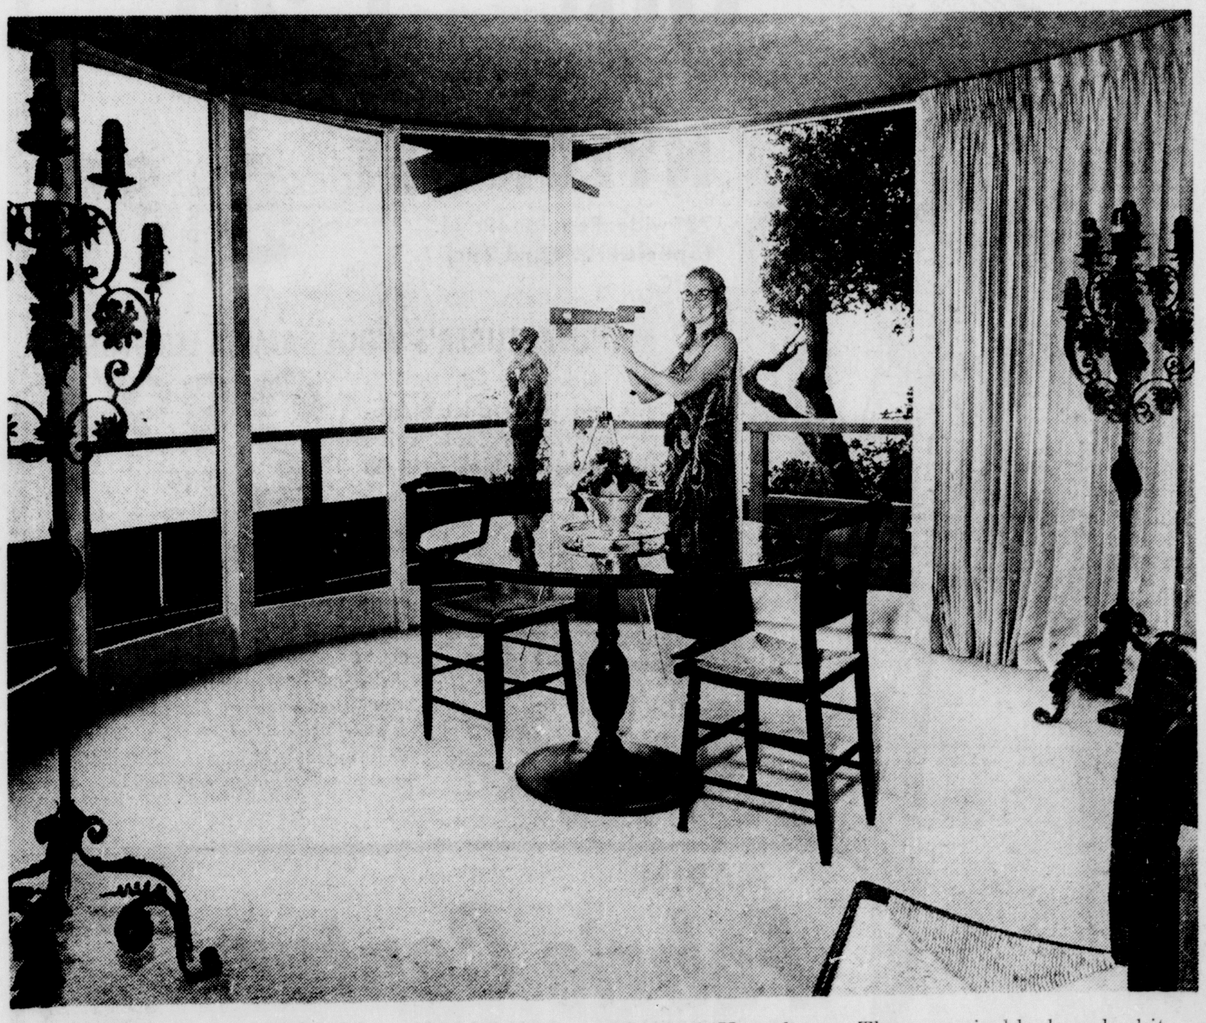
One of the trap doors leading down to the turret rooms in the foundation will be open the day of the tour. Now used for storage, they were used as actual rooms in the past.

Almost the whole front of the present house is glass opening onto a spacious deck to take advantage of the spectacular panorama of the bay. The kitchen with an indoor barbecue and rotisserie and adjoining breakfast room are of special interest.

House furnishings include European and American antiques, several of them the family heirlooms, and there are European, Oriental and American art objects.



THIS LIVING room of the Joseph Kane residence opens onto a spacious deck commanding a spectacular panorama of the bay. The room is furnished European and American antiques and decor predominantly in orange, black, white and gold includes European, Oriental and American art works. Standing by the black marble fireplace is Mrs. Joaquina Dupen. She and Mrs. William Freeman, right, will be among hostesses for the tour that will end with a champagne reception at the newly redecorated Trident restaurant.



MRS. ROBERT W. Dunkel, chairman for the Oct. 29 Sausalito Nursery School house tour, is impressed with the view from the extraordinary floor-to-ceiling glass circular dining room of the Joseph Kane home. The room in black and white is balanced at the other end of the adjoining living room with an identical circular room used for television or, when required, as a guest bedroom.

THE PAUL LEMPIO residence. This home was built in 1932, but it has been remodeled in extraordinary contemporary Scandinavian style with many Finnish ideas since the owners are of that ancestry. Mrs. Lempio planned much of the decor.

Unique is the authentic sauna downstairs and women will be especially charmed by the large country style kitchen in white and various shades of blue. An unusual room is the billiard room with Tiffany period lamp over the table and Ryyiy rung decorating the wall.

Other interesting things are formal dining furniture made to order for Mrs. Lempio and a handsome antique brass bed.

THE MELVIN Brown residence. Originally a one-bedroom cottage 45 years ago, reached by a foot path, this home is now the result of additions by various owners. The Browns bought it two and a half years ago and completely remodeled it according to their own plans. It has landscaping by Katy and Paul Steinmetz of San Rafael.

Among the furnishings designed by Mrs. Brown, an interior decorator of note, are liv-

HELEN HELP US!

Confess Being Sneaky To Parents Instead Of Blackmailing Brother

DEAR HELEN:

I am 13, and quite mature for my age, but after last night, I'm not sure.

You see, I have a steady but we aren't allowed to date. He asked me to go to the school dance with him, and I asked my mother, knowing her answer would be no. That didn't bother me, much because my girl friend and I had already planned a way for me to get to the dance. She called and asked if I could spend the night, and of course my mother said yes.

But who should see us going into the school but my brother and his girl friend! He is 16, and allowed to go anywhere.

Helen, I'm scared he might tell. His girl friend said he'd be a fink if he did,but he just smiled funny. I've caught him in a lot of things my folks don't know. Would it be right to use them as what you might call balckmail? CAUGHT BEING SNEAKY

DEAR SNEAKY:

Not unless you want to be blackmialed in return.

I doubt that your brother will tell, but you'd better level with your mother while there's still time to regain her trust. Confession implies repentance. If you make it plain you've learned your lesson and won't try being sneaky again, you may even be allowed to attend the next school dance.

On the other hand, if she finds out for herself that you lied prepare for a long, cold, boyfriendless winter! — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I work in a one-girl office. As the only female, I am subjected to every rumor, scandal and dirty joke the guys in the back offices can think up — and I'm usually the subject of their stories!

It was bad enough before I got married, but now that I have been a "Mrs." for three months, they think they can say anything. They tease me about "having to get married" and when am I going to start showing — as if nobody ever took the step without being pregnant! I try to smile, but. . . .

I hate the way they talk and my husband hates it even more, but I can't quit, as we need the money and jobs are scarce around here. Besides, if I left now they'd be sure their rumors are true, or that I was going to have an abortion. They even kid about that too!

How can you make office apes shut up? — MRS. R. C.

DEAR MRS. C:

Let them see you aren't amused. Better yet, have your boss circulate the word. Men hardly ever notice their kidding has gone too far unless someone clues them in. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I can't understand these older women like "Rules but Happy" who think of marriage as a man's kingdom in which they bow down and worship, not ever having a real voice. If she takes a good look at herself she may realize that the only reason she lets her husband make all the important decisions is because she hasn't the mentality to help.

And a man who wants a woman like her has got to be so insecure he won't let his wife off her knees, for fear she'll discover how weak he is. Let's hope most of our generation will marry as equals! — NOT YET MARRIED.

PENETRATING STEAM SYSTEM for WALL to WALL CARPET CLEANING

THIS UNIQUE NEW PROCESS CLEANS DEEP AND YET TREATS THE FINEST CARPET WITH LOVING CARE.

- The gentle action uses no brushes or scrubbing action to wear or distort the carpet pile.
- Deeply imbedded soil (which causes excessive wear), is safely extracted from both pile and back of your carpet . . . it is not scrubbed deeper!
- The need for frequent professional cleaning is reduced because deeply imbedded soil is removed, and no detergent residue is left in the carpet fibers to attract more dirt.
- The Powerful Steam extraction process removes all excess moisture which insures fast drying and avoids carpet shrinkage.
- Color, texture, and matted pile are restored to like-new appearance without using scrubbing brushes or harsh chemicals.
- For added protection both Soil Retardant and Mothproofing are applied to the carpet during the Steam cleaning process.
- Steam Cleaning will leave your carpet cleaner than ever before possible!

Marinites Busy With Festivities Of San Francisco Film Festival

By MOLLY MARIN

Several Marinites are involved with the glamorous goings-on in connection with the San Francisco Film Festival, which opens tomorrow.

TOUR

ing room rugs in vivid pinks and oranges woven in Hong Kong, dining room furniture also made to order in Hong Kong with hand rubbed Chinese lacquer finish, and a sofa with crewel work made in Kashmir. Over the sofa is a piece of an ancient Chinese gate.

Bedroom wallpaper and bedspread are in a copy of a "Therese" histoiric French pattern.

THE IVAN COUSINS residence. This is a multi-level contemporary style home on a steep lot, designed in 1958 for the Cousins family by John Funk to relate indoors and outdoors. Set among giant Eucalyptus trees, it has an exterior finish mixed to match Eucalyptus leaves and buds.

Furnishings throughout stress antiques, since Mr. Cousins is a Sausalito antiques dealer. Mrs. Cousins is the sister of famed gourmet French cook Julia Child.

In the entrance hall is an elegant oak French piece, c. 1700, which has a limestone top containing fossils. Over this hangs a Chinese Chippendale mirror.

Among other interesting old pieces are an 1820 American Queen Anne duck foot maple table (American copies of Queen Anne are very rare), and a Hawaiian chair in Queen Anne style thought to have been made as a throne for a Hawaiian queen.

JEFF WILKS bachelor apartment. This was originally a very plain, impersonal apartment, and Wilks' problem was to "de-motel" it. Through mixtures of antiques of all periods and countries he has achieved a homey, country feeling.

The kitchen is decorated with plates he designed himself in red, white and blue patortic motif.

Other things of interest are zebra rugs, a 1670 Flemish chest, and 18th Century Coromandel screen, and English Queen Anne table and a mirror which once belonged to a Bonaparte — probably one of the family of Napoleon II.

Mrs. William Di Grazia of Tiburon and her sister Mrs. Neal Clark of Piedmont will be in charge of the delegate office, as they have for the past five years. This involves registering the foreign and American delegations in both the acting and business ends of the movie-making industry. They will be on duty for 12 straight days, and will also be attending the big post-opening night party tomorrow at the Fairmont Hotel after the black-tie premiere.

The Masonic Auditorium on Nob Hill is the festival headquarters. Raymond Syufy of Sausalito is the general director of this year's Film Festival. Mrs. Syufy has charge of the delegate hospitality lounge, and will assist with welcoming the visitors, many of whom are coming from Europe. Among her assistants are Mrs. Robert Lange of Fairfax and Mrs. Ronald Rouda of Tiburon.

PFC AND MRS. Bruce A Lehman of Novato are the parents of twins, Beth and Benjamin, born on Thursday.

Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Carl R. Lehman Jr. of San Rafael and maternal grandparents are Ferris Scharton of Santa Venetia and Mrs. Betty West of San Diego.

Carl Lehman is classified advertising manager at the Independent-Journal and the new father is also an I-J employee when not serving with the Marine Corps reserve at Camp Pendleton.

THE DEWEY Donnells of Sonoma have invited Mr. and Mrs. Oswald E. Cooper of Ross to be their guests at the Space Odyssy Ball and Fol de Rol Thursday evening. Also taking a sponsors table at the ball, sponsored by the San Francisco Opera Guild, are Mr. and Mrs. William Brantman of Tiburon.

Dog Can Rekindle Will To Live In Elderly Persons

NEW YORK (WMNS) — For a lonely, elderly person, a dog may be much more than an affectionate, last-ditch companion. Surprisingly often, says a psychologist, he perks up his owner's health and rekindles his will to live.

Dr. Boris Levinson of Yeshiva University points out that the responsibility of a pet insures that his owner feels needed, just as that wagging tale and eager greeting assures him that he is loved. Since the dog must be walked, his owner gets regular daily exercise. Since the dog must be fed, his owner must pay some attention to stocking the cupboard and may even find his own waning appetite stimulated. Getting out with the dog is also likely to lead to pleasant encounters with other dog-walkers.

Drifting And Dreaming Theme For Charity Ball Saturday Night

A 12 foot space ballon will set the stage for arriving guests Saturday evening at the Sunny Hills Junior Auxiliary's annual Charity Ball at the Meadow Club in Fairfax.

Drifting and Dream is the theme for the dinner dance with large balloon murals, gold stars hanging from the ballroom ceiling and tables centered with flight ballons filled with flowers carrying out the theme.

Orchestra music will play for dancing from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. A sit-down dinner will be served in the Grill Room and on the porch of the clubhouse, and a buffet will be held in the main dining room.

Mrs. Verle Sorgen is ball chairman, and Mrs. Robert Berry is president of the auxiliary. They will greet arriving guests with their husbands.

Assisting Mrs. Sorgan with arrangements are Mmes. Norman Ciampi, Rafael Dufficy III and Carlo Fowler. Proceeds will benefit the Sunny Hills Home in San Anselmo.

THE SAN Rafael Junior Women's Club will meet tonight at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Alfred Delfino 7 Maple Hill Drive.

Dr. Charles J. Epstein, director of the Marin Genetic Evaluation Clinic will be guest speaker. The club has recently done volunteer work at the clinic.

LAST OF A series of family evenings sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of the Corinthian Yacht Club for yacht club members and their guests will be given Friday. Cocktails will be served at 6:30 p.m., with dinner at 7:30 p.m.

A Polynesian theme will be used in menu and decor. Mrs. Elmer Towle is chairman; Mrs. Arno Masneri, decorations, and Mmes. John Griffiths, Elmo De Martini, W. Burbeck Johnson and Edwin Gratonik, assistants.

MRS. CHARLES Greenly of San Rafael has been installed president of the Credit Women of Marin for the year. Officers who will serve with her are Mmes. Alice Duff, first vice president; James Kendall, second vice president; Anita Fredette, recording secretary; Christine Wright, corresponding secretary; and Alyx Ramstead, treasurer.

Mrs. Caroline Fooshee, charter president, has been named "Credit Woman of the Year."

THE LIONETTES of the Cotati Lions Club will prepare the food for the box supper to be held by the two groups Friday at 7:30 p.m. at the Cotati Women's Clubhouse.

THE ANNUAL ham luncheon and bazaar sponsored by the Women's Association of the Presbyterian Church of Petaluma will be held on Friday in the Christian Education Building behind the church.

Besides ham, the menu will include potato salad, hot mixed vegetables, hot rolls, pumpkin pie and coffee.

Bazaar items on display will include the homemade food table, a plant table, a homemade candy booth, aprons made by the church women and a white elephant table.

TELEVISION PERSONALITY Bruce Antonelli of Santa Cruz will speak at the meeting of the Petaluma Flower Gardeners Friday at 8 p.m. at Hermann Sons Hall in Petaluma. His subject will be the care and successful growth of begonias, fuchsias and ferns.

Featured at the meeting will be a plant table.

A HALLOWEEN dinner-dance will be held by the Novato Newcomer's Club members at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Moose Lodge in Novato.

Prizes will be awarded for the prettiest, funniest and most original costumes and the best couple costume.

A buffet spaghetti dinner will be followed by dancing. The Rural Orchestra of Novato under the direction of Mrs. Allen Dahl will be featured during intermissions. Reservations chairmen are Mmes. Edwin Fleming, Bill Hayton and George Klose.

THE LADIES Auxiliary of the Fleet Reserve Association is holding its sixth annual rummage sale Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Labor Hall, Mission and Tamalpais Streets, San Rafael.

The proceeds go to special projects such as sending supplies to the men in Vietnam and Marin Aid to Retarded Children.

Chairman is Mrs. Joe Brooks of Fairfax. President of the LAFRA is Mrs. Ruel Wilson of Novato.

A POTLUCK dinner will be held tonight by the Strawberry Point School Parent-Teacher Association at 8 o'clock at the school. It will be preceded by cocktail parties at the homes of the Richard Friedmans, Robert Victors, Trevor Smiths and William Boyds.

Mrs. Manuel Lehua is chairman of the dinner.

MILL VALLEY Bethel 119, International Order of Job's Daughters, will hold its queen's project meeting tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in the Mill Valley Masonic Temple.

Laurel Crean Becomes Bride Of Kevin Johnson In Fairfax

Laurel Crean was wed to Kevin Johnson Saturday in a noon ceremony at St. Rita's Church in Fairfax. A reception followed at the San Geronimo National Golf Club.

Liz Crean of San Anselmo was her sister's maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Ann Daubenfeld and Paulette Fraire, both of Fairfax, and Mrs. Michael Crean of Lake Berryessa, the bride's sister-in-law.

Best man for his brother was Bud Johnson. The bride's brother Charles Crean of San Rafael, Boots Ferguson of Kentfield and Dick Grady of San Rafael ushered.

Laurel is the daughter of Mrs. James Daley of San Anselmo and the late Joseph C. Crean. She is also the sister of Katie Crean of San Anselmo and Michael Crean of Lake Berryessa. Mrs. Gladys Knight, Mrs. Nora Crean and Dr. John W. Dolan, all of San Francisco, are her grandparents. The bride was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and College of Marin.

Kevin is the son of Conrad Johnson of Danville and the late Francis Johnson. He was graduated from Bishop Armstrong High School in Sacramento and attended College of Marin. Mrs. Fred Thurman of Sacramento is his sister.

The couple will live in San Rafael following a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe.

GAY MARGUERITE RAMSEY became the bride of John Charles Roper of Los Angles in a ceremony at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in San Rafael. She is the daughter of Mrs. Roberta Ramsey of Sausalito and Dr. Douglas E. Ramsey of San Rafael. He is the son of Mrs. Fremont E. Roper of Berkeley and the late Mr. Roper.

Some Exercises Will Put You In Good Physical Shape For Skiing

Thinking of taking up skiing this winter?

Then now's the time to start getting in physical condition for this increasingly popular sport, advises the Health Insurance Institute.

It will pay. Reason: an estimated 50,000 skiers who this winter will probably have to hobble home with broken ankles, painful sprains, or injured knees.

Who are the victims of ski accidents?

The young skiers.

The unskilled skiers.

The girl skiers.

Studies of ski accident statistics by close observers (the National Ski Patrol, the Colorado Medical Society) make the point:

80 per cent of skiing accidents involve people under 22 years of age — perhaps because so many young people take up the sport.

76 per cent of the accident victims are inexperienced, so-called "week-end wonder" skiers.

While men greatly outnumber women on the ski slopes, ankle fractures are more common among women than men. Some experts theorize this is because women have more difficulty disengaging their boots when the fall.

These ski accidents can cause severe injuries — fractures, sprains, lacerations, bruises and bone dislocations.

That isn't too surprising. Skiing falls and collisions are usually violent.

Physicians at the State University of New York Upstate Medical Center in Syracuse have determined that a 150-pound skier can reach a speed of 30 miles per hour going down a relatively gentle slope of only five degrees. At that point the skier's momentum is 6,600 feet per second.

Here are a few tips to get you ready for such high speed action:

Get in condition. Start working out on a regular basis long before the ski season begins. Your workout should include toe-touching exercising, deep-knee bends and other strenuous body building activities.

Be sure your boots, equipment and clothing fit you.

And, here are some ideas to remember when you go off on your first ski trip:

Take skiing instructions from the beginning. No one knows how to ski "naturally."

Don't be daring. Lack of judgment is one of the main reasons for ski accidents. So, if you're a beginner, stick to the beginners' slope.

Quit before you feel too tired.

Values And Ideals Are Aims Of Girl Scouting

SEATTLE (UPI)—For Girl Scouts, this year's national council meeting could be critical.

The Girl Scouts are in the unenviable position of attempting to preserve the values and ideals of another generation while still appealing to the activist and somewhat skeptical leaders of today's generation.

MRS. HOLTON Price of St. Louis, national president of the Girl Scouts, says that Scouting can offer the challenges and rewards that will appeal to the best of today's young women and girls.

In a speech at the opening session of the council Sunday, Mrs. Price said today's youth wants initiative, action, decision-making and non-discrimination.

"Within Scouting there is the very essence of what the young of this hour and day shout about," she said. "It has always been there."

She said all of the challenges of today exist in Scouting—potentially. The girls are growing in ideals, intellect and sense of dedication but it is the adult leaders that hold Scouting back, she said.

"TODAY, SOME combination of forces has fractured the comfortable idea that being older along means being wiser and, hence, in charge," Mrs. Price said. "The young don't believe this any more. They don't look for wisdom among the grey bears and the long hairs. They grow their own."

Mrs. Price, currently in her sixth year as president of the organization, cited a Gallup Poll to show that the image of Scouting needs change to keep up with the times.

"There is a Gallup Poll, taken years ago, that I wager would hold true today: The people at large who were queried considered Scouting good, but innocuous," she said. "A pleasant but hardly a relevant quality at this time."

The Scouting world must become aware of the changes in the goals and life styles of today's youth and adapt itself as much as possible, Mrs. Price said.

"For a time, what seemed shocking could be ignored as totally alien to Scouting. The moment is long past," she said. "We are smack in the middle of the youth revolution and the only questions left is what we do about it."

The 8,000 delegates to the national council which continues through Wednesday represent a total Girl Scout membership of four million girls.

Diane Christiansen Wed In Presidio Rite

In the post chapel at the Presidio of San Francisco Saturday Diane Christiansen became the bride of Raymond O. Isabell.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Christiansen of San Rafael, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. D. I. Carpenter of Houston, Tex.

Linda Schwartz of San Rafael was maid of honor, and the bride's sister, Mrs. Karen A. Hopkins of San Rafael, and Judy Champion of San Anselmo were bridesmaids.

Best man was Bill Pelleschi of San Jose, and Rick Knisley of Detroit, Mich., and Jim Allen of San Rafael ushered.

A reception at the non-commissioned Officers Club in the Presidio followed the ceremony.

Diane was graduated from San Rafael High School and the College of Marin Dental Assisting Department. Mrs. Samuel Pine of San Rafael is her grandmother.

The couple will live in Zweibrucken, Germany, where the bridegroom is stationed with the Army, following a wedding trip to Switzerland.

DRAMA REVIEW

'Oh! Calcutta!' Faulty In Words

By KARL BARRON

SAN FRANCISCO — "Oh! Calcutta!" billed as "69's most controversial musical," was officially bared to the public last night, after a few weeks of "previews," perhaps to be sure Chief Thomas Cahill's boys in blue would allow it to continue.

Provided the censors do not object to naked bodies and few common four-letter words, Keith Rockwell and Richard Norris, producers of the show at the On Broadway, have no worries — except perhaps bent backs from carrying their loot to the bank.

The controversy — largely centered about the fact that the four men and four women in the cast spend a good portion of their time nude and fondling each other — would do better to center on how such mediocre words came from their alleged authors. Those authors are, among others, Kenneth Tynan, Samuel Beckett, Jules Feiffer, Dan Greenburg, John Lennon and Sam Shepard. Their specific contributions are not identified and one might guess that that they demanded this, since it appears to be waste basket sweepings.

On the plus side, "Oh! Calcutta!" is excellent in the moments when the young and well-shaped cast bare their bodies and dance or make love, the bodies illuminated by motion pictures of themselves. In these moments, we are given a sensual feast of moving sculpture — an indication of why from the earliest art forms, the nude body has been considered as the ultimate in beauty. The music composed by a group called the Open Window, is pleasing not-too-hard rock, but in this production a little too loud for my taste.

Of the nine skits which tie together the great opening anf finale, several have promise as comedy or satire, but leave the impression that a good script doctor might do wonders with them. The funniest is the take off on research for "Human Sexual Response," in which a man and woman with electrodes strapped to their bodies indulge in sex, surrounded by a group of completely zany researchers. My feeling here was that a far more subtle group of reactions would have been that much funnier.

"Will Answer All Sincere Replies," a wife-swapping bit, is heavy handed in its humor, but is rescued by the fine playing of statuesque Samantha Harper and E. J. Chiaro. Again the acting of Cassia Besson saves "Delicious Indignities" from being a complete bore, although the idea has valid comic possibilities.

Tynan, who "devised" the show, is quoted as saying that he did so because it had occurred to him that there was no place in the world where "a man can take his girl for an evening of civilized erotic stimulation." The aim is a good and valid one — the end result does not reach it. The noted critic gives us what amounts to a 1969 version of burlesque. And from the way words still banned from family newspapers are used, we come away with the feeling that they were written on a wall for shock effect, rather than used in context, as Norman Mailer, for example, uses them.

What this unquestionably precedent-shattering show amounts to, in this critic's opinion, is this: it demonstrates that the disciples of "living theater", etc., claiming an audience can be held for an evening with purely emotional, visual, nonintellectual theatre, nonword theater, may still be right. But the way to prove it is certainly not to mix dull word-theater with the emotion-capturing stuff.

But "Oh! Calcutta!" also shows that the human body is beautiful, that tactile relationships between people can take place upon a stage without the sky falling down. When the sky should fall is during the sequence in which a number of dreadful paintings, which look like leftovers from Weird Tales magazines, and are credited to Clovis Trouille, flash upon the screen accompanied by a good musical number.

No matter what we may write, Messers Rockwell and Norris will make out, as the saying goes. November 1st they're raising the prices in the first two rows! I'll leave you to guess whn the first two rows are in demand.

"Oh! Calcutta!" plays nightly except Monday at 8:30 p.m. with two shows on Fridays and Saturdays, at 7:45 and 10:45 p.m.

TROUBLE IN MENTAL HOSPITAL — Randall Patrick McMurphy, played by Fredric Cook, challenges Nurse Ratched (Norma Jean Wanvig) in "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest," stage version of the Ken Kesey novel to open Nov. 1 at the Mill Valley Center for the Performing Arts. Kesey's 'One Flew Over The Cuckoo's Nest' Next Show

The stage version of Ken Kesey's novel "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest" will open a four-weekend run Nov. 1 at the Mill Valley Center for the Performing Arts. Curtain times remain to be announced.

Robin C. Jackson will direct the play, which will be presented on Friday and Saturday nights through November, with special performances on Thursdays for students and private parties.

The novel, and the play, deal with patients in a mental hospital and their fight against the establishment.

Playing the lead as Randall Patrick McMurphy will be Fred Cook, who played Richard II this year in the Marin Shakespeare Festival. Others in the cast are John Garber, Drew Eshelman, Allen Seaman, Stuart Serman, Norma Jean Wanvig and Robin B. Jackson.

Jackson, a College of Marin instructor, produced "The World We Live In," this year's Mountain Play on Mount Tamalpais. The novel was adapted for the stage by Dale Wasserman.

Eagle Scouts To Be Honored

Thirty-two of the 58 scouts and explorers who earned the Eagle rank during the last two years, will be honored today at the 10th Eagle Recognition dinner of the Marin Council of Boy Scouts of America.

George Mardikian, San Francisco restaurateur, will be guest speaker at the 7:30 p.m. dinner at Hamilton Air Force Base Officers Mess.

Marin County Supt. of Schools Virgil S. Hollis will be master of ceremonies. Judge Peter Allen Smith is chairman for the event.

CONCERT REVIEW

Durable Dane Is Enchanting As Ever

By JAMES E. WILLIAMS

SAN FRANCISCO — Billed as an evening of "music and mirth," Victor Borge returned to the Golden Gate city last night for a brief engagement at the Curran Theater.

And what a pleasure to spend an evening again with the clown prince of the concert stage. His material is fresh as ever. He leaves the great issues of the day in the dressing room. He's on stage to make people laugh and forget their troubles.

IN GOOD TASTE

Borge, whom I first saw in 1954 when he made his triumphal first national tour which finally landed him on Broadway, began the evening with his usual monologue with piano. His banter is always in good taste, a mark which has made him such a hit on his infrequent television specials.

He establishes an immediate rapport with the audience. One of the most laugh provoking is a "this and that" classical composition routine.

To put Borge's dialogue on paper would be rather bland for it is the timing that is so important. As all professionals do, he depends greatly on audience reaction for entry into another dialogue.

ADDS YOUNG TALENT

Borge, who is indeed a clever Dane, knows it's hard for a single performer to hold the audience for an entire evening. We owe him a pat on the back for bringing on some young fresh talent that kept the show lively.

His first guest was Sahan Arzruni, a young pianist with considerable concert talent — a perfect foil for Borge's antics. They messed up a few of the classics, but got down to beautiful duet piano work in the "Barber of Seville Overture" and Borge's own composition of the opera "Carmen."

Equally talented was the beautiful young blonde coloratura soprano Marylyn Mulvey. She sang it straight for three selections and then launched in a very funny exchange with the master.

Following Miss Mulvey's presentations, he brought Arzruni back for Liszt's Hungarian Raphosdy — a four-hand chase around the piano bench. The timing was perfect.

Probably Borge best summed up his type of show in the finale when he said it was his aim to make people laugh, wear a smile for a while — for "who can make war with a smile?"

His short engagement with his two young friends will run through Saturday with curtain time each evening at 8:30 p.m.

Chrysler Fights Profit Nosedive

DETROIT (AP) — An 87 per cent slump in profits for the third quarter of this year has been reported by Chrysler Corp. as the firm struggles to cut its operating costs.

Board chairman Lynn Townsend and President Virgil E. Boyd told Chrysler stockholders in a letter yesterday that profits plunged to $3.8 million, or 7 cents per share, from the $29.7 million, or 63 cents a share, for the samee period last year.

The profit nosedive was blamed on higher costs of materials, labor, selling and marketing autos, interest rates and costs of product improvements in the new 1970 models.

$22,000 Each To Children Of Jayne Mansfield

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jayne Mansfield's five children will receive $22,000 each in a settlement of a suit filed after the actress died in a car crash.

Superior Court Judge Arthur Marshall also approved yesterday an agreement that three of the children received an additional $5,000 each because of their injuries in the accident that killed their mother June 29, 1967.

Miss Mansfield was on her way from Biloxi, Miss., to New Orleans, after a nightclub appearance.

The settlement was reached with Gus Stevens, the nightclub owner in whose car Miss Mansfield was riding.

The children, by three husbands, are: Jayne Marie Mansfield, 19, Miklos Hargitay, 10, Zoltan Hargitay, 9, Mariska Hargitay, 5, and Antonio Cimber, 3.

Tourism Loss in Sausalito?

Sausalito is subsidizing its hordes of tourists to the tune of $200,000 a year, a market researcher told the Sausalito City Council last night.

Tourism, Dennis Canning said, does not pay Sausalito "in any way, shape or form." He had made a cursory analysis of 1967-68 figures for the city to reach his conclusion, but offered no evidence to back up the loss figure.

Canning spoke against the proposed Sausalito central waterfront plan as a member of the conservationist group which asked the council Oct. 3 for 30 days or more to produce alternative solutions.

Stephen Fraser, leader of the Sausalito Coalition for an Open Waterfront, said more detailed reports are being prepared on positive alternatives to the plan in zoning, open space requirements, traffic, parking, ferries and the potential for bond issues to buy waterfront open space.

The hearing centered on parking, however, and Sausalito Planning Director Eric Borgwardt hit the nub of it late in the meeting. "There is parking congestion and there will continue to be parking congestion," Borgwardt said," . . . until the people of this town demonstrate a willingness to buy land for public ownership." Even then, he said the most likely development of the waterfront would be as a park which would attract as much traffic as the commercial development now proposed.

The resident conservation group envisioned a sea of cars between Sausalito and the bay if the plan is approved, while waterfront owners said development will be regulated by the city and by the bay conservation and development commission.

"If you have to have all those cars," architect Wayne Weddell said, "You will ruin Sausalito, and you can't sit there and do that."

One exchange between the two factions offered an unlikely solution to the impasse. Leon Schiller, attorney for Sausalito Properties, said the proposed plan would allow only 4,800 square feet — the size of a small house — of development on a two-acre parcel.

"Does anyone have the guts to say this is too much development?" he asked.

"Yes — one foot is too much," someone in the crowd answered.

"Will you buy it?" Schiller asked.

"It's a possibility," came the answer.

Schiller offered to arrange terms with "a small down payment" after the meeting, but no such conference was observed when the hearing ended.

Councilman Wyman Hicks asked for developers' plans to handle parking and increased traffic stemming from development.

Sam Zakessian, owner of Zak's restaurant and several off-shore parcels, suggested water taxis as a partial solution, bringing San Franciscans to Sausalito without their cars.

Fraser suggested waterfront owners buy land in Marinship for a parking structure, then deed it to the city. "We oppose the current plan because it does not deal with the parking problem," he said.

The city's problem, Hicks said, is that it can't afford to run a parking district on the required scale. He suggested the waterfront owners form a district.

Summing up at the end of the hearing, Borgwardt and planning consultant William E. Spangle emphasized that approval of the plan was only a starting point, and that the plan will only be as "constant maintenance" makes it, in Borgwardt's words.

Borgwardt urged the council to act on the plan soon. The council did not grant the delay sought by Fraser's group, but Councilman Alexander R. Imlay said "we should not foreclose anybody" from discussing the plan as long as there is something further to say.

The council set the next waterfront hearing for 8 p.m. Nov. 6 at city hall.

TRIPLE SPACE FOR CIVIC CENTER DINERS

It took almost a year longer than planned, but Marin County employees now are dining in the shiny new cafeteria at the still-uncompleted Hall of Justice, with seats for 550 instead of the 189 in the old cafeteria. Manager Cecil Bruton, who has run the Civic Center cafeteria since 1965, has a staff of six to run the new facility, which boasts a paging system and piped-in music. At right, an unidentified but hungry patron eyes the selections at the cafeteria's circular serving area. At left, Linda Downey of Novato and Barbara Bailard of San Rafael enjoy coffee in the well-lighted new dining space. Access to the new cafeteria is only through the north end of the present administration building until work is completed on the hall of justice.

Muni Golf Course Strategy Switched

Speculating that voters probably wouldn't approve a golf course, the San Rafael City Council, although reassured it could pay for itself, took the proposal off the ballot and authorized planning to proceed. (Another San Rafael City Council story, page 1)

The council had agreed last February to give residents a chance to decide whether the city should operate a municipal course under a 40-year lease purchase plan.

Last night, however, the council voted 4-1 to ask newly appointed City Mgr. James H. McCown to proceed with plans with the San Rafael Municipal Facilities Corp., a nonprofit group, for the 18-hole course on Smith Brothers Ranch north of Gallinas Creek.

The course, expected to cost about $1.3 million, would be financed by the corporation and leased back to the city.

Mayor C. Paul Bettini questioned whether a vote would really give the vast majority of San Rafael residents a say, or if it would just be voted on by the persons who "always vote against these things."

He pointed out there would be no increase in taxes unless the course doesn't make enough money.

Councilman John A. Miskiman, calling it a "meaningful addition to recreational facilities in central Marin," pointed out that using a little general fund money wouldn't be all that bad anyway. "We put in funds to teach people to play badminton," he said.

Councilman Fred E. Jensen, however, remained staunchly in favor of a vote by the people. "There are very few of these golf courses that are not in the red," he maintained.

Miskimen contended those courses were paying property taxes.

Councilman Harry A. Barbier argued in favor of the course because it would leave the area in open space and be more beneficial to San Rafael than homes would be.

Del Davis of EBS Management Consultants Inc. of San Francisco presented a lengthy study by his firm which indicated, he said, the golf course would be financially feasible.

Davis said a municipal course, open to all, would attract people from Marin and San Francisco and added the location would also be attractive to large numbers of golfers.

His firm estimated income in the first year of operation at $165,000. By the 12th year of operation, when the course will probably reach its peak, revenue would be $237,000, he estimated.

Operating costs the first year would be $91,000; in the peak year, $92,000, he estimated.

An earlier financial feasibility study by William Sherman, golf course specialist of San Rafael, gave estimates of income in the first year of $182,450 and $309,950 in the peak year.

Sherman's study estimated operating costs at $145,000 a year.

The second feasibility study was ordered when the council decided it wanted an opinion from a disinterested firm.

Medical Papers In Missing Box

A physician at Kaiser Hospital in San Rafael has appealed for aid in finding a cardboard box containing two year's worth of medical research on influenza and pneumonia.

Dr. Alan J. Cooper said he lost the carton Oct. 13 at the corner of Baker and Jackson streets in San Francisco.

He said the box contains research he did while at Harward Medical School which wants the papers for studies currently being done on indluenza.

According to Cooper, who can be reached at the hospital, the package also contains some plastic slides of specimens used in his studies.

FIRST NINE MONTHS

Major Crime Drops In Sausalito

By LARRY D. HATFIELD

Although Sausalito doesn't have a major crime problem, it does have problems and could use more policemen and more citizen involvement, says Police Chief James D. Wright.

Wright made those observations in a recent interview about Sausalito crime statistics for the first nine months of this year which showed major crime declining, misdemeanors increasing, arrests for all crimes except major ones going up and services by the police department soaring.

The biggest decrease in major crimes has been in burglaries, Wright's figures indicate. They show that last year, through September, there had been 104 burglaries while so far this year, there have been only 64. The total for all of 1968 was 137.

In addition, there have been 27 arrests for burglary, 12 more than the same period last year. Wright attributes the decline in burglaries to increased patrols in the Sausalito hills.

Ironically, this policy, despite its apparent effectiveness, has brought the department under fire from some Sausalito residents who feel the focus of the force's attention should be on the tourist-swollen downtown. Many residents have demanded a downtown foot patrol, a system that Wright says he would like but can't handle on a regular basis with his 19 officers.

To provide adequate protection and service to both the hills and downtown, the chief says he would need five more officers. This would add an extra man to peak shifts which now generally have only two officers and one sergeant on duty, and would cost approximately $50,000 a year.

It's in the downtown area —where there are frequent complaints about littering, jaywalking, loitering and begging — where Wright feels he could use more cooperation from the public.

He points out, for example, that an arrest for begging cannot be made unless the victim is willing to make citizen's arrest or if the panhandling is committed in the presence of a policeman — and the latter, panhandlers simply don't do.

"Do you want to get involved, that is the question" Wright says of citizens who resent being asked for money on the street. "If they're asked often enough, it would seem to me they would."

He said a citizen's arrest does not involve physically restraining the panhandler. He recommends that the victim try to keep the offender in sight while he calls police who then can assist in the arrest. The complainant then would have to appear at the district attorney's office to swear out a formal complaint.

As for littering and jaywalking, Wright says his men can enforce the law as soon as the Marin County courts can handle the cases administratively. He said court officials have indicated they can't adequately process arrests in those matters until the long-awaited move to the new Hall of Justice.

One of the most dramatic figures in Wright's statistics is the number of "miscellaneous services" provided by the police department.

These total 16,650, more than 2,000 in all of 1968 and 7,000 more than at this time last year. These include vacation house checks (10,635 of them so far this year compared to 10,677 all of last year) and checks of suspicious persons (3,069 compared to 335 at the same time a year ago).

Another problem that puts a strain on Wright's force is traffic. His department has issued 49,150 traffic citations in the first nine months of 1969, only 11,000 fewer in 1968.

Figures on other crimes committed in Sausalito through September (with last year's figures in parentheses) include: aggravated assault 10 (3); theft of $50 and over, 104 (112); narcotics, 53 (51); liquor laws, 30 (8); drunks, 131 (90); drunk driving, 74 (22); other misdemeanors, 1012 (760)

The number of all offenses through September was 1,708, compared to 1,520 last year. All arrests totaled 1,491, up 480 from last year. Total value of property lost through September was $96,985, with $47,045 recovered.

East San Rafael Drainage District Nears Agreement

East San Rafael property owners are ready to go along with a drainage district, City Mgr. James H. McCown reported to the city council last night.

However, there is one catch, he indicated. The owners of Holiday Magic want the outer dike left out of the assessment district at this time and in return, the owners promise not to develop north of Highway 17 until the dike is brought up to city standard, he said.

They are willing to maintain the existing dike, he added.

City Atty. David A. Menary, however, was unwilling to take verbal promises and urged the council to obtain an agreement from all of the property owners and to have the agreement against development recorded with their deeds.

He also urged the council to get it in writing that the dike will be maintained until it is brought up to city standard.

The council decided to continue the matter for two weeks while Menary investigates the legal aspects.

Permit To Enable Wine Production

An existing use permit held by Fred Cherry for his Bon Vin restaurant and wine shop will suffice to let him carry on limited wine production, the San Anselmo Planning Commission said last night.

Cherry, who is changing his operation to concentrate on wines, had sought a new permit or the commission's approval for the proposed production.

The commission denied an application by Adolph Meyer for a lot split at 56 Lincoln Avenue, holding he had failed to show a hardship necessitating the split, reported John T. O'Rourke, assistant city engineer.

The commission discussed problems of non-conforming multiple family uses in single family districts, and asked the planning staff to report Nov. 3 on the San Francisco ordinance covering such uses. The commission is trying to draw an ordinance to phase out such uses, O'Rourke said.

Card Forgery Innocent Pleas

Dan Hayden Willouby, 30, and Marilyn Pearl Robbins, 25, both of San Rafael, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Superior Court to two charges of credit card forgery.

A jury trial was set for the week of Jan. 12.

The two are charged with using stolen credit cards June 30 to buy $280 worth of merchandise at the Emporium.

Coleman Parents Win New Traffic Signal

The San Rafael City Council last night authorized a pedestrian actuated, three-color, $10,000 traffic light and crossing guard to help Coleman School students cross Lincoln Avenue.

Residents of the area made the request because the school buses for that area will be taken off when the new freeway overcrossing is finished. They asked the signal be at Lincoln and Paloma avenues, but the council left the decision up to engineers.

The San Rafael City Council Also:

ANNEXATION — Adopted an ordinance to annex about 1,000 acres including the Civic Center, unswayed by Frank Solomons charge that the city was illegally because there are more than 12 registered voters in the area. The county clerk, states, however, there were fewer than 12 when the proceedings began.

PERSONNEL RULES — Approved a resolution on personnel regulations concerning vacation, overtime and holidays, but asked City Mgr. James H. McCown to make a study of other vacation proposals.

HEARINGS — Amended zoning rules to permit the city clerk to set dates for public hearings.

COMMENDATION — Passed a resolution of commendation for Charles J. Chiesa, retired chief of police.

HOLIDAY — Approved an ordinance deleting Columbus Day as a holiday and substituting the day following Thanksgiving.

LANDSCAPING — Referred to the planning commission a request from David E. Stovel for a change in fence restrictions in the zoning ordinance.

SIGNAL — Agreed to spend $7,500 as half of the installation cost of a new signal at Fourth and H streets, with Mayfair Market also paying $7,500.

STREET — Changed the name of Lockwood Drive West off Robinhood Drive to Friar Tuck Lane.

HIRING — Appointed Sylvanus K. Bradeen as a tree climber at $638 a month; Roger L. Downward as a patrolman at $835; Richard Michaelson, William A. Mohler and Anthony T. Hoke, all as partolmen at $757; and Bruce L. Thompson as a maintenance man at $670.

Guilty Plea To Card Signing

George Edward Taylor, 22, of Santa Venetia, pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Superior Court to a charge of signing another person's name to a credit card slip with intent to defraud.

A second count of the same charge against him was dismissed, and Judge E. Warren McGuire set sentencing for Nov. 17.

Taylor was arrested Feb. 13 after he reportedly purchased two new tires and some gasoline with stolen credit cards.

Companion plan to Medicare

BLUE CROSS®/65

This plan significantly extends health care benefits for those 65 or older —costs just $4 a month, payable quarterly.

Blue Cross/65 has been designed to fill in many of the gaps remaining even after Medicare has been paid.

Blue Cross/65 is available the year around for new members who apply before their 65th birthday or within 90 days after.

For those who are more than 90 days past 65, the Plan will be open for a limited time only—from now through Nov. 24, 1969. Don't miss out.

Remember, the Blue Cross identification card is the best known —the most widely accepted— in California, in the country, in the world.

Now, before the closing date, complete and mail the coupon below.

Unbelievable Opportunity At Lake Tahoe

A commercial acre of level land, studded with giant trees, with 200 ft. on Highway 89, facing the lake. This beautiful property consists of a 6 unit lodge, a 2-story rustic chalet type home, with 2 bathrooms, 2 duplexes, a gift shop and a restaurant and coffee shop. This choice property is sandwiched in between 2 new ski lifts, and offers unlimited opportunity for year around operation. The price of $125,000 would not replace the improvements alone. Absentee owner is selling due to illness.

120—New Cars For Sale

WHY PAY EXTRA FOR A CAR WHEN YOU GET MORE FOR YOUR MONEY IN MARIN?

If you're tempted to buy a car in the City or East Bay, put on the brakes and consider: Marin dealers, with much lower overhead, pass you the saving. They're local, you're local. They want your business and will prove it to you both in price and service. Lower sales tax, too! More convenience, a better deal. Makes sense?

Clausen Mails Out Poll To Constituents

I-J Special Report

WASHINGTON — A poll of his constituents' views has been sent to more than 200,000 households in his district by Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District.

The poll, which offers room for "his" and "her" responses, asks views on Vietnam, voting age, campus disruptions, the draft, President Richard M. Nixon's performance, the space program, social security, government costs and drugs.

Results will be announced in about three weeks, Clausen's office said.

The $1,800 cost of having the questionnaires prepared was paid from Clausen's campaign fund, his office said. It was mailed free at taxpayers' expense.

Soviet Trawler Seen Off Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — A Soviet trawler came within a few hundred yards of South Vietnamese territorial waters on Sunday but left when government patrol boats went out to investigate, official sources reported today.

On Friday, South Vietnamese patrol boats fired at and possibly hit another Russian trawler which entered the 12-mile territorial limit near Da Nang.

The sources said ships believed to be Soviet have come close to South Vietnamese territorial waters several times in the past, but no report was made public because they did not violate the territorial limit.

Vatican Synod Drafts Pro-Collegiality Stand

VATICAN CITY (AP) — All nine subcommissions of the world synod of bishops have voted in favor of giving bishops a strong new voice in helping the Pope rule the Roman Catholic Church, the Vatican said today.

The majority reports of the groups were sent to the full 146-member synod for final ratification. This is considered a formality.

The proposals then will be handed to Pope Paul VI who, if he puts them into effect, would virtually end what some liberals have called the papacy's "absolute monarchical rule."

Some liberals in the synod predicted the pontiff would approve the recommendations to share more of his authority with bishops around the globe.

None of the subcommissions contested the Pope's primacy or his right to make final decisions for the half-billion-member Church, the synod's English language briefing officer, the Rev. Mark Reuver, said in his daily report.

He said all groups urged, however, that the principle of collegiality — sharing by bishops in papal decision-making — be "brought into effect immediately, as the times call for it."

Each group voted to propose that the synod meet regularly and that the pontiff and Vatican keep in constant touch with the bishops in the dioceses.

Father Reuver said a majority in the synod felt also that a small but permanent body of bishops should be stationed at the Vatican to represent the interests of national groups of bishops.

A few subcommissions also asked that synods, with the Pope as their head, be granted lawmaking power.

Father Reuver's announcement followed disclosure of the subcommissions' findings by a synod source.

The 146 synod delegates, the source reported, were nearly in unanimous agreement that a synod should be held at least every two years and possibly every year to advise the Pope and that the Pope and the Vatican should keep in constant touch with the bishops on all important doctrinal and disciplinary matters.

The source said this would avert the chance of a Pope issuing a ruling, such as Pope Paul's ban on artificial birth control, without full consultation with the world's bishops. On the other hand, national bishops' conferences would be obliged to consult the Roman Curia, the Vatican's administrative organ, before taking major decisions for their own countries.

Railroads Seek State Fare Hike

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Three railroads are asking the California Public Utilities Commission for 5 per cent passenger fare increases within the state.

As the hearing opened yesterday, Robert M. Jochner of the Southern Pacific Co. said that aside from commuters on the San Francisco Peninsula, "very few passengers will be affected."

The roads, besides the SP, are the Santa Fe Railway and the Union Pacific Railroad. All three said the proposed boost would put California in line with interstate rates which have been increased 5 per cent by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Marin Group Slates Benefit Performance

A pre-opening performance of the New York stage show "The Boys in the Band," to benefit the Ross Psychiatric Center, will be held in San Francisco Nov. 4 at 8:30 p.m. at the Committee Theater.

All proceeds from the performance will go to the center. Information may be obtained at the center at 1150 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Ross.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Irritable Colon May Imitate Other, More Serious Troubles

VAN DELLEN

An irritable bowel is the most common cause of abdominal distress. The condition is not serious but should not be neglected as it can mimic almost any abdominal disorder, from cancer to gallstones.

Pain ensues when the bowel contracts too forcefully or when a gas pocket distends the intestinal wall.

The individual has no voluntary control over the behaviour of this part of the anatomy. On the other hand, he can lessen the tensions that aggravate the nerves leading to this organ.

We also have many medicines to relax the spastic colon.

DIET, OFTEN CONSIDERED the culpirt, plays a minor role. Many blame harsh foods, cabbage, beans, seeds, and fresh fruits for their trouble. Too much coffee, tea, or alcohol has the same effect.

Nervous tension is the most likely offender. Spastic bowel is common among men and women who are overly conscientious and orderly.

Internal tension is created also by depression, resentment, anxiety, fatigue, and feelings of guilt.

WHEN THE BOWEL clamps down and goes into spasm, the sufferer doubles up as though he had eaten green apples. Changes in bowel function such as constipation or diarrhea occur. Complaints of butterflies in the stomach, inward nervousness, rumbling noises, burning, fullness, and bloating are the rule.

For most of us, the spastic bowel is a sign that we are driving ourselves too hard and in need of relaxation or a change. When too much work is responsible, a vacation is in order.

But make certain of the diagnosis because abdominal pain has many origins.

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

STRICTURE IS LOCALIZED

S. S. writes: Is there any difference between a spastic colon and a structure in the bowel?

REPLY

Yes. Although both produce narrowing, stricture is localized, and usually is caused by an adhesion or a band of fibrous tissue. Narrowing from spasm is due to contraction of the circular muscles in the wall of the bowel. It comes and goes, in contrast to stricture, which is permanent and requires surgery.

DRAINAGE TUBE

O. O. writes: What is a fistula?

REPLY

An opening into the skin or a body organ that allows pus or other secretions or fluids to pass to the outside or from one organ to another. A rectal fistula, for example, connects an abscess in the buttocks with the outside. Pus escapes through an artificial opening. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on rectal fistula.

SWOLLEN GLAND

Mrs. E. Y. writes: I've had a swollen gland under my right arm for several years. Should I have it taken care of by the doctor?

REPLY

Not if you have had it for years. On the other hand, removal involves a simple surgical procedure and is advised if the gland gets bigger or becomes bothersome.

SHOCK THERAPY

Mr. K. D. writes: How do you go about getting shock treatments for a depression?

REPLY

The decision to use shock treatments is up to your physician. If he thinks you need them, he will arrange a consultation with a psychiatrist who utilizes this type of therapy.

Today's Health Hint — Alterations in bowel or bladder habits may be an early sign of a serious disease.

Writer Will Try Again For Audience

A Mill Valley writer who failed to attract an audience for a public meeting on current social problems earlier this month, is going to try again Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the board of supervisors chambers at the Civic Center.

Peter Edler of 50 Shell Road and author of "The Arbitrarium" and "Snowwhite and Rosered," will discuss the hypocrisy of welfare, lack of communication, drugs and what is happening to the dollar.

Edler hopes to attrace an audience from the hippy, straight and in-between segments of society.

He will discuss his belief that hypocrisy in the Marin County Welfare Department causes people to lie about any additional money earned over the welfare payment. "A family of four receives from $280 to $300 for a month," he noted and any additional money earned by members would be deducted from that payment.

The young do not listen to the warning of the old on the use of drugs, Edler said, because they feel "they (the old) don't know anything about it."

Anita Lagercrantz, a teacher of communciation through dance, will also speak at the forum.

Juvenile Court Turns Down Marijuana Case

The case of Paul Edward Giampoli, 20, of San Rafael has been refused by Marin Juvenile Court, it was reported yesterday in municipal court.

A preliminary hearing for the youth, who is accused of possessing and cultivating marijuana at his home Sept. 26, was set for Nov. 10.

MARIN COUNTY DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS
SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA
NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS INVITING SEALED PROPOSALS OR BIDS

Sealed Proposals will be received by, and shall be filed with, the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, State of California, Room 315, Marin County Civic Center, San Rafael, California, until 10:00 A.M., Nov. 4, 1969, for:

Repair of the slide by removing and reconstructing the slope, constructing a metal crib wall and placing grouted rock slope protection.

The work shall be done in accordance with official plans and specifications prepared in reference thereto which may be seen at the office of the Department of Public Works, County of Marin. Request for forms or information shall be addressed to the Department of Public Works, County of Marin, Civic Center, San Rafael, California.

Proposals shall be filed with George H. Gnoss, Clerk of the Board of Supervisors, Civic Center, San Rafael, California.

Proposals will be opened and read at 10:00 A.M., in Room No. 343, Marin County Civic Center, on the day specified above.

The award of the contract, if it be awarded, will be to the lowest responsible bidder whose proposal complies with the requirements prescribed. The award, if made, will be made within thirty (30) days after the opening of the proposals.

The Board of Supervisors has made a determination of the prevailing rate of hourly wages applicable to the work to be performed. Copies of this determination are on file in the office of the County Clerk, Civic Center, Room 315, San Rafael, California, and are available to any interested party upon request. Copies may be obtained from the Department of Public Works, Room 308, Civic Center.

The Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

INSTRUCTIONS TO BIDDERS

PLAN DEPOSIT — Plans and Specifications (but not including Standard Specifications, or other documents included by reference), and Proposal Forms may be obtained by prospective bidders upon payment of a deposit of Ten Dollars ($10.00) (cash or check made payable to the Department of Public Works, County of Marin) to guarantee safe return of the plans and specifications within ten (10) days after bid opening. Failure to so return the plans and specifications will cause forfeiture of the deposit to the County.

PROPOSAL GUARANTY — All bids must be submitted on the Proposal form obtained from the Director of Public Works and shall be accompanied by a Proposal Guaranty of at least ten percent (10%) of the bid. Guaranties shall be in the form of a certified or Cashier's Check or Bidder's Bond. Failure of the successful bidder to execute and return the contract, or to file acceptable bond, as required, within the time allotted shall be cause for the annulment of the award and forfeiture of the Proposal Guaranty.

BID BONDS — The bid bonds of bidders, other than the successful bidder, may be retained by the Board of Supervisors for a period of thirty (30) days after award or until the successful bidder executes the contract and furnishes bonds, whichever occurs first. If a bidder to whom the contract is awarded fails, or refuses, to execute the contract within fifteen (15) days of notice of award, as herein provided, the Board of Supervisors may award to the next lowest responsible bidder and apply the bid bond of the bidder failing, or refusing, to execute contract, against the County's damages resulting from such failure. If a bidder to whom the contract is awarded executes the contract as herein required, the bid bonds of bidders to whom no award was made will be returned upon request.

BIDS AND BID OPENING: Only the total amount bid will be read at the bid opening and not specific items going to make up said total unless written request for reading of each subtotal and individual items of the bid is requested in writing at the time of the submission of proposals. Bidders will be at liberty to inspect and review bids in the office of the Director of Public Works to which they will be removed for the purpose of checking after the opening and reading of the totals.

Bids are required for the entire work described herein, and neither partial bids nor contingent bids will be considered.

ADDENDUM — Every interpretation of the specifications, changes, additions or corrections will be in the form of an addendum to the contract documents and when issued will be on file at the Department of Public Works at least two working days before bids are opened. In addition, all addenda will be mailed to each person holding contract documents but it shall be the bidder's responsibility to make inquiry as to the addenda issued. All such addenda shall become part of the contract documents and all bidders shall be bound by such addenda whether or not received by the bidders.

TIME LIMIT

The Contractor shall commence work on or before the tenth (10th) day following the date of written notification by the Director of Public Works that the contract has been awarded by the Board of Supervisors. During this ten (10) day interval, the necessary contract documents shall be executed by the Contractor and returned to the Department of Public Works. All work shall be completed on the project within forty (40) working days counting from and including the said tenth (10th) day.

One Soft Drink Erroneously On Sweetner List

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Health, Education and Welfare said today it erroneously included a soft drink, Wink, in a list of cyclamate-containing products issued Saturday.

The drink is manufactured by the Canada Dry Co.

The government has ordered a manufacturing ban and marlet withdrawal of all general purpose foods and drinks containing the artificial sweetener.

Cyclamate as been shown to cause bladder cancer in rats.

"Wink, along with several other beverages, was mistakenly included in a list of products issued by the department last Saturday, as indicated by a press memorandum issued by HEW later that day," the department said in an official statement.

The memorandum to the press did not indicate what products had been erroneously included.

A revised list is being prepared by the department.

Additions Asked By Library Board

Looking ahead toward next year's budget, members of the San Rafael Library Board last night agreed to ask for two improvements to the library in 1970.

The board noted for future budget inclusion installation of rest rooms and of a ramp leading from the city hall driveway to the library's second floor, for the convenience of the elderly and handicapped.

The board was short one member with resignation of Harold H. Fulkerson. Ella May Minneman was absent.

Original Works In Jazz On Tap At Sonoma State

Original compositions will be presented by the Sonoma State College Dixieland jazz band at 8:15 p.m. today in Ives Hall.

Directed by Walter Oster, both student and faculty are members of the Dixieland band as well as the college jazz band. Presented today will be Oster's arrangement of "MacArthur Park" featuring Hobart Thomas at the piano.

Special guest will be recording artist Norman Greenbaum, now under contract with Warner Brothers. Original compositions will include "C. B. D. Suite" by student Peter Oliver Hanford III; "What Is There To Say," by Oster; and "Stratus Phunk" by student Gene Gillespie.

Subdivisions Annexation To Be Eyed

A request that subdivisions at Dillon's Beach be annexed to the North Marin County Water District for sewer service will be considered at a special meeting of the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission at 8 p.m. Thursday in the board of supervisors chambers at Civic Center.

Benhamin P. Bonelli, developer of Oceana Marin and Dillon's beach subdivisions, asked for the annexation on Oct. 9, but the panel postponed a decision to get more information. Bonelli will bring in further data Thursday on the exact area and the number of lots to be annexed.

The commissioners will also discuss proposed legislation to update the state's annexation laws.

"The commission has been faced with illogical, gerrymandered, piecemeal type annexations on numerous occasions," said executive officer John F. Barrows. He proposed that rigid city annexation laws be overhauled along lines suggested by the California chapter of the American Institute of Planners.

Burglars Hit Autos For Loot

Three auto burglaries were reported to San Rafael police this weekend.

James B. Hickey, 1825 Lincoln Avenue, told police a $40 battery, $25 generator and $25 alternator were taken from his auto Friday night while it was parked in the rear of his apartment building.

A $65 stereo tape recorder was reported stolen Saturday night by Arthur H. Crocker, 14 La Questa Avenue, Greenbrae. According to police, the recorder was taken while the auto was parked at 131 Peacock Drive. Entrance was gained by breaking a window.

In a third car burglary, Helen L. Mault of 265 Laurel Place, reported a $30 battery taken from her auto Sunday morning while it was parked in her apartment house parking lot.

Innocent Pleas To Burglary Charges

John Edward Brown, 19, of Petaluma, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Superior Court to charges of burglarizing Mac's Saw Service in San Rafael and burglarizing and stealing a car from Dexter Pontiac in August.

A jury trial was set for the week of Jan. 15.

Hunt Loses His Lone Edge On Alcatraz Plans

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The board of supervisors moved millionaire Lamar Hunt back to the starting line yesterday in the race for Alcatraz Island.

The supervisors voted 9-2 to accept and consider new proposals for the former federal prison site and then decide what to do with the property in San Francisco Bay early next year.

EARLIER VOTE

Just three weeks ago the board gave its 6-5 "in principle" approval for Hunt's plan to build a shopping center, decorated in and style of old San Francisco, and an adjoining space museum.

"This puts the Hunt plan back at the starting line along with all the others," Supervisor Robert Mendelson said after the latest vote.

The supervisors also voted 8-3 to direct city officials to "work with any other serious, qualified and financially responsible proponents of other proposals."

The board did not, however, rescind its tentative approval of Hunt's plan but said "it is not to be construed as expressing or implying any preference for the Lamar Hunt proposal over any others."

Yesterday's vote was the result of public pressure generated by San Francisco dressmaker Alvin Duskin who paid $5,000 for full-page ads in the city's two major newspapers.

'BIGGEST STEAL'

Duskin, whose ad included coupons which citizens clipped and sent to the supervisors and Mayor Joseph L. Alioto, called the Hunt proposal "the biggest steal since Manhattan Island."

The dress designer thinks the island ought to be left as it is—"given back to the pelicans after whom it was named."

Deadline for new proposals is now Jan. 31, 1970 and a decision will be made by April 1, 1970.

Walton Holding Outside Jobs

Sidney F. Walton Jr., new principal at Sausalito's Martin Luther King School, is also holding two other teaching posts.

The University of California at Berkeley has announced Walton will teach a five-unit course in Afro-American psychology in a Thursday night class. Walton has also been rehired as a part-time instructor at Merritt College in Oakland in contemporary education for Afro-Americans.

Walton quit Merritt last year when the former college president accused him of faking records for Black Panther Bobby Seale, an accusation denied by Walton.

Two Killers Puzzle Bay Area Officers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Law enforcement agencies in the San Francisco Bay Area today sought two contrasting killers — one known as Zodiac who has bragged of five methodical slayings in cryptic notes, and the other believed responsible for frenzied stabbing attacks on two teen-age girls and an infant.

Zodiac is wanted for the murders of a young couple, two young women and a San Francisco cab driver in four separate attacks in the North Bay area over a period of 10 months.

The teen-agers and a 2-year-old girl were victims of two separate attacks over a three-month period in the South Bay area near San Jose. The girls were stabbed a total of 350, times, and an autopsy on the infant revealed 190 stab wounds.

Officers from seven state and local agencies met here yesterday to go over evidence in the Zodiac case. His taunting notes and a rare 9-millimeter pistol were considered prime clues.

Police said they were checking the handwriting on the notes against the signatures on a list of permits for purchase of the pistol. Only 143 such weapons have been sold in San Francisco over the past three years.

Meanwhile in rural Napa County, scene of one of the Zodiac slayings, armed police rode shotgun on 70 school buses yesterday. Other area counties, including Marin, are keeping close check on school buses.

Zodiac, in a letter which included a blood-spattered portion of the slain cab driver's shirt, warned that his next target may be a bus full of children.

In the South Bay, the naked body of little Shelley Irene Holmboe was found in a vineyard near her home Sunday. San Jose police said there "is quite a bit of similarity" with the knife slayings of Deborah Gay Furlong, 14, and Kathy Snoozy, 15.

The bodies of the teen-aged girls were found Aug. 4 in a grove of trees near t heir homes, about three miles from the vineyard where the Holmboe child was found.

Red Teacher Ruling Hit By Rafferty

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—State schools chief Max Rafferty has declared his support for the planned appeal of a court decision that the firing of UCLA instructor Angela Davis solely because she is a Communist is unconstitutional.

"I don't believe in letting members of the Mafia, Murder Incorporated or a Communist speak with my money on a tax-supported campus," said Rafferty, the Republican superintendent of public instruction.

But Assembly Democratic leader Jess Unruh headed a group of Democratic politicians which took the position Monday that courts already had ruled that an employee can't be fired for being a Communist and the latest decision merely upheld current law.

The Democrats maintained the University of California regents were legally wrong when they urged the dismissal of Miss Davis.

Thomas J. Cunningham, general counsel for the regents, said his office would appeal the ruling made yesterday by Los Angeles Superior Court Judge Jerry Pacht.

Rafferty said the U.C. board of Regents, of which he is a member, hopes the case will go clear to the U.S. Supreme Court and the panel will rule "that society has a right to protect itself from its enemies and does not have to subsidize the conspiracy."

But Unruh said: "The governor and the board of regents, when they took office, swore to uphold the law. That means they must uphold the law whether they personally believe it to be right or wrong. They cannot fulfill their duties simply by enforcing those laws they think are right and ignoring those they think are wrong."

Gov. Ronald Reagan and Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke, Republicans who voted with the regents to dismiss Miss Davis, both declined to comment.

Warrant Issued

A bench warrant with bail set at $2,500 was issued yesterday by Judge E. Warren McGuire of Marin Superior Court for Philip Charles Verheyden, 22, Corte Madera, when he failed to appear for a trial on check forgery charges.

Plan For Bay To Be Studied

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — The Bay Conservation and Development Commission's master plan for the bay, and problems of water pollution in the bay, will be examined by the Army Corps of Engineers tidal hydraulics committee at 8:30 a.m. tomorrow at the Hotel Sutter.

The committee, made up of tidal experts from throughout the nation, advises the corps on problems of navigation, flood control and water resources development.

This afternoon, the committee was to tour the corps' bay model in Sausalito.

49ers In Market For Quarterback

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—"How come," San Francisco 49er quarterback John Brodie once asked, "they say Joe Namath has a 'quick release,' but they say I 'unload?'"

Brodie can't unload anymore, and today the winless 49ers went shopping for another quarterback.

The 34-year-old passer, awaiting results of X-rays on his "dead right elbow," isn't "definitely counted out," 49er Coach Dick Nolan said last night.

"We have to get another quarterback somewhere along the line," Nolan said.

Asked if he knew of any that were available, Nolan replied, "Yes, for a big price."

The coach said third - year quarterback Steve Spurrier from Florida will be depended upon Sunday against Baltimore and that the 49ers would begin work today "to fit the offense around him."

Brodie, a 13 - year veteran from Stanford, was soundly booed Sunday by a small home crowd of 28,684 as the 49ers fell to Atlanta, 28-7. The 49ers are now 0-4-1 in National Football League play after an 0-6 exhibition season.

Brodie completed 19 of 31 passes for 159 yards, but said "most of the completions were on dinky passes.

"There's no strength in my arm, my elbow is dead," Brodie added. "I guess I've just thrown too many passes.

"I was throwing 'waffle' balls. Throwing a football is all touch. I had no feel, I had nothing, absolutely nothing on the ball. The team can't win with me throwing like that," said Brodie.

"It's not a steady pain, but comes and goes. We though he'd shake it off," said team physician Dr. Lloyd Milburn, who explained the trouble was in the muscle on the inside of his right elbow.

"It's a chronic case of pitcher's elbow," the doctor said.

Brodie has been bothered in the past with his right shoulder and apparently the elbow problem developed from that, said Milburn.

Early in the season the 49ers had too many quarterbacks. But No. 2 man George Mira, who had been asking to be traded, went to Philadelphia for offensive tackle Randy Beisler and two draft choices.

Forty-niner officials said that rookie Paul Champlin from Eastern Montana is too inexperienced to be moved up from the taxi squad.

In some more bad news, Dr. Milburn said defensive back Kermit Alexander would be lost three weeks because of a shoulder separation.

PIRATES GET GIUSTI IN TRADE WITH CARDS

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates said today they have traded outfielder-utility man Carl Taylor and minor league outfielder Frank Vanzin to the St. Louis Cardinals for pitcher Dave Giusti and catcher Dave Ricketts.

Pirates' General Manager Joe Brown said Giusti, who pitched for the Cardinals last season and has a lifetime major league record of 50 wins and 60 defeats, would help strengthen the Pittsburgh pitching staff.

Brown said that although Giusti had a poor record this past season because of a back injury, he'd been assured by Cardinals' General Manager Bing Devine that Giusti is in good physical condition again.

Spurrier Goes To Firing Line

If John Brodie's Little League elbow doesn't respond to treatment, the young man who will replace him as No. 1 quarterback of the San Francisco 49ers should win a warm spot in the hearts of the team's frustrated fans.

His name is Mr. Cool, alias Steve Orr Spurrier, No. 11, a third year pro with Heisman Trophy credentials out of University of Florida. That he can throw a football, read defenses and generally direct a team are accepted facts, but can he stand up to pressure and keep his cool in the violent world of professional football?

More than 60 members of the Marin 49ers Boosters Club can answer a resounding yes after listening to the blond, 24-year-old Spurrier answering a barrage of questions along with offensive tackle Cas Banaszek at yesterday's weekly inquest at Dominic's Restaurant, San Rafael.

A Blush, But Keeps His Cool

Spurrier was poise personified, Mr. Iceman from the very start when he accepted without comment a facetious introduction from Boosters President Price Hall who made a big deal about a fumble on Steve's first offensive play against Atlanta Sunday. Spurrier did not dignify the crack with a reply, just gritted his teeth, blushed and shook his head, although he needs that kind of welcome like the 49ers need another loss. For a second string quarterback on a winless team, it was like being blind sided by Deacon Jones, yet he kept his cool. There is no panic button in Steve's repertoir.

In answering questions, Spurrier said, "Yes, I think I'm ready to play" against Baltimore Sunday if Brodie is out; "No," he added, "I don't think there'll be any great pressure on me. We've kicked away enough games so the pressure's off us now. We'll just go out and shoot for upsets now and look toward next year."

Feels Brodie Will Be Back

On Brodie's arm ailment which could end his 13-year pro career, Spurrier said, "I don't think John will be out for the season. Maybe just for a couple of weeks. I guess it's been bothering him all season. He's thrown only one or two days a week in practice, but it seemed to be okay on Sundays. I didn't know anything was wrong yesterday and when they (the coaches) told me to start warming up with Leo (Johnson), I said, 'You going in, Leo?' and he said, 'No, YOU are.'"

While some disgruntled fans have been unhappy with Brodie, Spurrier said he feels he's had a "fair shake" with the 49ers. "No, I'm not satisfied being second team — no athlete should be, but I don't think I have the right to holler to be traded," as was the case of George Mira, since departed. "Maybe if I show well and still don't win the job, then I'll start hollering."

Sherman Little of San Rafael, a season ticket holder for more than 20 years, got up to observe, "All of us at this end of the table think the team has good material and lousy management. We haven't had a good coach since Buck Shaw (1946-54)."

Spurrier, naturally, didn't comment on management, but replied: "I agree, we have good personnel, but we've been flat, lack enthusiasm. That's why the breaks have gone against us. Once we get motivated and show some spark, then those breaks won't happen."

Changing Defense For McNeil

The Niners' No. 1 draft pick of 1967 also noted that receiver Clifton McNeil is far below his 1968 output because: "Last year he caught a lot of sideline passes, but this season the defenses are laying on his outside. And coming across the middle is not one of his better moves; he's not going for the ball like he used to. Yes, also the long rest (during contract squabbling) had to bother him a little bit plus the fact that John hasn't been throwing much in practice."

Spurrier's wife, Jerri, who is expecting another child in three weeks, and two-year-old daughter Lisa accompanied the bread winner to the luncheon.

Meanwhile, Casimir Joseph Banaszek, 23, in his second year with the 49ers, argued that the team's offensive line "is even better than it was last year, and I have statistics to prove it. For example, John has been dropped (for losses — attempting to pass) only seven times in five games, second lowest in the league. Our problem is just a matter of not coming up with the big play. We just can't seem to move inside the 20."

He also rated Los Angeles Ram Deacon Jones as the toughest defensive end in the NFL, "although they're all good, no pushovers"; the Oakland Raiders' defensive unit is the team's strong point and would rate "about fourth or fifth in the NFL"; "You can't find 'em any meaner" than the Raiders' defensive ends, Ben Davidson and Ike Lassiter," and his opponent next Sunday, Bubba Smith of Baltimore, "is something else!"

SNOWING CONFETTI IN NEW YORK

New York Mets' manager Gil Hodges and his wife smile and wave under a deluge of confetti during a ticker tape parade in lower Manhattan yesterday. New York went wild in a last tribute to the World Champions of baseball as the city celebrated "Mets Day" with a ticker tape parade, city hall ceremonies with Mayor John Lindsay, and various presentations. The Mets gave the city the pitchers' rubber from Shea Stadium, autographed by the three World Series pitchers. Pearl Bailey danced for a crowd of 10,000 and joined with opera star Robert Merrill in singing "Take Me Out To The Ballgame."

Ringey Admits Getting Call From Twins' Boss Griffith

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP) — Sunday night Minnesota Twins' President Calvin Griffith said he was making a telephone call to the man who could succeed Billy Martin, fired as the baseball team's manager a week ago.

Yesterday, former California Angels' Manager Bill Rigney confirmed receiving a call from Griffith in San Francisco.

"I'm hoping to have an announcement late this week," Griffith said. "We've got to sit down with the new manager and talk for a couple of days before anything is finalized."

Rigney said, "I have talked to Calvin Griffith but beyond that I can't make any comment."

However, the Minneapolis Tribune reported that Rigney was to meet with Griffith today or tomorrow.

The 51-year-old Rigney is popular in the Minnesota area, having managed the old American Association Minneapolis Millers in 1954-55.

Rigney was manager of the New York and San Francisco Giants from 1956-60 and manager of the Angels from 1961 until early this past season when the Angels got off to a bad start. He worked as radio commentator for the Giants after that.

Griffith had said Sunday that he had trimmed his original list of 50 managerial candidates to four.

The Twins' president listed Rigney; Billy Hunter, Baltimore Orioles' coach; Joe Schultz, Seattle Pilots' manager in 1969, and Eddie Yost, New York Mets' coach, as the four.

Williams Manager Of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — The ragamuffin cast was virtually the same, but Washington's Senators produced an astonishing about-face last season thanks to the personal magnetism and knowledge of the game that made Ted Williams baseball's last .400 hitter.

The freshman manager, who readily admitted he was uneasy about bossing a club despite a million dollar contract, took a collection of ball players that finished dead last the season before and guided them to their first winning season in 17 years.

And, for that bit of masterminding, Williams has been named the Associated Press' American League manager of the year in a nationwide poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

Williams attracted 113 votes in the balloting—11 more than another freshman manager, Billy Martin, who was dismissed after leading the Minnesota Twins to the Western Division championship.

Earl Weaver, who guided the Baltimore Orioles to a runaway triumph in the Eastern Division, was third with 70 votes.

STANFORD VS. UCLA

Ralston: Bruins Are Quick

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—John Ralston, the Stanford University coach, says UCLA is not overpowering but does have great quickness.

Speaking yesterday before the Northern California Football Writers Association, Ralston noted that the Bruins, his Indians' next opponents also are "blessed with two great running backs in Greg Jones and Mickey Cureton."

Dennis Dummit, the Bruin quarterback, "threw only 13 times against California, but completed nine for 200 yards," Ralston said. "He's getting the long ones."

The writers named Stanford's guard Bob Reinhard the area's lineman of the week for the protection he gave quarterback Jim Plunkett while the Tribe was thumping Washington State.

So far this season, Dummit has passed for 1,201 yards and 11 touchdowns. Plunkett has thrown for 1,237 yards and 12 touchdowns. Of the Plunkett yards, 599 were against Washington State.

Coach Ray Willsey, whose Cal Bears there walloped by UCLA, had this to say about the Washington State team which Cal meets next:

"They're a hustling, hitting team. We have a lot in common, I suspect; I'm sure they feel they can beat us and we certainly feel they're within reach."

"We have to regroup, but we have never had problems with that before," Willsey added.

Tony Plummer, a defensive back for University of the Pacific, was voted the back of the week for the 13 tackles and four assists he made during the Tigers triumph over Idaho.

He also caused Idaho's best pass catcher, Jerry Hendren, to fumble twice.

UOP has a bye this week.

San Jose State's Spartans, beaten by Arizona State, play Wyoming this time and coach Joe McMullen said "the easiest job I have this week is picking a traveling squad — if we find 44 healthy ones, we'll take them," he said. "Our bruises are catching up with us," he noted.

Wyoming Grid Coach Not Changing Policy

LARAMIEk, Wyo. (UPI)—Wyoming football coach Lloyd Eaton says he gave 14 Negro athletes football scholarships so they can get an education to "really do something for their people" and he won't change that policy.

"This has been the way I have always coached and I certainly see no reason to make the slightest change in that now," said the coach, who dismissed 14 blacks from his nationally 12th ranked squad last Friday for wearing black armbands in support of a student protest against Mormon-operated Brigham Young University.

Eaton said yesterday that football scholarships are given so athletes can get an education. "What we were trying to do for these fellows was give them that chance to really do something for their people by getting that education," he said.

The Wyoming Board of Trustees has upheld Eaton's action, but the faculty senate voted Sunday to ask the administration to block the dismissals pending an investigation. Faculty members have suggested formation of a student-faculty committee to investigate the dismissals.

The administration has not commented on the request.

SEATTLE WORRIED

Cronin Declares Pilots Staying

CHICAGO (UPI)—American League President Joe Cronin splashed cold water today on reports the Seattle Pilots were trasferring to baseball-hungry Milwaukee, Wis., or to Dallas-Fort Worth.

"No formal request has been made to move the franchise," Cronin said early today after a meeting with a nine-member delegation of Seattle civil dignitaries.

"As of right now, the franchise will stay in Seattle," Cronin said when asked specifically if any move was planned.

CLOSED DOORS

The closed-door meeting between Cronin and the Seattle delegation came after reports that the Pilots were moving, and on the eve of a meeting of American and National League club owners here to discuss the basic owners-players agreement —and possibly the fate of the Seattle franchise.

Cronin's disclaimer of a move was made after the attorney general of Washington, Slade Gorton, said the state of Washington may file an anti-trust suit to keep the A.L. from moving the Pilots.

"Violation of antitrust laws and contract irregularities would appear to justify such action," Gorton said in a telegram to the Seattle delegation.

Cronin said he and the Seattle leaders had a "long, detailed meeting" about Sicks Stadium in Seattle, which is run down and seats only 22,500 people.

The Pilots finished last in their first big league season and drew only 680,000 fans.

"We were given to understand that the Seattle leaders will cooperate fully with the current Pilot ownership," Cronin said. "We also had a detailed look at plans for the new (domed) stadium."

Cronin said King County Commissioner John Spellman said, "Everthing was being done to speed up the work on the magnificent new stadium," for a 1973 completion date. Seattle voters have approved a $40 million bond issue for the stadium.

WORRIED

When the Seattle people were asked why they had come to Chicago, Councilman Charles N. Carroll said, "We are here to make the supreme effort to see that the franchise would not be moved."

The rest of the Seattle delegation stirred, and Cronin cut in: "Naturally they were concerned with the rumors of an impending move. It's only natural."

Penske Racing Team To Join With Javelin

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — Roger Penske of Philadelphia, who heads one of America's most successful auto racing teams, will join American Motors for the 1970 season, the Associated Press learned today.

Penske and AMC, smallest of the Big Three automakers, are expected to announce a five-year deal at a news conference scheduled in Los Angeles tomorrow. The contract is said to involve as much as $5 million.

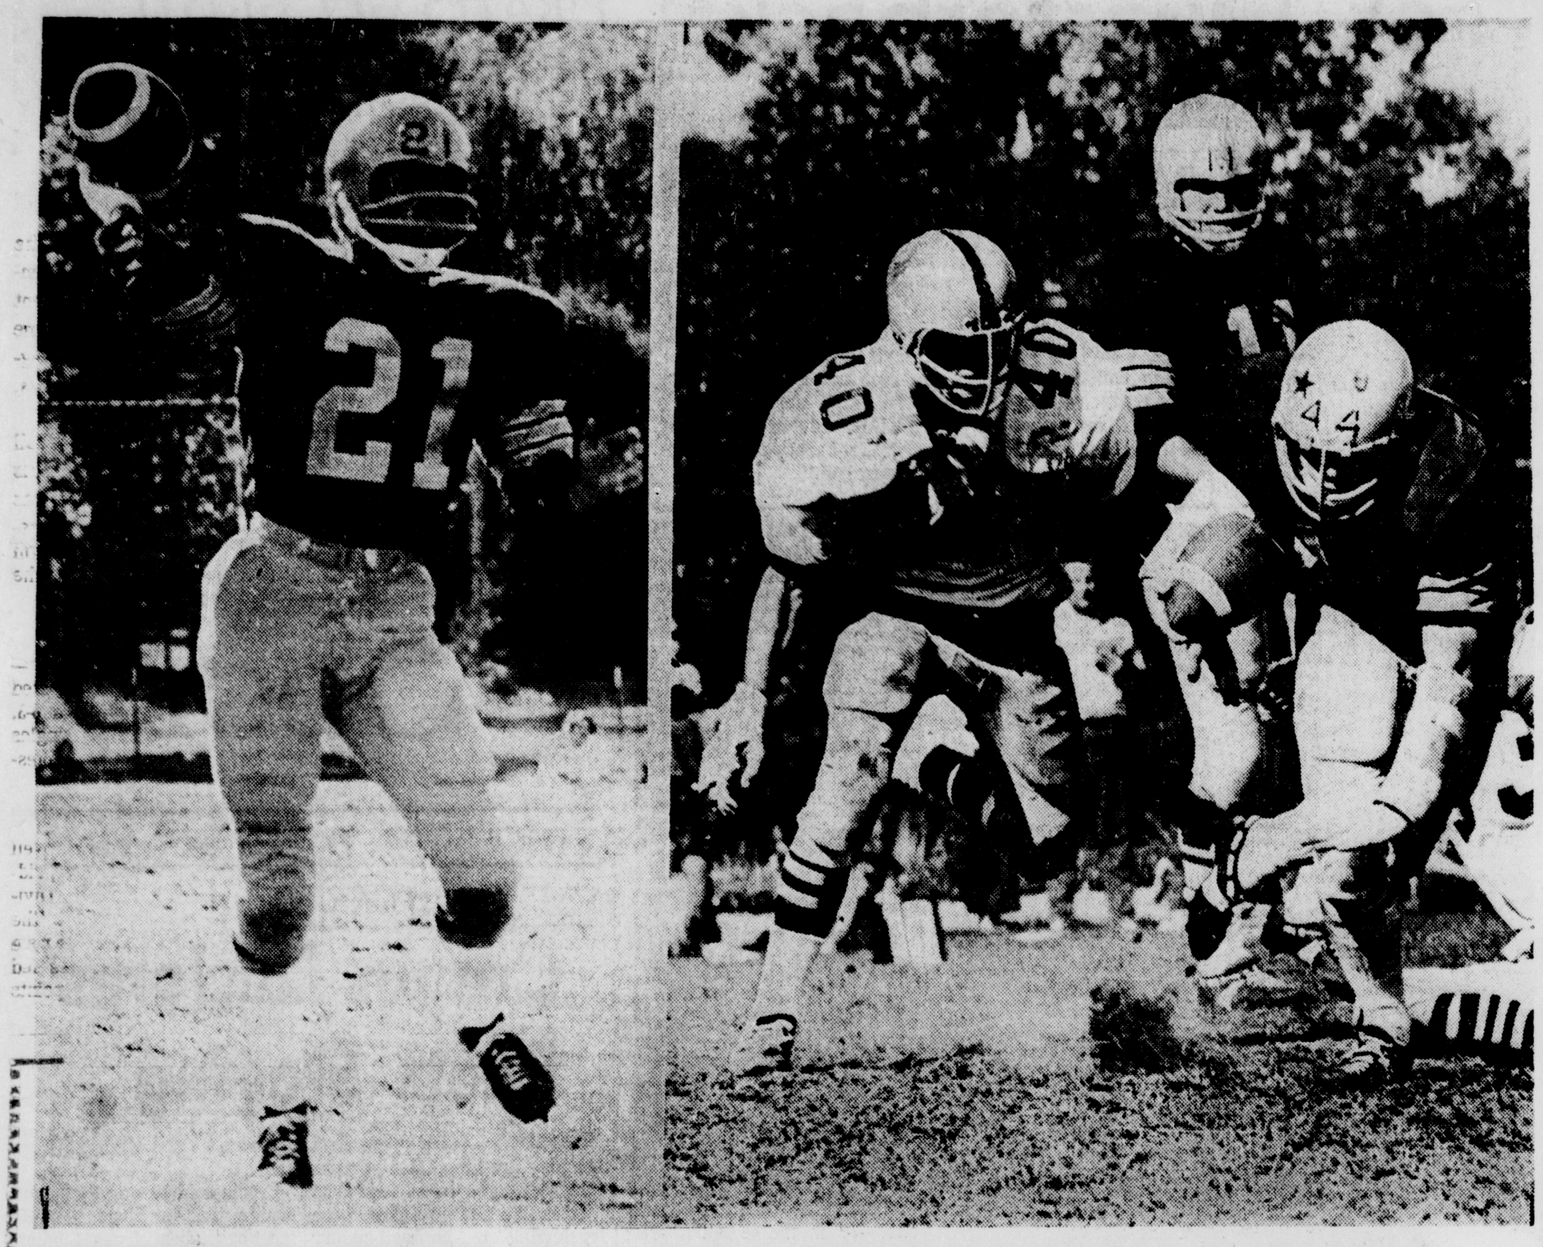
Under the agreement, Penske and his star drivers Mark Donohue and Ron Bucknum will campaign AMC's Javelin cars on the Sports Car Club of America's Trans-American sedan circuit.

With the 31-year-old Donohue winning six races and Bucknum two, the Penske team delivered the Trans-Am manufacturers cup to General Motors' Camaro this season for the second year in a row.

Previously, Donohue, a Brown University engineering graduate, had won the U.S. road racing crown two years in a row in Group 7 sports-racing cars powered by Chevrolet engines. The Penske team also was the top U.S. threat in the rich Canadian-American Challenge Cup series during the 1967 and 1968 seasons.

It will be the second big deal signed for the 1970 Trans-Am series which features Detroit's "pony" cars of the Mustang and Camaro class.

Dan Gurney, the top U.S. star in international racing circles, announced last week he has agreed to race a team of Barracudas for Plymouth next year. Plymouth pulled Gurney away from Ford.



A TOUCHDOWN AND A FIRST DOWN — Pete Sorenson (21) of San Marin gets set to throw a nine-yard touchdown pass to Bill Eckoff on a fake field goal play in the final period and San Marin halfback Steve Lambert stumbles to a first down in the third period as Novato linebacker Dave Perron (40) closes in. Watching the play is San Marin quarterback Ken Gnoss (11). San Marin won the first great city of Novato rivalry, 9-0, Saturday. (Independent-Journal photos by Jim Kean)

MARIN PREP NOTES

Some Leftovers From Big Rivalry

By GARY TISCHLER

Notes on the great rivalry:

The folks up in Novato know how to back their local team or teams, as was the case Saturday when Novato and San Marin high schools got together for what is bound to be one of the top rivalries in this area.

There were, by rough count, well over 2,000 fans at the games, and they made parking conditions slightly ludicrous, even if you arrived reasonably early. I wound up parking four blocks away, which is unusual, even for Novato.

Novato coach Al Scott must be ready to make a pact with the devil, just to get something going on offense. The Hornets have fallen into what can safely be called the 49er syndrome — no matter what you do, there's nothing you can do. It always turns out the same.

RECORD LOW?

The Hornets got what must be a record low, even for them, this season. Not only were they shut out, 9-0, but they managed to make just 10 yards total offense, didn't complete a pass and scratched for just one first down, early in the first half.

In the second half, they had the ball four times for 12 plays, not counting punts. No wonder the Novato defense, which had played brilliantly all through the long day, looked just a little tuckered out near the end of the game.

The game turned out to be a great duel of linebackers as both Dave Perron of Novato and Jack Burnam had a big hand in each team's defensive successes.

It was truly a hard-nosed rivalry. Feeling ran pretty high and bitter in the first half, with hard hitting on both sides. It looked like a mountain feud for a while, but everybody was big buddies after the game, befitting two teams from the same town.

Things don't look to be better for Novato. The Hornets have Terra Linda coming up next and the Trojans are said to be up for this game, trying to make up for a narrow 7-6 win over the Hornets last year.

There were so many long-distance penalties in the first half that at one point one of the down-holders yelled to the other: "You were so far down the line, I thought you'd gone home.

THE TROJANS, incidentally, lost another defensive back last Friday. This time it's Gary Wall who will be out for the season with torn knee ligaments. Coach Don Lucas blamed the injury on the bad footing in the mud. Wall joins Matt Bowman, Mike Dito and Greg Williams, all out for the season.

TERRA LINDA must have really put the whammy on Hogan of Vallejo when the Trojans upset the Spartans, 25-14 several weeks ago at a time when Hogan was touted as one of the top teams in Northern California. Since then, the Spartans have been upended by Santa Rosa and Montgomery of Santa Rosa in North Bay League play.

REFURBISHINGS are going at San Rafael High School. One of particular note is the job that head maintenance man's John Thompson's crew did on the football field after a heavy rain hit during the middle of the week.

By game time for the Terra Linda-Tamalpais tussle Friday night, the field was in excellent shape. Drainage ditches had been dug along both sides of the field, preventing the sidelines from turning into a horrible mire of mud. And there are hopes that those ditches will become permanent things.

The old San Rafael High School gymnasium is also going to come in for some changes, with the lockerrooms, ceilings and walls to get entire new backing material to make them conformant with earthquake safety requirements.

The work on the old gym, set for next month, will not interfere with San Rafael's basketball season, since the Bulldogs play in the "new" gymnasium built in 1957.

THIS WEEK'S toe-job award (Certificates handed out by kicking expert Gordon Tovani to the top high school kicking unit: turns out to be a tie — between San Marin and Terra Linda. Bob Daniele kicked four-for-four for the Trojans in a 28-12 win over Tamalpais while San Marin's Urbano Bousciegez kicked a field goal crucial in a 9-0 win over Novato, with the threat of a field goal setting up the lone touchdown of the game.

Both Daniele and Bousciegez have now won the award twice.

THE MAFIA is alive and well in Tomales, where Petroni and Rodoni hold forth. Tomales fullback Ron Petroni is almost a cinch to get another 1,000-yard season. He pushed his total to 704 yards in 63 carries with a 144-yard outburst against Middletown in a 63-0 win. He also yimes to push his season total to 56 points. And Rodoni threw three touchdown passes to push his total to eight on the season.

SONOMA PREP FOOTBALL

Biggies Coming Up In League Tussles

By STEVE WYNNE

PETALUMA — The "ifs" become greater and the games more important for three southern Sonoma County high school football teams this week as they are in the thick of contention for their league crowns.

Petaluma High School became the first Trojan team since 1967 to jump out of the North Bay League Section I cellar Friday night as it rolled to a 33-14 win over Napa. The win moved Troy to fourth place in the league with a 1-2 mark.

Halfback Steven Hing was the hero for the Trojans as he carried the ball 18 times for 194 yards and hauled down 2 passes for 29 yards. Quarterback Fred Klemenok, who suffered a minor injury late in the game, completed 12 of 20 passes for 160 yards, six of them to big split end Bob Garcia for 127 yards.

The Trojans return to Vallejo's Corbus Field Friday night, hoping to reverse their fate on the same field three weeks ago. Petaluma, which faces Hogan High of Vallejo Friday, was dumped 48-26 by Vallejo in their league opener at Corbus.

Hogan has yet to win an NBL-I contest, dropping games to Santa Rosa, The Montgomery of Santa Rosa: The Spartans are powered by all-state candidate Jim Upchurch at one half and Terry Sumpter at the other.

Santa Rosa (league leader at 3-0) and Vallejo square off in the league's "big game" at Santa Rosa Junior College Friday night. In the third league game, Montgomery (2-1) goes to Napa (0-2).

Ukiah steps out of league play for a week to host NBL-II contender Sonoma. The Dragons, fresh from their first league win — a 14-12 upset win over El Molino of Forestville — figure to give Ukiah a tussle as they are now in fourth place with a 1-1-1 mark.

Cardinal Newman of Santa Rosa (3-0) leads the league with Analy (2-0-1) a close second. Rancho Cotate (1-1) is third, Sonoma fourth, Piner of Santa Rosa (1-2) in fifth place and Healdsburg (0-2) sharing the cellar with El Molino.

Rancho Cotate, bombed 43-13 by Analy Friday, is faced with the task of stopping Newman's Percy Grogans when the Rohnert Parkers host the Cardinals Friday night at Petaluma. Grogans leads the NBL-II in both scoring and rushing and is among Northern California leaders in both categories.

In other league action Friday, Analy is at Healdsburg and El Molino meets Piner in Santa Rosa.

The fourth south Sonoma team, St. Vincent Mustangs of Petaluma, get back in action after a week of rest Saturday when they travel to Eureka to meet St. Bernard's.

The Mustangs, playing as independents this season while awaiting admission to North Central League's Section II come basketball season, are now 2-3 on the season. They boast wins over Justin (Napa) and Willits while losing to Calistoga, St. Helena and Point Arena.

FISH AND GAME

By AL GIDDINGS

A Big, Record Trout And Some Duck Hunting

TRUCKEE — Well, Mary is still goofing around hunting for her buck. We had about three or four inches of snow on the 14th and 15th with quite a bit of rain, too.

The deer seem to be moving toward Sierraville, Sardine Valley and Chilcoot out of the mountains.

Mary got in a day on the 14th on one of the migration ridges going toward Sierraville. She saw 10 deer, one spike and no bucks. You know what I did? I went fishing in Webber Lake with Lee Fey, and proceeded to (as far as we know) break the existing Webber Lake trout record.

I was using a small floating Rapola lure trolling along when I hooked into a 8½-pound German Brown. It is a pip! Even most of the cameras broke down when we tried for some pictures. Bob and Betty Listman of Novato were here when we brought the fish in to the cabin. We had quite a celebration.

Bob and Betty haven't clicked on a buck yet, but they saw a guy with a trophy four-pointer the day it snowed, so they have been beating the back country with high hopes.

Today Bob and Betty hunted but we noticed their truck at Sierraville at the local bar. Bib says they make great milkshakes there. They were leaving for Novato tomorrow so we gave them the big trout hoping they might see Bob Hax for a picture.

Thursday evening, the 16th, Moe Quadros arrived in a real snowstorm. In about an hour, the cars were covered with snow. We planned Saturday's duck hunt deciding to go to Honey Lake where the fish and game department has a water fowl area open to the first 100 hunters.

We left Friday morning arriving at the area about noon. We were given numbers 10, 11 and 12 for Moe, Mary and myself.

This assured us of getting in but we couldn't leave the area without surrendering our places. This was a problem as we only had four doughnuts, six bars of candy and a thermos of coffee plus three chickens that Moe had brought along from Mill Valley. We ate southern fried chicken for lunch, dinner and breakfast. Thank goodness Georgia Quadros sent it along with Moe.

The duck hunt was great. We scouted the area Friday afternoon and located a good-looking pond, so Saturday morning we were out there at 6 a.m. waiting for legal shooting time at 6:45 a.m. We put out 24 decoys, and we were limited out by noon, dog-tired from sleeping in the station wagon, but happy. We had 10 mallards, three sprigs and two gadwalls.

We checked out and headed for Litchfield, a small town three miles from Honey Lake. We stopped at the 7-Acres Restaurant and had nearly two meals each. The food was excellent, so we talked to Jack Engholm, the owner, and got a room with two double beds and fine clean accommodations.

We then cleaned the birds and went to bed at 7 p.m. Up at 3 a.m. and back to the duck area. We were about 10th in line so easily got in again. At noon we had nine birds so we decided to call it a day. We returned to Webber and there Mary and I made plans to leave for Colorado Monday morning. Moe planned to head back for Marin County.

Grand Junction, here we come!

Record Try Falls Short

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bill Toomey's on-again, off-again decathlon career—a discouraging search for the world record—is off again.

For the 32nd time in his life and the ninth time this year, both records in themselves, Toomey made a challenge for the mark and fell short yesterday. He owns the gold medal for winning the decathlon at the 1968 Olympic Games in Mexico City.

Going into yesterday's 10th and last event, the 1500 meters, the 31year-old athlete from Santa Barbara has amassed 7,683 points. A mark of 4:23 would have given him 637 points for the event and 8,320 overall — one more than the world mark set two years ago by West Germany's Kurt Bendlin.

But Toomey, who has run the 1500 in 4:12, broke too quickly, went through the first lap in a fast 65 seconds, lost his timing and ran out of steam. He finished in a mediocre 4:30.4, picked up 587 points and wound up with 8,270—49 short of the mark.

BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG

Sometimes your ball simply will not come "up" into the 1-3 pocket. It could be that your release is faulty, but it might also be caused by fast, or slick, alleys. If it's the latter, try moving a board to the right. This gives you a wider angle at that "strike" pocket.

Seals' Mattiussi Out Of Lineup

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Seals, already short of defensemen, lost veteran Dick Mattiussi for at least two weeks yesterday after he underwent an appendectomy.

The Seals may also be without the services of Bert Marshall for tonight's game against the Pittsburgh Penguins. The 8 o'clock game will be in the Oakland Arena. He is in a cast with strained wrist ligaments.

Frank Lacombe, with the National Hockey League club last season, was recalled from the Providence, R.I., farm club to replace Mattiussi on the roster.

Beard Retains $$ Lead

NEW YORK (AP) — Frank Beard, who was second in the past weekend's Sahara Invitational tournament at Las Vegas, maintained his position yesterday as top money winner on golf's pro circuit this year.

Beard pocketed $11,400 in the Sahara and boosted his 1969 earnings to $171,838, the Professional Golfers Association of America said.

Beard's total is the fourth highest ever earned on the tour. It is topped only by Jack Nicklaus' $211,566 in 1967; Billy Casper's $205,168 last year, and Arnold Palmer's $193,964 in 1967.

Nicklaus, who won the Sahara, made substantial inroads in the dollar race—climbing from 19th to seventh place. Nicklaus' $20,000 first prize gave him $94.567 this year.

The top 10 money winners through the Sahara Invitatiol including number of tournaments completed, victories and times finished in the top five:

1. Frank Beard, 27-2-10,		$171,838.
2. Dave Hill, 25-3-9,		151,364.
3. Gary Player, 16-1-10,		123,897.
4. Gene Littler, 19-2-7 ,		110,787.
5. Ray Floyd, 23-3-5,		109,469.
6. Lee Trevino, 28-1-7,		100,025.
7. Jack Nicklaus, 20-2-4,		94,567.
8. Bruce Crampton, 27-0-5,		91,807.
9. Dale Douglass, 32-2-4,		89,742.
10. Tommy Aaron, 26-1-8,		87,625.

An Early Retirement For Hull?

TORONTO (AP) — The Globe and Mails says in its early edition that Bobby Hull, high-scoring left winger with the Chicago Black Hawks, has announced his retirement from the National Hockey League.

The paper says in a copyright story that Hull announced his ertirement last week in a telegram to Tommy Ivan, manager of the Hawks, who have lost their first five games in the current NHL season.

The paper says Hull conferred with Ivan in Chicago last week over the dispute of Hull's four-year contract signed last year. Hull still has three years to play on the contract.

Jets Triumph, Slowly Reaching Top Form

NEW YOR (UPI)—The New York Jets are slowly reaching Super Bowl form.

Weeb Ewbank, coach of the defending world champions, admitted as much last night after the Jets defeated the Houston Oilers, 26-17, to take over sole possession of first place in the American Football League's Eastern Division.

"This was a good team victory all the way around. We're gonna hang the game ball right up there," Ewbank said, pointing to a pipe that swung down from the ceiling of the locker room.

The offensive line, which had been disappointing in the Jets' first five games, finally protected Joe Namath the way it did last year. As a result, the Jets were able to connect on the bomb—one of their prime weapons last season.

Don Maynard grabbed seven passes for 212 yards. Namath connected on 12 of 24 passes for 306 yards as he turned in his best game of the season. Namath had three passes intercepted, including one which was returned 51 yards for a touchdown by Zeke Moore, but he was on target most of the night and did an excellent job of reading the Oilers' switching defenses.

The Jets, who drew a record crowd of 63,841 for their home opener, trailed Houston only once—7-3 in the second quarter following Moore's interception return.

New York took the lead for good with seven minutes left in the half when Maynard beat all-league safety Miller Farr on a fly pattern for a 57-yard score. With 18 seconds left in the half, Maynard came back again to beat en Houston on a 54-yarder and give the Jets a 17-7 lead at the intermission.

The Oilers rallied back on a 15-yard TD pass from Pete Beathard to Mack Haik to make it 17-14 in the third quarter, but reliable Jim Turner, who booted four field goals, prevented the Oilers from putting any lasting pressure on the Jets.

Bills' Harris Out For Season

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) The Buffalo Bills, whose quarterback woes played a major role in their disastrous 1968 American Football League season, have lost promising rookie signal-caller Jim Harris for the rest of the current campaign.

Harris, who made pro football history Sept. 14 when he became the first Negro to start a season-opening game at quarterback, underwent surgery yesterday to repair torn ligaments in his left knee.

A spokesman for the Bills said Harris would have to wear a cast for eight weeks.

Harris was injured Sunday when Tom Keating and Ben Davidson of Oakland tackled him following a scrambling run in the third quarter of the Raiders' 50-21 rout of the visiting Bills.

BASEBALL

LINCOLN, Neb. — Billy Martin, runnerup in the balloting for Associated Press American League Manager of the years, says Ted Williams, who won the poll, "did a great job."

Martin, ousted manager of the Minnesota Twins, was in Lincoln for a speaking engagement when the announcement came that Williams, first year manager of the Washington Senators, had won the honor.

Martin said he knew baseball managers were in a hazardous occupation but admitted he was surprised that he was not rehired by Twins' owner Calvin Griffith after Minnesota won the Western Division crown.

TENNIS

COLOGNE, Germany — Spain's Andres Gimeno defeated Roy Emerson of Australia 6-3, 19-17 to win the men's singles title in the Spoga Cup Professional Tennis Tournament.

HORSE SHOW

HARRISBURG, Pa. — Neil Shapiro of Glen Head, N.Y., riding Manon, won the 28th Division Infantry Trophy at the Pennsylvania National Horse Show as the United States led the team standings by 10 points over runnerup Canada.

Today is Tuesday, Oct. 21, the 294th day of 1969 with 71 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase. The morning stars are Mercury, Venus, Jupiter and Saturn. The evening star is Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1879, Thomas Edison invented a workable electric incandescant lamp after 14 months of experiments.

In 1917, soldiers of the 1st Division became the first American troops to see action in World War I.

In 1966, a coal waste slide buried the Welsh mining town of Aberfan. Two days later, 135 bodies had been found.

In 1967, Egypt sank the Israeli destroyer Elath in the Mediterranean.

A thought for the day: Samuel Taylor Coleridge said, "To have lived in vain must be a painful thought to any man, and especially to him who has made literature his profession."

Unification To Be Discussed

The current state of school unification plans will be discussed when the San Anselmo School District board meets at 7:30 p.m. today at the Red Hill School library.

Board members will report on meetings last week of the county committee on school district organization and of trustees from San Anselmo, Fairfax, Lagunitas and Nicasio districts to discuss unification.

The board is also to consider hiring two kindergarten teachers, which would complete staffing of an expanded kindergarten program this year.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Sometimes Attempt To Show Up Partner Not Too Secret

In the ideal bridge session you not only beat your opponents badly but also prove that your partner would be a terrible handicap to anybody less gifted than you. Even in the best of partnerships each player has a secret desire to show up his partner; and sometimes that desire is far from secret.

CLUB LEAD

West led the jack of clubs, and South ruffed. He sneered at his partner's timid bidding (quite unjustly, of course) and tried to show that North somehow or other should have suggested a slam.

South led out the ace and king of spades, and his game contract thereupon went right out of the window. South didn't know that he was already dead, and he proceeded to dig his grave a little deeper by leading the queen of spades next.

When the trumps failed to break favorably, South was in great danger. He could still recover if the diamonds broke 2-2, but the ace and king of diamonds failed to clear the suit. Now South had no more tricks.

DRAWS TRUMPS

West took the next trick with the ace of hearts and drew declarer's last trump with the jack of spades. West then cashed the queen of diamonds and gave East the rest of the tricks with good clubs. Down four!

South should make his contract by careful play. After ruffing the first club South can afford to draw only one round of trumps. He should then lead the king of hearts to force out the ace.

ANOTHER CLUB

When West leads another club, South must discard a diamond instead of ruffing. The defenders cannot lead a third club, since dummy can ruff. That is the point of leaving a trump in the dummy.

No matter how the defenders continue, South can draw two more rounds of trumps and run the hearts. West ruffs when he likes, but South can get back to dummy with the king of diamonds to take any hearts that remain. The defenders can get only one club, one heart and one trump.

ANSWER: Bid two hearts.

Despite the impressive trump support, this weak hand is not worth a jump to four hearts.

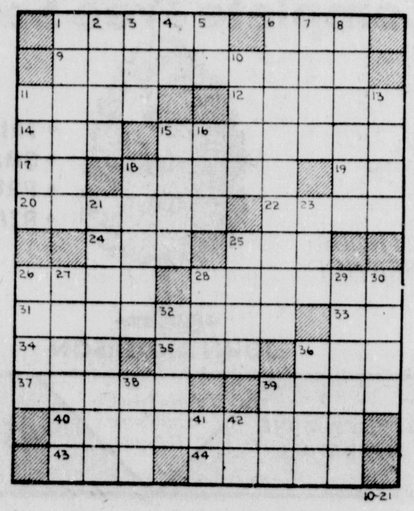
Yesterday's Answer



Wall Street Climbs With High Volume

NEW YORK (UPI — Demand for stocks accelerated today amid predictions of lower interest rates within the next few months and reports that President Richard M. Nixon might be considering a unilateral cease-fire in Vietnam or a sizable troop cutback.

Turnover of better than 15,000,000 shares was well above yesterday's pace.

General Motors was on the uptrack, but Chrysler fell following a sharp drop in third quarter net.

Electronics showed marked strength, although a number of issues were pointing lower in fractions.

Diet soft drink producers firmed up somewhat. The group had been under pressure yesterday following the government's ban on cyclamate products. Many producers say they will have substitutes on the shelves in a matter of days.

Airlines were impressive, with several issues adding a point or more. Aircrafts were mixed.

NEW HEATING ALLOY

An engineer at Wilbur B. Driver Co., of Philadelphia, a subsidiary of Sylvania, checks a live test of a new heating element alloy, Tophet H, that uses 40 per cent less nickel than presently is used in nickel-chrome alloys. This test unit heats the wire to 2,175 degrees Fahrenheit every two minutes, cools it for a like time and continues the cycle until it fails. (UPI Telephoto)

INVESTING

Variable Annuity Not Liked

By ROGER SPEAR

Q. My public school system — I've been teaching 24 years — is offering participation in a variable annuity group contract. I'm a single woman owning my home and a few stocks: 86 Baltimore Gas & Electric, 24 American Telephone and 20 AMP Inc. I have also purchased some fund shares — 21 T. Rowe Price Growth and 1,317 MIF Growth. Details of the annuity plan lead me to think I'd be better off buying more Price shares or their New Era Fund. Please help me to decide. — S.B.

A. The variable annuity you're considering is not a suitable balance to your current holdings which for the most part, like the annuity, emphasize the speculative aspects of growth from equity investment.

You've already put the bulk of your savings in a performance fund and taken a position in AMP for its speculative potential. If you're anxious about inflation just remember that you have a further hedge in your house and land.

In my opinion your investment backlog of American Telephone and Baltimore G & E should be built up to 50 and 100 shares respectively and I endorse your idea of buying more T. Rowe Price Growth Fund which stands high among the no-loads for its stable growth record.

I'd postpone buying New Era until some progress reports become available. When retirement arrives you might shift some of your assets into a conventional life annuity.

Dividend Halved

CHICAGO (UPI) — Union Stockyards Co. cut its quarterly dividend from 20 cents to 10 cents payable Dec. 29 to holders of record Dec. 12.

Computer Expert Cites Companies' Policy Errors

NEW YORK (UPI) — There is a greater concentration of computers in the banking industry than in any other sector, including the federal government, but the airlines are the most efficient computer users of all, a computer industry spokesman reports.

Harvey N. Berlent, president of Computer Exchange, Inc., also said that almost half the 70,000 computers currently in use in the U.S. are not being used to their fullest capacity.

Many companies "work in the principle of getting the latest — whatever it is —without analyzing their needs on the basis of cost or performance," he said.

He said Computer Exchange, which deals in used computers, already is handling late model "third generation" computers bought from companies that never should have purchased them in the first place.

Sara Lee Plans

NEW HAMPTON, Iowa (UPI) — The Kitchens of Sara Lee has announced plans to build a multimillion dollar food processing plant on an 80-acre site here. The plant, a 300,000 square foot facility, will employ 200 to 300 initially and 500 when operating at capacity. Groundbreaking is scheduled for the spring of 1970 and completion is expected in November 1971.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Presto Instant Press Will Open Soon In Northgate Park

A new business, Presto Instant Press, should open in another week or 10 days at 74 Mitchell Boulevard, Northgate Industrial Park.

Owner Robert Crutcher of San Francisco, who has one location on 15th Street in Oakland, has leased about 1,300 square feet through William W. Hoey and Co. Basically, Presto is a quick-service printing plant where small-lot printing orders can be turned out on a "while you wait" basis. Crutcher plans on several other similar outlets in other cities.

But the Northgate plant will also be headquarters of the organization and fill large printing orders placed with the other outlets.

Before opening his Oakland office, Crutcher was a management consultant in Beverly Hills. He plans on moving his home to Marin.

ANOTHER NEW OCCUPANT at 74 Mitchell Boulevard is Viscom, moved yesterday from 534 Fourth Street in San Rafael.

Owners Walter S. Fadeley and James MacElroy have leased 1,600 square feet through Hoey, giving them about three times the space they had previously.

Viscom is a contraction of "visual communications." Fadeley and MacElroy, who have been in business on Fourth Street for more than a year, are engaged in producing audio-visual presentations. They also do design work for brochures, catalogs and other publications. Their coverage is on a nationwide basis for large corporations and industrial organizations.

IRA KAYE of San Rafael has been promoted to district sales manager of the radio and stereo division of Calectron, distributor for Radio Corp. of America. He has been a salesman with the company for 11 years.

Vaughan Southers

REAL ESTATE: New at the Mill Valley office of Frank Howard Allen and Co. is Michael Vaughan of San Francisco, who has entered real estate after seven years as a certified accountant in Santa Barbara and San Francisco . . . Carol Southers, formerly construction coordinator for builders Goheen and Olin, has joined Allen's Tiburon office . . . Fox and Carskadon, Inc. has added Mrs. William J. Friedrich of Tiburon to its Southern Marin office. She was previously with Home and Land Co., Tiburon and before that active at Peacock Gap . . . Mrs. Karen Fitts of Novato has joined Fox and Carskadon's San Rafael office. She has been in title work. Husband Monte is with William Timmer.

A RECENTLY organized company, now incorporated, is Central System, Inc., at 22 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael.

The company engages in light manufacturing. Principal products are computer control systems, computer panels and medical records programs. It also turns out a battery-operated fire alarm system and some electronic devices.

Active principal in the firm is James S. Killarney of Sausalito. Associated with him in the business are Joseph A. Gereghty of San Rafael and San Rafael attorney Joseph D. Dahlman.

GERRY V. CROLLA of Terra Linda, district manager in San Francisco for the Janitrol Division of Andro Corp., attended the company's national sales meeting last week in Columbus, Ohio.

Bank Holding Firm Shows Gain

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — Total consolidated resources of Bankamerica Corp., the one-bank holding company for Bank of America, amounted to $24,990,591,000 on Sept. 30, according to Rudolph A. Peterson, president.

This represents a gain of 7 per cent over the total of $23,363,127,000 a year ago.

Net operating earnings for the first nine months rose to $118,010,000, or $3.44 per share, on the 34,325,955 shares outstanding, as compared with $105,079,000, or $3.07 per share, last year, adjusted for the stock dividend paid in December 1968.

Boiler Project

NEW YORK (UPI) — Combustion Engineering Co. has obtained an order for three 770-megawatt boilers valued at $90 million to be installed in the Navajo generating station six miles west of Page, Ariz., being built for Salt River Project, Arizona Public Service Co., Tucson Gas and Electric Co., Nevada Power Co., City of Los Angeles and U.S. Bureau of Reclamation.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Finally: The Key Question On College Responsibility

Somebody finally put the key question at last Tursday night's meeting of the Marin Junior College District borad.

After a handful of students demanding money from the district had made a scene for which at least some of them deserve expulsion, the question was raised by two board members, Charles W. Gray and Elizabeth M. Deedy:

IS IT THE OBLIGATION of the school district to feed and clothe students as well as offer them an education?

The answer, of course, is that it is not. Taxpayers fund the junior college — and the rest of the schools — to make education available for all. They do not undertake to provide all who want to attend school with a living besides.

Gray and Mrs. Deedy didn't put the question quite as we have put it here. But it was implicit in what they said.

"We've been told," said Gray, "that the community college has no responsibility to provide more than an education."

"This is a tremendously important question," put in Mrs. Deedy. She then proposed that a newly constituted student financial assistance committee "consider re-evaluating the college's role" in going beyond this.

IT'S ABOUT time!

Militant students — and some who are not even students but find the college campus a handy place to raise Cain — have been spouting that the college owes them a living, or at least money for clothes, meals and books.

It owes them no such thing.

It owes them the opportunity to get an education. Nothing more.

THE PEOPLE who fund the college —the taxpayers of Marin—want it to offer the best education possible. They want it to make that education available to as many of Marin's residents as possible. And to assist in the latter, they are willing and eager that funds be made available in the form of loans and grants to needy and deserving students.

But they are not willing that these funds should be used to pay any student who asks for them.

They are not willing that the college become a subsidized haven for malcontents, providing them the money on which to eat and with which to buy clothes so long as they register for a course or two.

THE GANG WHO insulted the college trustees last Thursday night — as they have done repeatedly, without punishment, to the college's everlasting shame — made it pretty plain what they want.

They don't want assistance in completing their education. They want a handout.

Valmar Schaaf of San Anselmo stated it for them. He said the board "sold the students down the river" by giving priority to full-time students. He and his cohorts complained that if they carry a full 12-unit load, they have no time to earn money.

Since we know quite a few college students who are carrying a considerably heavier load than 12 units at College of Marin, and are working to help pay their way, we have a simple answer to that. It is an unprintable word used very freely and publicly by those who have been demanding the handouts at College of Marin.

"Now what's all this about you guys wanting a little more say in administration?"

Bridge Board Condemns Marin To Wait Awhile—For Ferries

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

A giant leap backward last week by Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District directors — back to the days of ferry boats — again proved the bridge board's indomitable will to self-destruct.

Ferries are kind of cute, of course, but they simply do not relate to the problem at hand — which is to move far more commuters than can crawl down to the water's edge for the privilege of slowly gorging themselves on nostalgia.

SAN FRANCISCO'S board of supervisors, attuned as usual to finding a sideshow to distract its voters was utterly responsible for the whole gruesome farce last week.

But Marin's angry commuters condemned by the San Francisco supervisors to more years of fighting their way into the city that knows how to make life rough for the very people who supply its ecomonic life blood, were not fooled by the board's vote for ferryboats.

It is these commuters, and Marin residents as a whole, who fill more than half of the multimillion-dollar pot of gold that is to finance this ferry folly. It is Marin's money that will be poured down the rat hole, instead of being invested in an effective bus system.

Marin's huge investment in the bridge district, however, is too valuable to allow the San Francisco supervisors to eat it up just so they can claim to their voters that they are doing something about traffic.

DISSOLUTION of the district, with strict earmarking by the state of the rich reserves for solving congestion in the Golden Gate corridor, is not a new idea, but the suspicion grows that this soon will be the only way to stop San Francisco from frittering away Marin's money.

Some San Francisco supervisors would like to get the city's hands on the money to solve its own traffic problems, but at the rate they are mishandling the problem of commuter traffic, there won't ever be any relief for Marin or San Francisco dirvers.

The hard work of carrying out the bridge board's decision could undo the whole idea of ferries, of course. Aside from Marin's zoning authority to block the use of Corte Madera tidelands for a terminal, there is the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission, which may fault parking several thousand cars on ecologically valuable marshland.

ANOTHER MAJOR problem will be the cash flow available for ferries, which virtually guarantees at least a three-year delay before they could be in operation.

And then there's the dredging of a channel to a terminal, which would be up to one mile long. Keep in kind that the Saucelito Canal dredging project, which is two miles long, now is to cost more than $1 million.

Thanks to the San Francisco supervisors, commuter traffic is going to get a lot worse, and then even worse.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Black Arm Bands For United Nations

In view of the Vietnam Moratorium demonstrations, Oct. 15, it seems most appropriate that we fly our United States of America flag on United States Day, Oct. 23. And on United Nations Day, Oct. 24, wear black armbands to get US out.

The United Nations organization being shown such unusual favoritism by our government in the past is in effect run by Communists to promote Communist objectives. Suffice it to say that the United Nations is another fraud the American is being forced to swallow.

Further, with respect to UNICEF greeting cards (notice not Christmas cards), postmasters are being requested to set up desk and chair in the post lobby for sale of these non-Christian messages at the expense of our tax dollars.

I resent parents using their young children to canvass for funds on Halloween for the inimical United Nations — simply turns me off!

Support Needed To Save Seashore

Your excellent editorial of Oct. 2, "Superjet, Park, Transit — A Matter of Priorities", relating to Point Reyes National Seashore, hits the nail right on the head. Bipartisan supporters of varied conservation legislation in the House and Senate are now raising just this issue which cannot be over-emphasized.

The action of the House Interior Committee in scheduling further consideration of Point Reyes bills for Nov. 13 is extremely encouraging. However, there are persistent rumors that there may, on this occasion, be recommendations for changes in the boundaries of the Seashore, meaning a reduction in size of the park, with subsequent inevitable subdivision of lands excised from the Seashore. . .

Now the time has come for citizens of the Bay Area to express their views forcefully to Washington officials asking for the needed funds and insisting on the preservation of the original boundaries. . .

Creek Protest, Woman's Suffrage

In response to your article regarding the arrest of Mary Kent Schardt who attempted to save Tamalpais Creek, I am writing to say I am in complete sympathy with her.

You quote Judge (Peter Allen) Smith as saying he does believe in conservation and doesn't want Marin County ruined by construction, and yet he feels Mrs. Schardt is setting a bad example. To whom? Would he have said the same about the early suffragettes? Their goal was women's votes and they had the courage not only to go on hunger strikes but also to obstruct traffic and picket the White House.

The women of our land owe them a debt of gratitude, but unfortunately not too many women of their courage are in evidence today. And what about our example of apathy and disinterest while our redwoods are being cut down, our bay filled in and our seashore ruined by commercial interests?

Herkenhoff Asked To Resign Post

After reading the editorial in the I-J Oct. 14, in regard to the schools of Marin participating in this Vietnam moratorium, we endeavored to telephone Mr. Louis H. Herkenhoff, president, College of Marin, around 8 to 8:30 this morning, (Oct. 15), but there was no answer at the college at that hour. We then were in touch with one of the trustees and as a result of that conversation the following letter was read over the phone to and have mailed the original on to Mr. Herkenhoff:

"We have just endeavored to telephone you to verify the statements made in the editorial in the Independent-Journal, Oct. 14. There was no answer and we contacted one member of the board of trustees who substantiated the statements made by the Independent-Journal.

"As longtime residents of Marin County, and rather substantial taxpayers, we say you are a traitor to this nation and the boys (some our close friends) who have died endeavoring to save this country from communism.

"Why can you not grasp the concept that College of Marin is an educational institution and not a puppet for whatever political movement may happen to catch the fancy of yourself and your faculty?

"May we strongly urge you to turn in your resignation and leave our school. The youth of our country need loyal-minded Americans at the helms of our public schools."

Smaller Ferries Would Fill Bill

As I see it, the commuter bus, however efficient the service, has two strikes against it.

First there is the inevitable hike at one or both ends of the bus terminus, when we are becoming a people whose creeping laziness has us preferring our soft car seat to even the shortest walk.

Then there is the psychologicl factor. For most men, and some women, driving on the highway is a competitive sport. . . . Rather than forego this, and "leave the driving to us," he will put up with the hours wasted in tension and frustration on the road.

As for ferries, I don't believe the hydrofoil or hovercraft, with their restricted, airplane-type seating, their noise, their limited view, will attract the true ferry buff. . . .

Also, the relatively short run across the bay, with small boat traffic, fog, heavily traveled shipping lanes, and shore damage from excessive wash, would severely limit the hydrofoil or hovercraft in making use of their potential speed.

I am not suggesting the ponderous ferry of old. The Harbor Tours craft, or the smallish type of ferry that swarms the waters of Hong Kong and Sydney, would fill the bill. What's to prevent the bridge district's chartering from Harbor Tours and getting started right now?

Alioto's Bravura Adds Excitement To California Political Campaign

SAN FRANCISCO — When the prophets of doom were predicting another earthquake in April that would shatter the city as it was shattered in 1906, Mayor Joseph L. Alioto held a big public rally at 5:15 in the morning, the time set for the crack of doom. Thousands gathered in City Hall Plaza for coffee, doughnuts, rock-and-roll music and a ripsnorting speech by the mayor.

It was characteristic of the Alioto style, which is bravura all the way. Recently, when a Look magazine article listed past Alioto law clients as Mafia figures, the pundits wrote off the mayor's political future. The smiling confidence he radiates today grows out of his belief that the Look article and his indignant response to what he claimed was "guilt by association" has been a positive benefit.

He is talking about winning not only the primary fight he will have with the state's most conspicuous Democratic candidate for the governorship, Jess Unruh, but going on from there to defeat the Republican champ, Ronald Reagan. This may be sheer operatic bravura. But, as the mayor zeroes in on what he considers the vulnerable points of both Unruh and Reagan, the confidence of this bold, ambitious man who took off from Fisherman's wharf and his Sicilian-born father's fish business cannot be discounted.

NEXT YEAR could be a test of whether the theatrical-television image types are to be the wave of the future not only in California but nationwide. For in 1970 two such types will be on the Republican ticket.

To the surprise of practically no one, Sen. George Murphy announced in Los Angeles that he intends to run for re-election. A song-and-dance man in the heyday of filmdom, Murphy in several pictures played Shirley Temple's father. Reagan is indelibly stamped on the public mind as the hero of all those TV westerns.

Until the last minute the hope was cherished within the Nixon administration that Murphy would decide on retirement and perhaps a comfortable ambassadorship. That would have opened the way for young, attractive Robert Finch to run for the Senate seat and thereby escape the rigors of the health, education and welfare that push him so hard.

FOR THE DEMOCRATS to pump up confidence takes considerable doing. The party is divided and in disarray. Until late in the 1968 presidential campaign, Unruh sulked. A Kennedy man all the way, he had been a leader of the rebels at the convention in Chicago.

Alioto not only nominated Hubert Humphrey but he went all-out for the ticket. His claim to party loyalty cannot be challenged. More important with the left-of-center wing of the party is the attack he is beginning to direct against Reagan. He charges that the governor is running against the student rebels at Berkeley and is conducting an anti-intellectual campaign threatening to destroy a great institution.

The mayor has also seized on the environment issue — the pollution of air and water rapidly eroding the natural resource base of a once-majestic and beautiful state. He talks about the 15 wealthy backers who can put up $10,000 each to buy the $150,000 house in which Reagan lives in Sacramento. They are, the mayor charges, the heart of the oil-auto lobby blocking any really effective measures to combat pollution.

A bruising Alioto-Unruh primary fight can leave the Democrats in even worse disarray then they are today. But the Republicans can also carve themselves up. Last year they nominated the incredible Max Rafferty, superintendent of public instruction, for the Senate, rejecting a moderate, former Sen. Thomas Kuchel. Rafferty was defeated in November by Alan Cranston. It only proves that in California politics anything can happen, and it usually does.

Prosperity In E. Germany —But No Rolling Stones

By PHIL NEWSOM, UPI Foreign Affairs Analyst

As Communist East Germany observed its 20th anniversary, there were several items of note.

In East Berlin's Alexander Platz, a huge complex of malls, office buildings and hotels bore evidence of the progress of 17 million East Germans from the ruins of 20 years ago to today's highest standard of living within the Communist bloc.

A mile or so away, at Checkpoint Charlie which pierces the wall dividing East and West Berlin, thousands of youths gathered on the eastern side.

THERE WAS A RUMOR that the Rolling Stones were to give a concert on the roof of a publishing house just across the wall.

There was a rumor that the Rolling Stones were to give a concert on the roof of a publishing house just across the wall.

The rumor was false and when the crowds refused to disperse, the police charged, arresting dozens.

One man could take most of the credit for the achievement at Alexander Platz. The incident at the wall demonstrated how he had achieved it.

THE MAN is Walter Ulbricht, 76-year-old head of East Germany's Communist party and chief of state.

Yet even in the moment of triumph marking East Germany's rise from Soviet satellite to junior partner, Ulbricht could not be wholly at ease.

A prominent guest at the celebrations was Leonid I. Brezhnev, Russian Communist party leader, who had just called for "relaxing tensions, for creating truly neighborly relations with all European states, including the West German Federal Republic."

It did not fit the Ulbricht pattern.

His 20 years of rule had been built on unceasing belligerency against West Germany.

AN EAST GERMAN television commentator describing a military parade told how East German soldiers "hate" their enemies of the west.

Ulbricht's was the most strident voice demanding elimination of the liberal Czech regime.

He does not welcome economic competition from the west.

Yet his may not be the final voice.

The Russians, uncertain of the future in the east, seek a status quo in the west.

Willy Brandt, the Social Democrat expected to be elected the new chancellor of West German in today's voting, already has called for the "realities" of the Oder-Neisse border with Poland, recognition of East Germany's "state-like" existence and renunciation of the use of force, three of Ulbricht's principal demands.

Perhaps more important are the economic forces. The East Germans have low rents, good food, adequate clothing and color television.

Trade between the two Germanys is approaching a billion dollars a year, and East Germany is heavily dependent upon the west for high quality equipment.

East Germany will be here a long time, but political barriers could crumple under the pressures of economic necessity.

Want Law Enforcement Career? Join Novato Police Department

If the present trend continues, any ambitious young man who desires a career in police work and wants to get ahead rapidly would do well to join the Novato Police Department.

Although it is less than nine years old, the department has an enviable record of having its men go on to bigger things. This cannot be attributed to anything but the standards of the department and the quality of the men in it.

The first police station was a room in the railroad station at the foot of Grant Avenue. It then moved into a house and now has two houses to call a police station. It has never had all the equipment of a modern police department and is just now getting up to other departments in its pay scale.

ITS FIRST police chief was Roy McLaren. He is now director of the field operations division of the International Chiefs of Police Association, headquartered in Washington, D. C.

The first sergeant in the department, Robert J. Di Grazia, was named chief of police when McLaren quit in 1963. He has recently accepted the position of superintendent of police for St. Louis County, Mo., with nearly 400 men under him, a $5.4 million budget and $25,000 a year salary.

Of the other five original men, two more have gone on to better jobs. Howell Floyd Hollowell, when just a sergeant in the Novato Police Department, was named chief of police of Newport, Ore. Wayne W. Knutila was named chief of police of Gridley and is now crime statistics analyst with the California Department of Justice.

Patrolman Ronald Bostick, the only Negro hired by the department, quit to take a better position with the San Jose Police Department where he is now working in the community relations division.

Sgt. William M. Cann also has resigned from the Novato department to take the porition of captain, second in command, of the San Bruno Police Department.

Another of the original five patrolmen, Glenn F. Wright, has advanced to lieutenant, second in command of the Novato police, and is in line to be appointed to the chief's position when Di Grazia leaves next month.

EVER SINCE the City of Novato incorporated nearly 10 years ago, it has argued about a city seal. It has one adopted, which does not seem to be popular enough to be used. So the police department finally got a seal of its own. This is a gold six-pointed star similar to the police badge, with the inscription of "Police, City of Novato." This is being placed on the new white patrol cars and on the cards of the police.

Ironically, after waiting nine years, Police Chief Di Grazia received his cards the day he turned in his resignation.

THE EFFICIENCY of modern American free enterprise is the pride of the nation, and the goofs and boondoogles are usually associated with government bodies.

It was with a great deal of admiration that I watched bricklayers putting up the walls for the new Crocker-Citizens Bank on Grant Avenue, opposite the Novato office of the Independent-Journal. These brick layers were so sure of themselves that they did not use a string or plumb bob to be sure that the walls were straight and in line.

However, when the workers went to install the top connection beam, one wall was out of line.

So one worker spent two days breaking down the wall with a hammer and then another two days were spent in re-erecting the wall so it would come in line with the beam.

How To Get Out Of Vietnam: Bay Of San Francisco Resolution

WASHINGTON — The Vietnam solution, as most people look at it now, is for the Americans to get out "with honor." How this can be accomplished is President Nixon's major problem and one that he is devoting his days and nights to.

Prof. Heinrich Applebaum, dean of the political science department at the University of Dissent, has been studying various withdrawal plans that could be implemented as soon as the President decides to move.

"The secret of getting out of Vietnam can be found in how we got in," Prof. Applebaum told me. "We just cannot leave South Vietnam after all these years without some explanation. We had a cover story when we went in, and we must have a cover story when we go out."

"What kind of a cover story, professor?"

"WE MUST PLAN a Gulf of Tonkin Resolution in reverse."

"How's that?"

"If you recall, the Gulf of Tonkin Resolution passed by the Senate gave President Johnson carte blanche to escalate American participation in the war. It was after the Gulf of Tonkin that the President decided to bomb the north and send in hundreds of thousands of GIs. What happened at the Gulf of Tonkin was that two American destroyers reported they were attacked by North Vietnamese PT boats at night. This got the President furious and he decided that if the North Vietnamese were going to attack him in the Gulf of Tonkin, he damn well was going to attack them anywhere he pleased.

"There is still some question," Applebaum said, "whether the two destroyers actually saw any PT boats, but that's not the point.

"The President got Senate approval to do anything he wanted to, and he did. Now President Nixon is faced with the job of undoing most of what President Johnson did."

"What do you suggest, Professor?"

"WE SHOULD RIG IT so that four or five PT boats attack two American destroyers in San Francisco Bay. Then President Nixon could go on the air and announce that our American ships were fired upon at night and he was asking the Senate for a 'Bay of San Francisco Resolution.'"

"What would be in the resolution?"

"The resolution would state that since two American destroyers had been openly and definitely attacked, the President was calling all the troops in Vietnam to California, where they would be stationed until the Californians could defend themselves. He would say that he was reluctant to bring back so many troops, but that the people who fired upon the destroyers must be made to pay for their aggression."

"DO YOU THINK the Senate would pass a 'Bay of San Francisco Resolution'?"

"They would if we produced the proof that the destroyers had been attacked. After all, the United States has a commitment to California. It was first made by Eisenhower, then confirmed by John F. Kennedy and then Lyndon B. Johnson. President Nixon could not go down in history as the first President to lose a state."

"So after the resolution was passed by the Senate, President Nixon could start pulling our troops in Vietnam out?"

"Morally the President would have no choice. No matter what you think of Governor Reagan's regime, you couldn't let California go down the drain."

"HOW MANY TROOPS do you think President Nixon could withdraw from Vietnam and send to California under the 'Bay of San Francisco Resoultion'?"

"There should be a limit. I don't think more than 500,000."

"But there are only 500,000 American troops in South Vietnam."

The professor looked at me and smiled. "Quite," he said.

Frost Plans Federal Flood Aid Inquiry

Donald R. Frost, Marin County public works director, said yesterday he will check with the Department of Housing and Urban Development to see if Marin can qualify for a new national flood insurance program authorized by Congress last year and how the program would operate.

Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District, co-authored the legislation, under which residents of qualified areas may apply for insurance which has a federally-subsidized rate of 40 cents per $100 of assessed valuation ($60 per year on a $15,000 structure).

"We will check into it with hud to see what it's all about and what applicability it will have in Marin," aid Frost. "Our big problem is schools and transportation disruptions as well as damage to homes.

"It would be of great value in areas where homes have been wiped out and where there's measurable damage. But I'm not so sure how you measure damage on schools that are forced to close for a couple of days or a street that's closed from flooding for several days. How do you determine such damage and who gets compensated?"

Frost said the insurance would be helpful in areas like College Park in Kentfield and parts of Santa Venetia that are inundated during floods. He said he does not know whether the flood insurance would protect only flood-prone homes or whether homes in higher areas not normally inundated would have to subscribe to balance out the cost of protection.

Straight Shooters Win In Meeting With A Rattler

Straight shooters always win, they used to say on the Tom Mix radio show.

Mark LaBelle and Craig Marquis weren't around in those days, but they hold the same sentiments today.

The two Sleepy Hollow boys, both 11, were tramping through the hills west of San Domenico School Saturday on their way to some target shooting when a three-foot, 10-rattle rattlesnake struck at Mark, missing him by inches.

Craig fired one shot with Mark's .22-caliber rifle, wounding the snake, then Mark grabbed the gun and finished it off with another shot.

They didn't get in their target shooting after all, but brought the fat reptile home as proof of their escape.

Boys' Club Of Novato Revived

The Boys' Club of Novato which has been inactive for several years, has been revived and the new board of directors will hold a public meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday at St. Francis Episcopal Church in Novato to discuss methods of raising funds, according to publicity chairman Buel W. French.

The board will also discuss sites for the club and make long range plans on developing a building on the site.

The newly elected officers are David E. Milano, president; Paul S. Scheller and Everett Stanlek, vice presidents; William Nye, secretary and David Moore, treasurer. Eugene Trobley, past president, is board chairman.

Hike In Parking Rates On Agenda

An ordinance increasing parking rates and applying weekend and holiday rates for six months of the year in the city parking lot across from downtown Sausalito will be considered by the Sausalito City Council at its 8 p.m. meeting today at city hall.

The board also will receive reports on the city's efforts to clean up litter and a request from the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission to update Sausalito's ultimate boundary map.

Inferno On Docks

DURBAN, South Africa (UPI)—A fire which set off explosions of ammunition on Durban's docks yesterday caused more than $14 million damage, municipal officials said today. There were no casualties in the fire, which swept five railway warehouses. Police officials said the cause was undetermined.

OUR WAREHOUSE LEAKED

THE RAINS OF OCT. 15 CAUSED ROOF LEAKAGE IN OUR WAREHOUSE AND SOME PARTS OF OUR STORE. WATER DAMAGE WAS SUFFERED BY SOFAS, CHAIRS, BEDDING, BED ROOMS, DINING ROOMS, AND SOME OTHER ITEMS. HOTDOG FAT LIMIT GOES INTO EFFECT THIS WEEK

FAT LIMIT IS NOW 30%

Co-op label franks have always run below this level, so no changes had to be made. Some meat companies whose cooked sausage products ran much higher in fat have had to make radical changes in their formulas in order to comply with the new order. Products included under the new regulation include bologna and knackwurst.

Protein content is still lower

Even with the new fat restriction, protein levels are lower in hotdogs than in other meat products. For an equal amount of protein per serving allow three servings per pound of hotdogs compared to four servings per pound of ground beef or other boneless meat.

Chicken can be added to hotdogs

When chicken is added to hotdogs, it will be listed with the other ingredients in order of decreasing amount. If more than 15% chicken is added then the product must be labeled "Beef-Chicken Frankfurter." It cannot be simply called "Frankfurter." As far as we know no "chickendogs" will be available in this area for the present.

INTRODUCING UPHOLSTERY FABRIC OF HERCULON®

New Herculon® polypropylene olefin... the miracle fabric that's puncture-proof, stain-proof

DO THEY EVER LOSE THEIR STAIN RELEASE QUALITIES?
Never. For with HERCULON, beauty and practicality are built in . . . not added on. There are no chemical additives to rub off or fade away.

DO THEY SHOW WEAR?
Forget it. Abrasion resistance is outstanding. They won't get thin at points of wear. We know. We gave these fabrics more than 15,000 double rubs without any perceptible wear.

ARE THEY CAREFREE?
Absolutely. These fabrics stand up to strong household soaps and detergents beautifully.

ARE THEY COLORFAST?
Naturally. Count on upholstery fabrics of HERCULON to stay beautiful. We put them in direct Florida sunlight to make sure.
